When Van Chancellor was hired as the fifth head coach in LSU women's basketball history last April, he was already thinking about an opportunity to play for a national championship.

Chancellor took over a Lady Tigers program that has advanced to the NCAA Final Four in each of the last four seasons and he believes his team of nine seniors, a junior, a sophomore and two freshman can not only lead him to the Final Four, but also to a national title.

"I'm not going to take us anywhere. This team will take us there," Chancellor said. "My job is to make them get in that position and believe in themselves. I think we're there. We just have to perform. If we can get there, we are going to perform because I think one of my assets is getting them in pressure games and getting them to relax a little bit."

Chancellor, a four-time WNBA world champion and 2004 Olympic gold medal coach, still has a spot in his trophy case for a NCAA title. It is just about the only thing the Hall of Fame coach has left to accomplish in his career that has spanned three decades.

Chancellor, who coached Ole Miss to 439 wins in 19 years in Oxford before heading to the WNBA's Houston Comets, has the right cast to accomplish his and his team's goal.

LSU returns all five starters and six non-starters from a team that posted a 30-8 overall record in 2006-07 and reached the Final Four in Cleveland.

"Anytime you can get a team that is experienced is a good thing," Chancellor said. "They have been there. They will have experienced every difficult situation we will face this season. I has always said give me good players that are experienced. If I can't have experience, I'd rather have good players."

Seniors

The experienced seniors, led by returning starters Sylvia Fowles, Quianna Chaney, Erica White, Ashley Thomas and RaShonta LeBlanc have collected 94 wins to go with just 15 losses during their career at LSU. A career that includes three Final Four appearances and two Southeastern Conference regular season titles.

Fowles, a 6-6 center from Miami, Fla., earned Kodak All-American honors last season and was first-team All-SEC after posting 16.9 points and 12.6 rebounds per game.

"The history of my coaching career, going back to the Jennifer Gillom days at Ole Miss, is to make sure to get the ball to one of our best players. Sylvia Fowles is not only one of our best players, but she is one of the best in the country," Chancellor said.

Chaney, a 5-11 guard from Baton Rouge, was a second-team All-SEC selection last season after averaging 11.8 points, 2.8 rebounds and 2.3 assists per game.

White, a 5-3 point guard from Jacksonville, Fla., averaged 8.2 points, 3.5 rebounds and a team-high 4.3 assists per outing, while LeBlanc a 5-7 guard from Port Arthur, Texas, scored 6.1 points and dished out 3.1 assists per contest.

Thomas, a 6-0 forward averaged 4.7 points and 4.0 rebounds a year ago.

LSU also gets a great deal of experience from the other four seniors.

Katie Antony, a 5-10 guard from Anacoco, La., averaged 2.9 points and 1.5 rebounds last year in 24 games.

Khalilah Mitchell, a 5-11 guard from New Orleans, La., posted 2.1 points, 1.5 rebounds and 1.4 assists in 30 games.

Marian Whitfield, a 5-9 guard from Augusta, Ga., averaged 2.7 points and 1.0 rebound per game in 22 appearances, while Mesha Williams, a 603 post player from St. Louis, Mo., scored 2.8 points and grabbed 2.4 rebounds in 30 games last season.

"It is not difficult what so ever to inherit nine seniors," Chancellor said. "The difficult part will be replacing those nine seniors a year from now. Having nine seniors means we have a great deal of experience on this team. All nine of those players have been at part of Final Four teams."

Juniors

LSU's lone junior, Kristen Morris, also brings experience and depth to the team.

Morris, a 6-2 forward from Lathrup Village, Mich., averaged 2.5 points and 1.9 rebounds per game last season and have seen action in 53 games in her career with a 2.5 points-per-game and 2.1 rebounds-pe-game average.

Sophomore

Allison Hightower, the lone sophomore on the team, played in all 38 games last season and started twice. Hightower, a 5-10 guard from Arlington, Texas, scored 6.2 points and grabbed 2.3 rebounds per game on her way to earning a spot on the Freshman All-SEC team.

Freshmen

LSU adds freshmen Katherine Graham and Latear Eason to the the experienced upperclassmen.

Graham, a 5-11 guard from Birmingham, Ala., won 126 games and four state titles at Ramsay High School.

Chancellor

Eason, a 5-8 guard from Chicago, Ill., posted 19.3 points, 4.0 assists and 2.5 steals during her career at John Hope Academy.

"I don't think there is any doubt Latear Eason will help at the point guard position and Katherine Graham gives us more flexibility to give more help from the outside," Chancellor added. "I know these young kids will be able to learn a lot for the senior group that we have."

Schedule

The Lady Tigers will put the experience to the test early and often during the 2007-08 season.

LSU opens the season in the preseason WNIT along with 2006 National Champion Maryland, Notre Dame and Michigan State, followed by a trip to Rutgers in late November.

The Lady Tigers also travel to Louisiana Tech, Middle Tennessee State and Florida State and host Connecticut in addition to the SEC schedule.

"As long as we are playing teams like Connecticut and Rutgers and the have chance of facing ranked teams in the WNIT, that will get us ready to play in the SEC," Chancellor said. "You need a perfect mixture of teams that are really, really strong like what our schedule has."

LSU's Memorial Tower (main photo) was one of the first structures completed on the present campus and sits east of the quadrangle (inset). It represents the University as a memorial to those who gave their lives during World War I. Although it currently houses the LSU Anglo-American Art Museum, plans are in process to return Memorial Tower to a military museum as originally intended.

Louisiana State University and Agricultural & Mechanical College has, throughout its 144-year history, served the people of Louisiana, the region, the nation, and the world. LSU is creating a revolution, one of pervasive change and advancement. For the past five years, the focus of the LSU community has been an increased commitment to excellence. Our progress has been dramatic and shows no sign of stopping.

Having witnessed many of yesterday's possibilities become today's tangible realities, the LSU community set forth to capitalize on its success. The goal was to improve our standing as a nationally competitive flagship university. Following intense discussions among the LSU Board of Supervisors, campus administrators, faculty, and student leaders, the objectives required to reach this status crystallized, providing the impetus for LSU's National Flagship Agenda.

Newsweek magazine named Louisiana State University the "Most Diverse" school in the nation in the Sept. 3, 2003, issue. The enrollment consists of 24 percent minority students.

Why LSU?

Bradie James

Linebacker (1999-2002)
Dallas Cowboys member

"I was basically an in-state guy and had always thought about going to LSU for football and to get a good education. I made a lot of visits to different schools in my selection process, but everything always pointed toward LSU. My heart and my family guided me in that direction not just for the athletics, but for the academics as well. From top to bottom LSU has good people from the coaches on down the line."

"It was really quite an honor to be able to play for LSU. Being from Lockport, everybody down there is a big LSU fan. Once I graduated from high school and had to make the decision where I was going to play, LSU was the obvious choice because I had grown up an LSU fan and it was a place where my family could watch me play. LSU really helped me grow both as a player and a person. I have nothing but fond memories of the place."

Tommy Hodson

Quarterback (1986-89)
All-SEC

"I had a lot of choices coming out of high school, but when I visited LSU it was different. It felt like a family with the coaches and the players. LSU was the best place for me to go. It had everything I wanted, both football and academically. The atmosphere and the coaches made me feel very comfortable around them as well as the academic people and everybody involved with the program. I was from down the road in Louisiana and could have gone anywhere to school, but I chose to stay close to home."

Jarvis Green

Defensive End (1998-01)
New England Patriots member

"As far back as I can remember (riding bicycles, playing little league baseball), I have literally bled purple and gold. It never crossed my mind that there was anywhere else to go other than LSU. The experiences and relationships that I developed at LSU have been an integral part of my life. No other colleges existed in my mind. I am fortunate to have attended a place that I considered a dream and look forward to my association with the University until the day I die."

Career Development

"My experience as a student-athlete at LSU prepared me well for the personal and professional life I enjoy today."

Celeste Gehring, Center (1994-1997)
Management - Fox Sports Net

Being a part of the LSU athletics involves more than simply playing in front of thousands of crazed Tiger fans and national television audiences. LSU provides an opportunity to achieve athletic success while also getting a head start on the most important game of all - the game of life.

The LSU athletics department has a longstanding internal summer jobs program that aggressively seeks opportunities to help place its players in career-developing positions within the community. Every LSU student-athlete that wants to get a leg up on their future has the opportunity to work during the summer with the goal to help them earn valuable experience.

LSU student-athletes are expected to be extremely active in utilizing the career development resources readily available to them.

Ashley Thomas (top) and Katie Antony (bottom) interned this past summer at local Baton Rouge businesses.

Community OUTREACH

The Shaquille O'Neal CHAMPS/Life Skills Program

The Community Service aspect does not only serve to enhance a student-athletes college experience, but also serves to expand character. Players not only gain a strong sense of self-worth, but also experience personal satisfaction and growth from volunteering and community service activities. More importantly are the benefits that the community receives. It enables the community to gain an enormous advantage in feeling that they have a "partnership" with LSU student-athletes.

LSU student-athletes participate in a variety of community service projects including reading in schools, nursing home visits, hospital pediatric ward visits, speaking engagements and more in East Baton Rouge Parish.

What is CHAMPS?

The Shaquille O'Neal CHAMPS/Life Skills program was developed by the NCAA to help prepare student-athletes for the challenges of life beyond the playing field. Through workshops, service projects, and social events, CHAMPS, an acronym for Challenging Athletes Minds for Personal Success, brings LSU student-athletes information that will prepare them for the biggest game of all - the game of life!

How Can CHAMPS Help?

By focusing on "real life" skills and personal development, the CHAMPS Program not only assists the student-athletes with meeting daily challenges, but also enhances student-athlete's growth in their college years and beyond.

CHAMPS at LSU

The CHAMPS/Life Skills program at LSU is operated out of the Cox Communications Academic Center for Student-Athletes, and the focus of the program is on five commitments viewed as critical to personal growth:

- Academic Excellence
- Athletic Excellence
- Career Development
- Personal Development
- Community Service

Mike Mallet

Director for the
CHAMPS/Life Skills program

Jade Jenkins

Assistant Director for the
CHAMPS/Life Skills program

This past summer the Lady Tigers along with NBA superstar Shaquille O'Neal (above) participated in the building of a playground at a local Baton Rouge elementary school.

"As a Lady Tiger I have been part of some special moments. Going to Final Fours and winning SEC Championships are great memories but nothing will surpass the thrill of walking across the stage to pick up my diploma."

- Khalilah Mitchell
2007 LSU graduate

Strength & CONDITIONING

The LSU strength and conditioning facility was built in 1997 and features the latest in both strength training and cardiovascular training equipment. Measuring 10,000-square feet, LSU has one of the finest strength and conditioning facilities in the nation.

LSU's strength and conditioning team took a new direction in 2000 under strength coach Tommy Moffitt. Moffitt is in charge of the LSU strength and conditioning facilities, located in Tiger Stadium and in the Football Operations Center. LSU also hired Melissa Moore to work solely with the Lady Tigers basketball program.

Strength and conditioning can be the heart and soul of an athletic program's success, and LSU has taken great strides to improve its strength program and facilities.

"Melissa has taken our program to another level. She is more than just a strength and conditioning coach. She has developed our quickness, explosiveness and verticals. She uses the most modern techniques to make us better in all areas."

Lady Tigers

TIMELINE

LSU is entering its 33rd season of women's basketball. The Lady Tigers first played basketball as a varsity sport in 1975-76 and since that inaugural season, LSU has posted 29 winning seasons, played in 17 NCAA Tournaments, advanced to the AIAW National Championship game in 1977 and the NCAA Final Four in 2004, 2005, 2006 and 2007.

The Coaches

LSU has had five coaches in its history with Jinks Coleman serving as the school's first head coach and Van Chancellor as its newest. Coleman coached the Lady Tigers for three and a half years before stepping down midway through the 1978-79 season. In three-plus years with the Lady Tigers, Coleman guided LSU to a 91-32 overall mark. Her crowning moment with LSU came during the 1976-77 season as she led the Lady Tigers to the AIAW National Championship game. LSU fell to top-ranked Delta State, but that 1977 team remains the only squad in school history to play for a national title.

Coleman was replaced by Barbara Swanner midway through the 1979 season and Swanner coached the Lady Tigers for the next three years. She led LSU to an overall mark of 57-50 before ending her coaching career at the conclusion of the 1981-82 season.

