2008 SEASON PREVIEW

With the departure of three accolade-laden seniors, the 2008 LSU gymnastics team will be one that is extremely talented, but young. This year's roster features ten underclassmen - five sophomores and five freshmen - among its 14 members. It is because of that youth that head coach D-D Breaux expects some growing pains early on, but is willing to ride the wave because she believes the end product has limitless potential.

"I really feel this is a very, very good team," said Breaux. "We are just going to have to be patient. I believe that what you see early from this team, if we stay healthy, will be very different than what you see later in the year."

Early on Breaux will depend heavily upon her core of upperclassmen that she believes provides a solid base upon which to build around.

"The thing is we have Ashleigh Clare-Kearney, Lauren Klein, Kristi Esposito and Susan Jackson who are four decorated veterans," said Breaux. "Then we've got a whole core of really young people behind them that are eager, anxious and working hard. I think the veterans are pushing the freshmen, the freshmen are pushing the veterans and in the process everyone is getting better."

Breaux expects that that hard work and internal push to excel will translate to the floor of competition where her team's expectations have not wavered from years past. The Tigers again expect to contend for a spot among the nation's elite as the team aims for the program's 24th trip to the national championships and a shot at the meet's Super Six Finals.

The Seniors

Helping steer the ship towards the NCAA Championships will be LSU's lone senior Kristi Esposito. The most decorated athlete on the LSU roster, Esposito is a four-time All-American who made an immediate impact on the Tigers' lineup last season after transferring from the University of Nebraska.

"Kristi is key to the success of this team because of her maturity," said Breaux. "She just goes out and competes and competes well. She is not over the top with anything, but everything she does, she does extremely well and with consistency and great execution."

Esposito, who competed primarily on the beam and floor last year, is again expected to be a mainstay in those events this season. Breaux also expects her to be a more consistent contributor on the bars this year, an event she competed on just six times in 2007.

The Juniors

The junior class is overflowing with talent as the three-member class includes All-SEC selections Ashleigh Clare-Kearney, Lauren Klein and Amanda Morales.

Clare-Kearney, who will return as a junior once again in 2008 after being granted a medical redshirt year for the 2006 season, was the backbone of the Tigers' squad last year. She won a team-leading six all-around titles and 26 individual event crowns en route to first-team All-SEC honors.

Clare-Kearney is expected to be just as impressive, if not more so, this season as she has increased her difficulty on each of the four events in the off season and should again be among the nation's leaders in the all-around.

"Ashleigh's quality of work, maturity of work and intense competitive spirit is second to none," said Breaux. "She has worked hard in this off season and I would expect that we'll see the results of that work in the competitive arena."

Klein emerged as a star on the floor exercise in 2007, winning the NCAA Southeast Regional title and earning second-team All-SEC honors. She should again be a dominate force on that event, as well as the vault and beam this season, two events in which she saw limited action a year ago.

"Lauren does beautiful gymnastics," said Breaux. "Last year we had some more experienced athletes in the lineup so it was harder to go with someone we weren't as sure of, but this year she has really upped her difficulty and I think she's ready to step up into those events like she did for us on the floor last year."

Morales will be eased back into the Tigers' lineup while continuing to rehab a torn ACL suffered prior to last year's NCAA Championships.

"We are holding Amanda back right now," said Breaux. "She's just a little more than six months post-op and I want to make sure we give her every chance to be successful.

"Amanda made some huge contributions on vault last year and we'd like her to have the opportunity to do that again," added Breaux.

For Morales, who was a solid 9.850 vaulter a year ago, it will likely be a few meets into the season before her knee allows her to crack the vault lineup, but Breaux expects to use her on the bars come January and beam later in the year.

The Sophomores

Despite being in just their second year at LSU, the Tigers' 2008 sophomore class boasts a group of proven competitors in Susan Jackson, Sabrina Franceschelli, Summer Hubbard, Kayla Rogers and Yvette Triay.

Jackson, who developed into a force in the all-around late last year, headlines the group after earning All-America honors on the floor during her inaugural campaign. She proved to be a legitimate 9.900 competitor on each of the four events and is expected to provide a solid 1-2 punch in the all-around alongside Clare-Kearney.

"When you talk about student-athletes that have it, Susan's got it," said Breaux. "She's powerful, she's got pizzazz, she's got floor presence and she's confident in her gymnastics. We'll feel she is ready to go in the all-around and believe she will be a great contributor at the end of our lineup."

