HISTORY

Louisiana State University and Agricultural & Mechanical College has, throughout its 144-year history, served the people of Louisiana, the region, the nation, and the world. LSU is creating a revolution, one of pervasive change and advancement. For the past five years, the focus of the LSU community has been an increased commitment to excellence. Our progress has been dramatic and shows no sign of stopping.

Having witnessed many of yesterday's possibilities become today's tangible realities, the LSU community set forth to capitalize on its success. The goal was to improve our standing as a nationally competitive flagship university. Following intense discussions among the LSU Board of Supervisors, campus administrators, faculty, and student leaders, the objectives required to reach this status crystallized, providing the impetus for LSU's National Flagship Agenda.

WHY LSU?

"Not only was LSU the easiest choice but it was the best choice for me. Everything from basketball to academics has been a perfect fit. I couldn't imagine being anywhere else other than LSU. It was everything I hoped for and more."

Seimone Augustus
Forward (2002-2006)
2005 and 2006 NCAA National Player of the Year
First pick of 2006 WNBA Draft

"As far back as I can remember (riding bicycles, playing little league baseball), I have literally bled purple and gold. It never crossed my mind that there was anywhere else to go other than LSU. The experiences and relationships that I developed at LSU have been an integral part of my life. No other colleges existed in my mind. I am fortunate to have attended a place that I considered a dream and look forward to my association with the University until the day I die."

David Toms
2001 PGA Champion
and LSU Graduate

"I chose LSU because it has a rich tradition and an excellent fan base. The fans are great and LSU is just a great place to go. LSU is a school with great academics and athletics as well as state of the art facilities. "

Artie Brown
Forward (2001-2004)
LSU Soccer career points and goals record holder

"I was basically an in-state guy and had always thought about going to LSU for football and to get a good education. I made a lot of visits to different schools in my selection process, but everything always pointed toward LSU. My heart and my family guided me in that direction not just for the athletics, but for the academics as well. From top to bottom LSU has good people from the coaches on down the line."

Bradie James
Linebacker (1999-2002)
Dallas Cowboys member

AFRICAN-AMERICAN CULTURAL CENTER

The African-American Cultural Center provides a multifaceted approach to working with all students at LSU. It offers opportunities for people to learn about the contributions of African-American men and women in the areas of literature, science and the humanities. In addition, opportunities for the University community to have greater exposure to art exhibits, dance troupes, theatre, poetry readings and educational programs are provided.

Program Goals

Educational programs for the African-American Cultural Center are the heart of the center. The scope of these programs fall into the following four categories:

- historical/political
- artistic
- informal student advising
- community outreach

Benefits

By creating and funding the African-American Cultural Center, the University community benefits in the following areas:

- retention of African-American LSU students
- attract qualified African-American student applicants to LSU
- educate the student body and the community about African-American culture
- increase racial and cultural awareness of students, faculty and staff
- assist with the recruitment and retention of African-American faculty and staff

The Community Service aspect does not only serve to enhance a student-athletes collegiate experience, but also serves to expand character. Players not only gain a strong sense of self-worth, but also experiences personal satisfaction and growth from volunteering and community service activities. More importantly are the benefits that the community receives. It enables the community to gain an enormous advantage in feeling that they have a "partnership" with LSU student-athletes.

LSU student-athletes participate in a variety of community service projects including reading in schools, nursing home visits, hospital pediatric ward visits, speaking engagements and more in East Baton Rouge Parish.

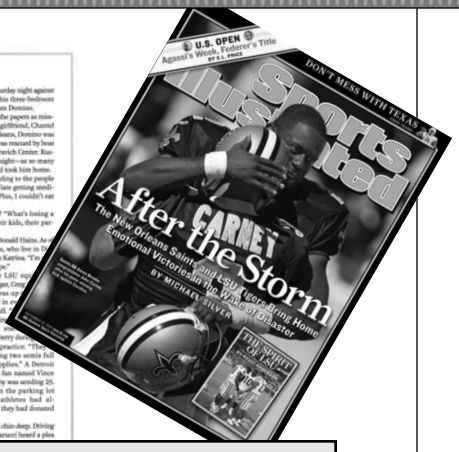
LSU's student-athletes served a vital role in the attempt to get the Gulf Coast on its feet after Hurricanes Katrina and Rita. Many of the soccer players gave time, energy and material things to those who suffered losses from the devastating storms.

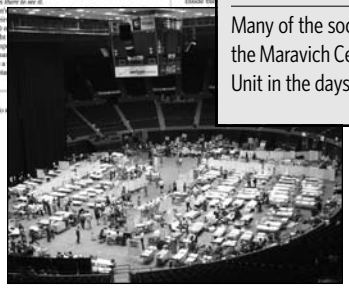
LIFE OF REILLY

LSU to the Rescue

by Rick Reilly

The Maravich Center was a two-hooped hospital. The field house was a patient ward. Katrina chaos was everywhere.





