Loaded With Experience

Chancellor's Lady Tigers Eager To Return To College Basketball's Pinnacle

Minutes after LSU's 60-52 loss to sixth-ranked Duke in the NCAA Tournament Second Round, Lady Tiger head coach Van Chancellor addressed his team. All-American guard Allison Hightower was the only one playing in her final LSU game. Eleven faces in the locker room listened to Chancellor's message and learned from that defeat. The group made a commitment this offseason to work harder and get stronger physically and mentally. Today, they make up the 2010-11 Lady Tiger team that is poised to return to college basketball's grand stage when the calendar turns to March and April.

Replacing Hightower is no easy task. From her leadership to her scoring and defensive ability, Hightower will go down as one of the greatest players in school history. However, the 2010-11 team, seasoned with experience and talent, has a chance to create its own identity. Chancellor has reloaded the program since taking the team to the Final Four in his first season. All-SEC forward LaSondra Barrett and senior guard Katherine Graham form a squad that has nine players with junior experience or better.

"We went to our players in the offseason and said if we want to become one of the elite teams in the country again, we have got to shoot the ball better and finish games," said Chancellor, who begins his fourth season with the program. "Now, we have the experience to do that. Our entire team has improved in that area. We will be a more exciting team, getting up and down the floor more and shooting more three-balls. I think this is going to be a fun team to watch. I love the attitude. We have had an unbelievable offseason with our work ethic and enthusiasm."

Backcourt

An experienced backcourt will be led by senior guard Katherine Graham, one of two players on the roster who was a member of LSU's last Final Four team in 2008. As a freshman, Graham came off the bench in 24 games en route to the Final Four in Tampa. Her knowledge and skill expanded a year later as a sophomore when she started 25 games and ranked second on the team in rebounding.

It wasn't until her junior year when she took her game to another level. On Feb. 7, 2010 against Ole Miss, she did something only one other player in school history had accomplished – a triple-double. Twenty points, 10 rebounds, 10 assists and despite the 102-101 defeat, that achievement lifted her confidence. The Birmingham, Ala., native averaged 10.1 points and a team-high 6.7 rebounds in the final 10 games of the year since the triple-double. She led LSU in assists (3.5) and field goal percentage (45.7) in 2009-10, but it was her defensive play and versatility that saw the most improvement.

"I thought Katherine Graham was the most improved player in the Southeastern Conference that I have ever coached," Chancellor said. "She was the most improved player in the SEC last season. She has it in her mind that she wants to be the best player she can be. We've seen that during the offseason and early practices with her leadership and overall play. She's our defensive stopper."

"We have set the tone for practice by how hard we have worked this offseason," Graham said.

"It's exciting to get back out there on the floor as a team. Our goal is to finish strong, and I am excited where we are at right now."

Another senior in the backcourt is point guard Latear Eason. With 38 career starts and an excellent career assist to turnover ratio, the 5-foot-8 guard has the experience it takes to be a valuable player at the position. Eason has overcome a broken collarbone and a torn ACL during her career. She is on pace for her finest season yet.

Destini Hughes, a 5-foot-10 junior, was LSU's starting point guard in the final 10 games of last season. Hughes averaged 2.3 assists per contest highlighted by a career-high six in the NCAA Tournament Second Round. Defensively, Hughes has great quickness. She proved that last season when she shut down opposing teams' top scorers, including Mississippi State's Alexis Rack.

The most significant return to the backcourt might be senior guard Andrea Kelly. Kelly was LSU's top 3-point threat during the 2008-09 season. A stress fracture in her foot a week prior to the 2009 season-opener sidelined her for the entire year. She suffered a torn ACL in her right knee during the spring but her commitment during the summer has allowed her to take the floor in time for preseason workouts.

Adrienne Webb and Bianca Lutley are two sophomore guards with great range from the outside. Webb was second on the team in 3-point shooting a year ago, burying 26-of-86 from beyond the arc.

The lone newcomer to the backcourt is a significant addition to the roster and one Baton Rouge basketball fans know very well. Jeanne Kenney, a product of St. Michael the Archangel, was one of the key signees in recent history. Kenney is widely considered the best scoring prospect to come out of the Capital City since legendary LSU guard Seimone Augustus. A WBCA High School All-American, Kenney twice led St. Michael to the Class 4A state championship doing so as a sophomore and a junior.

"I feel really good about our point guard position," Chancellor said. "We have Destini Hughes, Latear Eason and Jeanne Kenney. All of them can play there and bring different dimensions to the game. Some of them bring defense. Some of them bring shooting and some of them bring ball handling. The three of them really complement each other."

Frontcourt

LSU's frontcourt is led by 2010 All-SEC and 2009 SEC Freshman of the Year forward LaSondra Barrett. Barrett's first two seasons at LSU are two of the best on record for an underclass post player. She is the team's returning scorer with a 12.8 point per game average, and she led the squad in rebounding a season ago with 6.6 boards per contest.

Barrett has a knack for getting to the free throw line. Four times last season she made double-digit free throws in a game, and her 141 made free throws ranked as the sixth-best single-season total in school history. They were the most by an LSU player since Marie Ferdinand made 173 during the 2000-01 season. Barrett was so effective at the charity stripe that she became the first LSU player to lead the SEC in free throw percentage (84.4) since Seimone Augustus in 2004-05.

"For the first time since my first year, we have plenty of experience in the frontcourt," Chancellor said. "Last year, even though we had everybody returning, we were still a sophomore-dominated basketball team. Now, we are so far ahead of everything we are trying to grasp."

In addition to Barrett, LSU boasts three more juniors at the forward position and one senior. Courtney Jones came on strong last February and March as she worked her way into the starting lineup in the final four games of the season. The 6-foot-2 Midfield, Ala., native averaged 5.9 points and 4.2 boards per contest highlighted by back-to-back double-digit scoring games against Hartford and Duke in the NCAA Tournament.

Taylor Turnbow started 20 games last season and brings a consistency to finish around the basket and block shots. The 6-foot-2 Turnbow led all post players in field goal percentage at 44.9 percent. Swayze Black is the other junior forward. According to LSU assistant coach Travis Mays, Black has made the most significant improvement this offseason in finishing and becoming tougher around the basket. Jasmine Nelson is the only senior in the frontcourt. In her first season in an LSU uniform, she led the squad in blocked shots per game and ranked 11th in the SEC in that category.

Chancellor signed two of the premier post players in the nation as part of the Class of 2010. Houma native Theresa Plaisance and Shanece McKinney, one of the top prep prospects out of Alabama, come to LSU with impressive credentials at the high school level.

"Our young post players, I couldn't be happier about them so far," Chancellor said. "They have really come in and understood what we are trying to accomplish. Shanece McKinney is going to be a rebounding machine before she leaves here. Overall, we signed three great freshmen and I think they will make a significant impact on this team."

Plaisance, the daughter of Nicholls head coach DoBee Plaisance, was the Louisiana Gatorade Player of the Year and a McDonald's High School All-American as a senior. She led Vanderbilt Catholic to its first-ever state championship as she posted 16.0 points and 10.0 boards per contest. The 6-foot-5 forward then was able to gain valuable experience at the international level when she participated with the USA Basketball gold medal team at the FIBA Americas 18 Championship this summer. Plaisance averaged 7.8 points in five games and ranked second among all players in the tournament with nine total blocks.

McKinney, the two-time Mobile Press Register Player of the Year, guided LeFlore High School to a Class 5A state championship as a junior.

Schedule

One of the most challenging schedules in school history awaits LSU this season. The Lady Tigers take on eight teams ranked in the final 2010 USA Today/ESPN Coaches poll, including three squads ranked in the top 10 - Connecticut, Tennessee (twice) and Kentucky.

For the first time in school history, LSU will open the season against back-to-back Big 10 conference opponents. LSU travels to Evanston, Ill., to take on Northwestern, a WNIT round of 16 participant last season, on Nov. 14. A home opener against projected top-five ranked Ohio State awaits in the Maravich Center on Nov. 17. It will be the first time LSU begins its season on the road since at Texas Tech on Nov. 13, 2005.

"There's no doubt in my mind these are two of the toughest opening games we have had," said Chancellor. "It is a tremendous challenge but one we welcome. It is an opportunity for our team to compete against quality competition early.

"We better be ready to play once the season starts. With teams like Connecticut, it is the kind of schedule our fans will love and it will give us a chance to compete against the best. If we want to go where we want to go in the NCAA Tournament, we have to get tougher mentally. The way to do that is to play a tough road schedule, especially in non-conference. I love the challenge."

LSU heads to South Orange, N.J., following the Ohio State game and will participate in the Seton Hall Classic, a two-day round robin tournament on Nov. 19 and 20. The World Vision Classic, a three-day Thanksgiving weekend tournament hosted by Connecticut is scheduled for Nov. 26-28, in Storrs. The Lady Tigers will go up against two-time defending national champion Connecticut for the sixth time in the past six seasons as the two powerhouses meet on the tournament's final day.

The UCLA contest on Dec. 28 provides the Lady Tigers with one final non-conference test before the SEC schedule begins against perennial power Tennessee on Jan. 2 in the Maravich Center. LSU returns the trip to Knoxville in the SEC regular season finale on Feb. 27. Following road games at Mississippi State and Auburn, the Lady Tigers embark on a four-game home stand to close out the month of January. Georgia visits the Maravich Center on Jan. 30 for a contest that will be televised by ESPN2.

Five of the last seven regular season games come on the road, a place that has been a strength to LSU the past three seasons under Chancellor. Since 2008, the Lady Tigers are a league-best 17-5 on the road in the SEC. The only home games scheduled for the final month of the season are versus Auburn on Feb. 10 and the home finale against South Carolina on Feb. 24.

Kentucky, an Elite Eight participant and the 2010 SEC runner-up, plays host to LSU on Feb. 13 on ESPN2. The Lady Tigers also travel to Arkansas on Feb. 20 and Tennessee to close the regular season on Feb. 27.

The 2010 SEC Tournament will be held March 3-6 at Bridgestone Arena in Nashville, Tenn. LSU has earned an SEC Tournament first round bye for nine straight seasons, which is the longest current streak in the league.

A 13th consecutive trip to the NCAA Tournament would begin on either March 19 or 20. Sixteen sites have been predetermined with the closest location being the CenturyTel Center in Shreveport, La. The Road to the Final Four leads to Conseco Fieldhouse in Indianapolis, April 3 and 5.

LSU Lady Tiger basketball and Final Fours are synonymous. Since 2004, no program in the nation has advanced to more NCAA Final Fours than LSU. From Hall of Famer Sue Gunter to Hall of Famer Van Chancellor and the players who have donned a Lady Tiger jersey since 2004, Final Four basketball at LSU is a legacy that carries on.

2008

The Drive for Five ended in Tampa as first-year LSU head coach Van Chancellor reached the Final Four. LSU became only the second program in NCAA Division I history to advance to five straight Final Fours, doing so behind the play of All-American and SEC Player of the Year Sylvia Fowles. The Lady Tigers edged No. 2 North Carolina in the New Orleans Regional Final.

2007

Under associate head coach Bob Starkey, LSU overcame a late season adversity and hoisted a fourth Final Four trophy by winning the Fresno Regional over top-seeded Connecticut. State Farm All-American Sylvia Fowles shattered the LSU record books for blocked shots and rebounds.

2006

Seimone Augustus leaves a magnificent legacy as the most decorated player in school history. The 2006 National Player of the Year guided the Lady Tigers to a third straight Final Four with a 31-4 record, another Southeastern Conference championship and a victory over Stanford in the regional final. The trip to Boston culminated a year of record-breaking attendances for LSU.

2005

33-3 overall. 27-1 regular season. 14-0 perfect SEC regular season. It was uncharted territory for an LSU program in the national spotlight. In one of the most dominating seasons in school history, the Lady Tigers made it back-to-back Final Four appearances after topping Duke in the regional final. Seimone Augustus became the school's first National Player of the Year.

2004

When LSU began its run in the 2004 NCAA Tournament, it was the culmination of a season of destiny that ended in New Orleans. Legendary coach Sue Gunter had to miss the final 20 games due to illness, but the Lady Tigers fought on. LSU reached the program's first Final Four behind sophomore All-American Seimone Augustus and point guard Temeka Johnson as the Lady Tigers defeated Georgia in the regional final.

LSU's Memorial Tower (top main photo) was one of the first structures completed on the present campus and sits east of the quadrangle (above, left). It represents the University as a memorial to those who gave their lives during World War I. Although it currently houses the LSU Anglo-American Art Museum, plans are in process to return Memorial Tower to a military museum as originally intended. The University lakes (above, right) on the LSU campus give various recreational options.

Louisiana State University and Agricultural & Mechanical College has, throughout its 146-year history, served the people of Louisiana, the region, the nation, and the world. LSU is creating a revolution, one of pervasive change and advancement. For the past six years, the focus of the LSU community has been an increased commitment to excellence. Our progress has been dramatic and shows no sign of stopping.

Having witnessed many of yesterday's possibilities become today's tangible realities, the LSU community set forth to capitalize on its success. The goal was to improve our standing as a nationally competitive flagship university. Following intense discussions among the LSU Board of Supervisors, campus administrators, faculty, and student leaders, the objectives required to reach this status crystallized, providing the impetus for LSU's National Flagship Agenda.

Why LSU?

Temeka Johnson
Point guard (2001-05)
2009 WNBA Champion

"Going to LSU was the best decision I could have made. I knew that I would get a great education, and my basketball career would expand and grow as well. I knew I would also get to play with some great talents. But what made it all worthwhile for me was the fact that all this was topped off with being a part of a family. This is the best part, once a Tiger always a Tiger and this is the feeling that you get when you step foot on the campus. I am part of a sisterhood that is like none other. I love it."

"When you go back and get your degree, it says a lot about your work ethic. I accomplished things that I will never forget here. I come home to Miami, but a lot of people don't know me like everyone in Baton Rouge and the fans. Baton Rouge and LSU has been my home. If I had to do it all over again, LSU would be the only place I would do it."

Sylvia Fowles
Center (2004-08)

Two-time State Farm All-American and 2008 Olympic gold medalist

"Throughout the entire recruiting process I always knew LSU was the best choice. Being from the great state of Louisiana, LSU was a home away from home. I knew that this would be a place I could grow as a student-athlete and a young man. The coaches, faculty, and the 92,000 marvelous fans only help to make the decision much easier. Looking back on it, I couldn't have asked for more from the experience."

Tyson Jackson
Defensive End (2005-08)
2009 NFL Draft No. 3 Pick

"This is a tremendous honor to graduate from LSU. Coming from Texas, I always knew this was the right choice. From my time on the court to the classroom, LSU has been home to me. Getting a degree is what it is all about and I thank everyone who had an impact on my time at LSU. What we accomplished and all of the friends I have made, that will always be a part of my life."

Allison Hightower
Guard (2007-10)
Two-time All-SEC and State Farm Honorable Mention All-American

Computer Stations

The Cox Communications Academic Center for Student-Athletes is at the forefront of today's educational technology. Since the spring of 2009, the academic center has upgraded over 170 computers, including both PC and Mac.

Media Training

LSU is one of the few schools where student-athletes go through media training to enhance their communication skills. Dr. Tommy Karam and Dr. Shirley White are two experts in the field who give training sessions to student-athletes here on campus. The Academic Center features a mock press conference setting to get student-athletes acclimated to giving interviews in front of both print and electronic media. Karam and White record the mock interviews on camera and then provide feedback, allowing student-athletes to become more comfortable and confident when doing actual interviews.

The Library

The library provides a perfect setting for individual study, or with a tutor as a group.

Academic Center

A $15 million renovation to the Gym Armory in 2002 not only made it among the nation's premier academic centers, but put it at the forefront. Improvements to the existing center give LSU student-athletes the best opportunity for success by providing access to the latest technology, as well as an array of expanded services.

"When you go back and get your degree, it says a lot about your work ethic. This is No. 1 at the top of my list because I am the youngest of my mother's kids and I am the first to graduate. It says a lot about how much my mother means to me and how she prepared me for this."

Golden Graduate

Sylvia Fowles has accomplished nearly everything an athlete of her status can. On May 15, 2009, she graduated from LSU, a crowning achievement on an already brilliant career. The WNBA and USA Basketball star worked to obtain her final credit hours while playing overseas in the EuroLeague. LSU's two most prominent players in program history – Fowles and Seimone Augustus – are now LSU graduates.

CRITICAL TO THE DEVELOPMENT OF A STUDENT-ATHLETE IS AN ADEQUATE ACADEMIC FACILITY AND CAPABLE STAFF TO FURTHER THE ATHLETE'S PROGRESS. The Cox Communications Academic Center for Student-Athletes is responsible for overseeing the educational development and progress toward graduation for all student-athletes. The staff acts as a liaison between the student-athlete and the academic communities and insures that student-athletes comply with academic rules established by the University, NCAA and Southeastern Conference. The staff also coordinates academic programs designed to assist student-athletes in acquiring a quality education.

"The one equalizer is getting an education. With that you have an opportunity to go out and better yourself and improve your life. I am proud of Sylvia Fowles for getting her degree."

- LSU head coach Van Chancellor

Head Coach Van Chancellor has graduated all 11 of the seniors who have played for him at LSU.

SEC Academic Honor Roll

Since 1999, LSU has produced 38 student-athletes on the SEC Academic Honor Roll. The Lady Tigers placed two players on the 2010 SEC Winter Academic Honor Roll, including All-SEC forward LaSondra Barrett and Andrea Kelly. To earn SEC Academic Honor Roll honors, a student-athlete must have a grade point average of 3.00 or above for either the preceding academic year or have a cumulative grade point average of 3.00 or above.

Community OUTREACH

Caring For Others – The Lady Tiger Way

The Lady Tigers visited patients at the Our Lady of the Lake Children's Hospital in the summer of 2010. The team went room to room, greeting all of the patients, signing autographs, taking pictures and handing out basketballs and t-shirts. The children ranged from age five to 14.