Hall of Famer Sue Gunter joined the Lady Tigers for the 1982-

83 season. In 22 seasons with the Lady Tigers, Gunter led the Lady Tigers to 442 victories and guided her teams to 14 NCAA Tournament appearances, the 1991 and 2003 SEC Tournament titles and the 2004 NCAA Final Four. Gunter, who retired following the 2003-04 season, is a member of the both the Naismith Hall of Fame and the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame.

Pokey Chatman replaced Gunter after serving as the acting head coach for 20 games in 2003-04, guiding the team to a 15-5 mark, including the program's first trip to the NCAA Final Four. She finished her career during the 2006-07 season with a 90-14 record.

Van Chancellor was named the fifth head coach in history on April 11, 2007.

The 1970s

The decade of the 1970's saw the start of women's basketball as a varsity sport at LSU. The Lady Tigers played their first game in November of 1975, losing to Whitworth, 64-58.

LSU's first win came a week later with a 75-62 win over Southwestern Louisiana. The win was the first of 17 for the Lady Tigers in their inaugural season as LSU posted a first-year mark of 17-14.

A year later, LSU, behind the play of a couple of Australians in Maree Jackson and Julie Gross, was playing for the AIAW National title. After going unrecognized for much of the year, LSU finally began to gain some respect with wins over three ranked teams in February. The Lady Tigers entered the AIAW State Tournament on a roll, however, LSU lost to Louisiana Tech and Northwestern State, but they were still able to advance to the AIAW Regional Tournament. At Regionals, the Lady Tigers beat Texas, Stephen F. Austin and Baylor to advance to the AIAW National Tournament. By this time the Lady Tigers were ranked No. 11 in the nation and after wins over Western Washington and Baylor, LSU was in the Final Four. LSU knocked off second-ranked Immaculata, 74-68, in the semifinals and then fell to top-ranked Delta

State, 68-55, in the national title game. LSU finished with a 29-8 overall mark, the second-most victories recorded in school history in a single year at the time.

In 1977-78, the Lady Tigers achieved their first No. 1 ranking as LSU spent most of January and February atop the Associated Press poll, after having started the year ranked No. 2 in the nation. The Lady Tigers stayed there until Feb. 15 when Tennessee moved ahead of LSU. Despite being ranked No. 2 in the nation, LSU couldn't advance out of the Regionals as the Sue Gunter-coached Stephen F. Austin LadyJacks eliminated the Lady Tigers in the semifinals. LSU still won 37 games, which remains the school record for victories in a season.

LSU closed out the decade of the 1970's with a coaching change as Jinks Coleman stepped down after 15 games in the 1978-79 season. With an 8-7 mark, Coleman was replaced by Barbara Swanner, who guided LSU to a 5-5 mark over the final 10 games of the year. LSU finished with a 13-12 record.

TIMELINE

LSU's first team - 1975-76

The 1980s

The decade of the 80's saw LSU establish itself as one of the top programs in the country.

LSU opened the decade under Barbara Swanner and posted a 17-17 mark and reached the semifinals of the AIAW Regional Tournament.

A year later, Joyce Walker came to Baton Rouge and put women's basketball at LSU back on the map. Walker, who was way ahead of her time, could do it all. In her first year with the Lady Tigers she averaged 20.7 points a contest and led the Lady Tigers to a 17-15 mark.

A year later, the NCAA became the governing body of women's athletics and the NCAA Tournament was started. The Lady Tigers didn't make the NCAA Tournament in 1982, but still posted an 18-13 overall mark as Walker averaged 24.9 points a contest. That season was Swanner's last year as head coach of the Lady Tigers.

The 1982-83 season was the first for the Lady Tigers under Sue Gunter, who came to LSU from Stephen F. Austin in Nacogdoches, Texas. In her first year with LSU, Gunter guided the Lady Tigers to a 20-7 mark and a tie for first place in the Western Division of the SEC.

Walker's last year with LSU in 1983-84 marked the Lady Tigers' first-ever appearance in the NCAA Tournament. LSU went 23-7 and reached the Sweet 16 at the NCAA Tournament before falling to Louisiana Tech.

In 1984-85, the Lady Tigers claimed the National Women's Invitational Tournament (NWIT) title with a 74-54 win over Florida in the championship game.

LSU's best season since 1977 occurred in 1985-86 as the Lady Tigers climbed all the way to No. 8 in the nation and reached the Elite Eight at the NCAA Tournament before falling to Tennessee in the final seconds, 67-65.

Another 20-win season followed in 1986-87 as the Lady Tigers spent most of the year ranked in the top 10. However, the Lady Tigers lost their last three games, including a 70-56 setback to Southern Illinois in the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

The 1987-88 season saw the arrival of Dana "Pokey" Chatman, the best point guard in school history. Chatman helped guide the Lady Tigers to an 18-11 mark and another NCAA Tournament appearance. LSU closed out the 1980's with its fifth NCAA Tournament appearance as LSU reached the Sweet 16 before falling to Louisiana Tech.

The 1990s

The decade of the 1990's was one of ups and downs for the Lady Tigers. LSU opened the decade with a 21-9 overall mark and its fifth NCAA Tournament appearance.

A year later, the Pokey Chatman era came to an end as the Lady Tigers posted a 24-7 overall mark, won the school's first SEC Tournament title and were seeded No. 2 in the Midwest Region of the NCAA Tournament.

The 1991-92 season started the Cornelia Gayden era, but it was also the beginning of a stretch that saw the Lady Tigers go five years without an appearance in the NCAA Tournament. LSU posted a 16-13 overall mark, but five straight losses in mid-February kept the Lady Tigers home in March.

A year later in 1992-93, the Lady Tigers had their first-ever losing record as LSU went 9-18 and was winless in the SEC for the first time. Things weren't much better in 1993-94 as LSU went 11-16 overall and tied for 10th in the SEC.

One of the bright spots in 1994-95 was Sue Gunter's 500th career victory on the same night Gayden set an NCAA record with 12 3-point goals in a 92-62 win over Jackson State on Feb. 9 in Baton Rouge. LSU suffered through its worst record ever that year as the Lady Tigers posted a 7-20 mark.

Despite the losing record the year prior, LSU signed one of the nation's best recruiting classes for the 1995-96 season and the results were immediate. LSU had the biggest turnaround in SEC history as the Lady Tigers went from 7-20 in 1994-95 to 21-11 in 1995-96. Junior college transfers Elaine Powell and Pietra Gay help lead LSU to a win over second-ranked Georgia in the SEC Tournament as the Lady Tigers appeared to be headed for its first NCAA Tournament appearance in five years, but was denied. The Lady Tigers settled for the NWIT, where they placed third out of eight teams.

The following year, LSU posted its best record in the 90's as they went 25-5 overall, won nine SEC games and reached the Sweet 16 for the first time since 1989. In 1997-98, the Lady Tigers, in what was supposed to be a rebuilding year, posted a 19-13 overall mark and reached the semifinals of the Women's NIT.

In 1998-99 the Lady Tigers, behind the play of senior point guard Latasha Dorsey, the only senior on the team, reached the Sweet 16 for the second time in three years and finished second in the SEC with a school-record 10 league wins. LSU's 22-8 overall mark in 1998-99 was LSU's fourth 20-win season of the 1990s.

The 2000s

The Lady Tigers rolled into the new millennium much like the way they ended the old one. In 1999-2000, LSU was 25-7 overall and 11-3 in the SEC, the best record for the program since 1996-97. The 11-3 conference mark was the best in the school's history. LSU rode that success all the way to the program's second Elite Eight appearance in the NCAA Tournament, falling to Connecticut in the regional final.

Another 20-win season greeted the Lady Tigers in 2000-01, compiling a 20-11 mark, including the fifth straight winning conference record at 8-6.

Tournament Championship game and a fourth straight trip to the NCAA Tournament.

Building on the success of Seimone Augustus soared the LSU Women's Basketball Program to national prominence after being named two-time consensus player of the year and leading the Lady Tigers to three NCAA Final Fours.

LSU's AIAW National Runner-up team - 1976-77

the previous two seasons, the 2002-03 team went even further, ending the season with a 30-4 record, winning the SEC Tournament title, advancing to the NCAA Elite Eight and finishing the season ranked No. 3 in the national rankings.

It was in 2003-04 that the much eluded goal of the Lady Tigers was reached, advancing to the Final Four. The 2003-04 team posted a 27-8 record and steamed through the NCAA Tournament on its way to New Orleans and the Final Four. Despite the success, the 2003-04 season was full of adversity. Hall of Fame head coach Sue Gunter missed most of the season due to illness and ultimately retired following the season. Gunter was replaced during the season and on a full-time basis with former All-American guard Pokey Chatman.

The next season, in her first full year, Chatman, again guided the Lady Tigers to success. In 2004-05, LSU posted a 33-3 overall record, was ranked No. 1 in the nation for 11 weeks, won the program's first SEC regular season title with a perfect 14-0 mark, and advanced to the NCAA Final Four in Indianapolis. Chatman and guard Seimone Augustus earned numerous national honors, including sweeping the National Coach and Player of the Year honors.

The Lady Tigers continued their success in 2005-06 with a return to the Final Four and a repeat as SEC regular season champions. LSU posted a 31-4 overall record and a 13-1 league mark. Seimone Augustus completed her collegiate career as the 2006 National Player of the Year.

The 2006-07 season once again saw the Lady Tigers reach the NCAA Final Four after overcoming some late season adversity. LSU posted a 30-8 overall record and junior center Sylvia Fowles earned Kodak All-American honors.

Lady Tigers alumni gathered to honor Sue Gunter in August of 2004 at her retirement dinner.

Fast Break Club

The 2006-07 season was another banner year for the LSU Lady Tigers' Fast Break Club as both membership and the amount of money raised reached all-time highs. In just seven years of existence, the Fast Break Club has a membership that has exceeded 150 members. The Fast Break Club is broken into three different levels: the Fast Break Club All-Conference, All-American and Hall of Fame, and the Junior Fast Break Club.

All-American and Hall of Fame

This is the newest area of the booster club as it was established in 1999-2000 to allow businesses in the Baton Rouge and surrounding areas to donate $1000 and $2500 to the organization. Besides all regular club privileges, the Corporate Club members receive five additional club privileges for members of their company. There is also a special dinner held in their honor as well as an opportunity to sit on the Lady Tigers bench for one game. Locker room passes are also made available to Corporate Club members. In addition, there is a special presentation made to the corporation at one of the Lady Tigers home games which includes an award and an autographed Lady Tiger basketball.

The Junior Fast Break Club

The chance for members of the LSU women's basketball team to serve as role models to young boys and girls in Louisiana was the inspiration behind the formation of the Junior Fast Break Club. Open to all elementary and junior high students, the Junior Fast Break Club offers each member a membership card, a club t-shirt, an autographed poster, a quarterly club newsletter, as well as a season-ending pizza party with the team. The Junior Fast Break Club membership is only $15.

2007-08 LSU Women's Basketball

Van Chancellor

Head Coach • First Season • 20th College Season

Van Chancellor, a veteran head coach of 29 years at both the collegiate and professional levels, brings to LSU an impeccable resume, one that includes leading the United States to a gold medal in the 2004 Olympics Games, four WNBA titles with the Houston Comets and 14 NCAA Tournament appearances at Ole Miss.

"It's a rare occasion that an athletic director has the opportunity to hire a person with the credentials that Van Chancellor brings to our women's basketball program," Bertman said. "Van has experienced tremendous success at all levels of women's basketball.

"He developed Ole Miss into a powerhouse in the SEC, won WNBA titles with the Houston Comets and led our national team to a gold medal in the Olympics. He knows how to win championships and that's what we have come to expect at LSU. Van is a man with a great deal of energy and drive and we are excited to have him become our women's basketball coach."

In addition to his recent induction into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame, along with the likes of Roy Williams, Phil Jackson and Mendy Rudolph, Chancellor is also a member of the

Naismith Hall of Famer

Chancellor was inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame this past fall.

Women's Basketball Hall of Fame.

Success has followed Chancellor at every turn, as he posted a 38-0 mark in International competition as head coach of the United States Olympic Team. Add to that his 211 victories as head coach of the Comets and the 439 games he won at Ole Miss, and Chancellor comes to LSU with nearly 700 victories to his credit.

Most recently, Chancellor served for 10 years as head coach of the Houston Comets from 1997-2006. During that time, Chancellor was named the WNBA Coach of the Year three times (1997, 1998, 1999) and he led the franchise to the league's first four titles. Under Chancellor's direction, the Comets were the only team in the WNBA to make the playoffs in each of the first seven seasons of the league.

His 1998 Comets team still holds the record for highest winning percentage in the history of NBA and WNBA basketball with a 27-3 mark (.900).

