LSU BASKETBALL PRACTICE FACILITY

COMPLETION DATE - JANUARY 2010

Construction is in its final stages for the new 58,960 square foot LSU men's and women's basketball practice facility. The facility is attached to the north side of the Pete Maravich Assembly Center.

PRACTICE GYMS

Each gym is 11,324 square feet in size and includes a regulation NCAA court in length with two regulation high school courts in the opposite direction. Each gym court is an exact replica of the Maravich Center competition court.

A day after LSU's 62-52 loss to Louisville in the second round of the 2009 NCAA Tournament, LSU head coach Van Chancellor and his staff were already looking forward to the 2009-10 season. As they wiped the slate clean, one thing was for certain, the 2008-09 Lady Tigers laid the foundation for an upcoming season full of promise.

Chancellor and his staff took six true freshmen and five new starters and turned them into a squad that had the look of previous LSU postseason teams. A resilient attitude and toughness on the defensive end of the floor, the Lady Tigers reached the NCAA Tournament for the 11th straight season and shared second place in the final Southeastern Conference standings. Today, the bulk of that team returns with a year of experience and a summer of improvement.

"We felt we were the youngest team in the country last year, and we are still a young basketball team," Chancellor said. "I am excited about this team. I like the attitude and work ethic of this team and like the direction of where we can go. I am looking forward to this year because we have depth and learned a lot from last year."

Chancellor, who enters his third season at LSU, boasts nine letterwinners and four returning starters. The Lady Tigers only lost forward Kristen Morris from last year's team, but they welcome five newcomers, including three players who already have collegiate experience.

No team in the league has been as dominant defensively as the Lady Tigers have the past five seasons. LSU held opponents to 53.5 points per contest and limited teams to 50 points or less 14 times during the 2008-09 season. While defense has been the cornerstone, Chancellor is seeking an improvement on offense.

"There is no doubt in my mind, we will be a strong defensive basketball team again," Chancellor said. "I am looking forward to our improvement on offense. I think we have made significant strides on that end of the floor."

Backcourt

All things go with senior guard Allison Hightower, who is up for every 2010 National Player of the Year award. Arguably the most valuable player to any team in the SEC a season ago, Hightower continues to fine tune her game with hard work and leadership.

Hightower led LSU in six categories as a junior, averaging 14.9 points, 5.7 rebounds and 1.2 blocks per contest. A 2009 All-SEC selection and State Farm Honorable Mention All-American, the Arlington, Texas, native is closing in on the 1,000-point mark for her career as she sits at 943 points.

"Allison Hightower is one of the 10 best players in the country without question," Chancellor said. "She does it by hard work and dedication. She's always trying to get better in every facet of her game. This spring and summer, she worked really hard on her offensive game. I expect her to have another great year."

Defensively, there might not be a better player in the nation than Hightower. She heads into her senior season as the school's all-time career leader in blocks by a guard with 76. She led all SEC guards in blocked shots last season and was the only guard in the league to rank in the top 10 in both blocks and steals.

Latear Eason returns for her junior season at point guard. Eason was a catalyst in the Lady Tigers' six-game winning streak down the stretch with her play. She averaged 2.1 assists per game and committed very few turnovers. The Lady Tigers also return sophomore Destini Hughes and welcome junior college transfer Taylor Booze.

Booze, a junior, played for one season at Oklahoma State and posted 10.1 points as a sophomore at Trinity Valley (Texas) Community College. Two veteran guards were key for LSU last season – Andrea Kelly and Katherine Graham. Graham missed three games her sophomore year and her loss was noticeable. She was a constant on defense by disrupting the flow of opposing offenses. Graham was second on the team in rebounds per game with 5.0 and 10th in the SEC in defensive boards.

Kelly was LSU's top shooter from the perimeter. The returning senior and co-captain, fired 34-of-84 for 40.5 percent from beyond the arc. That percentage ranked as the eighth-best mark in single-season school history. The Lady Tigers' depth on the perimeter has drastically been increased with the addition of freshmen Adrienne Webb and Bianca Lutley and Southern Miss transfer Erica Williams.