Hurricane Relief

Many of the soccer players volunteered their time as the Maravich Center, was activated as Medical Triage Unit in the days after Hurricane Katrina hit the coast.

In the Community

"The CHAMPS/Life Skills Program is great for our student-athletes because it gives them the oppurtunity to give back to the Baton Rouge community and better themselves as people off the playing field"

— Head Coach Brian Lee

Shaquille O'Neal CHAMPS/Life Skills

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE | ATHLETIC EXCELLENCE | CAREER DEVELOPMENT | PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT | COMMUNITY SERVICE

The CHAMPS/Life Skills program was developed by the NCAA to help prepare student-athletes for the challenges of life beyond the playing field. Through workshops, service projects, and social events, CHAMPS, an acronym for Challenging Athletes Minds for Personal Success, brings LSU student-athletes information that will prepare them for the biggest game of all - the game of life!

How Can CHAMPS Help?

By focusing on "real life" skills and personal development, the CHAMPS Program not only assists the student-athletes with meeting daily challenges, but also enhances student-athlete's growth in their college years and beyond.

CHAMPS at LSU

The CHAMPS/Life Skills program at LSU is operated out of the Academic Center for Athletes, and the focus of the program is on five commitments viewed as critical to personal growth.

Mike Mallet
Director for the CHAMPS/Life Skills program

Jade Jenkins
Assistant Director for the CHAMPS/Life Skills program

CRITICAL TO THE DEVELOPMENT OF AN ATHLETE as a student is an adequate academic facility and capable staff to further the athlete's progress. The Cox Communications Academic Center for Student-Athletes is responsible for overseeing the educational development and progress toward graduation for all student-athletes. The staff acts as a liaison between the student-athlete and the academic communities and insures that student-athletes comply with academic rules established by the University, NCAA and Southeastern Conference. The staff also coordinates academic programs designed to assist student-athletes in acquiring a quality education.

Amenities

- 54,000 square feet of working space
- 75 computer workstations
- 14 private computer rooms in a state-of-the-art computer lab
- Additional study rooms and classrooms for private or group study

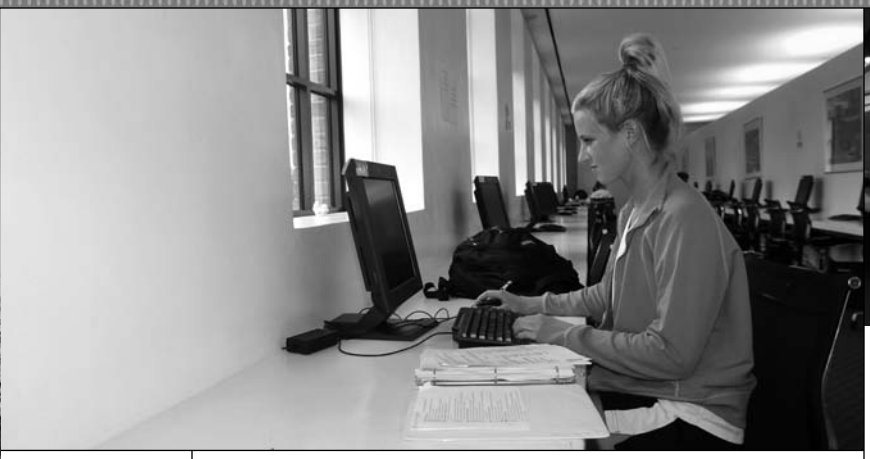
Paramount to the success of the "student" half of the term student-athlete is providing LSU athletes with the best possible resources to excel in the classroom. For more than 20 years, the LSU Academic Center for Student-Athletes has helped to build well-rounded student-athletes. But as times change and technology advances, the need for further improvements still exists. As a result, the Cox Communications Academic Center for Student-Athletes opened its doors in November of 2002. A $15 million renovation to the Gym Armory not only made it among the nation's premier centers, but put it at the forefront. Improvements to the existing center give LSU student-athletes the best opportunity for success by providing access to the latest technology, as well as an array of expanded services.

FACILITY BUILT BY THE TIGER ATHLETIC FOUNDATION

Cox Communications Academic Center for Student-Athletes



Computer Stations

Throughout the Academic Center are 75 computer stations, providing student-athletes with a quiet working environment for research, writing and studying.

Bo Campbell Auditorium

The 1,000-seat auditorium is used through the year as a classroom and lecture hall. Each seat in the auditorium has space for a laptop and a modem hookup, providing each student unlimited learning opportunities. The auditorium also contains a movie theatre size screen to aid professors with lectures and classroom activities.

The Library

The library provides a perfect setting for individual study, or with a tutor as a group.

Study Area

Included in the 54,000 square feet of the Academic Center are individual study areas as well as 14 private computer rooms for student-athletes to work one-on-one with tutors or by themselves.