Ashleigh Clare-Kearney

Franceschelli saw action primarily on the vault and beam a year ago, but has upgraded her difficulty in the off season and could also break into the floor and bar lineups.

"Sabrina has improved on every event," said Breaux. "She settled into that leadoff spot on beam as a freshman and I expect she'll find herself back in that role this year. She's also improved her vault and the consistency on her tumbling from a year ago so she could see time on those events as well."

Rogers provided the Tigers' with a solid leadoff performer on the vault last year, but will be asked to make much bigger contributions in 2008.

"We need for Kayla to be an all-arounder for us," said Breaux. "If her gymnastics continues to improve the way it has over the last few months I think she can be a solid all-arounder for us in the middle of our lineup."

Hubbard was a standout on the bars for the Tigers a year ago, winning three meet titles and posting scores of 9.900 on the event, but has been battling a back injury since that will slow her return to the lineup in 2008.

"She's definitely someone we'd like to see doing more than one event, but right now we are focused on just getting her back on bars," said Breaux.

Triay saw limited action on the floor last season, competing mostly in exhibition, but Breaux believes those experiences are something the Tigers could call upon this year.

"Yvette has worked really hard," said Breaux. "I think she is ready to go for us."

The Freshmen

The Tigers' will add five fresh faces to the mix in 2008, in Nicole Lyons (Mountaintop, Pa.), Staci Schwitkis (San Diego, Calif.), Samantha Engle (Plano, Texas), Paige Cipolloni (Macungie, Pa.) and Kristin Fiorello (Mandeville, La.).

Lyons competed three years as an elite, including one year at the international elite level, before dropping down to Level 10 for her junior and senior seasons. She has been hampered by nagging injuries late in the fall, but is expected to make immediate contributions on the vault and bars.

Schwitkis is a three-time Level 10 national qualifier that won both the state and regional all-around titles in 2005 and 2006. Breaux believes she is ready to help the Tigers on all four events, but will probably see her first action of the season on the vault and bars.

Engle is another Level 10 gymnast that comes to Baton Rouge with impressive credentials. A multiple-time national qualifier, Engle won the national floor title in 2007 and picked up the all-around and beam titles in 2005. She could see action on bars, beam and floor this year.

Cipolloni trained as a national elite for four years before moving to Level 10 for her junior and senior seasons where she earned trips to the J.O. National Championships both years. She came to LSU with a lingering hip injury from club that has limited her training this fall. Breaux expects her to recover fully and be a late bloomer in the Tigers' lineup.

Fiorello is a local product from nearby Mandeville that trained as a Level 10 in high school. She qualified to the national championships in 2005 and won the state all-around title that same year. She is expected to add quality depth to the Tigers' beam lineup.

PRACTICE FACILITY

When determining what makes an athletic program successful, many components are factors in its success. Ask any coach and they will say that quality facilities rank among the most important elements.

The LSU Gymnastics team and head coach D-D Breaux moved into the newly renovated gymnastics training area in the LSU Field House in the Fall of 2000 and immediately reaped the benefits of one of the finest training facilities in the nation.

The LSU Field House renovations and expansion created a facility, that includes a locker room, squad room, 18,143 square feet of training space - double the previous space - an equipment room, sauna, sound room and conditioning/aerobic room. The changes helped create a safer, more functional training environment.

The vaulting, tumble track and drill area overlook the Bernie Moore Track Stadium.

“When girls come to visit our facility they are impressed. They are able to look out and see the other athletic facilities, and they are able to grasp the entire experience they are looking at if they choose to attend LSU.”

– HEAD COACH D-D BREAU

One of the nicest aspects of the facility is the glass wall that allows an onlooker to see the multi-million dollar Bernie Moore Track Stadium, legendary Tiger Stadium, the Pete Maravich Assembly Center – the competitive home of the LSU gymnastics team – and the beautiful landscaping of LSU's campus.

D-D Breau started to fathom ideas of a new facility years ago, never thinking that one day dreams would turn into realities under her tenure.

"About 15 years ago I started thinking about the modifications that were necessary for us to train at an elite level. It was easy to realize that we needed it not only to maintain our top 10 status, but it was also a safety issue. We needed the upgrades to protect the athletes."

As it is with all sports, talent is also a key ingredient for success. The facility not only enhances training and safety, but is also a very useful tool in recruiting.