LSU student-athletes participate in a variety of community service projects including reading in schools, nursing home visits, hospital pediatric ward visits and speaking engagements.

Education First

The LSU Lady Tigers established a partnership with the East Baton Rouge Parish School System to honor education. All 14 Lady Tigers were adopted by schools in the area. Allison Hightower addressed students in a classroom at Southeast Middle School about the values of hard work and education.

For Love of the Game

The LSU Lady Tigers annually hold a free basketball clinic through the Baton Rouge Recreational Department's Sports Academy. The clinic features fundamentals of the game while kids get to meet and get autographs from their favorite players.

Holiday Helpers

Head coach Van Chancellor and his staff lent a helping hand on Thanksgiving Day. The staff served food and drinks to the needy as part of the 23rd annual "Thanksgiving Together" put on by Holiday Helpers Inc., at the Baton Rouge River Center.

“Through workshops, service projects, and social events, CHAMPS, brings LSU student-athletes information that will prepare them for the biggest game of all - the game of life!”

CHAMPS/Life Skills Program

Several Lady Tigers logged summer work hours to get hands on job training experience. All-SEC guard Allison Hightower (above) worked for a Baton Rouge advertising agency in the summer of 2009. Hightower worked on various projects for the organization and learned advertising techniques.

Career DEVELOPMENT

Job Experience

The LSU women's basketball program has a longstanding internal summer jobs program that aggressively seeks opportunities to help place its players in career-developing positions within the community. Every LSU player that wants to get a leg up on her future has the opportunity to earn valuable experience during the summer. Student-athletes spend most of their summer participating in jobs that relate to their major, like working at ...

- ▶ Hospitals
- ▶ Physical Therapy centers
- ▶ Public Relations firms
- ▶ Building Contractors
- ▶ Restaurant Management
- ▶ Engineering firms
- ▶ Accounting offices

CHAMPS

The CHAMPS (Challenging Athletes Minds for Personal Success)/Life Skills program was developed by the NCAA to help prepare student-athletes for the challenges of life beyond the playing field.

How Can CHAMPS Help?

By focusing on “real life” skills and personal development, the CHAMPS Program not only assists the student-athletes with meeting daily challenges, but also enhances student-athlete's growth in their college years and beyond.

CHAMPS at LSU

The CHAMPS/Life Skills program at LSU is operated out of the Academic Center for Student-Athletes, and the focus of the program is on five commitments viewed as critical to personal growth.

Director of Student Affairs/
CHAMPS Program

Jade Jenkins
Assistant Director for Diversity,
Inclusion, and Civic Engagement

"It felt like an NCAA Tournament game because obviously they are one of the premiere teams in the country and this place (Pete Maravich Assembly Center) is one of the more difficult places in America to play judging by their winning streak."

- Connecticut head coach Geno Auriemma (Feb. 11, 2007)

"It was definitely the most hostile environment we've seen."

- Notre Dame Coach Muffet Mcgraw, after LSU's 1999 NCAA Second Round Win over the Irish in the Maravich Center.

Maravich CENTER

Home Dominance

It has proven to be a difficult task for opposing teams to win in the Maravich Center. Since the 2004-05 season, LSU is 76-13 at home and over the last eight seasons, the Lady Tigers are an amazing 94-11 in the friendly confines of the Maravich Center. LSU is 76-16 (.826) at home over the past 12 seasons in SEC games and 172-21 (.891) at home over the past 12 seasons in all contests.

Practice Courts

Training Space

The new practice facility features two 11,324 square foot fully functional gymnasiums. One of the largest practice areas in the nation, Lady Tiger players can work on their game whenever they want to. Five NCAA Final Four banners hang on the walls of the state-of-the-art facility.

Atrium

Legends of the past, Final Fours, championships and great moments in LSU Basketball history are recognized in the two-story grand atrium of the practice facility.

here to speak for (late Hall of Fame Coach) Sue Gunter, and all the former players that played here that made this dream possible.

"This facility benefits our program in so many ways. In today's coaching, recruiting is a lot about what facilities you have. Our players can come in and shoot whenever they want to. We have our very own gym with so much space."

The LSU Basketball Practice Facility was designed by Guy Hopkins Construction of Baton Rouge based on the designs by the firm of Tom Holden Architects of Baton Rouge in a joint venture with RDG Sports of Des Moines, Iowa.

Both the men's and women's teams benefit with beautiful separate full-sized practice gymnasiums. Each has two portable goals and four overhead retractable goals, both are exact replicas of the PMAC competition court. Each gym features a scoreboard, a video filming balcony and a scorer's table with video and data connection. Each gym spans 11,324 square feet and includes a regulation NCAA court in length with two regulation high school courts in the opposition direction.

"What this building symbolizes to me is excellence and the striving for excellence," said LSU Vice Chancellor and Director of Athletics Joe Allewa. "This building gives our coaches the opportunity to acquire the talent that we need to win and compete for championships, and that is what we are all about here. Striving for excellence and competing for championships."

The building also includes a central two-story lobby and staircase that ascends to the second level that has a room that can hold approximately 500 people for pre-game and post-game functions that leads into the Maravich Center concourse. The lobby showcases team displays and graphics, trophy cases and memorabilia from the past. The displays and wall graphics were designed by ZE Design of Centerville, Ohio.

The total project area covered 58,960 square feet of new construction and 1,100 square feet of renovated construction.

Former Lady Tiger point guard and 2009 WNBA champion Temeka Johnson was on hand for the ribbon cutting ceremony.

"When I was here we had to share the facilities with volleyball, men's basketball, and if there was any event in the PMAC we had to share it with them too," she said. "This allows you to come in on your own time. They don't have to go in and practice with anybody. There are enough courts on the side where you can have your own goal and participate whenever you want. I think it's great."

Athletic TRAINING

LSU boasts the largest and most complete athletic training facilities in all of collegiate athletics with both the Football Operations Center and the Broussard Center for Athletic Training in Tiger Stadium. Both are furnished with the latest in technology and equipment. The Operations Center training room features a full view of the practice fields, two hot/cold jacuzzis and an underwater treadmill. The Broussard Center includes an on-site x-ray room, an in-house pharmacy, as well as the largest hydrotherapy pool in both collegiate and professional sports and is one of the few collegiate training centers with a full-service pharmacy and a full-service vision center.

Hydrotherapy Treatment

An integral part of rehabbing and developing LSU student-athletes is the operations center's hot/cold jacuzzis and an underwater treadmill in a fully equipped Hydrotherapy room. The Broussard training center boasts the largest hydrotherapy pool in both collegiate and professional sports.

Broussard Athletic TRAINING CENTER

The two story, 22,000 square foot facility contains 20 treatment tables with the newest forms of modalities available, 14 taping stations, a 1,600 square foot rehabilitation area which contains the latest rehabilitation equipment including the Cybex Norm, Woodway treadmills and Body Master select rise equipment. LSU's multi-million dollar athletic training facility is named in honor of Dr. Martin J. Broussard (left), the legendary trainer whose career spanned over 40 years at LSU.

Road To Recovery

LSU is one of the top schools in the nation to get its student-athletes back on the court in a timely manner following an injury. The training staff takes a progressive approach to injury identification and thinks “outside of the box.” LSU consults with allied health professionals and uses state-of-the-art surgical procedures that give an athlete a quicker recovery time while looking out for her future.

Rehabilitation

LSU's Broussard Center for Athletic Training boasts some of the most technologically advanced equipment to aid the recuperation and rehabilitation of LSU's student-athletes.

Real-Time X-Rays

A new state-of-the-art fluoroscope was added in the summer of 2008 that provides LSU trainers the opportunity to take x-rays on site in the Operations Center. The machine can provide real-time images of the internal structures of a patient.

“Micki Collins wasn’t just a trainer during my tenure at LSU. She became a member of my family for the care she gave me and all of my teammates. In all of my basketball travels, I’ve never had a trainer that goes the extra mile like Micki.”

Strength & CONDITIONING

Measuring 10,000-square feet, LSU boasts one of the finest strength and conditioning facilities in the nation. Originally built in 1997, LSU's North Stadium Weight Room underwent a renovation in 2008 that updated flooring and redesigned the layout to provide more functional flow.

Melissa Moore, women's basketball strength and conditioning coordinator, provides players with one of the most unique training programs in the nation. Moore's plan is specifically geared to the development of basketball players and not only focuses on weight training but speed training, flexibility training, vertical jumping and conditioning as well. It is not uncommon to see the Lady Tigers on the track running resistance sprints with parachutes and bungee cords while also weaving through cones and ladders. The offseason program annually makes LSU one of the fittest and conditioned programs in the nation.

Amenities

- 28 multi-purpose power stations
- 36 assorted selectorized machines

"Melissa Moore is the best strength coach I have ever been around in the business. One of the reasons why is because she makes our program sport specific. She makes it gender specific, and then she breaks it down and makes it position specific."

Bob Starkey
LSU Associate Head Coach

"Melissa has taken the program to another level. She is more than just a strength and conditioning coach. She has developed our quickness, explosiveness and verticals. She uses the most modern techniques to make the team better in all areas."

Sylvia Fowles
Former SEC Player of the Year and WNBA All-Star MVP

*"We have a jumping program that trains them to jump better and higher, but also teach them how to land correctly and prevent injuries. That is something we have been fortunate with. ## Sue Gunter

1980 USA Head Coach, 1976 Assistant Coach

Sue Gunter's coaching career extends beyond the boundaries of the Southeast with an international resume that laid the groundwork for today's Olympic success story. Gunter was the head coach of the USA National Team in 1976, which set the table for her assistant coaching position under Billie Moore and the 1976 Olympic team. In their first Olympic appearance, the USA brought home the silver medal in Montreal. Gunter was then named head coach of the USA national team in both 1978 and 1980, leading to her being named the head coach of the USA Olympic team in 1980. The 1980 Olympic team included such great players like Denise Curry, Carol Blazeckowski, Anne Donovan, Rosie Walker, and Lynette Woodard. The USA stormed to a 6-1 record during the qualifying tournament. However, the dream for Team USA's first Olympic gold medal was cut short when President Jimmy Carter ordered a boycott of the 1980 Olympic games in protest of the Soviet Union's invasion of Afghanistan.

OLYMPIC GAMES

They came to Beijing for one ultimate prize in their first Olympic appearance. In August 2008, that childhood dream became a reality as former LSU All-Americans Sylvia Fowles and Seimone Augustus led the United States women's basketball team to a fourth straight Olympic gold medal at the 2008 Beijing Games.

Fowles and Augustus became the first Olympians in the history of LSU women's basketball when the team was announced in May 2008. The two, who combined to lead the Lady Tigers to five straight Final Fours over their careers, enhanced their legacies on the international stage. LSU women's basketball has now accounted for the two previous gold medals as LSU head coach Van Chancellor led the squad to victory in Athens in 2004. Team USA was coached by Anne Donovan, who served as an assistant to Chancellor in 2004.

Team USA strolled through the 2008 Beijing Games with a perfect 8-0 record and continued an Olympic play winning streak of 33 games dating back to 1992. The Americans became the first women's traditional team sport to claim four consecutive gold medals.

Both Fowles and Augustus are on pace to join Team USA for a gold medal repeat at the 2012 London Games.

Fowles was featured in Sports Illustrated prior to the start of the Olympics, and she proved to be a dominating force in the paint en route to Olympic gold.

About LSU Retired Jerseys

The retirement of the jerseys of Casanova, McDonald, Macklin and Augustus comes under a new provision of the LSU jersey retirement bylaws that says the retirement of an athlete's jersey in a particular sport does not preclude a current student-athlete in that sport from wearing the jersey number in that or any other sport, subject to the discretion of the head coach. This provision applies only to jerseys retired after January 1, 2007, so the numbers worn by Maravich, Pettit, O'Neal, Cannon and Bertman may never again be worn by future student-athletes in their respective sports. To have a jersey retired at LSU, an athlete must have completed intercollegiate competition for LSU a minimum of five years prior to nomination. Athletes must have demonstrated truly unusual and outstanding accomplishments, exceeding and in addition to all criteria used for Hall of Fame selection. # Lady Tigers

TIMELINE

LSU is entering its 36th season of women's basketball. The Lady Tigers first played basketball as a varsity sport in 1975-76 and since that inaugural season, LSU has posted 32 winning seasons, played in 20 NCAA Tournaments, advanced to the AIAW National Championship game in 1977 and the NCAA Final Four in 2004, 2005, 2006, 2007 and 2008.

The Coaches

LSU has had five coaches in its history with Jinks Coleman serving as the school's first head coach and Van Chancellor as its newest. Coleman coached the Lady Tigers for three and a half years before stepping down midway through the 1978-79 season. In three-plus years with the Lady Tigers, Coleman guided LSU to a 91-32 overall mark. Her crowning moment with LSU came during the 1976-77 season as she led the Lady Tigers to the AIAW National Championship game. LSU fell to top-ranked Delta State, but that 1977 team remains the only squad in school history to play for a national title.

Coleman was replaced by Barbara Swanner midway through the 1979 season and Swanner coached the Lady Tigers for the next three years. She led LSU to an overall mark of 57-50 before ending her coaching career at the conclusion of the 1981-82 season.

Hall of Famer Sue Gunter joined the Lady Tigers for the 1982-83 season. In 22 seasons with the Lady Tigers, Gunter led the Lady Tigers to 442 victories and guided her teams to 14 NCAA Tournament appearances, the 1991 and 2003 SEC Tournament titles and the 2004

NCAA Final Four. Gunter, who retired following the 2003-04 season, is a member of both the Naismith Hall of Fame and the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame. She added another to her historic career in the spring of 2010 when she was inducted into the LSU Athletic Hall of Fame.

Pokey Chatman replaced Gunter after serving as the acting head coach for 20 games in 2003-04, guiding the team to a 15-5 mark, including the program's first trip to the NCAA Final Four. She finished her career during the 2006-07 season with a 90-14 record. Bob Starkey served as acting head coach during the 2007 NCAA Tournament. Starkey led the Lady Tigers to a fourth straight Final Four appearance.

Van Chancellor was named the fifth head coach in LSU history on April 11, 2007. Chancellor, a Naismith Hall of Famer and the all-time winningest head coach in WNBA history, has led the Lady Tigers to a Final Four and three straight NCAA Tournament appearances. He is off the second-best start for a coach in school history with a 71-27 record in three seasons.

The 1970s

The decade of the 1970s saw the start of women's basketball as a varsity sport at LSU. The Lady Tigers played their first game in November of 1975, losing to Whitworth, 64-58. LSU's first win came a week later with a 75-62 win over Southwestern Louisiana. The win was the first of 17 for the Lady Tigers in their inaugural season as LSU posted a first-year mark of 17-14.

A year later, LSU, behind the play of a couple of Australians in Maree Jackson and Julie Gross, was playing for the AIAW National title. After going unrecognized for much of the year, LSU finally began to gain some respect with wins over three ranked teams in February. The Lady Tigers entered the AIAW State Tournament on a roll, however, LSU lost to Louisiana Tech and Northwestern State, but they were still able to advance to the AIAW Regional Tournament. At Regionals, the Lady Tigers beat Texas, Stephen F. Austin and Baylor to advance to the AIAW National Tournament.

By this time the Lady Tigers were ranked No. 11 in the nation and after wins over Western Washington and Baylor, LSU was in the Final Four. LSU knocked off second-ranked Immaculata, 74-68, in the semifinals and then fell to top-ranked Delta State, 68-55, in the national title game. LSU finished with a 29-8 overall mark, the second-most victories recorded in school history in a single year at the time.

In 1977-78, the Lady Tigers achieved their first No. 1 ranking as LSU spent most of January and February atop the Associated Press poll, after having started the year ranked No. 2 in the nation. The Lady Tigers stayed there until Feb. 15 when Tennessee moved ahead of LSU. Despite being ranked No. 2 in the nation, LSU couldn't advance out of the Regionals as the Sue Gunter-coached Stephen F. Austin Ladyjacks eliminated the Lady Tigers in the semifinals. LSU still won 37 games, which remains the school record for victories in a season.

LSU closed out the decade of the 1970's with a coaching change as Jinks Coleman stepped down after 15 games in the 1978-79 season. With an 8-7 mark, Coleman was replaced by Barbara Swanner, who guided LSU to a 5-5 mark over the final 10 games of the year. LSU finished with a 13-12 record.

The 1980s

The decade of the 80s saw LSU establish itself as one of the top programs in the country.

LSU opened the decade under Barbara Swanner and posted a 17-17

LSU's first team - 1975-76

mark and reached the semifinals of the AIAW Regional Tournament.

A year later, Joyce Walker came to Baton Rouge and put women's basketball at LSU back on the map. Walker, who was way ahead of her time, could do it all. In her first year with the Lady Tigers she averaged 20.7 points a contest and led the Lady Tigers to a 17-15 mark.

A year later, the NCAA became the governing body of women's athletics and the NCAA Tournament was started. The Lady Tigers didn't make the NCAA Tournament in 1982, but still posted an 18-13 overall mark as Walker averaged 24.9 points a contest. That season was Swanner's last year as head coach of the Lady Tigers.

The 1982-83 season was the first for the Lady Tigers under Sue Gunter, who came to LSU from Stephen F. Austin in Nacogdoches, Texas. In her first year with LSU, Gunter guided the Lady Tigers to a 20-7 mark and a tie for first place in the Western Division of the SEC.

Walker's last year with LSU in 1983-84 marked the Lady Tigers' first-ever appearance in the NCAA Tournament. LSU went 23-7 and reached the Sweet 16 at the NCAA Tournament before falling to Louisiana Tech.

In 1984-85, the Lady Tigers claimed the National Women's Invitational Tournament (NWIT) title with a 74-54 win over Florida in the championship game.