Four WNBA Titles

Chancellor spent 10 seasons in Houston leading the Comet's to the first four WNBA titles in league history from 1997-2000.

"Van has been good for women's basketball on all levels, but I think he established himself as an outstanding coach in the Southeastern Conference. Personally, I'm glad that he's back."

- Andy Landers, Head Coach University of Georgia

Olympic Head Coach

Chancellor coached the game's greatest players in olympic competition including Sheryl Swoopes (left), Lisa Leslie (center), and Dawn Staley (right).

"What a great hire by LSU! I'm excited to have Van Chancellor back in the Southeastern Conference. He brings a great deal of expertise and personality to the court. Van is a coach who has won at every level – he was a winner in the high school ranks...he was very successful during his time at Ole Miss...he goes to the WNBA and wins championships with the Houston Comets...he coaches the USA team to an Olympic gold medal. I can't think of another individual in the coaching ranks who has proven himself on every level."

- Pat Summitt, Head Coach University of Tennessee

In 10 years with the Comets, Chancellors' teams posted a 211-111 record, which makes him the winningest coach in the history of the league. Chancellor had the distinction of coaching the Western Conference All-Star Team three times during his career and he was also named the coach of the WNBA's All-Decade Team in June of 2006.

As head coach of the Comets, Chancellor produced the WNBA Most Valuable Player five times, the WNBA Defensive Player of the Year three times and the league's most improved player twice.

Before his jump to the professional ranks, Chancellor spent 19 seasons at Ole Miss, developing the Lady Rebels into one of the nation's premier women's basketball programs. As the Ole Miss head coach, Chancellor guided the Lady Rebels to the NCAA Tournament 14 times, which included 11 consecutive appearances from 1982 to 1992.

"He's A Player's Coach"

"He allows you to showcase your talents and doesn't bog you down with a lot of offenses. He pretty much let you have your freedom within his offense. More than anything, he believed in my talents and he believed in me. That allowed me to perform better." - Cynthia Cooper, member of the Houston Comets

In 19 years at Ole Miss, Chancellor's teams won at least 20 games 15 times, including a school-record 31 wins in 1978-79. He also led the Lady Rebels to top 20 final rankings 13 times, with top 10 finishes four times (No. 5 in 1992, No. 6 in 1985, No. 8 in 1987, and No. 10 in 1984).

He returns to the college game with the 14th best career winning percentage among active coaches and is 31st on the list of career wins among active coaches.

Chancellor led Ole Miss to the Elite Eight at the NCAA Tournament four times, while his teams made the Sweet 16 on three other occasions.

Bob Starkey

Associate Head Coach • 19th Season

Bob Starkey enters his 10th season on the LSU women's basketball staff, but his first as associate head coach.

Starkey was promoted to associate head coach by Van Chancellor on May 15 after serving as LSU's acting head coach during the 2007 NCAA Tournament run that saw the Lady Tigers advance to the program's fourth straight Final Four.

As acting head coach Starkey guided the team to wins over UNC Asheville, West Virginia, Florida State and No. 1 seed Connecticut to reach Cleveland and the Final Four.

Starkey has been with the Lady Tigers' program since joining the team on a full-time basis in 1998. Starkey had served as the administrative assistant for both the LSU men's and women's basketball team for two years prior to joining the Lady Tigers as assistant coach.

Starkey works with all phases of the program, which includes working post players on the practice floor. He also breaks down game tape and develops game plans while compiling scouting reports on LSU's opponents.

On the court, Starkey has been instrumental in the development of post players. As a men's coach at LSU he worked with Shaquille O'Neal, Stanley Roberts and Geert Hammink, all first round picks in the NBA. Starkey also coached Ron Moore, a 1987 NBA draft pick from West Virginia State College.

As a women's coach, Starkey continued his work with the posts, including current senior Sylvia Fowles, first-round WNBA pick Aiysha Smith and second-round WNBA picks DeTrina White and Ke-Ke Tardy.

In addition, Starkey handles all scheduling for the Lady Tigers, serves as the Director of the LSU women's basketball teams' Fast Break Club, and is also involved in all areas of promotions for the women's program. With his help, the Lady Tigers have enjoyed great success over the past few years, including finishing in the top 20 in the country in average home attendance in the past three seasons, including drawing 7,317 fans per game in the Maravich Center in 2004-05, shattering the school record.

As the administrative assistant, Starkey provided valuable assistance to both the men's and women's programs, handling many of the responsibilities for both groups that would ease the work load for the coaching staff, allowing them to concentrate fully on their teams, recruiting and future opponents.

Starkey served as tournament director for the 1997 NCAA Women's Basketball Subregional held at the Maravich Assembly Center. The NCAA Subregional was the first for LSU to host and it was also called by many that attended the event as one of the best-run subregionals since the NCAA changed tournament formats.

Perhaps Starkey's finest achievement in the role of administrative assistant came in development of Pack the PMAC. The Pack the PMAC promotion has developed into an LSU tradition, as Pack the PMAC XII will take place this season.

Prior to his stint as an administrative assistant, Starkey served as an assistant coach for Dale Brown on the LSU men's basketball staff from 1990-1996, during which time the Tigers participated in four NCAA Tournaments. While on the men's staff, Starkey coached three first-round NBA draft picks in Shaquille O'Neal, Chris Jackson and Stanley Roberts. As a recruiter, he helped sign three nationally-ranked recruiting classes, including one which was rated No. 1 in the country.

Groomed on the high school level in West Virginia, Starkey started his coaching career as an assistant at Winfield High School where he helped guide the boys' program to a five-year record of 72-45 and the girls' program to an 87-23 record.

Starkey then made his first appearance in the collegiate ranks as an assistant at West Virginia College on the NAIA level. In his three-year stint at West Virginia State, the program blossomed with improving records of 17-10, 26-4 and 31-4. That final season saw the Yellow Jackets capture conference and district titles on their way to the NAIA National Championship game, where they were a one-point loser to Washburn University.

Following that, Starkey also served for one year at Pocahontas High School in West Virginia with his former high school coach, Allen Osborne, and teamed up for the 1988-89 season with Judy Southard to lead the women's program at Marshall to an 18-10 record and a regular season Southern Conference Championship. Southard is now in her third year as the Senior Woman Administrator at LSU after serving as the Athletic Director at Texas Women's University.

Starkey, who considers himself a full-time student of the game, has written numerous articles and has authored such basketball books as The 2-3 Match-Up Defense and Motion Offense.

His latest project is a Basketball Coaching Series of books that include The Art of Being An Assistant Coach, The Art of Scouting and The Art of Motivation.

The native of Charleston, W.V., is married to Sherie Hayslett, also a native of West Virginia.

Yolanda Wells-Broughton

Assistant Coach • First Season

Yolanda Wells-Broughton is entering her first season at LSU as an assistant coach for Hall of Fame head coach Van Chancellor.

The Houston, Texas, native comes to LSU after a three-year stint as an assistant coach at Texas Christian University.

During her time at TCU, the Horned Frogs posted a 63-33 record, including a 21-11 record this past season. Wells-Broughton also helped guide TCU into the NCAA Tournament all three seasons under head coach Jeff Mittie.

Prior to her time at TCU, Wells-Broughton helped coach Michael Landers and the Trinity Valley Community College Lady Cardinals win their fifth National Junior College Athletic Association championship in 2004. The Athens, Texas, based team posted a perfect 36-0 record, went 18-0 in conference play and led the nation in scoring with 101.7 points per game. Wells-Broughton helped cultivate five first-team all-conference players, two of whom were also tabbed first-team All-Americans.

The Lady Cardinals put up some impressive numbers when Wells-Broughton joined the staff in July 2000. The team went 126-8 (.940) during that span and saw 19 of its players sign National Letters of Intent with NCAA Division I institutions. Trinity Valley also owned a 50-game conference winning streak and a 78-game regular-season winning streak when Wells-Broughton left the school.

Wells-Broughton was more than an assistant coach during her tenure at Trinity Valley. She served as a kinesiology instructor and a dormitory director as well.

Before coming aboard with Trinity Valley, Wells-Broughton was the head coach for Paul Quinn College in Dallas during the 1998-99 and 1999-00 seasons. She was responsible for all phases of coaching for the National Intercollegiate Athletic Association school, from budgeting and scheduling to fund raising and community outreach. Additionally, she was an academic coordinator during her two years with the college.

Wells-Broughton earned her Bachelor of Arts in psychology from Grambling State University in 1995 and was awarded a Master of Science in sports administration from GSU in 1997. She then earned a Master of education administration from TCU in 2006.

After playing for the Lady Tigers from 1993 to 1995, she became a graduate assistant coach with the program while earning her master's degree. Wells-Broughton was a graduate assistant coach for the women's golf team during that time as well.

As a player at Howard Junior College in Big Spring, Texas, from 1990 to 1992, Wells-Broughton was named a Kodak All-American. After receiving her associate's degree from the school, she became an all-conference player for Grambling State. Wells-Broughton helped GSU earn its first NCAA Tournament bid in 1994 when the field was expanded from 48 to 64 teams.

Her husband Vernon Broughton is no stranger to athletics. He played in the Arena Football League for five seasons as an offensive and defensive lineman with the now defunct Iowa Barnstormers and the Chicago Rush. While with the Barnstormers, Broughton was a teammate of NFL quarterback and 1999 league MVP Kurt Warner.

Wells-Broughton and her husband were married in February 2001. The couple has a son, Vernon Jr., and a daughter, Asia.

Travis Mays is entering his first season at LSU as an assistant coach for Hall of Fame head coach Van Chancellor.

Mays, a Ocala, Fla., native, came to LSU after a three-year stint as an assistant coach for Jody Conradt at his alma mater the University of Texas.

One of the most acclaimed players in Texas men's basketball history, Mays, is the number two scorer in UT men's basketball history and was a first-round NBA draft pick.

Mays played at UT from 1986-90 and helped resurrect Longhorns basketball in the latter years of the Southwest Conference.

Prior to his time as a coach at Texas, Mays spent the 2002 and 2003 seasons coaching and scouting for the WNBA San Antonio Silver Stars franchise. He was assistant coach during the 2002 season and spent the last year as head scout for the Silver Stars. He also coached AAU boys' basketball for the Tennessee/Alabama "Pump" team in the summer of 2003.

Mays was an Associated Press Second Team All-American as a senior. He ranks second in UT men's basketball all-time scoring (2,279 points) and also is second in Southwest Conference all-time scoring. Mays' career scoring average was 18.4 ppg. He scored in double-figures in 100 of 124 career games, and is the only UT men's player in history to score more than 700 points in a season; he did that with 743 points as a junior and 772 as a senior.

In his final two seasons at Texas, Mays was part of the most prolific guard scoring trio in Texas history, alongside Joey Wright (1,819 points) and Lance Blanks (1,322). They came to be known as "BMW-The Ultimate Scoring Machine" and led Texas to the Elite Eight in 1990 before UT's three-point loss to Arkansas.

Mays led Texas to the 1990 Final Eight, scoring 24.1 ppg. Against Georgia in the first round of the 1990 tourney, Mays poured in 44 points, which still stands tied for the 11th-best single game scoring effort in NCAA Tournament history.

He was the first player in SWC history to earn back-to-back Player of the Year honors as a junior and senior (in 1989 and 1990).

Mays holds a bachelor's degree in psychology from UT.

A first-round NBA draft pick in 1990 by the Sacramento Kings, chosen 14th overall, Mays spent his first year in the NBA with the Kings (1991) and then spent two years with the Atlanta Hawks (1991-93). He was named to the NBA All-Rookie Second Team, averaging 14.3 ppg in his first pro season.

Two games into his second season, Mays ruptured both tendons in his right ankle and was out for the season before returning for his final NBA season the next year. Mays had a NBA career scoring average of 11.1 points per game.

Mays' pro career extended to European basketball as he played in Greece, Israel, Turkey and Italy. Highlights of his European career include selection to the European All-Star Game, leading Panionios (Greece) to the European Championship final eight with 27.5 ppg, and First Team All-Star selection (1999-2001) on Italy's Siena squad.

He was inducted into the University of Texas Men's Athletics Hall of Honor in 2002.