Williams sat out last season due to NCAA transfer rules but she has proven to be one of LSU's top shooters this offseason. Webb comes to LSU as the 2009 Alabama Gatorade Player of the Year after scoring 17.1 points per game as a senior at Sparkman High School. Lutley was ranked as the No. 25 overall player in America at American Heritage High School in Plantation, Fla.

Frontcourt

The departure of Kristen Morris opens up a new starting spot at the post. Chancellor will rely heavily upon LaSondra Barrett, the 2009 SEC Co-Freshman of the Year. Barrett turned in one of the most prolific freshman seasons in school history and then helped lead the United States to a gold medal at the 2009 FIBA U19 World Championships in Thailand.

Barrett led the Lady Tigers in rebounds per game with a 5.7 average while ranking second on the squad in points with 11.4 per contest. Her most memorable game was her first SEC start at Arkansas when she buried 27 points, an LSU SEC true freshman record, achieving something not even Seimone Augustus or Sylvia Fowles had done.

Barrett carries high expectations into 2009-10 after her freshman campaign. She seeks to be more aggressive around the basket, but she will have help from others as well. Sophomore Courtney Jones, who underwent successful arthroscopic knee surgery immediately following the season, is a very talented player who ranked second on the squad in offensive boards with 43.

Defensively, Taylor Turnbow was one of the top freshman shot blockers in the SEC a year ago. She heads into her sophomore season after ranking 12th in that category by averaging 1.0 per game in 12.6 minutes. Sophomore forward Swayze Black has turned in a terrific offseason and should make a strong impression in 2009-10. Black played in 17 games and averaged 6.1 minutes per contest as a freshman.

Chancellor also went out and signed junior college transfer Jasmine Nelson. Nelson, a New Orleans native, played for two seasons at Trinity Valley (Texas) Community College where she was teammates with LSU point guard Taylor Booze. Named a 2009 State Farm Women's Basketball Coaches Association All-American, she averaged a double-double with 12.4 points and 10.6 boards per contest as a sophomore.

Nelson twice led Trinity Valley to the National Junior College Tournament. She enrolled at the school after helping guide McDonogh 35 High School (New Orleans) to consecutive Class 4A state title appearances in 2006 and 2007 following Hurricane Katrina.

Schedule

For the first time in SEC history, all 12 schools will play a 16-game regular season conference schedule. The move from 14 games to 16 games means the Lady Tigers will play South Carolina and perennial power Tennessee twice. Those games come after a non-conference slate that includes road trips to Louisiana Tech, Nebraska and likely top-25 ranked Xavier (Ohio).

LSU welcomes the return of Middle Tennessee to the Maravich Center in November. The Blue Raiders feature the nation's top returning scorer in Alysha Clark, who averaged 27.5 points per game and poured in 37 points against the Lady Tigers last season.

LSU hosts the inaugural Sue Gunter Classic, Dec. 15-16, in honor of the late Hall of Fame coach. The Lady Tigers open SEC play with two straight road games before hosting defending SEC champion Auburn on Jan. 10 in Pack the PMAC 14. January includes a Maravich Center showdown with the Lady Vols on Jan. 24.

"This is a new era for SEC women's basketball when you talk about playing 16 conference games," Chancellor said. "You get to play several teams twice and it is exciting to get some great home games. Fans will get to see us play Tennessee twice."

LSU returns the trip to Knoxville on Feb. 22 in a game that will be televised nationally by ESPN2. Home games against Arkansas and Mississippi State close the regular season. The Lady Tigers seek to reach NCAA Tournament play for the 12th straight year. Should they do that, they will be playing in a road venue for the first time in three seasons to start tournament play. LSU hosted the first and second rounds the last two years.

LSU Lady Tiger basketball and Final Fours are synonymous. Since 2004, no program in the nation has advanced to more NCAA Final Fours than LSU. From Hall of Famer Sue Gunter to Hall of Famer Van Chancellor and the 77 players who have donned a Lady Tiger jersey since 2004, Final Four basketball at LSU is a legacy that carries on.