LSU's best season since 1977 occurred in 1985-86 as the Lady Tigers climbed all the way to No. 8 in the nation and reached the Elite Eight at the NCAA Tournament before falling to Tennessee in the final seconds, 67-65.

Another 20-win season followed in 1986-87 as the Lady Tigers spent most of the year ranked in the top 10. However, the Lady Tigers lost their last three games, including a 70-56 setback to Southern Illinois in the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

The 1987-88 season saw the arrival of Dana "Pokey" Chatman, the best point guard in school history. Chatman helped guide the Lady Tigers to an 18-11 mark and another NCAA Tournament appearance. LSU closed out the 1980s with its fifth NCAA Tournament appearance as LSU reached the Sweet 16 before falling to Louisiana Tech.

The 1990s

The decade of the 1990s was one of ups and downs for the Lady Tigers. LSU opened the decade with a 21-9 overall mark and its fifth NCAA Tournament appearance.

A year later, the Pokey Chatman era came to an end as the Lady Tigers posted a 24-7 overall mark, won the school's first SEC Tournament title and were seeded No. 2 in the Midwest Region of the NCAA Tournament.

The 1991-92 season started the Cornelia Gayden era, but it was also the beginning of a stretch that saw the Lady Tigers go five years without an appearance in the NCAA Tournament. LSU posted a 16-13 overall mark, but five straight losses in mid-February kept the Lady Tigers home in March.

A year later in 1992-93, the Lady Tigers had their first-ever losing record as LSU went 9-18 and was winless in the SEC for the first time. Things weren't much better in 1993-94 as LSU went 11-16 overall and tied for 10th in the SEC.

One of the bright spots in 1994-95 was Sue Gunter's 500th career victory on the same night Gayden set an NCAA record with 12 3-point goals in a 92-62 win over Jackson State on Feb. 9 in Baton Rouge. LSU suffered through its worst record ever that year as the Lady Tigers posted a 7-20 mark.

Despite the losing record the year prior, LSU signed one of the nation's best recruiting classes for the 1995-96 season and the results were immediate. LSU had the biggest turnaround in SEC history as the Lady Tigers went from 7-20 in 1994-95 to 21-11 in 1995-96. Junior college transfers Elaine Powell and Pietra Gay help lead LSU to a win over second-ranked Georgia in the SEC Tournament as the Lady Tigers appeared to be headed for its first NCAA Tournament appearance in five years, but was denied. The Lady Tigers settled for the NWIT, where they placed third out of eight teams.

The following year, LSU posted its best record in the 90's as they went 25-5 overall, won nine SEC games and reached the Sweet 16 for the first time since 1989. In 1997-98, the Lady Tigers, in what was supposed to be a rebuilding year, posted a 19-13 overall mark and reached the semifinals of the Women's NIT.

In 1998-99 the Lady Tigers, behind the play of senior point guard Latasha Dorsey, the only senior on the team, reached the Sweet 16 for the second time in three years and finished second in the SEC with a school-record 10 league wins. LSU's 22-8 overall mark in 1998-99 was LSU's fourth 20-win season of the 1990s.

The 2000s

The Lady Tigers rolled into the new millennium much like the way they ended the old one. In 1999-2000, LSU was 25-7 overall and 11-3 in the SEC, the best record for the program since 1996-97. The 11-3 conference mark was at the time, the best in school history. LSU rode that success all the way to the program's second Elite Eight appearance in the NCAA Tournament, falling to Connecticut in the regional final.

Another 20-win season greeted the Lady Tigers in 2000-01, compiling a 20-11 mark, including the fifth straight winning conference record at 8-6.

The 2001-02 season could have been one of the finest in recent history. Gunter's group of just six healthy players collected 18 victories, including a trip to the SEC Tournament Championship game and a fourth straight trip to the NCAA Tournament.

Building on the success of the previous two seasons, the 2002-03 team went even further, ending the season with a 30-4 record, winning the SEC Tournament title, advancing to the NCAA Elite Eight and finishing the season ranked No. 3 in the national rankings. The SEC Tournament title was the second in program history and the first since 1991.

It was in 2003-04 that the much eluded goal of the Lady Tigers was reached, advancing to the Final Four. The 2003-04 team posted at 27-8 record and steamed through the NCAA Tournament on its way to New Orleans and the Final Four. Despite the success, the 2003-04 season was full of adversity. Hall of Fame head coach Sue Gunter missed most of the season due to illness and ultimately retired following the season. Gunter was replaced during the season and on a full-time basis with former All-American guard Pokey Chatman.

The next season, in her first full year, Chatman, again guided the Lady Tigers to success. In 2004-05, LSU posted a 33-3 overall record, was ranked No. 1 in the nation for 11 weeks, won the program's first SEC regular season title with a perfect 14-0 mark, and advanced to the NCAA Final Four in Indianapolis. Chatman and guard Seimone Augustus earned numerous national honors, including sweeping the National Coach and Player of the Year honors.

The Lady Tigers continued their success in 2005-06 with a return to the Final Four and a repeat as SEC regular season champions. LSU posted a 31-4 overall record and a 13-1 league mark. Seimone Augustus completed her collegiate career as the 2006 National Player of the Year. LSU fell to Duke in the national semifinal in Boston, Mass.

The 2006-07 season once again saw the Lady Tigers reach the NCAA Final Four after overcoming some late season adversity. LSU posted a 30-8 overall record and junior center Sylvia Fowles earned Kodak All-American honors. Associate head coach Bob Starkey served as acting head coach during the NCAA Tournament run that saw the Lady Tigers knock off Connecticut, 73-50, in the Fresno Regional Final. LSU took on Rutgers in the national semifinal in Cleveland, Ohio. The Scarlet Knights ended LSU's season by a score of 59-35.

The 2007-08 season saw LSU reach its fifth straight Final Four, becoming only the second program in NCAA women's history to achieve that feat. Connecticut was the other. First-year head coach Van Chancellor came to LSU after a successful career at Ole Miss and the WNBA's Houston Comets. Chancellor was named SEC Coach of the Year as he was a perfect fit for a program as prominent as LSU. The Lady Tigers won the Southeastern Conference regular season championship with a perfect 14-0 record while finishing 31-6 overall. Sylvia Fowles was named to the State Farm All-America Team for the second straight season. LSU suffered a heartbreaking loss to Tennessee in the final seconds of the national semifinal in Tampa, Fla., but another Final Four banner would hang in the Maravich Center rafters.

The 2008-09 season might have been Chancellor's finest coaching job. LSU lost all of its key players from the 2009 Final Four team, but the Lady Tigers fought on winning five SEC games in a row to close the regular season and reach the NCAA Tournament for the 11th consecutive year. Allison Hightower was LSU's leader as she became the first player in school history to lead the team in points (14.9), steals (1.9), assists (3.0) and blocks (1.2) in the same season. Hightower was an honorable mention State Farm All-American and freshman LaSondra Barrett made a significant impact as the 2009 SEC Co-Freshman of the Year. LSU's season came to an end at home in the second round of the NCAA Tournament, losing to eventual Final Four participant Louisville in the Maravich Center.

A New Decade

LSU closed the books on the 2000s as one of the most successful programs in women's college basketball. From 2004-09, LSU won 171 contests and no team had advanced to more Final Fours. In Chancellor's third season during the 2009-10 year, Hightower returned for her senior campaign. It was one of the most productive years by a player in school history. Hightower was named a second-team All-American by the Lowe's Senior CLASS Award and she was a finalist for the Wooden Award and Naismith Trophy. For the second straight season, she recorded honorable mention All-America honors by State Farm.

Her 18.2 point per game average, sparked LSU to a 21-10 overall record and a 9-7 mark in conference play. The Lady Tigers finished with a share of third place in the final SEC standings. LSU earned a tough draw in the NCAA Tournament, faced with the task of defeating Duke on its home floor of Cameron Indoor Stadium. In a place where the Blue Devils rarely lose, LSU gave Duke all it could handle before falling 60-52 in the NCAA Second Round. Hightower closed out her career as the 13th all-time leading scorer in LSU history.

Today, the program's remarkable run continues as Chancellor enters his fourth year with the program in 2010-11 and a new crop of Lady Tigers is poised to leave their marks.

Besides all regular club privileges, the Corporate Club members receive five additional club privileges for members of their company. There is also a special dinner held in their honor as well as an opportunity to sit on the Lady Tigers bench for one game. Locker room passes are also made available to Corporate Club members. In addition, there is a special presentation made to the corporation at one of the Lady Tigers home games which includes an award and an autographed Lady Tiger basketball.

The Junior Fast Break Club

The chance for members of the LSU women's basketball team to serve as role models to young boys and girls in Louisiana was the inspiration behind the formation of the Junior Fast Break Club. Open to all elementary and junior high students, the Junior Fast Break Club offers each member a membership card, a club t-shirt, an autographed poster, a quarterly club newsletter, as well as a season-ending pizza party with the team. The Junior Fast Break Club membership is only $15.

The 2009-10 athletic year saw LSU claim a pair of SEC regular championships. Volleyball won its first SEC title since 1991 and the women's outdoor track and field team was crowned SEC champions for the 11th time in program history. Baseball followed up a national championship with a third straight SEC Tournament title, becoming the first school in league history to achieve that feat. Gymnast Susan Jackson received the highest individual honor as she was named SEC Female Athlete of the Year after winning two individual national championships.

In a time when subsidies for college athletics across the country are reaching an all-time high, a report published by USA Today in January 2010 indicated that LSU and Nebraska are the only two athletic departments in the nation that receive no subsidies.

LSU is the only school in SEC history to pull a "triple-double" -- winning double-figure conference titles in the sports of football, men's basketball and baseball. The Tigers have claimed 10 football titles, 10 men's basketball championships and a league-leading 14 baseball titles.

“Van Chancellor has been a pioneer with success at every level – in college, in the WNBA with the world titles at Houston, with USA Basketball and the gold medal in Athens and now with the crowning jewel, the Naismith Hall of Fame.”

– Beth Bass, CEO Women's Basketball Coaches Association

Van Chancellor

HEAD COACH • FOURTH SEASON AT LSU • 23RD SEASON OVERALL

Few coaches could have been the perfect fit for a tradition-rich program that had advanced to four straight NCAA Final Fours. LSU found that person when Hall of Famer Van Chancellor became the fifth women's basketball coach in school history in 2007.

Chancellor, a veteran head coach of 30 years at both the collegiate and professional levels, brought an impeccable resume to LSU, one that included leading the United States to a gold medal in the 2004 Olympics Games, four WNBA titles with the Houston Comets and 14 NCAA Tournament appearances at Ole Miss.

Naismith Hall of Famer

Chancellor was inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in 2007. He returned to Springfield in the summer of 2010 when Cynthia Cooper, one of his former players, was inducted.

Olympic Gold Head Coach

NCAA Final Four

Chancellor's brilliant coaching job in 2007-08 led him to his first Final Four appearance after 20 years at the collegiate level. He took a group of eight seniors and together helped LSU advance to its fifth straight Final Four. Chancellor cut down the net following the Lady Tigers' New Orleans Regional championship win over No. 1 North Carolina in March 2008.

Four WNBA Titles

Chancellor spent 10 seasons in Houston leading the Comets to the first four WNBA titles in league history from 1997-2000. He remains the league's all-time winningest coach with 211 victories.

“He’s a player’s coach. He allows you to showcase your talents and doesn’t bog you down with a lot of offenses. He pretty much lets you have your freedom within his offense. More than anything, he believed in my talents and he believed in me. That allowed me to perform better.”

- Cynthia Cooper, former WNBA star and 2010 Naismith Hall of Famer

“He brings a great deal of expertise and personality to the court. Van is a coach who has won at every level – he was a winner in the high school ranks...he was very successful during his time at Ole Miss...he goes to the WNBA and wins championships with the Houston Comets...he coaches the USA team to an Olympic gold medal. I can’t think of another individual in the coaching ranks who has proven himself on every level.”

- Pat Summitt, Tennessee Head Coach

In three seasons at LSU, Chancellor has guided the Lady Tigers to three straight NCAA Tournament appearances and one NCAA Final Four. His 71-27 (.724) record at LSU is the second-best start for a coach in school history. Chancellor has also won 33 Southeastern Conference games in three seasons, making him the second-winningest coach in the league during that span. LSU has produced one SEC Player of the Year, one SEC Freshman of the Year and three State Farm All-America honors under his watch.

Chancellor enhanced his legacy in his first season in Baton Rouge, leading the Lady Tigers back to the Final Four for the fifth straight season and guiding the program to its third SEC regular season title in four seasons.

For his efforts, Chancellor was named 2008 Southeastern Conference Coach of the Year by both the coaches and the media and was one of four finalists for the Naismith National Coach of the Year award. He became the third coach of LSU to earn SEC Coach of the Year honors.

Chancellor led the Lady Tigers to a perfect 14-0 SEC record and the school’s third outright regular season league title. During the team’s 2007-08 run, he coached his 600th career game on Nov. 29 at Houston.

In his first season back at the collegiate level, Chancellor helped LSU become only the second school in the history of NCAA women’s basketball to advance to five straight Final Fours. It was also the first Final Four appearance for him as a head coach.

One year later, Chancellor delivered what might have been his finest coaching performance. LSU lost all five starters and eight letterwinners from its 2008 Final Four team, yet the Lady Tigers still managed to finish in a second-place tie in the 2009 SEC final standings.

Chancellor and the Lady Tigers reeled off five straight wins to close the regular season and punctuated that with an 11th consecutive trip to the NCAA Tournament despite boasting one of the three youngest teams in America. LSU advanced to the second round and nearly knocked off eventual national championship game participant Louisville in the Maravich Center.

The 2009-10 season was another 20-win campaign for Chancellor as the Lady Tigers once again reached the NCAA Tournament second round before falling to Duke on its home floor of Cameron Indoor Stadium. On Dec. 30, 2009, Chancellor notched another milestone by winning his 500th career game when the Lady Tigers knocked off 13th-ranked Xavier in Cincinnati. He became the 24th active Division I coach to reach 500 wins and the 39th Division I coach all-time to reach the 500 plateau.

“In the scope of things that doesn’t seem important, the 500 wins,” he said. “I am more proud of our team and what they did tonight. That is what is important. These players deserve the credit.”

Today, Chancellor sits at 510 wins in 22 collegiate seasons. His winning percentage of .738 ranks among the game’s elite. Chancellor was officially hired on April 11, 2007 by then Athletic Director Skip Bertman.

“It’s a rare occasion that an athletic director has the opportunity to hire a person with the credentials that Van Chancellor brings to our women’s basketball program,” Bertman said. “Van has experienced tremendous success at all levels of women’s basketball.”

500 Wins!

LSU head coach Van Chancellor joined the 500 career win club on Dec. 30, 2010, when LSU knocked off No. 13 Xavier, 56-47. Today, Chancellor is the 17th winningest head coach in NCAA history with a winning percentage of .738 and 510 victories.

The Chancellor Family

In addition to his 2007 induction into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame, along with the likes of Roy Williams, Phil Jackson and Mendy Rudolph, Chancellor is also a member of the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame.

Success has followed Chancellor at every turn, as he posted a 38-0 mark in international competition as head coach of the United States Olympic Team.

Chancellor served for 10 years as head coach of the Houston Comets from 1997-2006. During that time, Chancellor was named the WNBA

Coach of the Year three times (1997, 1998, 1999) and he led the franchise to the league's first four titles. Under Chancellor's direction, the Comets were the only team in the WNBA to make the playoffs in each of the first seven seasons of the league.

The 1998 Comets still hold the record for highest winning percentage in the history of NBA and WNBA basketball with a 27-3 mark (.900).

Chancellor's teams posted a 211-111 record in 10 seasons, which today still makes him the winningest coach in league history. Chancellor had the distinction of coaching the Western Conference All-Star Team three times during his career and he was also named the coach of the WNBA's All-Decade Team in June of 2006. He never lost an All-Star Game.

As head coach of the Comets, Chancellor produced the WNBA Most Valuable Player five times, the WNBA Defensive Player of the Year three times and the league's most improved player twice.

Before his jump to the professional ranks, Chancellor spent 19 seasons at Ole Miss, developing the Lady Rebels into one of the nation's premier women's basketball programs. As the Ole Miss head coach, Chancellor guided the Lady Rebels to the NCAA Tournament 14 times, which included 11 consecutive appearances from 1982 to 1992.

In 19 years at Ole Miss, Chancellor's teams won at least 20 games 15 times, including a school-record 31 wins in 1978-79. He also led the Lady Rebels to top 20 final rankings 13 times and top 10 finishes four times (No. 5 in 1992, No. 6 in 1985, No. 8 in 1987 and No. 10 in 1984).

Chancellor led Ole Miss to the Elite Eight of the NCAA Tournament

“Van has achieved tremendous success coaching women’s basketball for nearly a quarter of a century and has had the opportunity to coach numerous Olympic- and World Championship caliber players along the way.”

- Jim Tooley, Executive Director of USA Basketball

“Coach not only cares about you as a player but as a person as well. He is like a father figure to the entire team and does everything he can to help you become a better player.”

four times, while his teams made the Sweet 16 on three other occasions.

Chancellor was named the SEC Coach of the Year three times at Ole Miss, including the 1992 season when the Lady Rebels were 29-3 overall and claimed the league's regular season title with a perfect 11-0 mark. That year, the Lady Rebels reached the NCAA Tournament's Elite Eight before falling to Southwest Missouri State.

Chancellor played two years of basketball at East Central Junior College in Decatur, Miss., before transferring to Mississippi State, where he earned a bachelor's degree in math and physical education in 1965.

He entered the coaching ranks during his senior year at Mississippi State, serving as head coach of the boy's basketball team at Noxapater High School. Chancellor went on to coach boy's and girl's basketball at Horn Lake High School and Harrison Central High School in Mississippi. Chancellor received his master's degree in physical education from Ole Miss in 1973.