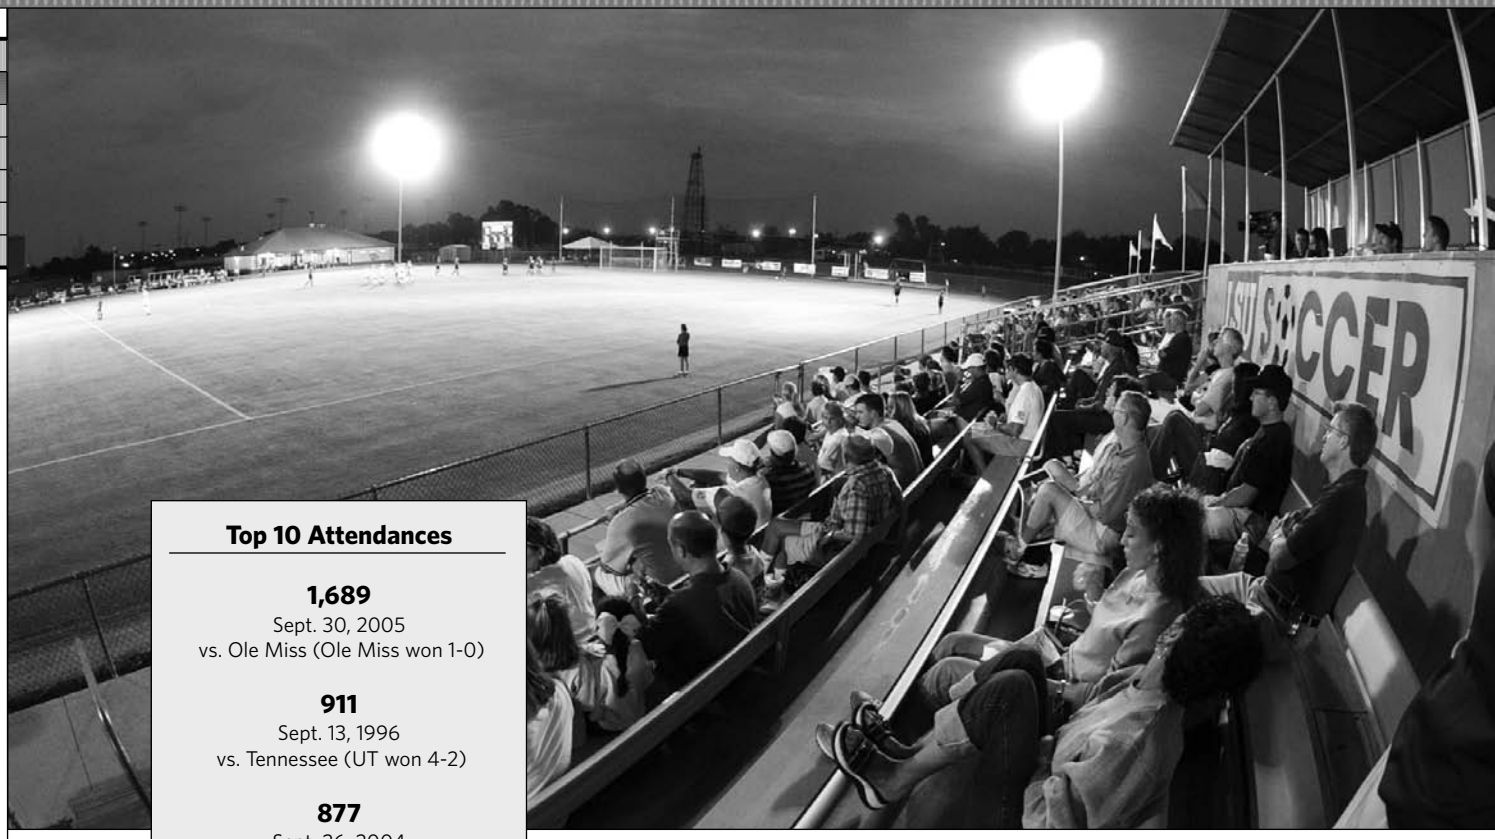
COMMUNICATIONS LAB

Lights, Camera, Answer

Dr. Karam uses his studio to prepare LSU's student-athletes to interact with all phases of local and national media by working one-on-one in a press conference setting. The Communications Lab includes a working camera for Karam to review the session with the student-athletes.

Along with the success of the LSU Soccer team, comes a great deal of media attention and Dr. Tommy Karam, the Director of the Communications Lab, uses his lab, located on the fourth floor of the Cox Communications Academic Center for Student-Athletes, to work with LSU student-athletes on their interactions with the media and interview skills. Karam's lab is a mock press conference setting to get the student-athletes used to handling themselves in front of both print and electronic media. He video tapes the mock interview session and reviews it with the student-athlete to help them become more comfortable in an interview setting. Karam also helps the LSU Football players get prepared for the NFL Combine by working closely with those players on the interview process.