"I think it puts us ahead of some schools in the facility race. When girls come to visit our facility they are impressed. They are able to look out and see the other athletic facilities, and they are able to grasp the entire experience they are looking at if they choose to attend LSU.

"Young female athletes are coming to the realization across the spectrum that opportunities are out there for them. They can take scholarships and compete at the collegiate level. So I think maintaining a quality training environment is very important."

ASSEMBLY CENTER

Paramount to the success of an intercollegiate program is a first-class facility and the Tigers have just that in the Pete Maravich Assembly Center.

For over a quarter century the "PMAC" has been home to some of the finest gymnastics competitions in the nation. The PMAC has served as the host site for three SEC Championships and eight NCAA Regional Championships and is scheduled to host the 2008 NCAA Central Regional Championships on April 12.

Seating 13,215 spectators, the massive $11.5 million building has competed with neighboring Tiger Stadium as the most visible structure on the LSU campus since its completion in 1971.

Originally named, "The Assembly Center," in 1988 Louisiana Governor Buddy Roemer signed legislation changing the official name of the building to the Pete Maravich Assembly Center in honor of the former LSU basketball legend who had died earlier that same year.

The PMAC also serves as home to both the LSU men's and women's basketball teams, as well as the volleyball program.

In addition to the normal seating configuration, a proscenium stage can be lowered into place at the north end allowing some 4,500 seats for theatrical productions. An additional 1,000 seats can be placed on the floor for graduations, convocations, lectures, concerts or other special events.

Several renovations have recently been completed to keep the PMAC as one of the top facilities in the Southeastern Conference. A new multi-million dollar scoreboard/video replay system was installed in November 1999, the upper concourse was remodeled to include exhibits, displays and interactive kiosks documenting LSU sports history in the PMAC in 2004 and new seating was installed in 2006.

Dydia DeLyser

Faculty Athletics Representative

Dydia DeLyser, an associate professor in the Department of Geography and Anthropology, begins her first year as LSU's Faculty Athletics Representative.

DeLyser, a native of Santa Monica, Calif., received a bachelor's degree in 1992 from UCLA and earned her master's and doctoral degrees from Syracuse University.

DeLyser arrived at LSU in August 1998 as an instructor before becoming an assistant professor one year later. She was designated as an associate professor in August 2005.

In terms of her research, DeLyser is a cultural-historical geographer. Her work has been both ethnographic and historical, and most of it has been about how landscapes help make the past meaningful in the present.

Most of her published research has focused on two different studies. One was a many-year ethnographic study of a ghost town in California where she examined how images and ideas about the American mythic West became meaningful to the tourists who visited the town. The second was as historical study that examined a 19th century novel and how it changed the way people understood (and still understand) southern California's past.

Her current research concerns early women aviators and how they used their practices of flying to advance feminism in the post-suffrage era.

DeLyser teaches graduate courses in cultural geography, qualitative research, and academic and professional writing. She also teaches undergraduate courses in cultural, feminist, and urban geography, and an introductory world-regional geography course.

DeLyser is a first-generation American - her parents were Dutch immigrants - and English is actually her second language. She also has language abilities in Russian and Spanish.

DeLyser's hobbies include driving/riding antique cars and motorcycles. She is also a licensed pilot and co-owns a Citabria, which is a two-seat aerobatic airplane.

The Bertman Coaching LEGACY

Bertman has been inducted into the College Baseball Hall of Fame, the Louisiana Sports Hall of Fame and the American Baseball Coaches Association Hall of Fame.

A Louisiana Legend and one of the greatest college baseball coaches of all time, J. Stanley "Skip" Bertman has made the seamless transition into the athletics director's chair with the same enthusiasm, vision and demand for excellence that were trademarks of his stellar coaching career.

The 2007-08 season will mark Bertman's final year as LSU athletics director. After his tenure ends on June 30, 2008, he will remain at LSU as athletics director emeritus through 2010, working as a vital fund-raiser for the university.

In six years as LSU's director of athletics, Bertman has added to his impressive list of on-the-field achievements. Under his direction, LSU has enjoyed arguably the greatest athletics seasons in the history of the institution.

The 2006-07 season saw 12 LSU teams finish among the nation's top 25, including a No. 3 final ranking for the football team and a fourth consecutive Final Four appearance by the women's basketball squad. The LSU men's and women's track and field teams each finished No. 2 in the nation.