Born September 27, 1943, in Louisville, Miss., Chancellor and his wife, Betty, have two children, John and Renee, and four grandsons, Nicholas, Jacob, Joseph and Zachary. John followed in his father's footsteps and is the current head women's basketball head coach at Barber's Hill High School in Mont Belvieu, Texas, just east of Houston.

Since his arrival in Baton Rouge, Chancellor has been a constant in the community with his various speaking engagements and contributions. In the summer of 2008, Chancellor addressed the principals of the East Baton Rouge Parish School System about the values of education. The Hall of Famer also laid out plans of a partnership between the LSU women's basketball program and elementary and middle schools in the area to honor education.

A book published in the fall of 1999, "Nothin' But a Champion," chronicles Chancellor's life from his childhood roots in Mississippi through his third WNBA Championship with the Houston Comets. In addition to his coaching duties, Chancellor has spent time serving as a television analyst for women's college basketball, working for both ESPN and SEC-TV.

Bob Starkey

Associate Head Coach • 22nd Season

Bob Starkey, one of the top minds in all of college basketball, enters his 22nd season at LSU and 13th season on the LSU women's basketball staff. Starkey has been a part of all five of the Lady Tigers' NCAA Final Fours. Starkey was promoted to associate head coach by Van Chancellor on May 15, 2007 after serving as LSU's acting head coach during the 2007 NCAA Tournament run that saw the Lady Tigers advance to the program's fourth straight Final Four.

As acting head coach Starkey guided the team to wins over UNC Asheville, West Virginia, Florida State and No. 1 seed Connecticut to reach Cleveland and the Final Four.

Starkey has been with the Lady Tigers' program since joining the team on a full-time basis in 1998 under legendary coach Sue Gunter. Starkey had served as the administrative assistant for both the LSU men's and women's basketball team for two years prior to joining the Lady Tigers as assistant coach.

Starkey works with all phases of the program, which includes working with post players on the practice floor. He also breaks down game tape and develops game plans while compiling scouting reports on LSU's opponents.

On the court, Starkey has been instrumental in the development of post players. As a men's coach at LSU he worked with Shaquille O'Neal, Stanley Roberts and Geert Hammink, all first round picks in the NBA. Starkey also coached Ron Moore, a 1987 NBA draft pick from West Virginia State College.

As a women's coach, Starkey continued his work with the posts, including Sylvia Fowles, the second overall pick of the 2008 WNBA draft, first-round WNBA pick Aiysha Smith and second-round WNBA picks DeTrina White and Ke-Ke Tardy.

In addition, Starkey handles all scheduling for the Lady Tigers, serves as the director of the LSU Lady Tigers' Fast Break Club and is also involved in all areas of promotions for the women's program. With his help, the Lady Tigers have enjoyed great success over the past few years, including finishing in the top 20 in the country in average home attendance in the past six seasons.

As the administrative assistant, Starkey provided valuable assistance to both the men's and women's programs, handling many of the responsibilities for both groups that would ease the work load for the coaching staff, allowing them to concentrate fully on their teams, recruiting and future opponents.

Starkey served as tournament director for the 1997 NCAA Women's Basketball Subregional held at the Pete Maravich Assembly Center. The NCAA Subregional was the first for LSU to host and it was also called by many that attended the event as one of the best-run subregionals since the NCAA changed tournament formats.

Perhaps Starkey's finest achievement in the role of administrative assistant came in development of Pack the PMAC. The Pack the PMAC promotion has developed into an LSU tradition.

Prior to his stint as an administrative assistant, Starkey served as an assistant coach for Dale Brown on the LSU men's basketball staff from 1990-1996, during which time the Tigers participated in four NCAA Tournaments. While on the men's staff, Starkey coached three first-round NBA draft picks in Shaquille O'Neal, Chris Jackson and Stanley Roberts. As a recruiter, he helped sign three nationally-ranked recruiting classes, including one which was rated No. 1 in the country.

Groomed on the high school level in West Virginia, Starkey started his coaching career as an assistant at Winfield High School where he helped guide the boys' program to a five-year record of 72-45 and the girls' program to an 87-23 record.

Starkey then made his first appearance in the collegiate ranks as an assistant at West Virginia College on the NAIA level. In his three-year stint at West Virginia State, the program blossomed with improving records of 17-10, 26-4 and 31-4. That final season saw the Yellow Jackets capture conference and district titles on their way to the NAIA National Championship game, where they were a one-point loser to Washburn University.

Following that, Starkey also served for one year at Poca High School in West Virginia with his former high school coach, Allen Osborne, and teamed up for the 1988-89 season with Judy Southard to lead the women's program at Marshall to an 18-10 record and a regular season Southern Conference Championship. Southard is now in her fourth year as the senior woman administrator at LSU after serving as the Athletic Director at Texas Women's University.

Starkey, who considers himself a full-time student of the game, has written numerous articles and has authored such basketball books as The 2-3 Match-Up Defense and Motion Offense. His latest project is a Basketball Coaching Series of books that include The Art of Being An Assistant Coach, The Art of Scouting and The Art of Motivation.

Starkey is a master motivator and runs his own coaching and player online blog that features daily updates at <http://hoopthoughts.blogspot.com>. In the spring of 2009, Starkey and LSU head football coach Les Miles became the first two coaches in the Athletic Department to create their own Twitter accounts on the popular social networking entity. Fans can follow Starkey and the Lady Tigers on a close basis at www.twitter.com/LSUCoachStarkey.

The native of Charleston, W.V., is married to the former Sherie Hayslett, also a native of West Virginia.

Joni Crenshaw, a former associate head coach at Alabama and Louisiana Tech, enters her first season as an assistant coach on Van Chancellor's staff at LSU.

Crenshaw replaces Kenya Larkin-Landers who left the LSU program following the conclusion of the 2009-10 season.

"I am extremely pleased to have Joni join our staff at LSU," said Chancellor on her official hiring date of April 24, 2010. "She's grown up in the SEC, having both played and coached in this league. She is going to do a tremendous job recruiting for us and she will be a great role model for our players. This is a great hire for our program."

Crenshaw spent two seasons at Alabama as the associate head coach from 2008-10. She spearheaded the Tide's recruiting efforts, including the Class of 2010 that was ranked ninth in the nation by ESPN HoopGurlz.com. Crenshaw helped Alabama sign a pair of top 100 prospects led by the nation's No. 5 overall player, Kaneisha Horn.

The Meridian, Miss., native previously lettered four years at Alabama where, during her playing days as a center, scored 716 points, grabbed 555 rebounds and registered 103 blocked shots ranking her fourth in program history. She entered the starting lineup her final two years at the Capstone while serving as a team captain her senior season.

She was named to the Southeastern Conference Good Works Team for two years, was named to the SEC's Academic Honor Roll all four years and received a post-graduate scholarship for community service from the SEC in 2001. That same year, Crenshaw was recognized as one of the 10 most influential African Americans on the Alabama campus by the Mentor Fellowship Society.

Crenshaw, 31, earned her bachelor's degree in education from Alabama in 2002.

She started her coaching career at Troy University where she served as assistant coach and recruiting coordinator. In addition, she also handled post player development, served as academic coordinator and coordinated Troy's summer camps. During those three years, Crenshaw recruited and signed the two Atlantic Sun Freshmen of the Year in Laura Lee Holman (2004) and Amy Lewis (2005).

Crenshaw then joined the coaching staff at Louisiana Tech where she served as assistant coach for two years (2005-07) and associate coach for one season (2007-08).

Crenshaw's top responsibility in Ruston was serving as Louisiana Tech's recruiting coordinator where she handled both high school and junior college efforts. An emphasis was placed in her home state of Mississippi as well as Alabama where she grew strong roots as a student-athlete.

Crenshaw's recruiting work paid dividends for the Lady Techsters as she was instrumental in signing high school standouts Shanavia Dowdell (2006 Miss Basketball in Alabama) and Tiawana Pringle (2006 Miss Basketball in Mississippi). Crenshaw was part of a staff that won two Western Athletic Conference regular season titles in her first two years.

Prior to her collegiate career, Crenshaw prepped at Meridian High School where she was named the 1997 Gatorade Player of the Year and a USA Today All-American while leading the school to a mark of 67-7 over her final two years. She also won three state titles in track and field during her high school days and was selected as the school's homecoming queen in 1996.

Travis Mays, one of the nation's top recruiters, enters his fourth season as an assistant coach at LSU.

Mays, a native of Ocala, Fla., came to LSU after a three-year stint as an assistant coach for Jody Conradt at his alma mater, the University of Texas.

Mays has played a crucial role in LSU's recruiting process that has landed three straight top 20 classes, including the nation's No. 4 class in 2008 by ESPN HoopGurlz.com. LSU signed the nation's No. 16 rated class in 2010.

In three seasons, Mays has helped the Lady Tigers to a Final Four and three NCAA Tournament appearances. He regularly works with LSU's perimeter players, which included the development of two-time All-American and 2010 WNBA Draft selection Allison Hightower.

Mays' expertise helped Hightower improve her perimeter shooting in the summer of 2009. In 2009-10, Hightower responded with one of the finest seasons in school history as she ranked second in the SEC in points per game (18.2) and second in 3-point field goals made (45). Hightower, who was a finalist for the John R. Wooden Award and Lowe's Senior CLASS Award, finished her career ranked 13th in LSU all-time scoring (1,508 points) and seventh in career 3-point field goals made (108).

One of the most acclaimed players in Texas men's basketball history, Mays is the number two scorer in Texas men's basketball history and was a first-round NBA draft pick.

Mays played at Texas from 1986-90 and helped resurrect Longhorns basketball in the latter years of the Southwest Conference.

Prior to his time as a coach at Texas, Mays spent the 2002 and 2003 seasons coaching and scouting for the WNBA San Antonio Silver Stars franchise. He was an assistant coach during the 2002 season and spent the last year as head scout for the Silver Stars. He also coached AAU boys' basketball for the Tennessee/Alabama "Pump" team in the summer of 2003.

Mays was an Associated Press Second Team All-American as a senior. He ranks second in UT men's basketball all-time scoring (2,279 points) and also second in Southwest Conference all-time scoring. Mays' career scoring average was 18.4 points per game. He scored in double-figures in 100 of 124 career games, and he is one of only two Texas men's players in history to score more than 700 points in a season. Kevin Durant joined that club in 2006-07 with 903 points. Mays achieved the feat with 743 points as a junior and 772 as a senior.

In his final two seasons at Texas, Mays was part of the most prolific guard scoring trio in Texas history, alongside Joey Wright (1,819 points) and Lance Blanks (1,322). They came to be known as "BMW-The Ultimate Scoring Machine" and led Texas to the Elite Eight in 1990 before the Longhorns' three-point loss to Arkansas.

Mays led Texas to the 1990 Elite Eight, scoring 24.1 points per contest. Against Georgia in the first round of the 1990 tourney, Mays poured in 44 points, which still stands tied for the 11th-best single game scoring effort in NCAA Tournament history.

He was the first player in SWC history to earn back-to-back Player of the Year honors as a junior and senior in 1989 and 1990.

Mays received a bachelor's degree in psychology from Texas in 1990.

A first-round NBA draft pick in 1990 by the Sacramento Kings, chosen 14th overall, Mays spent his first year in the NBA with the Kings (1991) and then spent two years with the Atlanta Hawks (1991-93). He was named to the NBA All-Rookie Second Team, averaging 14.3 points per game in his first pro season.

Two games into his second season, Mays ruptured both tendons in his right ankle and was out for the season before returning for his final NBA season the following year. Mays had a NBA career scoring average of 11.1 points per game.

Mays' pro career extended to European basketball as he played in Greece, Israel, Turkey and Italy. Highlights of his European career include selection to the European All-Star Game, leading Panionios (Greece) to the European Championship final eight with 27.5 points per contest. He was also a first team All-Star selection (1999-2001) on Italy's Siena squad.

Mays was inducted into the University of Texas Men's Athletics Hall of Honor in 2002. He was a scholastic All-America standout at Vanguard High School in Ocala, Fla.

Mays is married to Mirella and the two have two children, daughter Cherrell, 16 and son Trevor, 4.

Hightower Leads LSU To NCAA Tournament Second Round Appearance

The LSU Lady Tigers culminated the program's 35th season with a second straight trip to the second round of the NCAA Tournament. Once again it was the play and leadership of Allison Hightower who paved the way. Hightower concluded her career as one of the greatest players in school history.

"Let me just say this, I came to LSU in '07 and if Allison Hightower had transferred, LSU's program goes rock-bottom," said LSU head coach Van Chancellor following the Lady Tigers' 60-52 loss to Duke in the second round. "Allison Hightower stayed and we built this program around her for three years."

Associate head coach Bob Starkey, who was on the staff when Hightower arrived on campus, said Hightower was the hardest worker he ever coached.

"I'm not sure this is the proper wording, but in a long way, she saved our program," Starkey said. "She was the constant during a difficult time. She is, in my mind, one of the five most influential people to ever play here. She's the hardest working player I've ever coached - men or women."

Hightower sparked the Lady Tigers to a 9-0 start to the season before suffering their first loss at Nebraska on Dec. 20. Lessons were learned from the double-digit defeat and LSU concluded non-conference play with one of its biggest wins of the season at 13th-ranked Xavier on Dec. 30. Chancellor claimed his 500th career victory as LSU's defense smothered the Musketeers forcing 21 turnovers in a 56-47 win.

"In the scope of things that doesn't seem important, the 500 wins," he said. "I am more proud of our team and what they did tonight. That is what is important. These players deserve the credit."

LSU compiled a 9-7 record in Southeastern Conference play, finishing with a share of third place in the final league standings and preserving its streak of nine consecutive SEC Tournament first round byes. After winning their first two conference games, the Lady Tigers dropped four of their next five games. LSU went into the month of February with a 4-4 record and two more dramatic overtime losses put the Lady Tigers at 6-4 with six games to play.

Like 2009, LSU put together a late season surge winning five of its last six regular season contests highlighted by a 55-39 blowout of No. 20 Vanderbilt in Baton Rouge on Feb. 18. The Lady Tigers held the Commodores to their lowest point total in school history. LSU ran away from Mississippi State, 76-47, on a day when Hightower was honored for Senior Day.

Despite a 63-61 loss to Vanderbilt in the quarterfinals of the SEC Tournament, the Lady Tigers drew a No. 7 seed in the Memphis Region of the NCAA Tournament. LSU traveled to hostile Cameron Indoor Stadium in Durham, N.C., for the first time in school history. The Lady Tigers had a tough draw in their first round game in what was the only first round matchup between ranked teams in the tournament. LaSondra Barrett, who led the SEC in free throw percentage on the season, delivered a game-high 20 points in a 60-39 rout.

Duke blasted Hampton in its first round contest and the two historic programs met in what would be a classic game on the Blue Devils home floor. Duke's tough matchup zone forced LSU into a season-high 21 turnovers and the Blue Devils pulled away in the game's waning minutes to eliminate the Lady Tigers by a score of 60-52. Hightower finished with a game-high 19 points as she eclipsed the 1,500 point mark in the final game of her career.

"I'm really proud of our team," Chancellor said. "This is the proudest I've been of our team all year, even though we lost the game. I thought we left it all on the floor today. I thought our kids came to play and we gave it everything we had. When I coach, and I've coached a long time, I like to coach teams that give me everything they got; I thought we did that tonight. It felt like a Sweet 16 game that puts you on to the Final Four. That's how the intensity was."

Katherine Graham made LSU history with the school's third triple-double against Ole Miss on Feb. 7. Graham had 20 points, 10 rebounds and 10 assists.

Allison Hightower finished her career as the 13th all-time leading scorer in LSU history with 1,508 points.

LSU DANCED FOR 12TH STRAIGHT YEAR

LSU pushed its NCAA Tournament appearance streak to 12 straight seasons, which is the third longest streak in the SEC trailing only Tennessee and Georgia. It was the Lady Tigers' 20th overall appearance in "March Madness". The 12 straight seasons are a school record for consecutive appearances in the NCAA Tournament. LSU made the tournament for the first time in 1984, again in 1986, 1987, 1988, 1989, 1990, 1991, 1997, 1999, 2000, 2001, 2002, 2003, 2004, 2005, 2006, 2007, 2008 and in 2009. The Lady Tigers own a 38-20 all-time record in the NCAA Tournament. Since 2003, LSU is an outstanding 25-8 in the tournament.

HIGHTOWER SELECTED IN WNBA DRAFT

Allison Hightower was the 15th overall selection in the 2010 WNBA Draft as she was chosen by the Connecticut Sun in the second round. Hightower, who was also named to the USA Basketball Select Team, became the 15th LSU player selected in the WNBA Draft since the league's inception in 1997. She was the first Lady Tiger taken since Sylvia Fowles, Erica White and Quianna Chaney went in 2008.

HIGHTOWER CLOSES OUT BRILLIANT CAREER

Allison Hightower will go down as one of the greatest players in school history. The Arlington, Texas, native ended her career with numerous national awards, including being a Lowe's Senior CLASS Second-Team All-American and a honorable mention All-American by State Farm and the Associated Press. She was a finalist for the John Wooden Award and Naismith Trophy. Hightower finished as the 13th all-time leading scorer in LSU history with 1,508 points. She also went down in LSU annals in sixth place in blocked shots (89), seventh in career 3-point field goals (108) and fourth in games played with 136.

HIGHTOWER, BARRETT EARN ALL-SEC HONORS

Allison Hightower was a unanimous choice on the 2010 Coaches All-Southeastern Conference first team, while also earning a spot on the All-Defensive Team.