LSU Soccer Complex



MAINTAINING LSU'S COMMITMENT TO PROVIDING THE FINEST ATHLETIC FACILITIES IN THE NATION, the Tigers will begin their 11th season at the LSU Soccer Complex – a field that was christened on Sept. 13, 1996, when the Tigers hosted Southeastern Conference rival Tennessee.

The LSU Soccer Complex, located just a half mile from the Mississippi River, provides seating for 1,500 spectators. The Tigers set the single-game attendance record last year when 1,689 fans witnessed the team play Ole Miss on Sept. 30 in its annual Cram the Complex campaign.

In addition, the stadium features a modern sound system and rows of hedges that were planted last year. The Complex has served as the host site of four prestigious tournaments in recent years and was most recently the site of the 2001 SEC Tournament. It also played host to an MLS game between the Chicago Fire and Colorado Rapids in 2003.

Locker Room

The LSU soccer program boasts a modern and spacious locker room that includes locker rooms for the Tigers, as well as facilities for opponents and game officials. The complex also provides an on-site training room, a meeting room and lounge for the team and offices for the coaching staff.

Renovations

The locker room facility at the LSU Soccer Complex is scheduled for extensive renovations in 2006-07 and will include the addition of a brand new visitor's locker room on the south end of the facility. The current visitor's locker room will expand to 2,000 square feet and be transformed into a state-of-the-art squad room and lounge for the Tigers to enjoy.

LSU Indoor Facility

When the weather prevents the soccer team from practicing at the LSU Soccer Complex, the squad moves inside to the climate-controlled indoor football practice facility. The indoor facility was built as part of a $15 million upgrade in the early 1990s and houses a 100-yard football field that was renovated with brand new Momentum Field Turf in the spring of 2006.

First Game

The LSU Soccer Complex was christened on September 13, 1996, when the Tigers played host to SEC Eastern Division rival Tennessee before a raucous crowd of 911 fans – the second largest crowd in the facility's 10-year history.

MLS Comes To Baton Rouge

U.S. National Team member DaMarcus Beasley and the Chicago Fire squared off against the Colorado Rapids in a Major League Soccer exhibition game at the LSU Soccer Complex in 2003.

Brown Sets Career Scoring Record

Forward Artie Brown set the school's all-time goals and points record in a 3-0 shutout of Arkansas on Oct. 29, 2004. Brown finished her career with 40 goals and 90 points, surpassing the old mark of 36 goals and 82 points set by Jackie Cooper from 1995-96.

Cram The Complex

A record crowd of 1,689 fans crammed the LSU Soccer Complex on Sept. 30, 2005, to witness the Tigers play host to SEC Western Division rival Ole Miss. This shattered the previous high of 911 fans that saw the Tigers play their first game at the facility in 1996.

Dr. Martin J. Broussard with running back Billy Cannon in 1959.

LSU's multi-million dollar athletic training facility is named in honor of Dr. Martin J. Broussard, the legendary trainer whose career spanned over 40 years at LSU, having been appointed to the position of head athletic trainer in 1948. Following his semi-retirement from the day-to-day work as trainer in 1993, he continued to serve LSU as an Assistant to the Athletic Director through 2001, giving him well over 50 years of service to the Athletic Department.

Among his many accomplishments was the formulation of "Quick Kick", an isotonic drink used to replace liquids, vitamins and the electrolytes lost through sweating. ALREADY A LOUISIANA LEGEND AND ONE OF THE GREATEST COLLEGE BASEBALL COACHES OF ALL TIME, J. Stanley "Skip" Bertman has made the seamless transition into the athletics director's chair with the same enthusiasm, vision and demand for excellence that were trademarks of his stellar coaching career.

In just four years as LSU's director of athletics, Bertman has already added to his impressive list of on-the-field achievements. Under his direction, LSU enjoyed arguably the greatest athletics years in the history of the institution. In 2003-04 three teams won national championships, nine teams finished in the nation's top ten, and fourteen teams ranked in the top 25 and in 2004-05 14 teams advanced to the post-season. LSU teams also enjoyed improved grade point averages across the board, making the LSU student-athlete experience a success on and off the fields of competition.

While supervising the Tigers' progress on the playing fields, he has begun to implement measures necessary to realize his vision of building the LSU athletics department into the best in the country. Bertman's bold and innovative plans promise to keep the Tigers among the nation's elite in all phases of collegiate athletics.

Bertman is now in the midst of upgrading LSU's athletics complex. Working hand in hand with the Tiger Athletic Foundation, Bertman has already overseen the completion of the Cox Communications Academic Center for Student-Athletes while renovating Tiger Stadium and the Pete Maravich Assembly Center, and constructing the Football Operations Center.

It was also Bertman who took the bold but essential move to implement a seat contribution program in Tiger Stadium to fund facility improvements and ensure the financial stability of the LSU Athletics Department for the next decade.

Bertman was named LSU's athletics director on January 19, 2001. With Bertman, LSU gained an athletics director who provides the leadership and experience necessary to manage the Tigers' $52 million budget.