In 2005-06, LSU joined North Carolina (1997-98) as the only schools to have their football, men's basketball and women's basketball teams all finish in the nation's Top 5. LSU in 2005-06 also became the first school in SEC history to win outright league championships in men's and women's basketball in the same season.

In 2004-05, 14 LSU teams advanced to the post-season, and in 2003-04, three teams won national championships, nine teams finished in the nation's top ten, and fourteen teams ranked in the top 25.

Under Bertman's direction, LSU teams have also recorded improved grade point averages across the board, making the student-athlete experience a success on and off the fields of competition.

While supervising the Tigers' progress on the playing fields, he has implemented measures necessary to realize his vision of building the LSU athletics department into the best in the country. Bertman's bold and innovative plans promise to keep the Tigers among the nation's elite in all phases of collegiate athletics.

Bertman is now in the midst of upgrading LSU's athletics complex, as he took the bold but essential move to implement a seat contribution program in Tiger Stadium to fund facility improvements and ensure the financial stability of the LSU Athletics Department for the next decade.

Working hand in hand with the Tiger Athletic Foundation, Bertman has already overseen the completion of the Cox Communications Academic Center for Student-Athletes, the renovation of Tiger Stadium and the Pete Maravich Assembly Center, and the construction of the Football Operations Center.

In addition, state-of-the-art baseball and softball stadiums are scheduled to be constructed by the fall of 2008, and a basketball practice facility will be in place by 2009.

Bertman was named LSU's athletics director on January 19, 2001. With Bertman, LSU gained an athletics director who provides the leadership and experience necessary to manage the Tigers' budget of over $50 million.

Bertman guided LSU to five NCAA baseball titles during his 18-year coaching tenure (1984-2001), and his teams drew huge crowds to venerable Alex Box Stadium, as the Tigers led the nation in attendance in each of his final six seasons.

He also served as head coach of the 1996 U.S. Olympic team which captured the bronze medal in Atlanta.

Bertman continues to be honored for his remarkable coaching tenure, as he was inducted in June, 2006 into the new College Baseball Hall of Fame as part of the hall's inaugural class. He has also been inducted into the Louisiana Sports Hall of Fame and the American Baseball Coaches Association Hall of Fame.

In a Baseball America poll published in 1999, Bertman was voted the second greatest college baseball coach of the 20th century, trailing only Rod Dedeaux of Southern California. Bertman, Dedeaux and Augie Garrido of Texas are the only coaches to win five CWS titles.

Bertman had previously earned recognition as one of the nation's brightest assistant coaches while at the University of Miami (Fla.) for eight seasons (1976-83). Before working at Miami, Bertman was renowned for his coaching excellence. In 11 seasons at Miami Beach High School, he directed the Hi-Tides to a state championship and two runners-up finishes and he was named Florida's Coach of the Year on three occasions.

In 1975, Bertman coached at Miami-Dade Downtown, leaving after one season to join legendary head coach Ron Fraser at Miami. The move was a homecoming of sorts, as Bertman spent his collegiate playing days with the Hurricanes as an outfielder and catcher from 1958-60. He earned his B.A. in health and physical education from Miami in 1961 and received his master's degree from UM in 1964.

Bertman and his wife Sandy are the parents of four daughters - Jan, Jodi, Lisa and Lori. The Bertmans have four grandchildren - Sophie Faith and Isaac Stanley, the children of Emile and Lori Bertman Guirard; and Samuel Aaron and Ezra Michael, the sons of Drew and Lisa Bertman Pate.

COACHES

D-D BREAUX

31st Season • LSU, 1976

CAREER RECORDS

Overall - 514-315-7 (.619)

Regular Season - 360-196-5 (.646)

Postseason - 154-119-2 (.562)

As the "Dean of Coaches" at LSU, head gymnastics coach D-D Breaux has represented the University at the highest level both in the gym and, most importantly, in the classroom for 30 years. Her dedication to the student-athlete on an individual basis has transcended into academic success, community involvement, Coach of the Year honors, SEC Championships, NCAA Regional Championships and top-10 national rankings throughout her tenure.

Now entering her 31st season as the mastermind of the LSU gymnastics program, the fire in Breaux's eyes burns as bright today as it did on her first day on the job.

During her tenure Breaux has established and maintained LSU's reputation as one of the premier collegiate gymnastics programs in the country. Under her tutelage, the Tigers have placed among the nation's top-12 teams 22 times in 30 seasons, finishing a program-best fourth in 1988 and sixth on three separate occasions.