LaSondra Barrett was voted onto the All-SEC Second Team. Hightower was one of three unanimous choices on the first team, joining Kentucky's Victoria Dunlap and Tennessee's Angie Bjorklund. LSU has produced a first-team All-SEC performer for seven straight seasons. It is the second consecutive year Hightower has been voted onto the first team, becoming the first multi-time LSU recipient since Sylvia Fowles was a three-time first-team selection from 2006-08. Hightower was also one of only two unanimous choices to the Associated Press All-SEC First Team.

CHANCELLOR REACHES 500 WINS

The architect of four WNBA championships with the Houston Comets and the coach of the 2004 United States Olympic gold medal team, LSU head coach Van Chancellor added another accolade to his Hall of Fame career by winning his 500th collegiate game on Dec. 30 against No. 13 Xavier. Chancellor became the 24th active Division I coach to reach 500 wins and the 39th Division I coach all-time to reach the 500 plateau. One should also factor in that Chancellor spent 10 seasons with the WNBA's Houston Comets, claiming 211 victories. Chancellor is the second LSU coach to have won 500 games with the late Sue Gunter being the other.

LSU REACHES 20 WINS

With its win over Mississippi State in the regular season finale, LSU reached the 20-win plateau for the ninth time since the 1999-2000 season. The only time during that stretch LSU did not reach 20 wins was 2009 (19-11) with a revamped starting five and several freshmen and in 2001-02.

LADY TIGERS CLAIM 200TH ALL-TIME SEC WIN

With the win over Vanderbilt on Feb. 18, LSU claimed its 200th all-time SEC victory. The Lady Tigers became just the third team in league history to reach 200 SEC victories.

30T GAME: OLE MISS 102, LSU 101

It featured 55 minutes on the scoreboard, 203 points, heroic shots, a triple-double, 14 ties and 21 lead changes, but Ole Miss survived against LSU in one of the greatest games in Pete Maravich Assembly Center history. LSU's Katherine Graham became the second player in school history with a triple-double, but Ole Miss' Kayla Holloway converted a layup with 11 seconds remaining as the Rebels outlasted the 19th-ranked Lady Tigers, 102-101, in a triple-overtime thriller on Super Bowl Sunday. LSU was playing in its school-record fourth overtime game of the season, and it was the first time in school history the Lady Tigers had played in back-to-back overtime contests. The teams combined to play the second-highest scoring game in Maravich Center history, second to only a 108-102 double-overtime win by Georgia over LSU on Feb. 10, 1991. With five seconds to go in the third overtime, Graham was fouled and went to the line for two free throws with LSU trailing, 102-100. After making the first, she missed the second but gathered the rebound and missed a potential game-winning shot from the right elbow as time expired. LSU played the final eight minutes, including the final overtime period, without its top player in Allison Hightower. Hightower left in the second overtime with 3:30 remaining due to leg cramping, but the senior still managed to score a game-high 31 points. Destini Hughes' heroic jumper in the lane with 0.4 seconds left sent the game into double-overtime and tied the contest at 82 all. LSU rallied from a 3-point deficit in the extra period when Graham buried a desperation 3-pointer from the right wing to tie it at 90 apiece with seven seconds on the clock. Officials then went to the monitors to review the shot to see if Graham's foot was on the line. After a few minutes of conferring and the crowd chanting "three", the call withstood.

KG'S TRIPLE-DOUBLE MAKES HISTORY

Against Ole Miss on Feb. 7, Katherine Graham finished with 20 points, a career-high 10 assists and 10 rebounds and provided LSU with its first triple-double since Cornelia Gayden had 32 points, 15 boards and 10 steals against Louisiana-Lafayette on Feb. 7, 1995. It was the first triple-double by an LSU player in a Southeastern Conference game and just the third in school history. It was also the only triple-double by an SEC player in an SEC game in 2010 and the 22nd in the history of the SEC. The last SEC player with a triple-double in an SEC game: Ceira Ricketts with 14 points, 13 boards and 12 assists versus Auburn in 2009. Her 10 assists were the most in a game by an LSU player since Erica White had 12 at Arkansas on Jan. 10, 2008. Graham nearly notched another triple-double with 15 points, 10 rebounds and eight assists against Arkansas on Feb. 25.

LSU RETIRES SEIMONE AUGUSTUS' JERSEY

LSU officially retired the jersey of women's basketball legend Seimone Augustus prior to the Tennessee game on Jan. 24. Her jersey will forever hang in the rafters of the Maravich Center, joining the likes of Pete Maravich, Bob Pettit, Shaquille O'Neal and Rudy Macklin. Augustus, the most decorated female student-athlete in LSU history and a two-time women's basketball National Player of the Year, became the first woman in LSU Athletics history to have her jersey retired. Augustus' senior season was 2006, but the LSU Athletic Council unanimously waived the five-year waiting period a student-athlete must normally have to be nominated after completing intercollegiate competition.

HIGHTOWER'S SCORING AVERAGE BEST SINCE SEIMONE

Allison Hightower posted the best scoring average by an LSU player since Seimone Augustus' National Player of the Year season of 2005-06. Augustus posted 22.7 points en route to winning every player of the year honor. Hightower finished at 18.2 points per contest, besting her mark of 14.9 as a junior.

LSU head coach Van Chancellor entered the 500 career win club with a 56-47 victory at 13th-ranked Xavier on Dec. 30.

LSU great Seimone Augustus became the first woman in LSU Athletics history to have her jersey retired. The ceremony was held prior to the Tennessee game on Jan. 24.

HIGHTOWER TWO-TIME SEC PLAYER OF WEEK

Allison Hightower earned SEC Player of the Week honors twice in 2009-10. She earned the award with her performance in Lady Tiger wins at No. 13 Xavier (Ohio) and South Carolina on Jan. 4. She was the co-recipient of the honor for her 20-point performance against New Orleans on Dec. 13. Hightower shared the award with Mississippi State's Alexis Rack. Hightower averaged 20.5 points with 10 steals, eight assists and four blocks in the two games at Xavier and South Carolina. Hightower scored 23 points to lead LSU to a 70-58 victory in its SEC opener at South Carolina. She tallied four assists, four blocks and four steals while playing all 40 minutes against the Gamecocks. Hightower was the first two-time LSU SEC Player of the Week recipient since Sylvia Fowles claimed the award four times during her senior year of 2008.

GUNTER INDUCTED INTO LSU ATHLETIC HALL OF FAME

The late Sue Gunter was inducted into the LSU Athletic Hall of Fame on April 24. The head coach of the LSU women's basketball team from 1982-2004, she became the winningest coach in Lady Tiger history with 442 victories. She led LSU to the 2004 Final Four, setting into motion a string of five straight Final Four appearances for the Lady Tigers.

LADY TIGERS TOP NO. 13 XAVIER ON THE ROAD

Allison Hightower led all scorers with 18 points and 11th-ranked LSU never trailed as the Lady Tigers shut down 13th-ranked Xavier (Ohio), 56-47, to give Van Chancellor his 500th career victory at Cintas Arena in Cincinnati on Dec. 30. The Musketeers came into the contest averaging 74.5 points per game but were held 28 points below their season average. Hightower finished 7-of-11 from the floor and tallied a career-high six steals. Junior guard Katherine Graham scored a then-career-high 14 points and point guard Latear Eason dished out a career-high seven assists in 40 minutes. LSU forced the Musketeers into 21 turnovers -- 11 in the first 20 minutes -- that allowed the Lady Tigers to build as large as a 13-point lead in the waning minutes of the first half. The Lady Tigers closed their non-conference slate with their first win over a ranked non-SEC opponent on the road since at No. 18 Michigan State on Dec. 17, 2006.

WINNING RECORD IN SEC PLAY

LSU posted a winning record in SEC play for the 12th straight season dating back to 1999 after going 9-7 in 2010. LSU has been at least .500 or better in league play for 13 straight seasons. The Lady Tigers were 7-7 in 1998 and 9-3 in 1997. The last time LSU finished with a losing record in SEC play was 1996 with a 4-6 mark. This was the first year of the new 16-game regular season schedule.

HIGHTOWER'S CAREER NIGHT AT LOUISIANA TECH

Allison Hightower's 32 points at Louisiana Tech were the most by an LSU player since Seimone Augustus dropped 35 points at Florida on Feb. 16, 2006. Her 25 points in the first half were the most by an LSU player in a half since Elaine Powell had 27 points in a half at SMU on Jan. 10, 1996. Hightower finished 10-of-23 from the field and added 9-of-14 from the free throw line in 40 minutes of action. She eclipsed her previous career high of 26 points in the 2009 NCAA Tournament first round win over Green Bay.

State of the Program: Finishing Strong

Several streaks continued for the LSU women's basketball program following its strong finish to a 21-10 overall record and a 9-7 SEC mark:

12

straight NCAA Tournament appearances, the third longest streak in the SEC

70

number of SEC wins since 2005, which is the second most of any team in the league

straight years of earning a bye in the SEC Tournament, the longest current streak in the league since Tennessee's ended at 11 in 2009

out of last eight seasons LSU has finished with at least a share of second place in the SEC ... Three of those finishes were as conference champions consecutive years LSU has led the SEC in scoring defense, which held true again this season after allowing 52.0 ppg straight years of producing an All-SEC First Team selection after Allison Hightower was a unanimous choice for the second straight year

LSU SEC's No. 1 Scoring Defense

LSU led the SEC in scoring defense for the sixth straight season as the Lady Tigers only allowed 52.0 points per game. That figure also ranked fifth nationally and the third-best mark in LSU single-season annals. The following is a look at LSU's No. 1 league scoring defenses the last six years:

SEASON	OPPONENT PPG	PTS
2009-10	52.0	1,611
2008-09	53.5	1,605
2007-08	50.0	1,849
2006-07	49.0	1,863

Barrett, Big Runs Propel LSU Past Hartford in NCAA First Round, 60-39

Sophomore forward LaSondra Barrett scored a game-high 20 points and the seventh-seeded LSU women's basketball advanced past 10th-seeded Hartford with its 13th-straight NCAA tournament first round win by a score of 60-39 on Saturday afternoon in Cameron Indoor Stadium.

The Lady Tigers smothered Hartford on the offensive end, holding the America East conference regular season champions to 29.6 percent for the game.

"Every time Hartford made a run at us, I thought our kids did a great job of responding to the run and answering the call," LSU head coach Van Chancellor said. "Our defense was pretty good today. That's the best it's been in a while."

"Anytime you win a NCAA Tournament game you feel very fortunate. I thought that Hartford would reflect Jennifer (Rizzotti)-hard-nosed and tough."

Barrett added eight rebounds and finished 10-of-11 at the free throw line. LSU shot 23-of-30 from the line as a team, while the Hawks were only 4-of-7 from the charity stripe. Senior guard Allison Hightower and sophomore forward Courtney Jones scored 10 points apiece.

Junior guard Katherine Graham grabbed a game-high nine rebounds to go along with seven points, four assists and three steals.

Hartford scored the game's first four points but LSU responded with 17 unanswered points. LSU's defense smothered Diana Delva, the America East Player of the Year, in the game's first 20 minutes. Delva only attempted two shots and the Hawks committed 13 first-half turnovers.

Jones converted a reverse layup on an assist from Graham. Hightower and Graham hit on layups to culminate the 17-0 run at the 12:07 mark. Nikkia Smith's short jumper finally put the Hawks back on the board but not before going cold from the floor for nearly eight minutes.

Barrett took advantage at the free throw line with two made shots and followed that up with a jumper in the final minute to give LSU its largest lead of the half, 29-13. The Lady Tigers led 29-15 at the break.

LSU put the game away midway through the second half with a 13-0 spurt. Hightower hit on back-to-back buckets that made it 44-21. Destini Hughes then buried LSU's only 3-pointer of the game on a wide-open look from the right wing.

During the run, Hartford coach Jennifer Rizzotti earned a technical foul. She would be ejected five minutes later with 7:27 to go after picking up her second technical. Barrett's two made free throws off the technical lifted the LSU advantage to 55-29.

Chancellor lifted his starters under the seven-minute mark. LSU finished at 32.1 percent from the floor and forced the Hawks into 17 turnovers. Delva led Hartford with 12 points.

Home-Standing Duke Pulls Away Late to Eliminate LSU, 60-52

Duke kept taking the ball from typically sure-handed LSU. It was only a matter of time before the game belonged to the Blue Devils, too.

Jasmine Thomas scored 15 points to help Duke pull away late and beat the Lady Tigers 60-52 on Monday night in the second round of the NCAA women's tournament at a hostile Cameron Indoor Stadium.

Bridgette Mitchell scored 12 points for the second-seeded Blue Devils, who went ahead to stay on Thomas' layup with 3½ minutes left. The Tigers, whose average of 12½ turnovers per game ranked No. 2 nationally, matched a season high with 22 giveaways -- many against Duke's tough matchup zone -- and had one field goal in the final 4 minutes.

"I'm really proud of our team," said LSU head coach Van Chancellor. "This is the proudest I've been of our team all year, even though we lost the game. I thought we left it all on the floor today. I thought our kids came to play and we gave it everything we had. Duke's just got a great team and they got a really good team here."

Allison Hightower had 19 points in her final collegiate game and LaSondra Barrett added 12 for No. 7 seed LSU. Katherine Graham hit two free throws with 3:49 left to give the Tigers their last lead at 47-46.

Thomas drove the lane for a left-handed layup, and Keturah Jackson added a stickback to start the 10-2 run that put the Blue Devils on their way.

The Blue Devils extended their winning streak in tournament games at Cameron Indoor Stadium to 14 and improved to 30-1 on their home court during the past two seasons.

"Their fans motivate them," Barrett said. "But for every steal or and-one that they get, it really excites their fans. They're very loud. We should have just kept fighting through that, but it's a tough environment."

Courtney Jones added 11 points for LSU, which was denied its 13th trip to the round of 16 and was playing a tournament game on an opponent's home court for the first time since a loss at Colorado in 2002. The Lady Tigers, who reached five straight Final Fours from 2004-08, were bounced in the second round for the second straight year.

Neither team led by more than five points in the second half until Christmas capped Duke's decisive run with two free throws that made it 56-49 with 22.7 seconds left. Jones' 3-pointer with 16 seconds left was the Tigers' only basket down the stretch.

This was billed as a matchup of two of the nation's stingiest defenses, with both schools ranking in the top 20 in scoring defense. Throughout this one, they took away the strengths of the opposing offenses.

The Tigers surpassed their season average with 13 turnovers in the first half alone, but kept Duke off the offensive glass. The Blue Devils, who entered with the seventh-best rebounding margin in Division I, had just three offensive boards in the first half and allowed LSU to shoot 52 percent before the break -- their worst defensive half of the season.

Sue Gunter

40 Seasons • 708 Wins • Basketball Hall of Famer

The late Sue Gunter, a 2005 inductee into the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame, will always be remembered as not only one of the greatest coaches in women's basketball history, but also as a pioneer in the game. Gunter passed away on Aug. 4, 2005.

Gunter, who became the third women's coach in history to reach 700 career victories with a win over Arkansas on Feb. 12, 2004, was with women's basketball on the collegiate level every step of the way and saw the sport evolve from a novelty back in the early 1960s to present day, where the Final Four is sold out years in advance and games are shown nightly on national television.

Gunter, who was inducted into the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame in June 2000, completed her career among the leaders in several NCAA coaching categories: seasons coached (No. 1 - 40); games coached (No. 3 - 1,016); wins (No. 3 - 708); and 20-win seasons (No. 4 - 22).

Gunter's influence was a catalyst behind the growth of the game and things were no different in Baton Rouge as the Lady Tigers continue to play before school-record crowds and media attention is at an all-time high. In Gunter's 22-year tenure at LSU, her list of accomplishments are long and impressive -- 14 NCAA Tournament appearances, one trip to the Final Four, four NCAA Elite Eight appearances, eight NCAA Sweet 16 appearances, two SEC Tournament titles, a Women's NIT title, and a handful of Coach of the Year awards.

Gunter added one final accolade to her historic career when she was inducted into the LSU Athletic Hall of Fame on April 24, 2010.

Sue Gunter - The Coach

Sue Gunter brought the LSU women's basketball program back to national prominence. After a three-year hiatus in the mid-1990's that saw the Lady Tigers suffer through the school's first-ever losing seasons, LSU returned to the post-season, and in Gunter's final year as head coach in 2003-04, advanced to the program's first NCAA Final Four.

To realize just how far the Lady Tigers have come, one has to go back to the 1994-95 season, the worst year in school history as LSU posted a 7-20 overall mark. Strangely enough, it was the 1994-95 season that proved to be the turning point for the Lady Tigers as Gunter turned up her recruiting magic and promptly signed the best class in school history. That class, which included future All-SEC selections in Elaine Powell, Pietra Gay and Toni Gross, won 46 games over two years and resurrected the LSU women's basketball program. The Lady Tigers won an average of 22.5 games per season under Gunter since the 1994-95 campaign, including a then-school record 30 wins in 2002-03.

Her final season was undoubtedly one of Gunter's finest on the court, despite not being on the bench for over half the season due to illness. The Lady Tigers won 27 games, finished second in the SEC with a 10-4 mark, received a No. 4 seed in the NCAA Tournament's West Region and advanced past Austin Peay, Maryland, No. 1 seed Texas and Georgia to reach the program's first Final Four right down the road in New Orleans. Gunter coached in her 1,000 game on Jan. 25, 2004 and recorded her 700th career victory later in the season against Arkansas. Sophomore Seimone Augustus earned Kodak All-American honors and was the Louisiana Player of the Year.

Gunter completed her career as the third winningest women's basketball coach in history with an overall record of 708-308, which included coaching stints at Middle Tennessee, Stephen F. Austin and LSU. Gunter's LSU record was 442-221, which makes her the winningest coach in school history.

Under the direction of Gunter, the Lady Tigers played in 14 NCAA

What They Said About Coach Gunter ...