The Drive for Five ended in Tampa as first-year LSU head coach Van Chancellor reached the Final Four. LSU became only the second program in NCAA Division I history to advance to five straight Final Fours, doing so behind the play of All-American and SEC Player of the Year Sylvia Fowles. The Lady Tigers edged No. 2 North Carolina in the New Orleans Regional Final.

2007

Under associate head coach Bob Starkey, LSU overcame a late season adversity and hoisted a fourth Final Four trophy by winning the Fresno Regional over top-seeded Connecticut. State Farm All-American Sylvia Fowles shattered the LSU record books for blocked shots and rebounds.

2006

Seimone Augustus leaves a magnificent legacy as the most decorated player in school history. The 2006 National Player of the Year guided the Lady Tigers to a third straight Final Four with a 31-4 record, another Southeastern Conference championship and a victory over Stanford in the regional final. The trip to Boston culminated a year of record-breaking attendances for LSU.

2005

33-3 overall. 27-1 regular season. 14-0 perfect SEC regular season. It was uncharted territory for an LSU program in the national spotlight. In one of the most dominating seasons in school history, the Lady Tigers made it back-to-back Final Four appearances after topping Duke in the regional final. Seimone Augustus became the school's first National Player of the Year.

2004

When LSU began its run in the 2004 NCAA Tournament, it was the culmination of a season of destiny that ended in New Orleans. Legendary coach Sue Gunter had to miss the final 20 games due to illness, but the Lady Tigers fought on. LSU reached the program's first Final Four behind sophomore All-American Seimone Augustus and point guard Temeka Johnson as the Lady Tigers defeated Georgia in the regional final.

LSU's Memorial Tower (top main photo) was one of the first structures completed on the present campus and sits east of the quadrangle (above, left). It represents the University as a memorial to those who gave their lives during World War I. Although it currently houses the LSU Anglo-American Art Museum, plans are in process to return Memorial Tower to a military museum as originally intended. The University lakes (above, right) on the LSU campus give various recreational options.

Louisiana State University and Agricultural & Mechanical College has, throughout its 145-year history, served the people of Louisiana, the region, the nation, and the world. LSU is creating a revolution, one of pervasive change and advancement. For the past five years, the focus of the LSU community has been an increased commitment to excellence. Our progress has been dramatic and shows no sign of stopping.

Having witnessed many of yesterday's possibilities become today's tangible realities, the LSU community set forth to capitalize on its success. The goal was to improve our standing as a nationally competitive flagship university. Following intense discussions among the LSU Board of Supervisors, campus administrators, faculty, and student leaders, the objectives required to reach this status crystallized, providing the impetus for LSU's National Flagship Agenda.

Why LSU?

Temeka Johnson
Point guard (2001-05)
2009 WNBA Champion

"Going to LSU was the best decision I could have made. I knew that I would get a great education, and my basketball career would expand and grow as well. I knew I would also get to play with some great talents. But what made it all worthwhile for me was the fact that all this was topped off with being a part of a family. This is the best part, once a Tiger always a Tiger and this is the feeling that you get when you step foot on the campus. I am part of a sisterhood that is like none other. I love it."

"When you go back and get your degree, it says a lot about your work ethic. I accomplished things that I will never forget here. I come home to Miami, but a lot of people don't know me like everyone in Baton Rouge and the fans. Baton Rouge and LSU has been my home. If I had to do it all over again, LSU would be the only place I would do it."

Sylvia Fowles
Center (2004-08)
Two-time State Farm All-American and 2008 Olympic gold medalist

"Throughout the entire recruiting process I always knew LSU was the best choice. Being from the great state of Louisiana, LSU was a home away from home. I knew that this would be a place I could grow as a student-athlete and a young man. The coaches, faculty, and the 92,000 marvelous fans only help to make the decision much easier. Looking back on it, I couldn't have asked for more from the experience."