LSU has also placed among the top three in regional competition on 22 separate occasions, winning regional titles in 1978, 1979, 1980, 1986, 2002, 2004 and 2005. Her teams have included three national champions, 79 All-America honorees and 38 All-SEC selections.

In addition, Breaux's Tigers won the inaugural SEC Championship title in 1981 and have gone on to finish second four times and third five other times.

For her dedication to the sport and her teams numerous accomplishments, Breaux has been recognized by her peers time and time again. She has been named the SEC

Coach of the Year on five occasions (1993, 1994, 1995, 2000 and 2005) and NCAA Central Regional Coach of the Year four times (1999, 2002, 2005 and 2006) and was a finalist for National Coach of the Year honors in 1988 when she guided the Tigers to a fourth-place finish at the NCAA Championships.

To this day, the accolades continue to roll in for Breaux and LSU as the program has seemed to reach its zenith in recent years.

Last season the Tigers had a school record four athletes earn first-team All-America honors en route to a seventh-place showing at the national meet. It was also a banner year for Breaux personally as she celebrated her 30th season at the helm of the Tiger program, picked up her 500th career victory and was named the NCAA Central Regional Coach of the Year.

2006 saw a school record-tying five athletes earned All-America honors and April

Burkholder win the NCAA beam title. Just as successful as a team, Breaux guided LSU to an eighth-place showing at the NCAA Championships, the 19th top-10 finish during her tenure.

In 2005, the LSU program reached new heights under Breaux's direction as the Tigers made their 17th appearance at the NCAA Championships, won their third regional title in four years and achieved the program's first ever No. 1 national ranking. Named both the SEC and NCAA Central Coach of the Year for her team's efforts, Breaux also coached All-American April Burkholder to SEC and NCAA Central Region Gymnast of the Year honors for the second straight season and helped Annie Gagnon, Lisa Rennie and Terin Martinjak to All-America honors and Nicki Butler and Burkholder to All-SEC accolades.

2004 was a banner year for the LSU program as it won the NCAA Central Regional title for the second time in the three years, before finishing seventh at the NCAA Championships, the Tigers' best finish at the national meet since the 1993 season. Individually, Breaux guided the efforts of SEC and NCAA Central Region Gymnast of the Year, April Burkholder, and All-American Annie Gagnon. Burkholder became LSU's all-time top performer at the NCAA Championships with a second-place finish in the all-around, bettering Jennifer Wood's third-place effort at the 1996 championships.

In 2002, Breaux led her team to the NCAA Central Regional title. The Tigers continued their success at the NCAA Championships where they finished eighth overall, LSU's best finish at the national championships in over five years. In addition, Breaux guided Nicki Arnstad to LSU's first individual NCAA Championship in modern history, as Arnstad won the floor exercise with a stunning 9.950 performance.

But aside from athletic honors, Breaux excels in recruiting quality student-athletes. A Louisianan through and through, Breaux concentrates her recruiting efforts right here in her native state, but her reach extends to the national and international levels as well where she has been responsible for recruiting some of Canada's top athletes of all time.

Outside of the gym, Breaux has taken an active role in the academic success her program has achieved in her 30 seasons at LSU. By making academic success her team's No. 1 priority, Breaux's teams have reached the highest scholastic goals she has established over the years. Throughout the country, she is acknowledged as having one of the finest academic teams year in and year out. LSU gymnasts have been named Academic All-Americans 86 times and members of the SEC Academic Honor Roll on 114 occasions since 1991. During the 2003 season, a school-record 13 of Breaux's student-athletes were named to the SEC Academic Honor Roll, an honor reserved for sophomores, juniors and seniors. In 1999, the Tigers posted the third-highest GPA in the nation and the highest of any team in the NCAA Championship field.

Also active members of the community, Breaux and her team continually participate in volunteer activities throughout the Baton Rouge area. The last three years Breaux's teams have been awarded the LSU CHAMPS Community Service Award after logging hundreds of hours of community service work. Breaux, who has served as the Chairman of the YWCA's Pink Ribbon Campaign for Breast Cancer, and her team have also volunteered their time to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association, St. Jude's Hospital and the Alzheimer's Association, among others.

It is this delicate balance between exceptional academics, athletic excellence and exemplary community service efforts, that has allowed Breaux to keep her team at the top of the national scene year in and year out.