"Sue Gunter was a wonderful friend, an exceptional person and an incredibly talented basketball coach. Sue was definitely one of the pioneers of women's collegiate basketball. She was one of my mentors. I learned so much from Sue about the X's and O's of the game of basketball. But more importantly, she taught me about the delicate balance of coaching and teaching the game and the value of great player-coach relationships. She made playing basketball fun due to her ability to connect with her players. Personally, I am going to miss her tremendously and I know the game is going to miss her."

- Pat Summitt, Tennessee head coach

"I loved her. There was always a lot of respect, not just as a coach, but in life. She was an unbelievable friend and sister. I will always cherish what we had. And she was a hell of a coach."

- Ann Meyers

"It saddens all of us in the women's basketball world to see the passing of one of the great, great people in Sue Gunter. A person you absolutely loved. There was not a person I respected more than Sue Gunter. Not only did we lose a great coach, but we lost an even better person."

- Van Chancellor, LSU Head Coach

"Sue was one of the keystones of women's basketball. She was a role model for all players and coaches to use. She had the ability to be a great competitor on the court as well as have great compassion for her players and fellow coaches."

- Joe Ciampi, former Auburn head coach

"When you look at Sue's record and all the accomplishments throughout her career, it's easy to say that we have lost a great coach. But, in reality we have lost a better person."

- Jim Foster, Ohio State head coach

"A lot of the things you see today in the game of women's basketball are due to a large price earlier paid by people such as Sue Gunter. I had the utmost respect for her as a person and as a coach. She will really be missed in our game. Her achievements and legacy will far exceed her wins and losses, even though they were very impressive in her case."

- Marsha Sharp, former Texas Tech head coach

"Personally I felt like I lost my best friend. Basketball lost one of its heroes. She is legendary. The things that she has done and the way she did them are just remarkable."

- Andy Landers, Georgia head coach

"Just sadness ... that was my first thought. At the same time it made me relive the times I spent with Sue Gunter on the recruiting trail. Those were good times. The coaching profession has lost a great one today. No question she is one of the pioneers. She's a legend in the women's game."

- Kim Mulkey, Baylor head coach

"I am very saddened today. Sue's passing is a great loss for our sport and a personal loss of a close friend. My thoughts are with Sue's family and those at LSU at this sad time."

- Jody Conradt, former Texas head coach

"To me, the first thing that comes to mind is character. That's what she instilled in us. It was not just always about basketball. It was about us being individual women in the world today. Basketball was definitely a luxury, so I was honored to have the opportunity to play for her, get to know her, and spend as much time as possible with her."

- Temeka Johnson, LSU point guard (2002-05)

"It was about two things when we stepped out on the floor - winning and playing for our coach. We loved and respected her to the highest level. Even a few years after her death and today, if something wonderful happens in my life, she is one of the first people who come to mind that I would love to talk to. A part of her continues to live in me."

- Cornelia Gayden, LSU guard (1992-95)

"For her to be inducted into the LSU (Athletic) Hall of Fame, it is a tremendous way to maintain her legacy and educate more people today on her accomplishments of the past. If Coach Gunter were here today, I think she would be proud of making it to the Hall of Fame but more so because she would look at it as a program honor."

- Bob Starkey, LSU associate head coach

"Dream big, work hard."

Tournaments, one National Women's Invitational Tournament and two WNIT events. Gunter led LSU to one Final Four in 2004, and to the Elite Eight in 1986, 2000 and 2003, while leading the Lady Tigers to a championship at the National Women's Invitational Tournament in 1985. In addition, Gunter directed LSU to 14 20-plus-win seasons, including one 30-win season.

Prior to her arrival in Baton Rouge, Gunter had a very successful coaching stint at Stephen F. Austin in Nacogdoches, Texas. While at SFA, Gunter built that program into a national powerhouse as she led the LadyJacks to a 266-87 mark in 12 years as head coach. In addition, she led Stephen F. Austin to four top 10 national rankings, which included No. 5 final rankings in 1979 and 1980. While at Stephen F. Austin, Gunter coached four sports - women's basketball, softball, tennis and track. Her basketball teams went to five Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (AIAW) playoffs, won four state titles and earned a regional crown.

After 16 seasons at SFA, she relinquished the reigns and moved into the position of Director of Women's Athletics where she served two years before returning to the coaching ranks at LSU.

Gunter began her coaching career at Middle Tennessee State where she led the Blue Raiders to undefeated seasons in both of her years there.

The First Lady Tiger Team To Reach NCAA Final Four

With head coach Sue Gunter sitting out the last half of the season due to illness, acting head coach Pokey Chatman led the Lady Tigers to the program's first trip to the NCAA Final Four and ironically enough, it was just down to the road in New Orleans.

The Lady Tigers road to the Final Four began at home in the Pete Maravich Assembly Center with victories over Austin Peay in the first round and Maryland in the second round. A 83-66 win over Austin Peay was sparked by a 21-point performance by all-American Seimone Augustus, while the Baton Rouge native poured in 26 in the 76-61 win over Maryland two nights later.

The fourth-seeded Lady Tigers now had a date with top-seeded Texas in the West Regional semifinal in Seattle, Wash. LSU was looking for revenge from the year before when Texas had knocked off the top-seeded Lady Tigers in the regional final. Revenge is just what LSU got with a 71-55 victory over the Longhorns led by Augustus' career-high 29 points. SEC foe Georgia would be the opponent in the regional final.

It would prove to be one of the best NCAA Tournament games in history with the lead going back and forth until Georgia took a seven-point lead with six minutes to play. LSU did not falter, chipping away at the lead using a 8-1 run in the final four minutes to take the lead and hold it for a 62-60 victory and the program's first trip to the NCAA Final Four.

Augustus matched her career-high with 29 points, including a late free throw, while Temeka Johnson added 19 points, including a 15-foot jumper that gave the Lady Tigers the lead for good.

Augustus was named the West Regional Most Outstanding Player and Johnson joined her on the West Regional All-Tournament team.

LSU had a date with rival and SEC foe Tennessee in the national semifinal game in the New Orleans Arena, just 70 miles from the Baton Rouge campus.

The Lady Vols ended LSU's magical run, 52-50, with a dramatic late steal and lay-up for Tennessee.

LSU ended the season with a 27-8 overall record and a run to the Final Four, the school's first.

2005

Lady Tigers Make it Back-to-Back Trips

After not advancing to the NCAA Final Four in the history of the program, the LSU Lady Tigers made it two straight trips with a visit in 2005.

First-year head coach Pokey Chatman, who had guided LSU to the Final Four in her hometown of New Orleans as acting head coach in 2004, led the Lady Tigers back to the promise land.

Chatman and the Lady Tigers enjoyed one of the best seasons in school history, posting 33-3 overall record and claiming the program's first Southeastern Conference regular season title with a perfect 14-0 mark.

The first stop for the Lady Tigers was Knoxville, Tenn., where No. 16 Stetson awaited. LSU took care of business in convincing fashion, posting a 70-36 victory. National Player of the Year Seimone Augustus scored 14 points, while National Point Guard of the Year Temeka Johnson had 15 points and seven assists.

No. 9 seed Arizona was the next victim as LSU advanced to the Sweet 16. The Lady Tigers continued its domination on defense in a 76-43 victory. For the second straight game the opposition shot below 30.0 percent from the floor.

Augustus led the way with 18 points and eight rebounds, while Johnson added 14 points and 10 rebounds.

Upset-minded Liberty, the No. 13 seed, awaited LSU in Chattanooga for the Regional Semifinal. Defense again dominated the story line as the Lady Tigers defeated the Flames 90-48. Augustus and Scholanda Houston had 22 points, while Johnson added 12 points and 15 assists.

The Duke Blue Devils, the No. 2 seed, now stood between LSU and a return trip to the Final Four.

Duke jumped out to an early lead and led for all but a few seconds of the first half until LSU battled back to tie the score at 30-30 just before halftime.

The Lady Tigers took control in the second half and held on for a 59-49 victory, earning them a trip to Indianapolis and a date with Baylor.

The RCA Dome was the site of the battle between the Lady Bears and the Lady Tigers in the National Semifinal. LSU jumped out to an early 15-point lead only to have Baylor chip back and eventually tie the score 28-28 at the break.

Unlike the Regional Final victory over Duke, this time Baylor, the eventual national champions, took control in the second half and pulled away with a 68-57 victory.

2006

Three Straight Final Four Appearances for the Lady Tigers

After reaching the Final Four in 2004 and 2005, LSU would settle for nothing less than a return trip to the grandest spectacle in women's basketball.

Second-year head coach Pokey Chatman guided the Lady Tigers to a 31-4 overall record, including the program's second-straight Southeastern Conference regular season title with a 13-1 mark.

LSU took its momentum from the regular season and rode it to a No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament for the second-straight season and the third time in four years. The Lady Tigers were placed in the San Antonio Region and made the first stop in Nashville, Tenn., for the first- and second-round games.

No. 16 seed Florida Atlantic awaited LSU at Vanderbilt's Memorial Gymnasium. The Lady Tigers used a 20-0 run midway through the first half and pull away with a 72-48 victory to advance to the second round to face No. 9 seed Washington.

Washington was, in fact, playing so well that they led LSU, 26-23, at the end of the first half. The lead would not last long as the Lady Tigers shot out on a 12-2 run to open the half and never looked back to earn a 72-49 victory and a trip to the "Sweet 16" in San Antonio.

Fourth-seeded DePaul was next for LSU. The Blue Demons gave it a good fight in the opening 20 minutes and found themselves deadlocked at 31-31 with the Lady Tigers at the break. Another Lady Tigers' run to open the second half and LSU pulled away from DePaul for a 66-56 victory.

No. 3 seed Stanford upset second-seeded Oklahoma in the other regional semifinal to set up an LSU-Stanford showdown for the right to advance to Boston.

The Cardinal took a 55-54 lead with four minutes left in the game before LSU posted six straight points to hold a 60-55 advantage with 2:07 remaining.

Just over a minute later, Stanford's Candice Wiggins nailed a three-pointer to cut the lead to 60-59, but Seimone Augustus hit a couple of free throws and drew a charging foul on the defensive end to seal a 62-59 victory for LSU.

Augustus earned regional Most Outstanding Player honors after posting 18 points against DePaul and 26 in the win over Stanford.

In Boston, Duke, the No. 1 seed from the Bridgeport Region, controlled the game from the start and handed LSU a 64-45 loss in the National Semifinal game in the TD Banknorth Garden.

2007

Four Final Fours in as many seasons for the Lady Tigers

Acting head coach Bob Starkey was faced with the daunting task of guiding LSU Lady Tigers into the 2007 NCAA Tournament after closing out the regular season with three losses in the final five games, but guide he did.

After a nice run in the Southeastern Conference Tournament and a loss to Vanderbilt in the title game, LSU received a No. 3 seed in the NCAA Tournament and were placed in the Fresno Regional.

The road to Cleveland's Quicken Loans Arena would begin in Austin, Texas at the University of Texas' Erwin Center. LSU made quick work of the Bulldogs with a 77-39 victory. Quianna Chaney and RaShonta LeBlanc carried LSU with 15 points each and combined to hit nine three-pointers in the game.

Up next was upset-minded West Virginia, the No. 11 seed. LSU had to rally from 11 points down in the final 12 minutes of play to secure a 49-43 victory. Fowles led the way with 21 points and 13 rebounds, while Chaney added 11 points.

The come-from-behind victory over WVU advanced LSU into the Sweet 16 and a trip to Fresno, Calif., and a date with No. 10 seed Florida State at Fresno State's Save Mart Center.

The Lady Tigers had little trouble with Florida State in a 55-43 victory. LSU led the entire game and held a 27-18 lead at halftime before breaking it open with a 10-0 to open the second half. Chaney led LSU with 22 points and Fowles added 20 points and nine rebounds.

In the Elite Eight, The Lady Tigers would face top-seeded Connecticut with a chance to avenge an earlier one-point loss at home.

LSU did just that and did it in convincing fashion with a 73-50 win over the Huskies in the Fresno Regional Final.

Fowles continued her dominance in the tournament with 23 points, 15 rebounds and six blocked shot on her way to being named Regional Most Outstanding Player. Allison Hightower and Ashley Thomas added 12 points each and White posted 11 points in the victory.

A disappointing outing versus Greensboro Regional Champion Rutgers in the national semifinal in Cleveland ended LSU's season, but the Lady Tigers could not hang their heads after a 30-8 season, the program's third straight 30-win season.

The Drive For Five Final Fours

LSU joined Connecticut as the only team in NCAA women's basketball history to advance to five straight Final Fours as first-year LSU head coach Van Chancellor led the Lady Tigers to a 31-6 overall record and a perfect 14-0 Southeastern Conference mark.

Going into the season, the squad knew the Pete Maravich Assembly Center would be a host site for the NCAA First and Second Rounds. LSU earned a No. 2 seed in the New Orleans Regional and awaited Jackson State in the first round from the friendly confines of the Maravich Center. What resulted was one of the most dominating performances in school history and a 66-32 victory over the 15th seed.

Sylvia Fowles led all scorers with 16 points, and Jackson State's 32 total points were the fewest allowed by LSU in its NCAA Tournament history.

Two days later, the Lady Tigers tangled with a ranked Marist team, the No. 7 seed. The Red Foxes were no match for home standing LSU, who snapped Marist's 22-game winning streak with a 68-49 win. Fowles became the SEC's all-time leading rebounder with 13 boards while adding 19 points. LSU's eight seniors also received a standing ovation in their final home game.

In the Sweet 16, another home atmosphere awaited at the New Orleans Arena as the Lady Tigers used a 15-0 run to top third-seeded Oklahoma State, 67-52.

Erica White scored a team-high 18 points on 5-of-11 shooting.

All that stood between LSU and a fifth straight Final Four appearance was a battle with top-seeded and No. 1-ranked North Carolina. Fowles scored 21 points and grabbed 12 rebounds to lead her senior class to victory, 56-50. The senior earned New Orleans Regional Most Outstanding Player honors.

Guard RaShonta LeBlanc hit the most important shot of the game, a three-pointer from the right wing with 4:30 to play that put LSU ahead by seven, 44-37, with 4:30 left.

In Tampa at the NCAA Final Four, LSU suffered a heartbreaking loss to Tennessee,

1976-77

The Only Lady Tigers to Reach the National Championship Game of a Post-Season Tournament

With one of the most dominating forward-center combinations in LSU women's basketball history in Australians Julie Gross and Maree Jackson, the Lady Tigers enjoyed one of their finest seasons in 1976-77.

The Lady Tigers, behind the play of Gross and Jackson, started the season off slow, but ended its regular-season with a 21-5 mark.

The Lady Tigers then headed to the AIAW State Tournament in Ruston. LSU easily handled New Orleans in the first round, winning 85-58, followed by a 73-51 victory over Southern. Louisiana Tech stopped LSU in the semifinals as the Techsters posted a 101-88 win over LSU. The Lady Tigers then fell to Northwestern State, 87-82, but the Lady Tigers still managed to finish in second place at the state tournament.

By virtue of its second place finish at the state tournament, LSU advanced to the AIAW Regional Tournament in Monroe.

At the regional tournament, the Lady Tigers got on a roll as they whipped Texas, 95-67, in the first round followed by a 76-73 win over a Sue Gunter-coached Stephen F. Austin team in the semifinals. LSU beat Baylor, 92-76, in the championship game to advance to the AIAW National Tournament in Minneapolis, Minn.

At the AIAW National Tournament, the Lady Tigers drew Western Washington in the first round and had little trouble as the Lady Tigers, behind 40 points from Maree Jackson, raced out to 49-26 halftime lead and never looked back in their 91-53 win. Next up for the Lady Tigers was Baylor, a team that LSU had already beat twice during the season, which included a victory over the Bears in the regional finals.

LSU was once again victorious over Baylor as the Lady Tigers got 35 points and 26 rebounds from Maree Jackson advanced with a 71-64 win.

The Lady Tigers then moved into the semifinal round against Immaculata, a powerhouse in women's basketball at the time. Immaculata was ranked No. 2 in the nation and was considered a huge favorite in the contest with the Lady Tigers.

The Lady Tigers upset Immaculata, 74-68, despite the fact that Jackson played after having root canal surgery and Brenda McGuffie played with a severely sprained ankle. In addition, Jackson and McGuffie played the final 10 minutes of the contest with four fouls. Jackson finished with 29 points and 19 rebounds, while Gross had 23 points and 11 boards.

It was on to the national championship game for LSU as the 11th-ranked Lady Tigers would face top-ranked Delta State for the title.

Delta State scored the first six points of the contest and the Delta Devils quickly built a nine point advantage, 13-4, on a jumper by Debbie Brock at the 15:14 mark. LSU could get no closer than seven points the rest of the way as Lady Tiger All-American Jackson picked up her third foul with 5:54 to play in the first half. Delta State led 34-25 at intermission.

In the second half, Delta State never let the Lady Tigers back in the contest as the Delta Devils held Jackson to a career-low six points in posting a 68-55 victory. Lucy Harris, the best women's player in the country at the time, led Delta State with 23 points and 16 rebounds.

The Lady Tigers finished the year with an overall record of 29-8 and ranked No. 11 in the nation. That team still holds the distinction of being the only Lady Tiger team ever to reach the national championship game of a post-season tournament.

Seimone Augustus, the National Player of the Year for the second straight season, was named the regional's Most Outstanding Player.

FINAL FOUR

OVERALL RECORD: 31-6

For only the second time in NCAA women's basketball history, a school had reached the Final Four for the fifth straight season as the Lady Tigers culminated a 31-6 record in Tampa, Fla. LSU, which won its third SEC regular season title with a perfect 14-0 mark, defeated No. 15 seed Jackson State and No. 7 seed Marist in the NCAA First and Second Rounds in Baton Rouge. The Lady Tigers, the No. 2 seed in the New Orleans Region, topped No. 3 seed Oklahoma State and then upset top-seeded North Carolina, 56-50, in the New Orleans Regional Final. Senior All-American center Sylvia Fowles earned Most Outstanding Player honors after registering a double-double in four of LSU's five NCAA Tournament games.