Fourth Dance

Fowles and the Lady Tigers Strut to their Fourth Final Four

LSU entered the NCAA Tournament without the services of head coach Pokey Chatman who stepped down from her post on March 7. Assistant coach Bob Starkey will serve as acting head coach for the remainder of the post season. LSU, the No. 3 seed in the Fresno Region, defeated UNC Asheville and West Virginia in Austin, Texas, and Florida State and Connecticut the regional in Fresno to advance to the program's fourth straight Final Four. During the regular season, the Lady Tigers compiled a 26-7 overall record and finished tied for third in the Southeastern Conference with a 10-4 mark. LSU was the SEC Tournament runner-up after upsetting top seeded Tennessee in the semifinal. LSU opened the season with a school-best 15-1 record. The lone early blemish came at No. 15 Baylor in mid-November. A loss at Ole Miss early in conference play disrupted LSU's bid at a third straight league title. LSU entered February with a 20-2 record, but losses at Georgia, to UConn, to Tennessee and at Vanderbilt put a sour note on the end of the Lady Tigers' season. LSU avenged earlier losses to Ole Miss and Tennessee in the SEC Tournament only to fall to the Commodores in the title game. Sylvia Fowles was one of the individual highlights of the season. The 6-6 junior center became LSU's all-time blocked shots leader, joined the 1,000 career points and 1,000 career rebounds lists and became the first player in SEC history to record a double double in every conference game. Fowles earned Kodak, USBWA, ESPN.com, John R. Wooden Award All-America honors and was a second-team AP All-American in addition to first-team All-SEC honors. Fowles was a unanimous first-team All-SEC selection by the coaches and the media. Quianna Chaney earned second-team All-SEC by the coaches.

GET A GRAND

Sylvia Fowles became the 26th player in LSU history to reach the 1,000 career point milestone. The junior from Miami, Fla., scored her 1,000 points with 17:34 left to play in the Nov. 13 game against Howard.

career. She currently sits second on the career list at LSU with 1,209 rebounds and needs 258 more to pass Julie Gross for the top spot.

ELITE COMPANY

Sylvia Fowles is in elite company when it comes to her career points and rebounds totals. The junior became just the second player in LSU history to have at least 1,500 points and 1,100 rebounds, joining only Julie Gross. Fowles is the only player in school history with at least 1,600 points, 1,200 rebounds and 250 blocked shots.

The Miami, Fla., native had a streak of 21 straight double doubles against SEC opponents, including the final two regular season conference games last season, the three SEC tournament games last year, all 14 regular season games this year and the first two tournament games. The streak came to an end in the championship game against Vanderbilt. Fowles collected 13 points and nine rebounds.

FOWLES AMONG NATION'S BEST

Sylvia Fowles finished the season among the nation's best in field goal percentage, blocked shots and rebounding. The final national stats have Fowles 13th in field goal percentage with 57.1, fourth in rebounding with 12.6 per game and 39th in blocked shots with 2.1 per game.

Ashley Thomas

"Q" FROM DOWNTOWN

Quianna Chaney completed the season ranked sixth in career three-pointers made and fifth in career three-pointers attempted at LSU. DANCING AGAIN!

The Lady Tigers made the NCAA "Dance" for the 17th time in school history and for the ninth straight season. LSU made the tournament for the first time in 1984, again in 1986, 1987, 1988, 1989, 1990, 1991, 1997, 1999, 2000, 2001, 2002, 2003, 2004, 2005, 2006 as well as this season. The Lady Tigers own a 32-17 record in the "Dance."

MAKE IF FOUR IN A ROW

LSU advanced to the program's fourth NCAA Women's Final Four and the fourth in as many years. The Lady Tigers defeated UNC Asheville, West Virginia, Florida State and Connecticut to reach the Final Four in Cleveland.

Four's Company

In 2007, LSU joined a historic list as just the fourth school in NCAA Women's Basketball history to reach four straight Final Fours. The Lady Tigers, who also advanced to the 2004, 2005 and 2006 Final Four, join Tennessee (reached four straight three times), Louisiana Tech and Connecticut. UConn owns the record with five straight trips to the Final Four from 2000 to 2004, while the Lady Vols went from 1986-98, 1995-98 and again from 2002-05, and the Lady Techsters went from 1987-90.

#3 LSU 77

Third-seeded LSU forced 25 turnovers and held No. 14-seeded UNC Asheville to 27-percent shooting, as the Lady Tigers advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament, 77-39.

LSU improved to 10-2 in NCAA first-round games -- including nine-straight wins -- and 29-16 in tournament history, while UNC Asheville lost in its first appearance in the NCAA Tournament.

LSU's guards led the way, as UNC Asheville put at least four players around 6-6 center Sylvia Fowles when she was on the court.

Though Fowles tallied only eight points and 10 rebounds in 17 minutes, LSU's shooting guards paced the team offensively.

RaShonta LeBlanc and Quianna Chaney each scored 15 points. LeBlanc matched a school record in tournament play with 5-of-6 three-pointers, while Chaney was 4-of-9 from beyond the arc. Point guard Erica White added 10 points and seven assists.

LSU finished 29-of-66 from the field (43.9 percent) including 9-of-18 from three-point range. UNC Asheville was only 15-of-55 shooting and hit 5-of-19 three-pointers.

The Lady Tigers got 29 points from its bench, which saw plenty of action even in the opening 20 minutes.

UNC Asheville's 25 turnovers led to 27 LSU points.

LSU set or tied school records in tournament play in several categories including: blocked shots (10); three pointers (9); three pointers attempted (18); opponent turnovers (25, four times); opponent free throw percentage (4 of 12, 33.3 percent).

Eight minutes into the contest, LSU opened a 10-point lead, 17-7, as the Lady Tigers made three three-pointers against the Bulldogs' packed-in 2-3 zone.

Midway through the half, Starkey rested his starters and played every reserve on the LSU bench.

With its All-American and All-SEC players out of the game, LSU maintained a seven-point lead with consecutive second-chance baskets by Katie Antony.

The LSU starters returned after the 7:54 media timeout and quickly took control of the game.

The Lady Tigers allowed only two field goals in the final 9:19 of the half, while outscoring the Bulldogs, 18-5.

LSU led 39-19 at the half after making 6-of-13 three pointers and forcing 15 UNC Asheville turnovers.

With a 9-0 run to start the second half, LSU's lead blossomed to 46-19. The Lady Tigers were well on their way into the second round, as they led 62-24 with less than 12 minutes to play after opening the half on a 23-5 run.

Once again, the LSU starters left the game -- this time for good.

#11 West Virginia 43
#3 LSU 49

Sylvia Fowles scored 21 points and No. 3 LSU rallied from 11 points down in the final 12 minutes to earn its fifth-straight trip to the Sweet 16, 49-43, over No. 11-seed West Virginia.

The Lady Tigers trailed 35-24 with 12 minutes to play, but went on a 12-0 run over the next five minutes to get back into the game.

Fowles, who made 9-of-10 field goals, scored 14 of her team's 28 second-half points including a short jumper with 5:32 to play that put the Lady Tigers ahead for good, 40-39.

LSU guard Quianna Chaney added 11 points including three three-pointers, while Erica White (8) and RaShonta LeBlanc (7) combined for 15 points and nine assists.

LSU finished 19-of-44 shooting (43 percent), making only 4-of-16 three-pointers and 7-of-13 free throws. The Lady Tigers committed 15 turnovers.

West Virginia, which lost its season-opener to LSU in Baton Rouge by 39, didn't score in the final 2:38. They shot only 38 percent from the field (18-48) including 1-of-12 from three-point range.

Fowles, who was frustrated early with three and four players surrounding her, broke out of her funk during LSU's big second-half run. She finished with 13 rebounds for her 61st career double double. She also blocked two shots.

After building a 16-6 lead in the first 10 minutes, LSU looked to be on its way to another blowout victory. However, West Virginia packed into a 2-3 zone that LSU wasn't able to again shoot its way out of.

The Lady Tigers cold shooting from the perimeter allowed the Mountaineers to creep back into the game late in the first half and cut the LSU lead to 21-18 at the half.

LSU shot only 36 percent in the first 20 minutes, and it only got worse to start the second half.

LSU missed 9-of-10 shots over nearly 12 minutes of game time and committed five turnovers, allowing West Virginia to not only take the lead but extend it to 35-24 with just more than 12 minutes to play.

Seeing its season flash before its eyes after allowing a 22-3 run, LSU came out of a timeout and responded offensively.

With leading scorer Olayinka Sanni on the bench after picking up her fourth foul with 15:19 left, Fowles went to work in the post. The 6-6 center scored six points in a 12-0 LSU run that gave the Lady Tigers a 36-35 lead.

With less than four minutes to play, LSU held a 42-39 lead when Sanni returned.

Still leading by one with under two minutes left, LeBlanc found Fowles open in the paint for an easy layup and a 46-43 lead.

LSU was able to stop West Virginia on its next possession and made 3-of-4 free throws down the stretch to save the victory.

For the second time in history of program, the Lady Tigers scored under 50 points and won. The other time was earlier this season at South Carolina (49-46 on Feb. 4, 2007).

Quianna Chaney scored eight of her 22 points in a 10-0 run to start the second half, as the LSU women's basketball team ran away from Florida State, 55-43, to earn a regional final berth against UConn.

LSU, the nation's No. 1 scoring defense, was at the top of its defensive game in winning its third-straight NCAA Tournament game over a double-digit seeded opponent.

Florida State was held to season-low 18 points in the first half and didn't score in the first five minutes of the second half.

LSU center Sylvia Fowles again dominated the paint, scoring 20 points and grabbing nine rebounds. Chaney was 9-of-16 shooting with four three pointers, keying both of LSU's two offensive runs that put the game out of reach.

Jacinta Monroe scored 15 points and Alicia Gladden added 12 for the Seminoles, who had never made it past the second round of the NCAA tournament before shocking second-seeded Stanford, 68-61, on the Cardinal's home floor Monday night.

Florida State was trying to join Lamar as the only double-digit seeds to make it to the regional final. Lamar did it as a No. 10 seed in 1991.

After making their first shot of the game, Florida State missed 18 of 21 including an 11-minute span without a basket.

Chaney hit consecutive three pointers to start a 13-2 run that gave LSU a 20-8 lead with less than six minutes left in the first half. A drought by the Lady Tigers allowed FSU to close the game before Allison Hightower hit a jumper with six seconds left to give LSU a 27-18 lead.

When LSU made its first five field goals of the second half, the lead ballooned to 37-18.

#1 Connecticut 50
#3 LSU 73

Sylvia Fowles dominated top-seeded Connecticut, leading her third-seeded LSU women's basketball team to its fourth-consecutive Women's Final Four, 73-50.

Fowles, voted the Fresno Region's Most Outstanding Player, scored 23 points on 10-of-18 shooting while grabbing 15 rebounds to carry LSU to a match-up with Rutgers in Cleveland, Ohio. The Scarlet Knights beat Arizona State 64-45 earlier Monday night.

Fowles scored seven points in a 13-2 LSU run less than six minutes into the game to break an 8-8 tie. The Lady Tigers never trailed after that, with the final score being the largest margin.

UConn, which broke LSU's 43-game home winning streak in February, 72-71, had no answer for Fowles on either side of the court -- especially defensively where she blocked shot after shot. LSU beat UConn for the first time in school history (1-3).

The Huskies shot only 33 percent from the field (20 of 60), the worst performance of their season. The previous low was a 34.5 percent effort in a 55-47 loss to Rutgers in the Big East Tournament Championship game.

With Fowles dominating the paint, LSU's perimeter shooters were able to find and bury open three-pointers all night. The Lady Tigers finished 7-of-10 from long range, including three by freshman Allison Hightower, two by Quianna Chaney and two by Ashley Thomas.

Thomas, who missed five games after injuring her knee early in the regular-season loss to UConn, played a key role in the Lady Tigers victory.

Fowles even showed off her passing skills with a pretty backdoor assist to RaShonta LeBlanc midway through the second half.

Hightower hit two three pointers late in the first half that pushed the Lady Tigers' advantage to 34-17 before the break. After leading 34-22 at the half, LSU never allowed UConn to get closer than 11. The Lady Tigers outscored the Huskies 14-2 in the final four minutes.

Thomas and Hightower scored 12 points apiece for LSU and Erica White added 11.

#3 LSU 35
#4 Rutgers 59

Rutgers hit 8-of-10 three pointers in the first half to take an 18-point lead and never looked back, as the Scarlet Knights handed LSU its fourth-consecutive Women's Final Four loss, 59-35, at Quicken Loans Arena.

Rutgers' lights-out shooting was only matched by their half-court defense which held the Lady Tigers at bay in every aspect. The Scarlet Knights advanced to face the winner of North Carolina and Tennessee in Tuesday's 7:30 p.m. National Championship game.