Bertman guided LSU to five NCAA baseball titles, and his teams drew huge crowds to venerable Alex Box Stadium, as the Tigers led the nation in attendance in each of his final six seasons (1996-2001).

He also served as head coach of the 1996 U.S. Olympic team which captured the bronze medal in Atlanta.

Bertman continues to be honored for his remarkable coaching tenure, as he was inducted in June, 2002, into the Louisiana Sports Hall of Fame. He was inducted into the American Baseball Coaches Association Hall of Fame in January, 2003.

In a Baseball America poll published in 1999, Bertman was voted the second greatest college baseball coach of the 20th century, trailing only Rod Dedeaux of Southern California. Bertman and Dedeaux are the only coaches to win five CWS titles.

He had previously earned recognition as one of the nation's brightest assistant coaches while at the University of Miami (Fla.) for eight seasons (1976-83). Before working at Miami, Bertman was renowned for his coaching excellence. In 11 seasons at Miami Beach High School, he directed the Hi-Tides to a state championship and two runners-up finishes and he was named Florida's Coach of the Year on three occasions.

In 1975, Bertman coached at Miami-Dade Downtown, leaving after one season to join legendary head coach Ron Fraser at Miami. The move was a homecoming of sorts, as Bertman spent his collegiate playing days with the Hurricanes as an outfielder and catcher from 1958-60. He earned his B.A. in health and physical education from Miami in 1961 and received his master's degree from UM in 1964.

Bertman and his wife Sandy are the parents of four daughters - Jan, Jodi, Lisa and Lori. The Bertman's have three grandchildren - Sophie Faith and Isaac Stanley, the children of Emile and Lori Bertman Guirard, and Samuel Aaron, the son of Drew and Lisa Pate.

HISTORY

THE NEXT GENERATION OF TIGERS

Head coach Brian Lee enters his second season at the helm of the LSU soccer program with a team that is poised to build upon its success from a year ago and contend for its first trip to the NCAA Tournament in 2006. The Tigers feature a mixture of veteran experience and gifted youth that will comprise quite possibly the most talented roster in the program's 12-year history.

"We're excited about the potential of this year's team and what it has the opportunity to accomplish," Lee said. "The girls are coming off one of the most successful seasons in this program's history, and they've shown the dedication to get better. We're all looking forward to having a great season in 2006."

Leading the way for the Tigers this fall are the team's lone seniors in Joleen Phillips and Julie Neumann. Phillips is LSU's top returning scorer with five goals and 13 points in 2005 and will serve as team captain during her final season in Baton Rouge. Lee said he will lean heavily on Phillips' leadership this season as well over half of the roster is comprised of freshmen and sophomores.

"We're really comfortable with Joleen Phillips stepping into a leadership role for us this fall," Lee said. "She sets a great example for our younger players of how to conduct themselves on and off the field. Our upperclassmen will be counted on heavily this fall to lead our young team."

While Phillips will be the team's primary scoring threat up top, the Tigers feature a pair of midfielders who will lead perhaps the deepest and most talented unit on the field in 2006. Junior Caroline Vanderpool has competed for much of the spring and summer with the U-20 Canadian National Team and sophomore Melissa Clarke returns as the team's lone All-SEC selection after a stellar freshman season a year ago.

"Melissa backed up an All-SEC freshman season with an even better spring and summer, and we'll welcome Caroline back to the lineup after she competes in the U-20 World Cup at the beginning of the season," Lee said. "Caroline is the most underrated player in the conference and has gone from a fringe pool player with the Canadian U-20s to a full-time starter at left back."

Lee said he also looks for a trio of sophomores to step up and be major contributors this fall after solidifying their positions in the spring. Roslyn Jones was moved up top from the back line and responded by scoring five goals in five spring games, while Jackie Moseley started 19 games in goal as a freshman and looks to mature into one of the SEC's premier goalkeepers in 2006. Casey Crawford is a transfer from Tennessee and could find a home at any position on the field.

"Roslyn Jones started at the back for us last fall but exploded this spring as a scorer when we moved her up top," Lee said. "Her work ethic is top flight and she is a born winner. Casey plays a lot like Roslyn in that she has a tremendous work ethic and will play several positions in 2006. We're expecting a lot out of her in her first season here.

"We're also very confident in our returning goalkeeping situation with Jackie Moseley playing the way she did last fall. She started 19 games as a freshman and gained valuable experience that will only benefit her as she matures as a college athlete."

These returning stars welcomed the nation's seventh-ranked recruiting class to campus when camp began in early August, and Lee expects this freshman class to give the Tigers one of the more talented teams in the SEC in the fall. Lee and his coaching staff inked seven of the top 100 high school players in the country in the spring – a feat matched only by Anson Dorrance at North Carolina.