2008-09

OVERALL RECORD: 19-11

After losing all five starters from its 2008 Final Four team, LSU's youthful roster put together a five-game winning streak to close the SEC regular season and reach the NCAA Tournament for the 11th straight year. Head coach Van Chancellor might have turned in the finest coaching job of his career. LSU finished tied for second in the SEC despite boasting one of the youngest teams in America. The Lady Tigers defeated Green Bay, 69-59, in the NCAA First Round at the Maravich Center. LSU then gave third-seeded Louisville all it could handle in the second round before falling to the eventual national championship game participants, 62-52.

2009-10

OVERALL RECORD: 21-10

LSU reached the NCAA Tournament for the 12th straight season led by State Farm Honorable Mention All-American and All-SEC first teamer Allison Hightower. The Lady Tigers finished in a tie for third place during the SEC regular season and drew a seventh seed in the NCAA Tournament. After knocking off 10th-seeded Hartford, 60-39, in the first round, LSU took second-seeded and host Duke to the wire at Cameron Indoor Stadium. The Blue Devils outlasted the Lady Tigers by a score of 60-52.

2007-08 SEC Champions

In 2007-08, LSU claimed the program's third outright Southeastern Conference regular season title and did so with a perfect 14-0 league record. The unblemished run through the SEC schedule was the second time in school history the Lady Tigers had achieved the feat and the second time in four seasons.

LSU's second league title in the past three years began on the road with a tough challenge against No. 20/18 Arkansas, but the Lady Tigers quickly put the Lady Razorbacks away with a 76-54 win. Three days later, LSU opened its home league slate with a 62-51 victory over Vanderbilt followed by a decisive blowout of Mississippi State at home, 84-31. The 53-point win broke the largest margin of victory by the Lady Tigers over an SEC opponent in school history.

LSU then took to the road for two crucial games and both went in favor of the Lady Tigers. Following a 79-59 win at No. 25/22 Auburn, LSU ran its SEC record to 5-0 with a 72-46 blowout of Kentucky at Rupp Arena for the program's 700th victory. For 283 consecutive minutes, the Lady Tigers had not trailed until South Carolina took an early lead on LSU on Jan. 31. That 6-4 deficit proved to be short-lived as the Lady Tigers closed the month of January with a 67-37 win to run their record to 6-0.

Two more road wins followed, including a decisive 85-71 win at Florida before a hostile crowd at the Stephen C. O'Connell Center. LSU faced its toughest test to date when the Lady Tigers pulled out a 63-57 road win at No. 24/21 Georgia on Feb. 10. With its record at 9-0, LSU traveled to Knoxville for a showdown with No. 1 Tennessee and what resulted was one of the most thrilling victories in school history.

Down 21-2 eight minutes into the game, No. 7 LSU outscored Tennessee, 76-41, the rest of the game to stun the top-ranked Lady Vols, 78-62. Head coach Van Chancellor then defeated his former Ole Miss team, 78-48, and the Lady Tigers held on for a 52-48 home win to sweep Kentucky on the season series. LSU closed its regular season home schedule by beating Arkansas, 83-46, and the Lady Tigers completed a magical run through the conference schedule with a 69-49 win at Mississippi State to punctuate a 14-0 record.

2004-05 SEC Champions

In 2004-05 the LSU Lady Tigers made history, not only by winning the program's first Southeastern Conference title, but by doing it in convincing fashion.

The Lady Tigers completed the SEC schedule unblemished, posting a 14-0 record.

LSU began the conference season with a home game against No. 17 Georgia on national television. The Lady Tigers, ranked No. 1 at the time, handed the Lady Bulldogs a 76-52 loss and took that momentum into Gainesville, Fla., for a date with the Lady Gators.

The Lady Tigers rolled past Florida, 64-47, and then returned home to host both Alabama and Arkansas. LSU handed Alabama a 76-51 loss and defeated Arkansas, 91-45, in impressive fashion.

A trip to Nashville to face Vanderbilt in Memorial Coliseum was next. The Lady Tigers had not had much success when facing the Commodores on their home floor, but this time LSU prevailed, 79-68, over 17th-ranked Vanderbilt.

The end of January had the Lady Tigers return to Baton Rouge to host pesky Auburn. A hard fought 57-52 victory boosted LSU to a 6-0 league mark with eight games left.

A road swing through Mississippi saw the Lady Tigers hand Ole Miss a 82-58 loss and Mississippi State a 67-40 loss.

Those two wins meant a showdown in the Pete Maravich Center between top-ranked LSU at 8-0 in the league and fifth-ranked Tennessee, also with a perfect 8-0 league mark.

The Lady Tigers took care of business in front of the largest home crowd in LSU women's basketball history, defeating the Lady Vols 68-58 on national television.

A 66-36 victory at South Carolina and a 81-58 home victory over Kentucky followed and LSU had 11 league wins, the most in the program's history.

The final three games awaited, including trips to Auburn and Arkansas.

Once again, the Auburn Tigers proved pesky, but LSU prevailed 62-57.

Things were much easier in Fayetteville as LSU rolled to a 90-64 win, clinching at least a share of the league crown for the Lady Tigers.

LSU returned home with a chance to claim the program's first outright league title and a perfect 14-0 record.

Florida stood in the way, but not for long. In front of a crowd of over 10,000 fans, LSU defeated the Lady Gators, 76-52, and the first SEC Champions banner was dropped from the rafters of the PMAC.

2005-06 SEC Champions

LSU backed up its 2004-05 Southeastern Conference regular season championship, the first in the program's history, with a successful defense, earning a second straight league title with a 13-1 record in 2005-06.

The Lady Tigers kicked conference play off early with a 66-36 victory at Kentucky on Dec. 18. The title defense was underway.

After a few more non-conference games, including wins at home over Michigan State and South Florida, LSU returned to league play at Auburn.

Visiting the Plains is never an easy thing to do, but the Lady Tigers defeated the Tigers 65-38 to begin conference play with a 2-0 mark.

Home wins over South Carolina and Alabama preceded a thrilling, 65-64, victory in Athens against No. 13 Georgia. That win put LSU in first place with a 5-0 record.

The Lady Tigers returned home to face No. 22 Vanderbilt in the PMAC and a 75-53 victory over the Commodores coupled with a Tennessee loss at Kentucky the same night gave LSU a one-game lead atop the league standings over the Lady Vols.

LSU won at Arkansas and at home against Ole Miss that set up a showdown in Knoxville with Tennessee.

The Lady Tigers pulled off an exciting 72-69 win over the fifth-ranked Lady Vols to take a two-game lead with a 9-0 mark. The win was LSU's first over Tennessee in Knoxville.

Georgia invaded Baton Rouge with revenge on their minds, but LSU upended the Lady Dawgs, 68-61, to move to 10-0 and extend the Lady Tigers' conference win streak to 24 straight games.

LSU rolled into Gainesville in first place in the conference with a two-game lead, but Florida brought the Lady Tigers back into a title race with a 79-78 upset win in overtime.

LSU held a slim one-game lead over Tennessee with three games to play.

A home victory over Arkansas and a win at Alabama secured LSU of at least a tie for the title and earned the Lady Tigers the top seed for the upcoming SEC Tournament, but the program wanted its second straight outright title.

Mississippi State invaded the PMAC for the final home game in the careers of seniors Seimone Augustus, Scholanda Hoston and Florence Williams.

The senior trio did not disappoint, leading LSU to a 62-48 victory and the Lady Tigers second straight SEC regular season championship.

1991 SEC Champions

LSU claimed its first Tournament title in 1991 as the Lady Tigers had one of the most impressive runs in conference tournament history. Entering the tournament as the No. 4 seed, the Lady Tigers had a first round bye and then beat Kentucky, 96-76, in the second round. The Lady Tigers, who were ranked No. 12 in the nation, then upset fourth-ranked Georgia, 83-74, in the semifinals. In the title game, point guard Pokey Chatman scored 30 points, including 16 straight at one point, as the Lady Tigers knocked off third-ranked Tennessee, 80-75. Chatman was named most valuable player of the tournament, while Sheila Johnson and Annette Jackson-Lowery were named to the all-tournament team.

2003 SEC Champions

The LSU Lady Tigers run through the Southeastern Conference Tournament was something special in 2003. It had been 12 years since LSU had last won a tournament title and the Lady Tigers were hungry for the crown.

Standing in the way of the second seeded and sixth-ranked Lady Tigers in the opening game were the No. 23 Arkansas Lady Razorbacks, a team that had handed LSU its first defeat of the season in Fayetteville earlier during the season.

It would prove to be the closest margin of victory in LSU's run to the title. LSU defeated Arkansas 78-72 thanks to some clutch free throw shooting down the stretch, including Seimone Augustus' two free throws with 19 seconds to play to give the freshman her 21st and 22nd points of the game and LSU a four-point lead.

Four of the five starters for LSU scored in double figures in the opening round victory over Arkansas. In addition to Augustus, Temeka Johnson added 15 points, while Doneeka Hodges and Aiysha Smith both hit for 11 points.

15th-ranked Vanderbilt was the next item on the menu for the Lady Tigers. The Commodores were also a team that had defeated LSU during the regular season. In fact, the defending SEC Tournament champions had knocked off LSU just the week before in Nashville and were playing with a lot of confidence heading into the semifinals of the SEC Tournament.

Vandy had so much confidence in themselves they led by as many as nine in the first half and took a 39-35 lead into the locker room at halftime after shooting 51.7 percent from the floor in the opening 20 minutes of play. LSU did not take its first lead of the game until Seimone Augustus hit a pair of free throws with 17 minutes to play to give the Lady Tigers a 44-43 advantage. The lead went back and forth for most of the second half until LSU closed the game with a 12-2 run in the final four minutes to advance to their second straight SEC Tournament title game.

Augustus took over the game during the final run, scoring 14 of her 20 points in the final four minutes of play. Aiysha Smith led LSU with 21 points, while Temeka Johnson added 12 points and Augustus had nine rebounds to go along with her point total.

The stage was set for the SEC title game, sixth-ranked LSU vs. No. 3 Tennessee for the SEC Championship. It marked a rematch of the 68-65 Lady Vol victory during the regular season in Baton Rouge.

The Lady Tigers took control of the game early, jumping out to a 7-0 lead while taking a 42-25 lead at the break. Tennessee managed to trim the margin down to 13 with 15 minutes to play before the Lady Tigers took the largest lead of the game at 18 with 10 minutes left.

Temeka Johnson took home MVP honors after scoring a career-high 24 points in the victory. She added nine rebounds and seven assists in the win. Aiysha Smith added 18 points, while Seimone Augustus had 12 points and eight rebounds on her way to an all-tournament team selection.

LSU avenged all three of its regular season losses with three wins over three top 25 teams in three days to win the 2003 SEC Tournament Championship.

THE DEAF DOME

Over the last 13 years, the LSU women's basketball team has established the Pete Maravich Assembly Center as one of the toughest road playing sites in not only the Southeastern Conference but the nation. Since the 1996-97 season, the Lady Tigers have posted a remarkable home record of 190-26 (.880), including averaging 14 victories per year.

Since the 2004-05 season, LSU is 76-13 at home and over the past seven seasons, the Lady Tigers are 106-15 in the friendly confines of the Maravich Center. LSU has proven to be tough to beat in SEC play in the venue. In conference games, the Lady Tigers are 76-16 (.854) at home over the past 13 years and an amazing 36-7 over the past six seasons. LSU is 38-14 at home against top 25 teams over the last 13 years, and the PMAC can back up its claim as one of the nation's most-feared road sites.

In addition to their success on the court, the Lady Tigers have also played before record crowds. Over the past eight seasons, LSU has established 14 of the top 15 crowds in PMAC history, including a record crowd of 15,233 against Tennessee on Feb. 10, 2005. During that span the Lady Tigers have played in front of 10 home crowds of over 10,000 fans.

LSU finished the 2005-06 season ranked 14th in the nation in average home attendance with 6,273 and played in front of five crowds of at least 8,000 people. In 2004-05, LSU finished 10th in the nation in average home attendance with 7,317 fans per game, by far a record for the Lady Tigers. During that season four crowds of over 10,000 were recorded for games, including the record crowd of 15,233 against Tennessee.

LSU rarely gets upset on its home floor. The Lady Tigers are 146-9 over the last 13 years against unranked teams. LSU posted undefeated records at home over non-ranked opponents in 2007-08 (11-0), 2006-07 (11-0), 2005-06 (10-0), 2004-05 (10-0), 2002-03 (8-0), 2001-02 (11-0), 1999-00 (17-0), 1998-99 (11-0) and 1996-97 (11-0). The 2009-10 season saw the Lady Tigers post an unblemished 8-0 mark versus non-conference teams.

During the 1999-2000 campaign, the Lady Tigers set a school-record with 17 home victories with their only loss coming at the hands of second-ranked Tennessee.

In 35 years of history at the PMAC, LSU's home court advantage can be compared with the best programs from across the country as the Lady Tigers have won 80 percent of their home games with a 380-100 overall mark. LSU has also put together winning streaks of 43, 26, 24 and 22 games at home. The Lady Tigers have also gone undefeated four times,

Built in 1971, the PMAC underwent completed renovations prior to the 2005-06 season that included an updated concourse with new concessions, new seats and a new sound system. The concourse features interactive kiosks and displays recognizing the history of LSU basketball, including one exhibit of the late Hall of Fame head coach Sue Gunter. It also houses the plaques of all members of the LSU Athletic Hall of Fame. The capacity is 13,472 following the renovations.

During the summer of 1988, Louisiana Governor Buddy Roemer signed legislation changing the official name of the building to the Pete Maravich Assembly Center in honor of the LSU star who had died tragically earlier that same year.

In addition to the normal basketball-seating configuration, a proscenium stage can be lowered into place at the north end allowing some 4,000 seats for theatrical productions. An additional 1,000 seats can be placed on the floor for graduations, convocations, lectures, concerts or other special events.

The Maravich Center has played host to several famous musical artists over the years, including KISS, Lynyrd Skynyrd, The Rolling Stones, Pink Floyd, Bruce Springsteen & The E Street Band, Def Leppard, Metallica, Guns N' Roses, Garth Brooks and Jimmy Buffett.

Also located in the building is an auxiliary practice gym used for basketball and volleyball practices; home and visitor dressing rooms; coaches dressing rooms, building administration offices; theater dressing rooms; Tiger Athletic Foundation offices; and the "L" Club meeting room with kitchen facilities.

In the summer of 2010, LSU's new Basketball Practice Facility was officially completed and is connected to the PMAC through the Northwest portal. The facility gives both men's and women's teams ample practice room adjacent to their actual game playing floor of the Maravich Center.

The Maravich Center has been the site for both men's and women's NCAA Regional Tournaments, the 1981 SEC Women's Basketball Tournament, the 1988 SEC Men's Basketball Tournament, two SEC Volleyball Tournaments, the 2004 NCAA Women's Tournament First & Second Rounds and most recently, the 2008 and 2009 NCAA Women's Tournament First and Second Rounds. The venue will continue to have basketball postseason opportunities in the future.

Pack the PMAC 10,000 STRONG

Fifteenth Anniversary
LSU

THIS YEAR'S GAME:
Sunday • December 19, 2010
LSU vs. Louisiana Tech

What started out as a dream 14 years ago has developed into one of the biggest and the best promotional events in all of women's basketball, as Pack the PMAC returns for year number 15 this season when the Lady Tigers host rival Louisiana Tech on Sunday, Dec. 19.

The concept of Pack the PMAC is simple - a blowout ticket sales push throughout Baton Rouge and surrounding communities in an attempt to fill the Maravich Center for a women's basketball game. After 14 years, Pack the PMAC has blossomed into a much-anticipated event and it will once again be one of the highlights of the LSU women's basketball schedule.

Starting in the fall, LSU uses various outlets to promote both the game and the "Flying Frenzy" halftime contest. At Pack the PMAC IV, Rich Bisson became the first person in the history of the event to win a car. In addition to the car giveaway, there are also televisions, shopping sprees, and other items that can be won in the halftime "Flying Frenzy" contest.

In 14 years the event has become a tremendous success, but more importantly than the actual game is the fact that Baton Rouge has finally become introduced, and welcomed, to LSU women's basketball at its finest hour.

Prior to the first Pack the PMAC in 1997, the Lady Tigers had never played before a crowd larger than 2,500 at the Maravich Assembly Center. Seven of LSU's top 15 home crowds have come at Pack the PMAC, including the first crowd over 10,000 fans at a women's basketball game in the state of Louisiana at Pack the PMAC VII when 11,252 fans paid to see the Lady Tigers defeat Penn State on CBS. For Pack the PMAC X, 9,930 fans filled the arena and watched the Lady Tigers defeat Minnesota on national television, while 7,666 fans watch LSU defeat Georgia in Pack the PMAC XI.

In the first year, the Lady Tigers drew a then school-record crowd of 6,552 as LSU beat Arkansas, 79-72. A year later, for Pack the PMAC II, LSU reset the school-record as 7,255 witnessed the Lady Tigers' 69-56 win over Ole Miss.

In 1999-00, 6,352 fans witnessed the first nationally televised broadcast of an LSU women's basketball game as the Lady Tigers knocked off Arkansas, 68-51 on ESPN2. Pack the PMAC V drew a then school-record 9,636 fans, which was at the time the largest attendance ever at a women's basketball game in the state of Louisiana. In 2009, LSU recognized breast cancer awareness in Pack the PMAC 13 as LSU defeated No. 9 Florida, 66-47, on Feb. 15. The Pink Zone Game drew 5,758 fans.