After pounding another Big East team, Connecticut, to get to the national semifinal, LSU trailed early and never found an offensive spark. All-America center Sylvia Fowles was held to the second-lowest scoring game in her 109-game career, just five points.

Fowles was frustrated by several defenders throughout the evening, while the Lady Tigers were unable to hit the perimeter shots that fell against UConn last week in Fresno. Both she and long-range threat Quianna Chaney were 2-of-10 shooting.

LSU finished only 14-of-53 shooting, while Rutgers' 10-of-20 shooting from three-point range was nearly enough to beat the Lady Tigers on this evening. The Scarlet Knights finished 20 of 51 (39.2 percent).

Rutgers didn't allow an LSU player to score in double figures, as point guard Erica White led LSU with nine points on 4-of-10 shooting. Freshman guard Allison Hightower had seven, while Chaney had six points.

Rutgers' guard Matee Ajavon scored 14 of her 16 points in the first half including four three pointers. Fellow guard Essence Carson scored 15 before leaving the game early in the second half with leg cramps.

The duo was more than LSU could handle in what proved to be a game decided in the first half.

It was all Rutgers in the first 20 minutes, as the Scarlet Knights hit 8-of-10 three pointers in the opening 20 minutes and left LSU in its wake. The long-range prowess was coupled with a packed-in defense against Fowles that limited the 6-6 center to 1-of-5 shooting and two points.

Ajavon hit her first three pointer along with a three-point play to put the Scarlet Knights up 6-0 in the opening moments. Three pointers by Zurich and Carson pushed the Rutgers advantage to 12-2 before the first media timeout at 15:04.

With four players packed into the paint against Fowles, White hit an 18-foot jumper to cut the lead to 18-9 midway through the half. However, it was the last time the Lady Tigers were within single digits.

Zurich answered with a free-throw line jumper and Carson hit Rutgers' sixth three-pointer to expand the lead to 23-9. White scored a pair of dribble penetration layups to bring LSU within 10, 25-15, with 6:20 left in the half.

However, Carson scored seven points and Ajavon added the other five to spark a 12-1 Rutgers run that included consecutive three pointers with less than two minutes on the first-half clock. Rutgers led 37-16.

Chaney was able to nail a second-chance three pointer, but LSU trailed 37-19 at the half -- its lowest first-half output of the season.

After cutting the lead to 12, 39-27, in the first six minutes of the second half, the Lady Tigers went without a basket for more than eight minutes. Though Rutgers didn't match its first-half performance on the offensive end, its defense was more than enough to milk the clock and earn a spot in its first National Championship game.

In the loss, LSU set a few inauspicious Women's Final Four records including fewest points scored (35), lowest field-goal percentage (26 percent) and fewest combined points (94).

Sue Gunter

40 Seasons • 708 Wins • Basketball Hall of Famer

The late Sue Gunter, a 2005 inductee into the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame, will always be remembered as not only one of the greatest coaches in women's basketball history, but also as a pioneer in the game. Gunter passed away on Aug. 4, 2005.

Gunter, who became the third women's coach in history to reach 700 career victories with a win over Arkansas on Feb. 12, 2004, was with women's basketball on the collegiate level every step of the way and saw the sport evolve from a novelty back in the early 1960s to present day, where the Final Four is sold out years in advance and games are shown nightly on national television.

Gunter, who was inducted into the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame in June 2000, completed her career among the leaders in several NCAA coaching categories: seasons coached (No. 1 - 40); games coached (No. 3 - 1,016); wins (No. 3 - 708); and 20-win seasons (No. 4 - 22).

Gunter's influence was a catalyst behind the growth of the game and things were no different in Baton Rouge as the Lady Tigers continue to play before school-record crowds and media attention is at an all-time high. In Gunter's 22-year tenure at LSU, her list of accomplishments are long and impressive -- 14 NCAA Tournament appearances, one trip to the Final Four, four NCAA Elite Eight appearances, eight NCAA Sweet 16 appearances, two SEC Tournament titles, a Women's NIT title, and a handful of Coach of the Year awards.

Sue Gunter – The Coach

Sue Gunter brought the LSU women's basketball program back to national prominence. After a three-year hiatus in the mid-1990's that saw the Lady Tigers suffer through the school's first-ever losing seasons, LSU returned to the post-season, and in Gunter's final year as head coach in 2003-04, advanced to the program's first NCAA Final Four.

To realize just how far the Lady Tigers have come, one has to go back to the 1994-95 season, the worst year in school history as LSU posted a 7-20 overall mark. Strangely enough, it was the 1994-95 season that proved to be the turning point for the Lady Tigers as Gunter turned up her recruiting magic and promptly signed the best class in school history. That class, which included future All-SEC selections in Elaine Powell, Pietra Gay and Toni Gross, won 46 games over two years and resurrected the LSU women's basketball program. The Lady Tigers won an average of 22.5 games per season under Gunter since the 1994-95 campaign, including a then-school record 30 wins in 2002-03.

Her final season was undoubtedly one of Gunter's finest on the court, despite not being on the bench for over half the season due to illness. The Lady Tigers won 27 games, finished second in the SEC with a 10-4 mark, received a No. 4 seed in the NCAA Tournament's West Region and advanced past Austin Peay, Maryland, No. 1 seed Texas and Georgia to reach the program's first Final Four right down the road in New Orleans. Gunter coached in her 1,000 game on Jan. 25, 2004 and recorded her 700th career victory later in the season against Arkansas. Sophomore Seimone Augustus earned Kodak All-American honors and was the Louisiana Player of the Year.

Gunter completed her career as the third winningest women's basketball coach in history with an overall record of 708-308, which included coaching stints at Middle Tennessee, Stephen F. Austin and LSU. Gunter's LSU record was 442-221, which makes her the winningest coach in school history.

Under the direction of Gunter, the Lady Tigers played in 14 NCAA Tournaments, one National Women's Invitational Tournament and two WNIT events. Gunter led LSU to one Final Four in 2004, and to the Elite Eight in 1986, 2000 and 2003, while leading the Lady Tigers to a championship at

What They Said About Coach Gunter ...

"Sue Gunter was a wonderful friend, an exceptional person and an incredibly talented basketball coach. Sue was definitely one of the pioneers of women's collegiate basketball. She was one of my mentors. I learned so much from Sue about the X's and O's of the game of basketball. But more importantly, she taught me about the delicate balance of coaching and teaching the game and the value of great player-coach relationships. She made playing basketball fun due to her ability to connect with her players. Personally, I am going to miss her tremendously and I know the game is going to miss her."

- Pat Summitt, Tennessee head coach

"I loved her. There was always a lot of respect, not just as a coach, but in life. She was an unbelievable friend and sister. I will always cherish what we had. And she was a hell of a coach."

- Ann Meyers

"It saddens all of us in the women's basketball world to see the passing of one of the great, great people in Sue Gunter. A person you absolutely loved. There was not a person I respected more than Sue Gunter. Not only did we lose a great coach, but we lost an even better person."

- Van Chancellor

"Sue was one of the keystones of women's basketball. She was a role model for all players and coaches to use. She had the ability to be a great competitor on the court as well as have great compassion for her players and fellow coaches."

- Joe Ciampi, former Auburn head coach

"When you look at Sue's record and all the accomplishments throughout her career, it's easy to say that we have lost a great coach. But, in reality we have lost a better person."

- Jim Foster, Ohio State head coach

"A lot of the things you see today in the game of women's basketball are due to a large price earlier paid by people such as Sue Gunter. I had the utmost respect for her as a person and as a coach. She will really be missed in our game. Her achievements and legacy will far exceed her wins and losses, even though they were very impressive in her case."

- Marsha Sharp, former Texas Tech head coach

"Personally I fell like I lost my best friend. Basketball lost one of its heroes. She is legendary. The things that she has done and the way she did them are just remarkable."

- Andy Landers, Georgia head coach

"Just sadness ... that was my first thought. At the same time it made me relive the times I spent with Sue Gunter on the recruiting trail. Those were good times. The coaching profession has lost a great one today. No question she is one of the pioneers. She's a legend in the women's game."

- Kim Mulkey-Robertson, Baylor head coach

"I am very saddened today. Sue's passing is a great loss for our sport and a personal loss of a close friend. My thoughts are with Sue's family and those at LSU at this sad time."

- Jody Conradt, former Texas head coach

the National Women's Invitational Tournament in 1985. In addition, Gunter directed LSU to 14 20-plus-win seasons, including one 30-win season.

Prior to her arrival in Baton Rouge, Gunter had a very successful coaching stint at Stephen F. Austin in Nacogdoches, Texas. While at SFA, Gunter built that program into a national powerhouse as she led the LadyJacks to a 266-87 mark in 12 years as head coach. In addition, she led Stephen F. Austin to four top 10 national rankings, which included No. 5 final rankings in 1979 and 1980. While at Stephen F. Austin, Gunter coached four sports - women's basketball, softball, tennis and track. Her basketball teams went to five Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (AIAW) playoffs, won four state titles and earned a regional crown.

After 16 seasons at SFA, she relinquished the reigns and moved into the position of Director of Women's Athletics where she served two years before returning to the coaching ranks at LSU.

Gunter began her coaching career at Middle Tennessee State where she led the Blue Raiders to undefeated seasons in both of her years there.

The First Lady Tiger Team To Reach NCAA Final Four

With head coach Sue Gunter sitting out the last half of the season due to illness, acting head coach Pokey Chatman led the Lady Tigers to the program's first trip to the NCAA Final Four and ironically enough, it was just down to the road in New Orleans.

The Lady Tigers road to the Final Four began at home in the Pete Maravich Assembly Center with victories over Austin Peay in the first round and Maryland in the second round. A 83-66 win over Austin Peay was sparked by a 21-point performance by all-American Seimone Augustus, while the Baton Rouge native poured in 26 in the 76-61 win over Maryland two nights later.

The fourth-seeded Lady Tigers now had a date with top seeded Texas in the West Regional semifinal in Seattle, Wash. LSU was looking for revenge from the year before when Texas had knocked off the top-seeded Lady Tigers in the regional final. Revenge is just what LSU got with a 71-55 victory over the Longhorns led by Augustus' career-high 29 points. SEC foe Georgia would be the opponent in the regional final.

It would prove to be one of best NCAA Tournament games in history with the lead going back and forth until Georgia took a seven point lead with six minutes to play. LSU did not falter, chipping away at the lead using a 8-1 run in the final four minutes to take the lead and hold it for a 62-60 victory and the program's first trip to the NCAA Final Four.

Augustus matched her career-high with 29 points, including a late free throw, while Temeka Johnson added 19 points, including a 15-foot jumper that gave the Lady Tigers the lead for good.

Augustus was named the West Regional Most Outstanding Player and Johnson joined her on the West Regional All-Tournament team.

LSU had a date with rival and SEC foe Tennessee in the national semifinal game in the New Orleans Arena, just 70 miles from the Baton Rouge campus.

The Lady Vols ended LSU's magical run, 52-50, with a dramatic late steal and lay-up for Tennessee.

LSU ended the season with a 27-8 overall record and a run to the Final Four, the school's first.

2005

Lady Tigers Make it Back-to-Back Trips

After not advancing to the NCAA Final Four in the history of the program, the LSU Lady Tigers made it two straight trips with a visit in 2005.

First year head coach Pokey Chatman, who had guided LSU to the Final Four in her hometown of New Orleans as acting head coach in 2004, led the Lady Tigers back to the promise land.

Chatman and the Lady Tigers enjoyed one of the best seasons in school history, posting 33-3 overall record and claiming the program's first Southeastern Conference regular season title with a perfect 14-0 mark.

But, the success did not end in the regular season. LSU received a No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament and were placed in the Chattanooga Region.

The first stop for the Lady Tigers was Knoxville, Tenn., where No. 16 Stetson awaited. LSU took care of business in convincing fashion, posting a 70-36 victory. National Player of the Year Seimone Augustus scored 14 points, while National Point Guard of the Year Temeka Johnson had 15 points and seven assists.

No. 9 seed Arizona was the next victim as LSU advanced to the Sweet 16. The Lady Tigers continued its domination on defense in a 76-43 victory. For the second straight game the opposition shot below 30.0 percent from the floor.

Augustus led the way with 18 points and eight rebounds, while Johnson added 14 points and 10 rebounds.

Upset minded Liberty, the No. 13 seed, awaited LSU in Chattanooga for the Regional Semifinal. Defense again dominated the story line as the Lady Tigers defeated the Flames 90-48. LSU led 46-16 at the break and were led against by Augustus with 22 points. Scholanda Hoston also had 22 points, while Johnson added 12 points and 15 assists.