Leading the way are Katherine Lagow (Plano, Texas), Michelle Makasini (Euless, Texas), Malorie Rutledge (Sharpsburg, Ga.) and Rachel Yepez (Fayetteville, N.C.), who were each named Soccer Buzz Top 75 Recruits. In addition, Nikki Bush (Clinton, Miss.), Amanda Carreno (Tulsa, Okla.) and Chelsea Potts (Aurora, Ill.) were named Soccer Buzz Top 100 Recruits as high school seniors.

"It's an honor to see LSU soccer aligned with traditional soccer powers like North Carolina, Duke, Penn State and Santa Clara when it comes to signing the top recruits in the nation," Lee said. "We have aspirations to compete on a national level year in and year out, and attracting student-athletes with that kind of ability is a major step in that direction."

Another step in that direction is upgrading the team's non-conference schedule and competing against the best teams in the nation on a yearly basis. The Tigers have done that by scheduling two nationally-ranked programs from the state of Texas in the SMU Mustangs and Texas Longhorns. Add that to a trip to Annapolis, Md., to face Navy and Villanova in early September and the Tigers have one of the more difficult non-conference schedules in the SEC.

The Tigers must travel to take on the likes of Ole Miss and Tennessee but will also face perennial NCAA Tournament teams such as Auburn, Florida and Vanderbilt in a favorable home SEC slate that could put the team in position to earn its first ever trip to the postseason.

"We're very pleased with how our non-conference schedule has come together this season," Lee said. "We have a great mix of challenging home and away matches highlighted by some great programs like SMU and Texas. It'll give our players a great test.

"We also have a great SEC schedule with perennial NCAA Tournament teams like Florida, Auburn and Vanderbilt coming to Baton Rouge. It's tremendous any time we have teams like Texas, Florida and Auburn included in our 10 home games. It's going to be an exciting year of soccer in Baton Rouge."

There's no question that the 2006 LSU soccer season is one that coaches, players and fans alike have anticipated since last November and could prove to be the springboard the team needs to catapult itself to the top of the SEC and be a postseason staple for years to come. Lee is committed to leading the Tigers to the pinnacle of college soccer as he seeks," to build a program that annually contends for the SEC, qualifies for the NCAA College Cup and competes to win a National Championship."

Joleen Phillips will be one of the seniors who will be looked to for leadership during the 2006 season

Forwards

Despite losing the services of the team's leading scorer from 2005 in Kate Ripple, a group of veteran forwards provide the Tigers with perhaps the most experience of any position on the field in the fall. Senior Joleen Phillips, who is the team's top returning scorer with five goals and 13 points a year ago, looks to fill the void Ripple leaves behind. Junior Sara Pollock and sophomore Roslyn Jones will play up top for the first time in their LSU careers and will team with sophomore Casey Crawford, a transfer from Tennessee, to give the Tigers four athletes with SEC experience at the position.

"We will score goals from a variety of places in 2006, but Joleen will lead the charge up top," Lee said. "She's athletic, composed and leads by words and example. Roslyn is coming off a great spring in which she scored a goal in all five matches, and she plays with a constant motor and is a winner in every sense of the word.

"Casey Crawford will get a look in several spots during the preseason and is a lot like Roslyn in that she brings a tremendous work ethic and winning mentality. Sara Pollock is an honest, hard-working player who we hope has found a niche in the front line."

A pair of freshmen will likely find themselves in the rotation along the front line as Rachel Yepez and Kennedy Richards join the squad in 2006. Yepez, a native of Fayetteville, N.C., was named a Soccer Buzz Top 75 Recruit as a high school senior, while Richards was a three-time all-state performer at St. Thomas Moore High School in Lafayette.

"Rachel Yepez has been a constant goal scorer in high school, club and ODP and should compete for major minutes from the first day of fall camp," Lee said. "Kennedy Richards joins us with a great pedigree in the state and has the physical tools to develop into a target forward in the SEC."

Defenders

The Tigers' back line will feature an entirely new group in 2006 as Lee must replace the services of senior stalwarts Holly Davis and Tara Mitnick from a year ago and sophomore Roslyn Jones makes the transition up top in the fall. But the Tigers will not be short on talent as they welcomed five of the top 200 high school recruits in the country to campus when fall camp started in August.

"We will be very young, but very talented along our back line in the fall," Lee said. "This is a position where newcomers will be counted on to form the core of our defense, and that can prove challenging in a conference like the SEC. We have a group of freshmen coming in with an outstanding club and ODP pedigree and will form the cornerstone of our back line for the next four years."

Leading this group of incoming freshmen are Soccer Buzz Top 100 Recruits Nikki Bush of Clinton, Miss., and Chelsea Potts of Aurora, Ill. Kathleen Walsh (Birmingham, Ala.) was named a Soccer Buzz Top 150 Recruit, while Texas natives Rachel Hartman (Dallas) and Brittany Lowe (Humble) were each named Soccer Buzz Top 200 Recruits in 2006. They join senior reserve Julie Neumann, junior Caroline Vanderpool, who will also play in the midfield, and freshman Elise Bourgeois as the team's key defenders.