The foundation for Breaux's coaching career developed long before her arrival at LSU.

An excellent athlete in her own right Breaux's affiliation with the sport began at the club level where she was a nationally-ranked gymnast by both the A.A.U. and the U.S.G.F. She was also a Junior Olympic National Champion that earned the S.A.A.U.'s Outstanding Gymnast award. By virtue of her accomplishments Breaux qualified as one of the top-15 athletes in the country to compete at the World Games Trials and was set to compete at the 1972 Olympic Trials before a career-ending knee injury forced her to retire.

Breaux, a native of Donaldsonville, La., attended Southeastern Louisiana University where she competed for the Lady Lions gymnastics team for two seasons (1972-73) and helped SLU to a second-place finish at the 1972 AIAW Championships.

Breaux then served as an assistant coach for the Lady Lions for three seasons, where she also became a national level judge and served as the first state director for the Louisiana USA gymnastics program. She later transferred to LSU in 1976 where she earned both her bachelor's and master's degrees.

She has two daughters, Jewel and Sara, and a grandson, Porter, who is the son of Jewel and Beau Fourrier.

BOB MOORE

Ninth Season • Samford, 1976

COLLEGE COACHING EXPERIENCE

2000-Present - Assistant Coach, LSU

1994-99 - Assistant Coach, Florida

1989-93 - Assistant Coach, Auburn

2007 NCAA Central Region Assistant Coach of the Year 2005 NCAA Central Region Co-Assistant Coach of the Year

Long-time Southeastern Conference assistant Bob Moore begins his ninth season with the LSU gymnastics program. Moore's presence has been undeniable in the past eight years as he has helped the Tigers maintain their status as one of the nation's premier programs.

Moore's primary responsibility with the Tigers is the vault where the team has flourished under his watch. In the last eight years, Moore has tutored his athletes to seven All-America honors, including most recently Nicki Butler's first-team accolades in 2007.

In addition to strengthening the Tigers on the vault, Moore plays a significant role with LSU's Bengal Gymnastics program, a highly successful youth age group program that practices in the Lady Tigers' gymnastics training facility.

Recognized for his exceptional work, Moore has twice been named the NCAA Central Region Assistant Coach of the Year, first picking up the honors in 2005 and then again in 2007.

"Bob provides us with experience at the highest level, not only within the SEC, but the NCAA," said Breaux. "He knows exactly how tough this conference is and what it takes to take a program like ours to the next level."

Moore's expertise was fine tuned at two other SEC programs. Before joining the Tigers, Moore spent six years at the University of Florida where he served as the program's top assistant. To his credit, Moore coached two national champions on the vault, in addition to numerous All-Americans and SEC champions.

Before heading to Florida Moore spent five seasons as an assistant at Auburn.

A native of Birmingham, Ala., Moore graduated from Samford University in 1976 with a degree in general studies with an emphasis in music. He is married to the former Sandra Ballard.

PHILIP OGLETREE

Eighth Season • Georgia State, 1992

COLLEGE COACHING EXPERIENCE

2001-Present - Assistant Coach, LSU

2005 NCAA Central Region Co-Assistant Coach of the Year 2004 NCAA Central Region Assistant Coach of the Year

Philip Ogletree begins his eighth season as an assistant coach with the LSU gymnastics program. In seven years, Ogletree has proved to be a tremendous asset to the Tigers' program, working primarily with the athletes on the uneven bars.

Ogletree has guided LSU to nine of the top 11 bar scores in school history, including a school-record 49.650 in 2002.

Individually, Ogletree's athletes have flourished under his watch, earning eight All-America honors on the bars, including a school record three athletes - April Burkholder, Annie Gagnon and Lisa Rennie - that earned the distinction in 2005.

In addition, Ogletree helped Sharene Mamby to a rare 10.00 on the bars during the 2001 season. The performance marked just the second perfect score on the event in school history.

For his efforts, Ogletree has been recognized by his peers on several occasions, as he was named the NCAA Central Region Assistant Coach of the Year in 2004 and then shared that same honor a year later with fellow assistant Bob Moore.

"Philip does a tremendous job for us," said Breaux. "He is an asset to our staff, both as a coach and an administrator. Our team and staff blend well with Philip in the mix."

Ogletree came to LSU after spending the previous season at the Georgia Gymnastics Academy.