The Duke Blue Devils, the No. 2 seed, now stood between LSU and a return trip to the Final Four.

Duke jumped out to an early lead and led for all but a few second of the first half until LSU battled back to tie the score at 30-30 just before halftime.

The Lady Tigers took control in the second half and held on for a 59-49 victory, earning them a trip to Indianapolis and a date with Baylor.

Augustus, who was named the Regional Most Outstanding Player, led the way with 24 points and seven rebounds, while freshman Sylvia Fowles added 13 points and 11 rebounds.

The RCA Dome was the site of the battle between the Lady Bears and the Lady Tigers in the National Semifinal. LSU jumped out to an early 15-point lead only to have Baylor chip back and eventually tie the score 28-28 at the break.

Unlike the Regional Final victory over Duke, this time Baylor, the eventual National Champions, took control in the second half and pulled away with a 68-57 victory.

Three Straight Final Four Appearances for the Lady Tigers

After reaching the Final Four in 2004 and 2005, LSU would settle for nothing less than a return trip to the grandest spectacle in women's basketball.

Second-year head coach Pokey Chatman guided the Lady Tigers to a 31-4 overall record, including the program's second-straight Southeastern Conference regular season title with a 13-1 mark.

LSU took its momentum from the regular season and rode it to a No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament for the second-straight season and the third time in four years. The Lady Tigers were placed in the San Antonio Region and made the first stop in Nashville, Tenn., for the first- and second-round games.

No. 16 seed Florida Atlantic awaited LSU at Vanderbilt's Memorial Gymnasium. The Lady Tigers used a 20-0 run midway through the first half and pull away with a 72-48 victory to advance to the second round to face No. 9 seed Washington.

The Huskies upset eighth-seeded Minnesota in the opening round and were playing well.

Washington was, in fact, playing so well that they led LSU, 26-23, at the end of the first half. The lead would not last long as the Lady Tigers shot out on a 12-2 run to open the half and never looked back to earn a 72-49 victory and a trip to the "Sweet 16" in San Antonio.

National Player of the Year Seimone Augustus averaged 24.0 points in the first two games for LSU, while Sylvia Fowles averaged 12.5 points and 5.0 rebounds in the opening rounds.

Fourth-seeded DePaul was next for LSU. The Blue Demons gave it a good fight in the opening 20 minutes and found themselves deadlocked at 31-31 with the Lady Tigers at the break. Another Lady Tigers' run to open the second half and LSU pulled away from DePaul for a 66-56 victory.

No. 3 seed Stanford upset second-seeded Oklahoma in the other regional semifinal to set up an LSU-Stanford showdown for the right to advance to Boston.

The teams did not disappoint. A showdown ensued.

The game featured 15 lead changes, as neither team led by more than seven points. Stanford led 28-23 at halftime, but LSU battled back to take a six-point lead midway through the half. The Cardinal then retook a 55-54 lead with four minutes left in the game before LSU posted six straight points to hold a 60-55 advantage with 2:07 remaining.

Just over a minute later, Stanford's Candice Wiggins nailed a three-pointer to cut the lead to 60-59, but Augustus hit a couple of free throws and drew a charging foul on the defensive end to seal a 62-59 victory for LSU.

Augustus earned regional Most Outstanding Player honors after posting 18 points against DePaul and 26 in the win over Stanford. Fowles was named to the All-tournament team by averaging 12.0 points and 18.0 rebounds in the two wins, including setting LSU's NCAA Tournament single game record with 19 rebounds against the Blue Demons.

In Boston, Duke, the No. 1 seed from the Bridgeport Region, controlled the game from the start and handed LSU a 64-45 loss in the National Semifinal game in the TD Banknorth Garden.

Four Final Fours in as many seasons for the Lady Tigers

Acting head coach Bob Starkey was faced with the daunting task of guiding LSU Lady Tigers into the 2007 NCAA Tournament after closing out the regular season with three losses in the final five games, but guide he did.

After a nice run in the Southeastern Conference Tournament and a loss to Vanderbilt in the title game, LSU received a No. 3 seed in the NCAA Tournament and were placed in the Fresno Regional.

The road to Cleveland's Quicken Loans Arena would begin in Austin, Texas at the University of Texas' Erwin Center. First up for the Lady Tigers was Big South Conference champion UNC Asheville in the first round.

LSU made quick work of the Bulldogs with a 77-39 victory. The Lady Tigers jumped out to a 17-7 lead and led 39-19 at the break.

Quianna Chaney and RaShonta LeBlanc carried LSU with 15 points each and combined to hit nine three-pointers in the game. Erica White added 10 points and seven assists, while Sylvia Fowles had eight points and 10 rebounds.

Up next was upset minded West Virginia, the No. 11 seed. The Mountaineers upset six-seeded Xavier in the first round and seemed ready for the Lady Tigers.

LSU had to rally from 11 points down in the final 12 minutes of play to secure a 49-43 victory.

The Lady Tigers build a 10-point first-half lead, but the WVU charged back and trailed 21-18 at the break. The Mountaineers used a 20-3 run over the end of the first half and the start of the second to build a 35-24 lead with just over 12 minutes left on the clock, but LSU responded with a 12-0 run to retake the lead for good and hold on for a 49-43 win.

Fowles led the way with 21 points and 13 rebounds, while Chaney added 11 points.

The come-from-behind victory over WVU advanced LSU into the Sweet 16 and a trip to Fresno, Calif., and a date with No. 10 seed Florida State at Fresno State's Save Mart Center.

The Lady Tigers had little trouble with Florida State in a 55-43 victory. LSU led the entire game and held a 27-18 lead at halftime before breaking it open with a 10-0 to open the second half.

Chaney led LSU with 22 points and Fowles added 20 points and nine rebounds.

In the Elite Eight, The Lady Tigers would face top-seeded Connecticut with a chance to avenge an earlier one-point loss at home.

LSU did just that and did it in convincing fashion with a 73-50 win over the Huskies in the Fresno Regional Final.

Fowles continued her dominance in the tournament with 23 points, 15 rebounds and six blocked shot on her way to being named Regional Most Outstanding Player. Allison Hightower and Ashley Thomas added 12 points each and White posted 11 points in the victory.

A disappointing outing versus Greensboro Regional Champion Rutgers in the national semifinal in Cleveland ended LSU's season, but the Lady Tigers could not hang their heads after a 30-8 season, the program's third straight 30-win season.

1976-77

The Only Lady Tigers to Reach the National Championship Game of a Post-Season Tournament

With one of the most dominating forward-center combinations in LSU women's basketball history in Australians Julie Gross and Maree Jackson, the Lady Tigers enjoyed one of their finest seasons in 1976-77.

The Lady Tigers, behind the play of Gross and Jackson, started the season off slow, but ended its regular-season with a 21-5 mark.

The Lady Tigers then headed to the AIAW State Tournament in Ruston. LSU easily handled New Orleans in the first round, winning 85-58, followed by a 73-51 victory over Southern. Louisiana Tech stopped LSU in the semifinals as the Techsters posted a 101-88 win over LSU. The Lady Tigers then fell to Northwestern State, 87-82, but the Lady Tigers still managed to finish in second place at the state tournament.

By virtue of its second place finish at the state tournament, LSU advanced to the AIAW Regional Tournament in Monroe.

At the regional tournament, the Lady Tigers got on a roll as they whipped Texas, 95-67, in the first round followed by a 76-73 win over a Sue Gunter-coached Stephen F. Austin team in the semifinals. LSU beat Baylor, 92-76, in the championship game to advance to the AIAW National Tournament in Minneapolis, Minn.

At the AIAW National Tournament, the Lady Tigers drew Western Washington in the first round and had little trouble as the Lady Tigers, behind 40 points from Maree Jackson, raced out to 49-26 halftime lead and never looked back in their 91-53 win. Next up for the Lady Tigers was Baylor, a team that LSU had already beat twice during the season, which included a victory over the Bears in the regional finals.

LSU was once again victorious over Baylor as the Lady Tigers got 35 points and 26 rebounds from Maree Jackson advanced with a 71-64 win.

The Lady Tigers then moved into the semifinal round against Immaculata, a powerhouse in women's basketball at the time. Immaculata was ranked No. 2 in the nation and was considered a huge favorite in the contest with the Lady Tigers.

The Lady Tigers upset Immaculata, 74-68, despite the fact that Jackson played after having root canal surgery and Brenda McGuffie played with a severely sprained ankle. In addition, Jackson and McGuffie played the final 10 minutes of the contest with four fouls. Jackson finished with 29 points and 19 rebounds, while Gross had 23 points and 11 boards.

It was on to the national championship game for LSU as the 11th-ranked Lady Tigers would face top-ranked Delta State for the title.

Delta State scored the first six points of the contest and the Delta Devils quickly built a nine point advantage, 13-4, on a jumper by Debbie Brock at the 15:14 mark. LSU could get no closer than seven points the rest of the way as Lady Tiger All-American Jackson picked up her third foul with 5:54 to play in the first half. Delta State led 34-25 at intermission.

In the second half, Delta State never let the Lady Tigers back in the contest as the Delta Devils held Jackson to a career-low six points in posting a 68-55 victory. Lucy Harris, the best women's player in the country at the time, led Delta State with 23 points and 16 rebounds.

The Lady Tigers finished the year with an overall record of 29-8 and ranked No. 11 in the nation. That team still holds the distinction of being the only Lady Tiger team ever to reach the national championship game of a post-season tournament.

2004-05 SEC Champions

In 2004-05 the LSU Lady Tigers made history, not only by winning the program's first Southeastern Conference title, but by doing it in convincing fashion.

The Lady Tigers completed the SEC schedule unblemished, posting a 14-0 record.

LSU began the conference season with a home game against No. 17 Georgia on national television. The Lady Tigers, ranked No. 1 at the time, handed the Lady Bulldogs a 76-52 loss and took that momentum into Gainesville, Fla., for a date with the Lady Gators.

The Lady Tigers rolled past Florida, 64-47, and then returned home to host both Alabama and Arkansas. LSU handed Alabama a 76-51 loss and defeated Arkansas, 91-45, in impressive fashion.

A trip to Nashville to face Vanderbilt in Memorial Coliseum was next. The Lady Tigers had not had much success when facing the Commodores on their home floor, but this time LSU prevailed, 79-68, over 17th-ranked Vanderbilt.

The end of January had the Lady Tigers return to Baton Rouge to host pesky Auburn. A hard fought 57-52 victory boosted LSU to a 6-0 league mark with eight games left.

A road swing through Mississippi saw the Lady Tigers hand Ole Miss a 82-58 loss and Mississippi State a 67-40 loss.

Those two wins meant a showdown in the Pete Maravich Center between top-ranked LSU at 8-0 in the league and fifth-ranked Tennessee, also with a perfect 8-0 league mark.

The Lady Tigers took care of business in front of the largest home crowd in LSU women's basketball history, defeating the Lady Vols 68-58 on national television.

A 66-36 victory at South Carolina and a 81-58 home victory over Kentucky followed and LSU had 11 league wins, the most in the program's history.

The final three games awaited, including trips to Auburn and Arkansas. Once again, the Auburn Tigers proved pesky, but LSU prevailed 62-57.

Things were much easier in Fayetteville as LSU rolled to a 90-64 win, clinching at least a share of the league crown for the Lady Tigers.

LSU returned home with a chance to claim the program's first outright league title and a perfect 14-0 record.

Florida stood in the way, but not for long. In front of a crowd of over 10,000 fans, LSU defeated the Lady Gators 76-52 and the first SEC Champions banner was dropped from the rafters of the PMAC.

2005-06 SEC Champions

LSU backed up its 2004-05 Southeastern Conference regular season championship, the first in the program's history, with a successful defense, earning a second straight league title with a 13-1 record in 2005-06.

The Lady Tigers kicked conference play off early with a 66-36 victory at Kentucky on Dec. 18. The title defense was underway!

After a few more non-conference games, including wins at home over Michigan State and South Florida, LSU returned to league play at Auburn.

Visiting the Plains in never an easy thing to do, but the Lady Tigers defeated the Tigers 65-38 to begin conference play with a 2-0 mark.

Home wins over South Carolina and Alabama preceded a thrilling, 65-64, victory in Athens against No. 13 Georgia. That win put LSU in first-place with a 5-0 record.

The Lady Tigers returned home to face No. 22 Vanderbilt in the PMAC and a 75-53 victory over the Commodores coupled with a Tennessee loss at Kentucky the same night gave LSU a one-game lead atop the league standings over the Lady Vols.