"Freshmen Chelsea Potts, Nikki Bush, Brittany Lowe, Rachel Hartman and Kathleen Walsh all come from a tremendous pedigree and are players that can play from the first day of fall camp," Lee said. "Julie Neumann is penciled in as a reserve for the fall after a solid spring, and we will be counting the days for Caroline to return from the U-20 World Cup to join the back line and midfield."

Midfielders

Perhaps the most talented position on field for the Tigers will be in the midfield as junior Caroline Vanderpool and sophomore Melissa Clarke return to lead a group of five returning letterwinners and four of the most gifted freshmen in the SEC in 2006. Vanderpool, who is a member of the U-20 Canadian National Team, will miss the beginning of the season as she competes in the 2006 FIFA U-20 World Championships, while Clarke returns as the team's lone All-SEC selection from a year ago.

"I am very excited to see how our midfield comes together in the fall," Lee said. "Melissa continues to grow into one of the top two-way players in the SEC, and she will help lead a talented group along with Caroline Vanderpool when she returns from Russia. Caroline is one of the best midfielders in the country and will be a defensive or left midfield option when she rejoins the team."

Among the Tigers who have earned valuable experience while in Baton Rouge are junior Marie Hastings and sophomores Veronica Godbolt and Leeza Iver. They welcome four of the top freshmen in the country into the playing rotation as Katherine Lagow (Plano, Texas), Michelle Makasini (Euless, Texas) and Malorie Rutledge (Sharpsburg, Ga.) were each named Soccer Buzz Top 75 Recruits and Amanda Carreno (Tulsa, Okla.) was named a Soccer Buzz Top 100 Recruit as a high school senior.

Despite the youth at the position, Lee said he expects this group to be one of the top midfield groups in the SEC this season.

"We're expecting a lot out of this group in 2006," Lee said. "Veronica Godbolt should return around the middle of the season and can be a big lift as a defensive midfielder if healthy. Leeza Iver is talented enough to be in the mix but will need to find daily consistency to win a spot, and Marie Hastings is a hard-working, capable reserve.

"Katherine will be our lynchpin in the middle – tall, strong, a great passer and will add direction to the team. Amanda Carreno will bring attacking creativity and 'know how' to our center midfield dynamic. Michelle is more of a withdrawn forward that will be counted on to score and create goals behind the front line, while we're likely to see Malorie on the right wing attacking players 1 v 1 and whipping balls into the box."

Goalkeepers

Another position in which Lee feels the Tigers will be strong this season is the goalkeeper position. With two returning letterwinners in junior Valerie Vogler and freshman Jackie Moseley, Lee believes that the Tigers are loaded in the net for years to come.

"We as a coaching staff feel like we have two high-level goalkeepers and are in an enviable situation in goal for the next two or three years," Lee said. "Both Jackie and Val have valuable experience and have proven they can get the job done and win in the Southeastern Conference."

Moseley started 19 of 20 games as a freshman a season ago and is penciled in as the starter for 2006. She posted a LSU freshman record five shutouts last year and finished fourth in the SEC in shutouts, saves and saves per game. Vogler has made eight starts in her LSU career while posting three shutouts, and she has also been named SEC Player of the Week once in her time in Baton Rouge.

Goalkeepers coach Daniel Brizard agrees with Lee's assessment of the position and is excited to have the opportunity to coach a pair of keepers with the pedigree of Moseley and Vogler.

"I expect Jackie to come in and nail down the starting role following a great freshman year," Brizard said. "She was able to earn some valuable experience last year and get a feel for the level that she needs to play at to be a successful college keeper. Val definitely has the experience and talent to come in and challenge Jackie for that starting spot."

MEET THE TEAM

Brian Lee

Head Coach • Second Season

THE VISION

LSU is the sleeping giant of college soccer. My vision for LSU is to build a program that annually contends to win the SEC, qualifies for the NCAA College Cup and competes to win a National Championship.

THE PHILOSOPHY

I believe in a commitment to excellence from our players, coaches and staff in all facets of the program. We will provide an environment in which our student-athletes can maximize their potential as students, athletes and people.

Brian Lee enters his second season at the helm of the LSU soccer program after guiding the Tigers to one of their most successful seasons in team history in 2005 in which they posted the team's highest SEC win total since 2000 and made an appearance in the SEC Tournament for the first time since 2002.

LSU athletics director Skip Bertman believes this success is just a glimpse of what the future holds for the program as Lee is poised to transform the Tigers into a perennial championship contender in the SEC and a permanent staple in the NCAA Women's College Cup.

"Brian Lee is a proven and successful head coach who I believe will take our women's soccer program to a level of excellence that will energize the soccer community and bring championships to LSU," Bertman said. "I am impressed with his accomplishments as well as his enthusiasm and vision for the program."

The foundation of any program is built on the players it recruits, and Lee's on-field success in his first season translated into success off the field as he and his coaching staff signed the nation's seventh-ranked recruiting class in February. This marks the first time that the Tigers will welcome a top 10 signing class to campus in the fall, and will give LSU an opportunity to compete for an SEC Championship with its most talented team in its 11-year history.