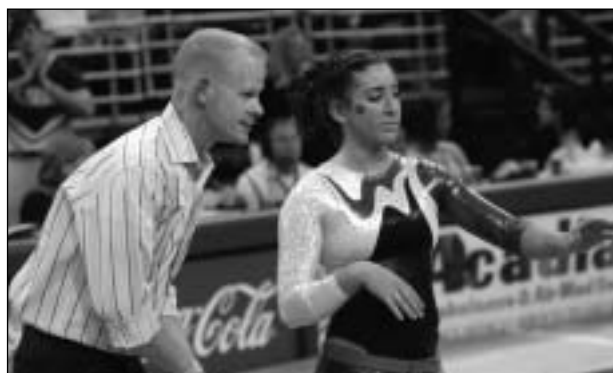

Ogletree arrived at LSU with 18 years of coaching experience, including 11 with Level 10 gymnasts in Georgia.

While his stop at LSU was his first collegiate stop, he was no stranger to LSU athletics. During his time at the Atlanta School of Gymnastics, he tutored future LSU greats Abbey Burns and Kim and Kerry Descalopoulos, all natives of Georgia.

During his time in the state of Georgia, he coached six Level 10 national champions on the floor exercise and helped place five athletes on the Level 10 Junior Olympic national team. Ogletree has also coached at the American Classic and U.S. Classic national meets.

A successful athlete in his own right, Ogletree was a gymnast at the University of Georgia from 1980-82. He later graduated from Georgia State with a bachelor of science degree in education in 1992.

Ogletree is married to the former Jill Hickok. The couple has two children, Bridget, 14, and Jake, 12.

2007

Tigers Finish Seventh at NCAA Championships

LSU presence among the nation's elite could not be denied in 2007 as the Tigers recorded a top-10 national finish for the 19th time in program history, and the ninth time in the last 10 years, after placing seventh at the NCAA Championships in Salt Lake City, Utah. LSU posted four event scores of 48.700 or better, including three over 49.000, en route to a 196.275 team score. The score ranked as the second highest ever by an LSU squad at the national meet.

School Record Four Athletes Earn First-Team All-America Honors

The Tigers capped an exceptional 2007 season with some superlative individual efforts at the NCAA Championships. LSU had a school record four athletes earn first-team All-America honors at the championship meet. Senior Nicki Butler was recognized on the vault as well as in the all-around as a second-team selection while fellow senior Kelly Phelan earned the honors on the beam and floor. Junior Kristi Esposito earned All-America status for the third straight year, once again picking up the honors on the balance beam. In addition, freshman Susan Jackson was recognized for her efforts on the floor exercise.

LSU Has Four Named Academic All-Americans

Just as impressive in the classroom as on the floor of competition, LSU had four of its student-athletes earn Academic All-America honors from the NACGC/W. Kristi Esposito was recognized for the third straight year, while Lauren Klein, Kelly Phelan and Amanda Morales were honored for the second time.

Breaux, Moore Sweep NCAA Central Region Coaching Honors

LSU swept the 2007 NCAA Central Region coaching awards as D-D Breaux was named the coach of the year and Bob Moore was named the assistant coach of the year. Breaux guided her team to a seventh-place finish at the NCAA Championships and a 19-13 overall record, a slate that saw 12 of the Tigers' 13 losses come to teams ranked among the top eight in the country. Moore was recognized for his work with the team on the vault and floor, the Tigers' two strongest events in 2007. LSU was ranked No. 1 in the nation on the vault for two weeks during the year and finished the regular season listed at No. 2 nationally on both the vault and floor. Under Moore's tutelage the Tigers posted three of the top-10 vault scores in school history as well as the 10th-best floor mark in program history.

Tigers Finish Second at the NCAA Southeast Regional Championships

The Tigers came up .025 points shy of their 10th regional team title at the NCAA Southeast Regional Championships in Morgantown, W. Va., as they were edged by eighth-ranked UCLA for the team crown, 195.975-195.950. The second-place finish did earn the Tigers an automatic bid to the NCAA Championships, their sixth straight trip and their 23rd in program history.

Butler, Klein Pick Up Regional Titles

Nicki Butler and Lauren Klein each won an individual event title at the NCAA Southeast Regional Championships. Butler won a share of the vault title after posting a near-perfect 9.950. The regional title marked the third of her career on the event as she also won the vault in 2004 and 2005. Klein claimed a share of the floor title after notching a 9.900. The regional title was the first of her career.