LSU won at Arkansas and at home against Ole Miss that set up a showdown in Knoxville with Tennessee.

The Lady Tigers pulled off an exciting, 72-69, win over the fifth-ranked Lady Vols to take a two-game lead with a 9-0 mark. The win was LSU's first over Tennessee in Knoxville.

Georgia invaded Baton Rouge with revenge of their minds, but LSU upended the Lady Dawgs, 68-61, to move to 10-0 and extend the Lady Tigers' conference win streak to 24 straight games.

LSU rolled into Gainesville in first-place in the conference with a two-game lead, but Florida brought the Lady Tigers back into a title race with a 79-78 upset win in overtime.

LSU held a slim one-game lead over Tennessee with three games to play.

A home victory over Arkansas and a win at Alabama secured LSU of at least a tie for the title and earned the Lady Tigers the top seed for the upcoming SEC Tournament, but the program wanted its second straight outright title.

Mississippi State invaded the PMAC for the final home in the careers of seniors Seimone Augustus, Scholanda Hoston and Florence Williams.

The senior trio did not disappoint, leading LSU to a 62-48 victory and the Lady Tigers second straight Southeastern Conference regular season championship.

1991 SEC Champions

LSU claimed its first Tournament title in 1991 as the Lady Tigers had one of the most impressive runs in conference tournament history. Entering the tournament as the No. 4 seed, the Lady Tigers had a first round bye and then beat Kentucky, 96-76, in the second round. The Lady Tigers, who were ranked No. 12 in the nation, then upset fourth-ranked Georgia, 83-74, in the semifinals. In the title game, point guard Pokey Chatman scored 30 points, including 16 straight at one point, as the Lady Tigers knocked off third-ranked Tennessee, 80-75. Chatman was named most valuable player of the tournament, while Sheila Johnson and Annette Jackson-Lowery were named to the all-tournament team.

2003 SEC Champions

The LSU Lady Tigers run through the Southeastern Conference Tournament was something special in 2003. It has been 12 years since LSU had last won a tournament title and the Lady Tigers were hungry for the crown.

Standing in the way of the second seeded and sixth-ranked Lady Tigers in the opening game were the No. 23 Arkansas Lady Razorbacks, a team that had handed LSU its first defeat of the season in Fayetteville earlier during the season.

It would prove to be the closest margin of victory in LSU's run to the title. LSU defeated Arkansas 78-72 thanks to some clutch free throw shooting down the stretch, including Seimone Augustus' two free throws with 19 seconds to play to give the freshman her 21st and 22nd points of the game and LSU a four point lead.

Four of the five starters for LSU scored in double figures in the opening round victory over Arkansas. In addition to Augustus, Temeka Johnson added 15 points, while Doneeka Hodges and Aiysha Smith both hit for 11 points.

15th-ranked Vanderbilt was the next item on the menu for the Lady Tigers. The Commodores were also a team that had defeated LSU during the regular season. In fact, the defending SEC tournament champions had knocked off LSU just the week before in Nashville and were playing with a lot of confidence heading into the semifinals of the SEC Tournament.

Vandy had so much confidence in themselves they led by as many as nine in the first half and took a 39-35 lead into the locker room at halftime after shooting 51.7 percent from the floor in the opening 20 minutes of play. LSU did not take its first lead of the game until Seimone Augustus hit a pair of free throws with 17 minutes to play to give the Lady Tigers a 44-43 advantage. The lead went back and forth for most of the second half until LSU closed the game with a 12-2 run in the final four minutes to advance to their second straight SEC Tournament title game.

Augustus took over the game during the final run, scoring 14 of her 20 points in the final four minutes of play. Aiysha Smith led LSU with 21 points, while Temeka Johnson added 12 points and Augustus had nine rebounds to go along with her point total.

The stage was set for the SEC title game, sixth-ranked LSU vs. No. 3 Tennessee for the SEC Championship. A rematch of the 68-65 Lady Vol victory during the regular season in Baton Rouge.

The Lady Tigers took control of the game early, jumping to a 7-0 lead and led 42-25 at the break. Tennessee managed to trim the margin down to 13 with 15 minutes to play before the Lady Tigers took the largest lead of the game at 18 with 10 minutes left.

Temeka Johnson took home MVP honors after scoring a career-high 24 points in the victory. She added nine rebounds and seven assists in the victory. Aiysha Smith added 18 points, while Seimone Augustus had 12 points and eight rebounds on her way to an all-tournament team selection.

LSU avenged all three of its regular season losses with three wins over three top 25 teams in three days to win the 2003 SEC Tournament Championship.

THE DEAF DOME

Over the last 11 years, the LSU women's basketball team has established the newly renovated Pete Maravich Assembly Center as one of the toughest road playing sites in not only the Southeastern Conference, but in the nation. Since the 1996-97 season, the Lady Tigers have posted a remarkable home record of 153-14 (.916), including averaging 14 victories per year.

In all, over the last 11 years, LSU has won eight NCAA Tournament games and a pair of Women's NIT contests at the PMAC. Throw in the fact that LSU is 31-7 at home against top 25 teams over the last 11 years, and the PMAC can back up its claim as one of the nation's most-feared road sites.

In addition to their success on the court, the Lady Tigers are also playing before record crowds. Over the past five seasons, LSU has established 14 of the top 15 crowds in PMAC history, including a record crowd of 15,233 against Tennessee on Feb. 10, 2005. During that span the Lady Tigers have played in front of nine home crowds of over 10,000 fans.

LSU finished the 2005-06 season ranked 14th in the nation in average home attendance with 6,273 and played in front of five crowds of at least 8,000 people.

In 2004-05, LSU finished 10th in the nation in average home attendance with 7,317 fans per game, by far a record for the Lady Tigers. During that season four crowds of over 10,000 were recorded for games, including the record crowd of 15,233 against Tennessee.

Although LSU had a 41-game home winning streak against non-ranked opponents snapped seven seasons ago by Auburn, the Lady Tigers are still 116-4 over the last 11 years against unranked teams. LSU posted undefeated records at home over non-ranked opponents in 2006-07 (11-0), 2005-06 (10-0), 2004-05 (10-0), 2002-03 (8-0), 2001-02 (11-0), 1999-00 (17-0), 1998-99 (11-0) and 1996-97 (11-0).

In 1999-00, the Lady Tigers set a school-record with 17 home victories with their only loss coming at the hands of second-ranked Tennessee.

In 32 years at the PMAC, LSU's home court advantage can be compared with the best programs from across the country as the Lady Tigers have won 80 percent of their home games with a 344-88 overall mark. The Lady Tigers have recorded a 110-48 mark in SEC contests. LSU has also put together winning streaks of 43, 26, 24 and 22 games at home. The Lady Tigers have also gone undefeated four times, going 15-0 in 2005-06, 12-0 in 2004-05, and 14-0 in both 1977-78 and 1985-86.

Built in 1971, the PMAC underwent completed renovations prior to the 2005-06 season that included an updated concourse, new seats and a new sound system. The capacity is now 13,468 following the renovations.

During the summer of 1988, Louisiana Governor Buddy Roemer signed legislation changing the official name of the building to the Pete Maravich Assembly Center in honor of the LSU star who had died tragically earlier that same year.

In addition to the normal basketball-seating configuration, a proscenium stage can be lowered into place at the north end allowing some 4,000 seats for theatrical productions. An additional 1,000 seats can be placed on the floor for graduations, convocations, lectures, concerts or other special events.

Also located in the building is an auxiliary practice gym used for basketball and volleyball practices and various P.E. classes; home and visitor dressing rooms; coaches dressing rooms, building administration offices; theater dressing rooms; Tiger Athletic Foundation offices; and the "L" Club meeting room with kitchen facilities.

The Assembly Center has been the site for both men's and women's NCAA Regional Tournaments, the 1981 SEC Women's Basketball Tournament, the 1988 SEC Men's Basketball Tournament and two SEC Volleyball Tournaments and was the site of the 2004 NCAA Tournament First & Second rounds.

PACK THE PMAC

THIS YEAR'S GAME:
February 10, 2008
LSU vs. Georgia

What started out as a dream 11 years ago has developed into one of the biggest and the best promotional events in all of women's basketball, as Pack the PMAC returns for year number 12 this season when the Lady Tigers host Georgia on Feb. 10, 2007.

The concept of Pack the PMAC is simple - a blowout ticket sales push throughout Baton Rouge and surrounding communities in an attempt to fill the Maravich Center for a women's basketball game. After 10 years, Pack the PMAC has blossomed into a much-anticipated event and it will once again be the highlight of the LSU women's basketball schedule. This year's Pack the PMAC game is set for Sunday, Feb. 10 for a Southeastern Conference showdown with Georgia on ESPN2.

Starting in the fall, LSU uses various outlets to promote both the game and the "Flying Frenzy" halftime contest. At Pack the PMAC IV, Rich Bisson became the first person in the history of the event to win a car. In addition to the car giveaway, there are also televisions, shopping sprees, and other items that can be won in the halftime "Flying Frenzy" contest.

In 11 years the event has become a tremendous success, but more important than the actual game is the fact that Baton Rouge has finally become introduced, and welcomed, to LSU women's basketball at its finest hour.

Prior to the first Pack the PMAC in 1997, the Lady Tigers had never played before a crowd larger than 2,500 at the Maravich Assembly Center. Seven of LSU's top 15 home crowds have come at Pack the PMAC, including the first crowd over 10,000 fans at a women's basketball game in the state of Louisiana at Pack the PMAC VII when 11,252 fans paid to see the Lady Tigers defeat Penn State on CBS. For Pack the PMAC X, 9,930 fans filled the arena and watched the Lady Tigers defeat Minnesota on national television, while 7,666 fans watch LSU defeat Georgia in Pack the PMAC XI.

In the first year, the Lady Tigers drew a then school-record crowd of 6,552 as LSU beat Arkansas, 79-72. A year later, for Pack the PMAC II, LSU reset the school-record as 7,255 witnessed the Lady Tigers' 69-56 win over Mississippi.

In 1999-00, 6,352 fans witnessed the first nationally televised broadcast of an LSU women's basketball game as the Lady Tigers knocked off Arkansas, 68-51 on ESPN2. Pack the PMAC V drew a then school-record 9,636 fans, which was at the time the largest attendance ever at a women's basketball game in the state of Louisiana. The 2001-02 Pack the PMAC game collected 8,153 fans.

Top Teams

Women's Basketball

The Lady Tigers advanced to the program's fourth straight NCAA Final Four with tournament victories over UNC Asheville, West Virginia, Florida State and top-seeded Connecticut. LSU also posted a 30-8 overall record in 2006-07 and went 10-4 in the SEC. The 30 wins marks the third straight season with at least 30 wins.

Gymnastics

The LSU gymnastics team maintained its presence among the nation's elite, finishing the season with a No. 7 national ranking after advancing to the NCAA Championships for the 19th time in program history. Individually, the Tigers had a school-record four athletes earn first-team All-America honors, while head coach D-D Breaux was named the NCAA Central Region Coach of the Year and Bob Moore was named the region's assistant coach of the year.

Football

The Tigers posted an 11-2 overall record and defeated Notre Dame in the 2007 Sugar Bowl. The victory was the third BCS bowl title for LSU, including the 2001 Sugar Bowl and the 2003 BCS National Title game in New Orleans. During the 2006 season, the Tigers recorded two wins over top 10 teams, including a 28-24 come-from-behind win at No. 8 Tennessee and a 31-26 win at No. 5 Arkansas.

Men's and Women's Track and Field

The LSU men's and women's track and field teams enjoyed an incredible season in 2007 under the direction of third-year head coach Dennis Shaver. The Lady Tigers were the NCAA runners-up during both the indoor and outdoor seasons, while the Tigers finished as the NCAA runner-up during the outdoor season in June. In addition, the LSU women won their first SEC Outdoor title since 1996 with a victory at the SEC Outdoor Championships in May.

Dydia DeLyser

Faculty Athletics Representative

Dydia DeLyser, an associate professor in the Department of Geography and Anthropology, begins her first year as LSU's Faculty Athletics Representative.

DeLyser, a native of Santa Monica, Calif., received a bachelor's degree in 1992 from UCLA and earned her master's and doctoral degrees from Syracuse University.

DeLyser arrived at LSU in August 1998 as an instructor before becoming an assistant professor one year later. She was designated as an associate professor in August 2005.

In terms of her research, DeLyser is a cultural-historical geographer. Her work has been both ethnographic and historical, and most of it has been about how landscapes help make the past meaningful in the present.