Dr. Michael V. Martin

Chancellor, LSU

Dr. Michael V. Martin assumed the chancellorship of Louisiana State University and A&M College on August 1, 2008. Prior to his appointment as LSU's eighth chancellor, Dr. Martin established a distinguished career in higher education, serving most recently as president of New Mexico State University.

Before arriving at NMSU in 2004, Dr. Martin served for six years as vice president for agriculture and natural resources at the University of Florida, leading the university's Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences. He was elevated to senior vice president of the University of Florida shortly before being selected as NMSU's president. Previously, he was vice president for agricultural policy and the dean of the College of Agricultural, Food and Environmental Sciences at the University of Minnesota. He began his academic career at Oregon State University as a faculty member in the Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics.

An academic leader dedicated to the land-grant mission, Dr. Martin is recognized as a strong voice for higher education. In 2007, he received the Justin Smith Morrill Memorial Award, named after the author of the bill creating land-grant universities, which honors outstanding service on behalf of the land-grant mission. Only six individuals have been designated to receive this award since it was first given in 1980. For his leadership in improving the quality of life for New Mexico citizens and future generations, he was awarded the 2008 Distinguished Leadership Award by Leadership New Mexico.

Other recent awards include his recognition as a powerbroker by The New Mexico Business Weekly in 2006, being named Outstanding Alumnus of Minnesota State University Mankato in 2006, and receiving the NMSU Social Justice Award in 2005.

Dr. Martin is involved in a wide array of professional and community organizations and activities.

An active scholar, Dr. Martin has authored numerous book chapters and articles for academic journals, trade publications, and the popular press and recently published pieces for The Chronicle of Higher Education and University Business.

Some of his philosophy is summed up in the following quote: "It is the tradition of land-grant universities to be non-traditional," written as part of a 2001 article titled "The Land-Grant University in the 21st Century," published in the Journal of Agricultural and Applied Economics. He traced the history of the land-grant movement from the mid-1800s and concluded that "the fundamental land-grant principles of accessibility, practical as well as classical education, research and discovery in the public interest, and connectedness to all the people remain powerful and profound."

A native of Crosby, Minn., Dr. Martin earned a bachelor's degree in business and economics and a master's degree in economics at Mankato State College (Minnesota State University) in Minnesota. He received his Ph.D. in applied economics from the University of Minnesota in 1977.

Dr. Martin and his wife, Jan, have two children, both adopted from South Korea. Amanda, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire, is a graphic artist in Saint Paul, Minn. Sam, who holds a bachelor's degree from the University of Minnesota and a master's from Sarah Lawrence College, is a genetics counselor at Beth Israel Hospital in New York City.

Dydia DeLyser

Faculty Athletics Representative

Dydia DeLyser, an associate professor in the Department of Geography and Anthropology, serves in her fifth year as LSU's Faculty Athletics Representative.

DeLyser, a native of Santa Monica, Calif., earned her bachelor's degree in 1992 from UCLA, and her master's and doctoral degrees from Syracuse University (in 1996 and 1998).

DeLyser arrived at LSU in August 1998 as an Instructor before becoming an assistant professor one year later. She was promoted to associate professor with tenure in August 2005.

DeLyser is a cultural-historical geographer. Her research has been both ethnographic and historical, and most of it questions how different built landscapes can help make the past meaningful in the present.

Much of her published research has focused on two different studies. One was a many-year ethnographic study of a ghost town in California (Bodie State Historic Park) where she examined how images and ideas about the American mythic West became meaningful to the tourists who visited the town. The second was an historical study that examined a 19th century novel (Ramona) and how it changed the way people understood (and still understand) southern California's past.

Her current research concerns early women aviators and how they used their practices of flying to advance feminism in the post-suffrage era.

DeLyser teaches graduate courses in cultural geography, qualitative research, and academic and professional writing. She has also taught undergraduate courses in cultural, and urban geography, and an introductory world-regional geography course.

DeLyser is a first-generation American -- her parents were Dutch immigrants and English is her second language. She also has language abilities in Russian and Spanish.

DeLyser's hobbies include driving/riding antique cars and motorcycles. She is also a licensed pilot and co-owns a Citabria, which is a two-place aerobatic airplane.

Joe Alleva

LSU Vice-Chancellor/Director of Athletics

Joe Alleva enters his third year as LSU's Vice Chancellor and Director of Athletics after being hired to lead one of the nation's most powerful athletic programs on April 4, 2008. Alleva joined LSU after 10 years of outstanding leadership as the director of athletics at Duke University. He officially took over at LSU on July 1, 2008.

The LSU Board of Supervisors approved a promotion in August 2009 for Alleva, adding vice chancellor to his title and expanding his role to the academic side of the university. It's the first time at LSU that the director of athletics has also held a vice chancellor position.

"I am honored to be named vice chancellor at this outstanding institution and thank Chancellor (Michael) Martin, President (John) Lombardi and the Board of Supervisors for the confidence they have shown in me," Alleva said. "Athletics is the window through which many people view LSU and it is important that we excel in competition and in the classroom while demonstrating the utmost of integrity. I believe my promotion ties athletics closer to the university and that is a good thing for everyone; we are all on the same team."

Under Alleva's guidance, LSU has reached new heights in terms of athletic success while continuing to be recognized as one of the top enterprises in college athletics.

A veteran leader in college athletics, Alleva is dedicated to athletic and academic excellence. He is committed to providing the opportunities and the resources necessary for student-athletes to excel in competition, in the classroom and in the community.

Alleva, 57, is well-respected for sustaining high standards of excellence and integrity in athletic programs, hiring the finest coaches in the country and the high level of success achieved by student-athletes.

One of Alleva's big initiatives on the LSU campus is the launching of a strategic plan for the continued success and future improvement of LSU Athletics.

LSU Athletics has produced a new booklet called "LSU: Thru and True" designed to introduce a strategic plan for operating a top tier athletics program. The strategic plan booklet is titled "LSU: Thru and True" because, in the words of Alleva, "Our core values run deep and our commitment to excellence is relentless. At LSU, college athletics is an avenue for providing opportunities, for achieving goals, for generating enthusiasm and for nurturing passion."

The subtitle of the booklet is "Excellence in Competition, Distinction in the Classroom, and Contribution to the Community." The strategic plan addresses various topics including quality of life for student-athletes; academic and athletic excellence; compliance and ethics; financial responsibility; diversity, inclusion and equity; tradition and history, and service and communication.

The plan also includes a vision for the future of LSU athletics facilities, highlighted by plans to improve North Stadium Drive between Tiger Stadium and the Pete Maravich Assembly Center.

Alleva is an innovator with bold ideas that benefit not only LSU but all of Greater Baton Rouge. Alleva was instrumental in the planning of the inaugural Bayou Country Superfest, a two-day country music concert and festival held in Tiger Stadium last spring. The event attracted nearly 100,000 visitors to the LSU campus and made a tremendous economic impact upon the local community.

Seventeen of LSU's 20 sports programs participated in post-season competition in 2009-10, including the Tiger football squad that played in a bowl game for the 10th straight season. Six LSU teams posted Top 10 national finishes last season, and 12 were ranked among the Top

25. LSU finished in the Top 20 of the Learfield Director's Cup rankings, which measure overall athletic success for institutions across the country.

Under Alleva's direction in 2008-09, all 20 LSU sports competed in NCAA post-season play for the first time in school history, and it culminated with the baseball team winning the national championship. In addition, six teams finished in the top 10 nationally. LSU was the only school in the Southeastern Conference to participate in a bowl game and the men's and women's NCAA basketball tournaments during 2008-09. Furthermore, LSU student-athletes volunteered a total of 2,360 hours for community service projects.

LSU earned a ninth place ranking in the 2008-09 Learfield Director's Cup, as the Tigers were second only to Florida among SEC institutions. LSU accumulated points in 18 of a possible 20 categories in the standings, also a first for the school.

Upon being hired at LSU, Alleva immediately made an impact by hiring Trent Johnson to lead the men's basketball program. Johnson, the 2009 SEC Coach of the Year, wasted little time in turning the Tigers into a winner as LSU claimed the 2009 SEC regular season title and reached the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

LSU also had top 10 national finishes in 2008-09 in gymnastics, men's and women's indoor track and field and men's and women's outdoor track and field. Thirteen of LSU's 20 sports finished the year ranked among the top 25 in the nation.

The Tiger football team capped their 2008 season with a 38-3 win over 14th-ranked Georgia Tech in the Chick-fil-A Bowl. During the offseason, Alleva helped secure the funding necessary for the addition of a state-of-the-art artificial turf practice field, which complements the surface the Tigers have in their indoor practice facility. The addition of the outdoor artificial turf field gives the LSU football program one of the nation's finest all-around facilities.

Not only did LSU teams set records but so did the fans, as over 1.5 million fans filled venues on the LSU campus in 2008-09. LSU set the school record for overall attendance in the sports of football, baseball, and softball.

Alleva oversaw in the spring of 2009 the grand opening of two of the premier baseball and softball facilities in college athletics, Alex Box Stadium and Tiger Park.

In addition, LSU opened a new gift center for its fans – the LSU SportShop. The LSU SportShop, a spectacular, free-standing facility that features the latest in LSU apparel and merchandise, is located adjacent to Mike's Habitat.

Under Alleva's guidance, LSU has one of the most lucrative apparel and shoe contracts with Nike while also having one of the nation's most attractive multi-media rights contracts with CBS Collegiate Sports Properties. LSU athletic budget is now approaching $85 million, which allows the university to compete at the highest level in the nation.

Alleva has a long-term vision for continued improvements to LSU's athletic facilities in order to insure that the Tigers are among the best in the country well into the 21st Century. One of his top priorities is the enhancement of Tiger Stadium and making Tiger Stadium and the North Stadium Drive corridor a showplace for the university.

Alleva's innovative plan is to make a plaza area between the Maravich Assembly Center and Tiger Stadium that would recognize LSU's national championship teams and distinguished alumni. This special area, along with Mike's Habitat, and the LSU SportShop, would become the focal point for visitors to campus.

LSU opened in the spring of 2010 a basketball practice facility that houses both the men's and women's basketball teams. The new basketball practice facility features two full length courts as well as locker rooms and other amenities for both squads.

Alleva is also overseeing a major renovation to the golf course at the University Club that will be completed in September 2010, and he is developing plans for a new gymnastics practice facility, indoor tennis center and improved soccer facility. LSU's world-renowned track and field program will receive a state-of-the-art running surface this year when a new track is installed in Bernie Moore Stadium.

"Joe Alleva brings a wealth of experience and accomplishment to LSU," LSU President John Lombardi said of hiring Alleva. "I'm confident we've found a new leader for LSU athletics who exemplifies the vision and integrity needed to lead our sports programs to new heights, a champion of student athletes who believes in the highest standards of competition both on the field and in the classroom."

Alleva's impressive tenure as director of athletics at Duke propelled the university into the ranks of America's top all-around collegiate programs. Among his outstanding list of accomplishments includes the greatest 10-year period in Duke athletics, winning more ACC and NCAA championships than in any other decade in school history.

The LSU Lady Tigers arrive in Durham, N.C., via charter flight for the 2010 NCAA Tournament.

The Bengal Brass Basketball Band plays prior to the team's departure from the hotel.

Katherine Graham and the Lady Tigers head to Cameron Indoor Stadium for the NCAA Tournament.

The SEC office is located in Birmingham, Ala.

The Southeastern Conference

Throughout its 77-year history, the Southeastern Conference has been a leader in the integration of athletic competition and higher education.

Since its formation in 1933, the SEC has achieved both stature and stability by designating governing/voting power to the presidents of the member institutions. They have determined the policies of the conference and through the years this involvement has been the principal source of strength in the evolution of the SEC.

Intercollegiate athletics has encountered many challenges in the 1990s and again the SEC provided guidance. In 1993, the member institutions adopted The Principles of Gender Equity. Committed to increasing the quantity and quality of women's athletic opportunities, each school provides at least two more women's intercollegiate programs than the number of men's.

Faced with the task of conference realignment after competing with 10 members since 1966, the SEC welcomed the University of Arkansas and the University of South Carolina in 1991.

SEC schools began athletic competition with one another almost 100 years ago as members of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

Seven institutions (Alabama, Auburn, Georgia, Georgia Tech, North Carolina, Sewanee and Vanderbilt) attended the

Commissioner Mike Slive

SIAA organizational meeting of faculty representatives in Atlanta in 1894.

Basketball moved quickly to the South as Vanderbilt was playing at the Nashville YMCA in 1893, just two years after Dr. James Naismith originated the game at Springfield (Mass.) College. Basketball became an intercollegiate sport in 1901 and in 1908 Vanderbilt was meeting Columbia and Yale intersectionally.

The seven-member SIAA expanded to 19 institutions in 1895 and by 1920 there were 30 members.

The larger schools reorganized as the Southern Conference in 1920. Despite an original limit of 16, the membership grew to 23 by 1928.

The 13 members west and south of the Appalachian Mountains reorganized as the Southeastern Conference at the annual SC meeting in 1932. The 10 coast members remained in the Southern Conference. Charter members of the new conference were: Alabama, Auburn, Florida, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Kentucky, LSU, Mississippi, Mississippi State, Sewanee, Tennessee, Tulane and Vanderbilt. (Sewanee withdrew in 1940, Georgia Tech in 1964 and Tulane in 1966).

The first SEC champions were crowned in 1933 in four sports (baseball, basketball, football and outdoor track). The league's inaugural championship event was a basketball tournament in Atlanta in 1933. Records show the first men's team title for cross-country was awarded in 1935, while golf and swimming were added in 1937. The league later began hosting championships in tennis (1953) and indoor track (1957).

In the 1979-80 academic year SEC championships for women were recognized in basketball, tennis and volleyball. The following year golf, gymnastics, swimming and track and field were added. The administration of women's athletics officially came under the auspices of the conference office in 1984.

The SEC currently regulates nine men's sports and 11 women's sports: Men—baseball, basketball, football, golf, swimming, tennis and track (cross country, indoor and outdoor). Women—basketball, golf, gymnastics, soccer, softball, swimming, tennis, track (cross country, indoor and outdoor) and volleyball.

The Nation's Premier Women's Basketball League

• The SEC has posted impressive non-conference records in the last decade. The SEC compiled a 121-45 (.729) non-conference record during the 2009-10 season.

All Times Central and Subject To Change

With eight national championships, 10 runner-up finishes, a nation-leading 34 Final Four appearances and 84 first-team All-America honors, the Southeastern Conference stands firmly as the nation's premier intercollegiate women's basketball conference. SEC teams have earned appearances in 25 of 28 NCAA Final Fours, an accomplishment unmatched by any other league.

On Feb. 7, 1980, the first SEC women's basketball tournament began play. It ended four days later with Tennessee defeating Ole Miss for the title. Fast forward 31 years later and the SEC Tournament is still enjoying success and increased popularity.

Beginning with its inception and through 1986, the tournament was held at campus sites. The tournament was then sent to Albany, Ga., which served as the site for six years from 1987-92. The tournament then moved to Chattanooga, Tenn., where it was held from 1993-2000, with the exception of 1998 when the tournament moved to Columbus, Ga.

Since 2001 the tournament has enjoyed many new sites, including Memphis (2001), Nashville (2002, 2004, 2008), North Little Rock, Ark. (2003, 2006, 2009), Greenville, S.C. (2005) and Duluth, Ga. (2007, 2010).

This year the SEC Women's Basketball Tournament returns to Bridgestone Arena in Nashville, Tenn., one of the tournament's most popular venues. Nashville will be hosting for the fourth time, the most of any city.

The winner of the 11-game tournament will receive the league's automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament. The tournament seeds and conference champion will be determined by the 16-game regular-season SEC schedule. The top four seeds earn a first-round bye.

The 2011 SEC Women's Basketball Tournament will once again enjoy live television coverage. Fox Sports Net affiliates will televise all first and second round games. Both semifinal games will be carried by ESPNU. ESPN2 is scheduled to televise the championship game.

Internet Real-Time Policy

By acceptance and use of an LSU media credential, the holder agrees to the following conditions as established by LSU and the Southeastern Conference:

- The SEC and its member institutions grant a media organization a limited license to use certain gathered information on the media organization's own Internet or online site beginning at the start of an athletic event and up to the conclusion of such event, all subject to the following limitations and conditions:
  - No more than 10 still photographs may be used for news coverage of the game and other editorial purposes. Such still photographs must be used on a time-delayed basis, that is at least (5) minutes after the happening of the event depicted by the still photograph.
  - It is agreed that video tape is NOT to be used on an Internet or online site (except that video tape may be shown as part of a single online "simulcast" of a television station's regularly scheduled news program).
- While a game is in progress, the use of textual statistical information is time-delayed and limited in amount (e.g. updates pertaining to score, injuries and national, conference or institutional record-breaking performances, a condensed half-time story) so that an organization's Internet or online game coverage does not undercut the authorized and rights-paying fee organization's rights to play-by-play accounts of the game and/or exclusivity as to such rights.
  - This policy is in effect for all LSU sports events. The limitations for football are three per quarter and one at halftime.
- Should any of these conditions be breached, LSU and/or the SEC will issue a written warning for the first violation. If this violation occurs during the last game of the institutions' regularly-scheduled season, the media organization may not be credentialed for the SEC Basketball Tournament. A second violation of this policy will result in revocation of credentials to cover future basketball games hosted by the SEC and/or its member institutions.

Unauthorized Use of Credentials

Press credentials will be issued to working press only. Press credentials are not transferable and use by anyone other than members of the working media is unauthorized. Press credentials used in an unauthorized manner will be revoked immediately. New organizations allowing unauthorized individuals to use credentials will have their credentials revoked for the remainder of the year.

All press credentials remain the property of the LSU Athletics Department and must be returned on request.