LSU Finishes Among Top-20 in Individual Event Rankings

LSU closed out the regular season ranked among the top 20 on each of the four individual events. Based on regional qualifying scores, the Tigers finished the year at No. 2 on the vault, No. 2 on the floor, No. 10 on the bars and No. 16 on the beam.

The Manchester, Conn., native is just the second LSU athlete to have ever earned the nation's No. 1 ranking in the all-around. Former Tiger standout April Burkholder held the top ranking for one week in January of 2006 when rankings were based on an athlete's high score. Clare-Kearney is the first Tiger to have earned the ranking based on RQS.

Clare-Kearney Tops Vault Standings Too

Ashleigh Clare-Kearney successfully ended the regular season as the nation's top-ranked vaulter, a position she has held for seven straight weeks during the 2007 season. She finished with an NCAA-leading RQS of 9.970 and averaged an impressive 9.945 on the year. Clare-Kearney did not score below a 9.850 all season and posted marks of 9.900 or better on 13 of her 15 vaults.

LSU All-Arounders Among Nation's Best

She scored a 39.300 or better nine times in 2007 and picked up a team-leading six all-around titles. Phelan won two all-around titles and earned the No. 23 ranking with a RQS of 39.335. Butler wasn't far behind at No. 25 with a 39.320 RQS.

Also in the Rankings ...

LSU has several athletes that also wrapped up the 2007 regular season with a national ranking on one of the four individual events. Three Tigers were listed on the vault as Ashleigh Clare-Kearney finished at No. 1 (9.970), Nicki Butler was seventh (9.915) and Kelly Phelan was 14th (9.895). Phelan also finished at No. 23 on the floor (9.885), while Lauren Klein was third on the event with a RQS of 9.930.

Clare-Kearney Featured in SI's, "Faces in the Crowd"

Against Centenary, Clare-Kearney either won outright or shared each of the four individual events titles en route to the meet's all-around crown as she tallied an astounding 39.775. The score, a career-high and the fourth best in LSU history, was the highest all-around total in NCAA competition in 2007. In addition, the Manchester, Conn., native posted career-high marks on three of the four events, turning in top scores of 9.975 on the floor, 9.925 on the beam and 9.900 on the bars.

Ashleigh Clare-Kearney turned in a remarkable performance against Centenary on March 23 as she posted the highest all-around score in the nation in 2007 with an astounding 39.775 effort. The score, a career-best, ties her with former Tiger All-American April Burkholder for the fourth best score in school history.

In 12 meets, the freshman from Spring, Texas, "hit" 32 of her 34 competitive routines and posted career highs of 9.900 on each of the four events. She finished the year by earning first-team All-America honors on the floor exercise at the NCAA Championships.

Hubbard Swings to Success

Nine Earn SEC Academic Honors

The Tigers landed five student-athletes on the SEC's Winter Academic Honor Roll as well as another four on the SEC's Freshman Academic Honor Roll in 2007. Senior Lisa Rennie made the list for the fourth straight year, while fellow senior Kelly Phelan was honored for the third time. Lauren Klein and Amanda Morales each made their second appearance on the honor roll and junior transfer Kristi Esposito was recognized for the first time. Athletes named to the Freshman Academic Honor Roll included Sabrina Franceschelli, Summer Hubbard, Kayla Rogers and Yvette Triay.

Breaux Picks Up 500th Career Victory

With the Tigers' 196.500-195.575 win over Arkansas on Jan. 26 head coach D-D Breaux reached another impressive career milestone as she picked up her 500th career victory. Breaux entered the 2007 campaign with a 495-302-7 (.620) career record, a slate that included a 347-187-5 mark in the regular season and a 148-115-2 record in the postseason. With a total of 19 wins in 2007, Breaux sits among an elite group of college gymnastics coaches with 500 or more career victories.

A Perfect Return

After missing all but the first meet of the 2006 season with a foot injury, Ashleigh Clare-Kearney couldn't have asked for a better return to the competitive arena in 2007 as she scored a perfect 10.00 on the vault in the first rotation of the season-opening Super Six Challenge. The Manchester, Conn., native landed her full-twisting layout yurchenko vault on a dime in garnering the perfect mark. The 10.00 was the first of Clare-Kearney's career and the first by a LSU athlete since the 2005 season. She was also just the fourth athlete in LSU history to record a perfect mark on the vault.