Most of her published research has focused on two different studies. One was a many-year ethnographic study of a ghost town in California where she examined how images and ideas about the American mythic West became meaningful to the tourists who visited the town. The second was as historical study that examined a 19th century novel and how it changed the way people understood (and still understand) southern California's past.

Her current research concerns early women aviators and how they used their practices of flying to advance feminism in the post-suffrage era.

DeLyser teaches graduate courses in cultural geography, qualitative research, and academic and professional writing. She also teaches undergraduate courses in cultural, feminist, and urban geography, and an introductory world-regional geography course.

DeLyser is a first-generation American - her parents were Dutch immigrants - and English is actually her second language. She also has language abilities in Russian and Spanish.

DeLyser's hobbies include driving/riding antique cars and motorcycles. She is also a licensed pilot and co-owns a Citabria, which is a two-seat aerobatic airplane.

A Louisiana Legend and one of the greatest college baseball coaches of all time, J. Stanley "Skip" Bertman has made the seamless transition into the athletics director's chair with the same enthusiasm, vision and demand for excellence that were trademarks of his stellar coaching career.

The 2007-08 season will mark Bertman's final year as LSU athletics director. After his tenure ends on June 30, 2008, he will remain at LSU as athletics director emeritus through 2010, working as a vital fund-raiser for the university.

In six years as LSU's director of athletics, Bertman has added to his impressive list of on-the-field achievements. Under his direction, LSU has enjoyed arguably the greatest athletics seasons in the history of the institution.

The 2006-07 season saw 12 LSU teams finish among the nation's top 25, including a No. 3 final ranking for the football team and a fourth consecutive Final Four appearance by the women's basketball squad. The LSU men's and women's track and field teams each finished No. 2 in the nation.

In 2005-06, LSU joined North Carolina (1997-98) as the only schools to have their football, men's basketball and women's basketball teams all finish in the nation's Top 5. LSU in 2005-06 also became the first school in SEC history to win outright league championships in men's and women's basketball in the same season.

In 2004-05, 14 LSU teams advanced to the post-season, and in 2003-04, three teams won national championships, nine teams finished in the nation's top ten, and fourteen teams ranked in the top 25.

Under Bertman's direction, LSU teams have also recorded improved grade point averages across the board, making the student-athlete experience a success on and off the fields of competition.

While supervising the Tigers' progress on the playing fields, he has implemented measures necessary to realize his vision of building the LSU athletics department into the best in the country. Bertman's bold and innovative plans promise to keep the Tigers among the nation's elite in all phases of collegiate athletics.

Bertman is now in the midst of upgrading LSU's athletics complex, as he took the bold but essential move to implement a seat contribution program in Tiger Stadium to fund facility improvements and ensure the financial stability of the LSU Athletics Department for the next decade.

Working hand in hand with the Tiger Athletic Foundation, Bertman has already overseen the completion of the Cox Communications Academic Center for Student-Athletes, the renovation of Tiger Stadium and the Pete Maravich Assembly Center, and the construction of the Football Operations Center.

In addition, state-of-the-art baseball and softball stadiums are scheduled to be constructed by the fall of 2008, and a basketball practice facility will be in place by 2009.

Bertman was named LSU's athletics director on January 19, 2001. With Bertman, LSU gained an athletics director who provides the leadership and experience necessary to manage the Tigers' budget of over $50 million.

Bertman guided LSU to five NCAA baseball titles during his 18-year coaching tenure (1984-2001), and his teams drew huge crowds to venerable Alex Box Stadium, as the Tigers led the nation in attendance in each of his final six seasons.

He also served as head coach of the 1996 U.S. Olympic team which captured the bronze medal in Atlanta.

Bertman continues to be honored for his remarkable coaching tenure, as he was inducted in June, 2006 into the new College Baseball Hall of Fame as part of the hall's inaugural class. He has also been inducted into the Louisiana Sports Hall of Fame and the American Baseball Coaches Association Hall of Fame.

In a Baseball America poll published in 1999, Bertman was voted the second greatest college baseball coach of the 20th century, trailing only Rod Dedeaux of Southern California. Bertman, Dedeaux and Augie Garrido of Texas are the only coaches to win five CWS titles.

Bertman had previously earned recognition as one of the nation's brightest assistant coaches while at the University of Miami (Fla.) for eight seasons (1976-83). Before working at Miami, Bertman was renowned for his coaching excellence. In 11 seasons at Miami Beach High School, he directed the Hi-Tides to a state championship and two runners-up finishes and he was named Florida's Coach of the Year on three occasions.

In 1975, Bertman coached at Miami-Dade Downtown, leaving after one season to join legendary head coach Ron Fraser at Miami. The move was a homecoming of sorts, as Bertman spent his collegiate playing days with the Hurricanes as an outfielder and catcher from 1958-60. He earned his B.A. in health and physical education from Miami in 1961 and received his master's degree from UM in 1964.

Bertman and his wife Sandy are the parents of four daughters - Jan, Jodi, Lisa and Lori. The Bertmans have four grandchildren - Sophie Faith and Isaac Stanley, the children of Emile and Lori Bertman Guirard; and Samuel Aaron and Ezra Michael, the sons of Drew and Lisa Bertman Pate.

While working with the CHAMPS/ Life Skills, Segar guided the program to Division I Athletic Directors Program of Excellence Award in 2001.

Prior to returning to her alma mater, Segar spent one year at the Southeastern Conference office as the championships assistant and the officiating assistant, assisting in the management of all SEC championships and tournaments and the coordination of women's basketball officials.

Segar, the 2006 Athletic Department Female Alumnus of the Year, was a three-year captain for the Lady Tigers basketball team and received four letters from 1990 to 1994. She earned the 1994 NCAA Post-graduate Scholarship and was a member of the 1994 NCAA All-Academic team and a three-time All-SEC Academic Award recipient.

Segar and her husband, Jamie have three children; Grant, Reid and Maggie.

Ronnie Haliburton

Assistant AD/Facility Services

Ronnie Haliburton, who served as director of facility services in the LSU Athletics Department for three years, was promoted to Assistant Athletics Director for Facility Services in March 2007.

Haliburton came to the athletics department in December of 2003 from LSU's facility maintenance department, where he had served as manager since 1998. He was responsible for the overall management of custodial operations, special events crews, stock room inventory and equipment repair.

Haliburton played as a tight end for the LSU football team from 1986-89, and was a member of two Southeastern Conference championship teams. He later played for the Denver Broncos of the NFL for three years.

He first joined LSU in an administrative capacity in 1994 as resident assistant of Broussard Hall, then the school's athletic dormitory, before moving to the weight room as a student assistant strength coach.

Haliburton became a resident manager in 1996 before being named coordinator of residence life later that year. In 1998, he became Manager of Facility Maintenance at LSU.

The Tiger Athletic Foundation (TAF) is a private, nonprofit foundation dedicated to supporting LSU and its Athletic Program. The Foundation is administered by its own board of directors, comprised of TAF donors, which meets quarterly. Officers of the corporation are elected bi-annually.

Louisiana State University has a proud athletic tradition, highlighted by scores of Southeastern Conference and NCAA championships in more than 20 men's and women's varsity sports. Thanks to generous private-sector contributions, the Tiger Athletic Foundation continues to play an integral role in sustaining that outstanding tradition. As the central fund-raising organization in support of LSU athletics, TAF's mission is clear - to lead the university in building a comprehensively superior athletic program.

Unrestricted contributions to the Tiger Athletic Foundation benefit every athlete and team at LSU through scholarship and academic awards, as well as through the construction and maintenance of athletic facilities. These projects, large and small, chart the unmistakable course to excellence. And it is the shared vision of alumni and friends of LSU that are making them a reality.

Maj. Gen. R. G. Richard,
USMC (Ret.)
Chief Executive Officer

WHO IS TAF?

A donation to the Tiger Athletic Foundation assists in its programs of support for LSU Athletics.

- The TAF is made up of average Tiger fans who make donations to help fund the mission of Tiger Athletics.
- Nearly two-thirds of TAF's members have donated less than $1,000 in their lifetime to TAF.
- Less than 1% of TAF's members have donated over $100,000 in their lifetime to TAF.
- Approximately half of TAF's members are football season ticket holders.
- TAF's membership is 14,000 strong and growing.
- Funding scholarships for LSU's student-athletes.
- Funding the construction and renovation of facilities and the purchase of equipment to provide Tiger student-athletes with the best possible opportunity to compete at a national level.
- Funding support for facilities and programs to enhance the academic opportunities for student-athletes.
- Providing support to assure the best possible coaching and support staffs are in place to lead the LSU athletics program.

TAF Members Funded LSU Projects

$60 Million

Westside Renovation of Tiger Stadium

The TAF renovated the westside of Tiger Stadium in order to provide 3,200 new club seats and a new press box. The new club seats provide additional revenue for the athletics program to invest in future facility projects. Opened in the fall of 2005.

$50 Million

Eastside Expansion of Tiger Stadium

The TAF financed an eastside expansion that added over 11,000 seats to Tiger Stadium and moved it up among the five largest on-campus stadiums in America. The eastside expansion not only created 70 Tiger Den suites to the stadium, it has provided over 300,000 more fans the opportunity to see LSU football since the expansion was opened in 2000.

$5.2 Million

Scoreboards in Tiger Stadium, Maravich Center, Outdoor Track

The TAF added to fan enjoyment in LSU's major athletics facilities by purchasing state-of-the-art video scoreboards in 1998.

$1.2 Million

Lawton Squad Room

The TAF funded the construction of a squad meeting room attached to Tiger Stadium for use by LSU's athletics teams. Prior to the construction of the Lawton Squad Room, there was no one place in LSU's athletics complex where the entire football team could meet and view instructional and motivational video presentations. Opened in 1997.

$15 Million

Football Operations Center

The TAF built a stand-alone Football Operations Center that opened in the fall of 2005. All facets of the Tiger football program are now under one roof. The building includes locker rooms, meeting rooms, coaches offices, video operations, a training room and strength facility.

$3 Million

Mike the Tiger's Habitat

LSU's legendary live mascot is now in a new home, thanks to the TAF. This new habitat provides Mike with a 15,000-square foot environment with lush planting, a beautiful waterfall and a stream evolving from a rocky backdrop overflowing with plants and trees. LSU now enjoys one of the finest live tiger habitats in America. Opened in the fall of 2005.

$12 Million

Cox Communications Academic Center for Student-Athletes

The TAF provided LSU with unquestionably the most advanced academic facility in America for its student-athletes. By renovating LSU's old Gym Armory, the TAF allowed LSU to make the emphatic statement that the academic welfare of its student-athletes is its foremost priority. Opened in 2002.

2008 SEC Tournament

When people think of women's collegiate basketball, they think of the Southeastern Conference and the league's domination of the sport the last 16 years. With seven national championships, nine runner-up finishes, a nation-leading 32 Final Four appearances and 92 first-team All-America honors, the SEC stands firmly as the nation's premier intercollegiate women's basketball conference.

On Feb. 7, 1980, the first SEC women's basketball tournament began play. It ended four days later with Tennessee defeating Ole Miss for the title. Fast forward 28 years later and the SEC Tournament is still enjoying success and increased popularity.

Beginning with its inception and through 1986, the tournament was held at campus sites. The tournament was then sent to Albany, Ga., which served as the site for six years from 1987-92. The tournament then moved to Chattanooga, Tenn., where it was held from 1993-2000, with the exception of 1998 when the tournament moved to Columbus, Ga.

Since 2001 the tournament has enjoyed many new sites, including Memphis (2001), Nashville (2002, 2004), North Little Rock, Ark. (2003, 2006), Greenville, S.C. (2005) and Duluth, Ga. (2007).

This year the SEC Women's Basketball Tournament returns to Nashville, Tenn. as the Sommet Center hosts the event for the third time.

The winner of the 11-game tournament will receive the league's automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament. The tournament seeds and conference champion will be determined by the 14-game regular-season SEC schedule. The top four seeds earn a first-round bye.

The 2007 SEC Women's Basketball Tournament will once again enjoy live television coverage. FSN South continues its dedication to SEC events by televising all first round, all second round as well as both semifinal games. The championship game will again be televised on ESPN2.

Public tickets for this year's event will go on sale December 5 and can be purchased through the Sommet Center (615-770-2000) and Ticketmaster. Prices are: reserved tournament book, $75; general admission Dr Pepper Six-Pack tournament book, $45; reserved single-session (six sessions total), $15; and general admission single-session, $10 (can only be purchased day of event at arena box office).