Conference titles and a nationally prominent program are nothing new for the Cheltenham, England native, who after starting the Furman program from scratch in 1994 led the Lady Paladins to six Southern Conference Championships and four NCAA College Cup appearances during his tenure.

In 11 seasons, Lee's teams accumulated a 144-80-10 overall record, including a 76-16-3 mark in conference action. The Lady Paladins went undefeated in conference play three times (1999, 2000, 2002) and were just shy of perfection in 2003 after going 10-0-1.

Also a proven recruiter, Lee produced four top 50 recruiting classes in his last five seasons at Furman, including the nation's 12th-ranked class in 2002. That tradition continued upon his arrival at LSU as he landed the Tigers their first-ever top 50 recruiting class in the spring of 2005. Lee has signed the top-ranked class in the SEC for 2006 and the No. 1 class among SEC West teams for the second straight year.

Individually, Lee has coached two NCAA All-Americans, one National Soccer Coaches Association of America All-American, two Freshman All-Americans, 22 All-Southeast Region players, four Southern Conference Players of the Year, five conference Freshmen of the Year and 55 all-league selections, including LSU's Melissa Clarke in 2005. Clarke was named Second-Team All-SEC and a member of the SEC All-Freshman Team in just her first season with the Tigers.

Lee's athletes have proven to be just as successful in the classroom where he owns a 100 percent graduation rate and his teams have earned five NSCAA Team Academic Awards, including LSU in 2005. A total of 122 student-athletes were selected to the Southern Conference Academic Honor Roll in his 11 years at Furman, and 12 Tigers were named to the SEC Academic Honor Roll in 2005.

For his many accomplishments, Lee was named the Southern Conference Coach of the Year five times and was named the NSCAA and Soccer Buzz Southeast Region Coach of the Year in 1999, the same year in which he was selected as a finalist for the NSCAA National Coach of the Year Award.

In addition to his collegiate coaching experience, Lee has served on the Region III Olympic Developmental Program staff since 1999 and was recently promoted to the rank of regional assistant coach in the spring of 2006.

A successful athlete in his own right, Lee earned four letters with the Furman men's soccer team from 1989-92 where he was an integral part of three Southern Conference titles and was voted team captain and selected as the team's Most Valuable Player as a senior. He also led his team to its first-ever NCAA Tournament appearance and a berth in the Sweet 16 in 1991.

Lee, 35, earned his bachelor's degree in political science from Furman in 1993. He and his wife, the former Nancy Repsher, also a 1993 graduate of Furman, have two children – Aidan, 3, and Abby, 1.

Debbie Hensley enters her second season as an assistant at LSU after serving as head coach of the women's soccer program at Western Carolina for six seasons. She has built a reputation as one of the nation's top recruiters after having been instrumental in signing the first top-50 and top-10 recruiting classes in LSU history.

Adding Hensley to his staff was an easy decision for second-year head coach Brian Lee as the two coached together at Furman University for three years.

"Debbie is not only one of the top coaches in soccer, but she is one of the best people," Lee said. "She is a tremendous coach, recruiter and leader, and she will be instrumental in the future success of the LSU soccer program."

Hensley compiled a 60-52-9 record in six years at Western Carolina after starting the program from scratch prior to the 1999 season. She led the Catamounts to a 10-9-1 record and a Southern Conference Tournament appearance in her inaugural season and was named the league's Coach of the Year in 2001 after guiding the team to the Southern Conference regular season title with a 16-6 overall record and 8-2 league mark.

Hensley coached seven players to 11 All-Southern Conference honors in her time at Western Carolina, a total that includes three first-team selections. In addition to her duties as head coach of the program, Hensley also served as Assistant Athletics Director/Senior Woman Administrator.

Prior to her stint at WCU, Hensley spent three seasons as an assistant coach under Lee at Furman where she recruited eight players who earned all-conference accolades during their careers.

Along with her coaching achievements, Hensley garnered recognition as a soccer and softball standout at Georgia Southern as she finished her career as a three-time First-Team All-SoCon selection and led the conference in scoring as a junior and senior.

Hensley was selected to play in the prestigious Umbro Select College All-Star Classic after being named an NSCAA Regional All-American and All-Region honoree in 1995, and she was named the Georgia Female College Athlete of the Year by the Georgia Hall of Fame the same year.

The two-sport standout was also a first-team all-conference selection in softball as she set the Georgia Southern career record for both stolen bases and runs scored. She received her bachelor's degree in education from Georgia Southern in 1996 and a master's degree in health and exercise science from Furman in 1998.

"Michelle was rated the No. 1 attacking midfielder in Texas and among the very best in the country. Injuries and club commitments slowed her with ODP the last year or two, but she is certainly one of the top players in the country. Her Dallas Texan club team is one of the most talented youth teams ever assembled, and Michelle is the key attacking center mid.