Tyson Jackson
Defensive End (2005-08)
2009 NFL Draft No. 3 Pick

"As far back as I can remember (riding bicycles, playing little league baseball), I have literally bled purple and gold. It never crossed my mind that there was anywhere else to go other than LSU. The experiences and relationships that I developed at LSU have been an integral part of my life. No other colleges existed in my mind. I am fortunate to have attended a place that I considered a dream and look forward to my association with the University until the day I die."

Bo Campbell Auditorium

The 1,000-seat auditorium is used through the year as a classroom and lecture hall. Academic Center FOR STUDENT-ATHLETES

Study Area

Included in the 54,000 square feet of the Academic Center are individual study areas as well as 14 private computer rooms for student-athletes to work one-on-one with tutors or by themselves.

Amenities

- ▶ 54,000 square feet of working space
- ▶ 300 computer workstations
- ▶ 14 private computer rooms in a state-of-the-art computer lab
- ▶ Additional study rooms and classrooms for private or group study
- ▶ Electronic scheduling of tutoring sessions
- ▶ A 1,000-seat auditorium for classes and lectures

Computer Stations

The Cox Communications Academic Center for Student-Athletes is at the forefront of today's educational technology. Since the spring of 2009, the academic center has upgraded over 170 computers, including both PC and Mac.

The Library

The library provides a perfect setting for individual study, or with a tutor as a group.

Media Training

LSU is one of the few schools where student-athletes go through media training to enhance their communication skills. Dr. Tommy Karam and Dr. Shirley White are two experts in the field who give training sessions to student-athletes here on campus. The Academic Center features a mock press conference setting to get student-athletes acclimated to giving interviews in front of both print and electronic media. Karam and White record the mock interviews on camera and then provide feedback, allowing student-athletes to become more comfortable and confident when doing actual interviews.

Academic Center

A $15 million renovation to the Gym Armory in 2002 not only made it among the nation's premier academic centers, but put it at the forefront. Improvements to the existing center give LSU student-athletes the best opportunity for success by providing access to the latest technology, as well as an array of expanded services.

"When you go back and get your degree, it says a lot about your work ethic. This is No. 1 at the top of my list because I am the youngest of my mother's kids and I am the first to graduate. It says a lot about how much my mother means to me and how she prepared me for this."

- Sylvia Fowles
May 15, 2009

Golden Graduate

Sylvia Fowles has accomplished nearly everything an athlete of her status can. On May 15, 2009, she graduated from LSU, a crowning achievement on an already brilliant career. The WNBA and USA Basketball star worked to obtain her final credit hours while playing overseas in the EuroLeague. WNBA Productions was on hand to follow Fowles around during her moment. LSU's two most prominent players in program history – Fowles and Seimone Augustus – are now LSU graduates.

Academic SUCCESS

CRITICAL TO THE DEVELOPMENT OF A STUDENT-ATHLETE IS AN ADEQUATE ACADEMIC FACILITY AND CAPABLE STAFF TO FURTHER THE ATHLETE'S PROGRESS. The Cox Communications Academic Center for Student-Athletes is responsible for overseeing the educational development and progress toward graduation for all student-athletes. The staff acts as a liaison between the student-athlete and the academic communities and insures that student-athletes comply with academic rules established by the University, NCAA and Southeastern Conference. The staff also coordinates academic programs designed to assist student-athletes in acquiring a quality education.

"The one equalizer is getting an education. With that you have an opportunity to go out and better yourself and improve your life. I am proud of Sylvia Fowles for getting her degree."

- LSU head coach Van Chancellor

Kristen Morris, the lone senior on the 2009 NCAA Tournament team, received her undergraduate degree in management from LSU in the spring of 2009. Morris was a two-time member of the SEC Academic Honor Roll.

SEC Academic Honor Roll

Since 1999, LSU has produced 36 student-athletes on the SEC Academic Honor Roll. The Lady Tigers placed four players on the 2009 SEC Winter Academic Honor Roll highlighted by 2010 National Player of the Year candidate Allison Hightower. Hightower is working toward a degree in general studies. To earn SEC Academic Honor Roll honors, a student-athlete must have a grade point average of 3.00 or above for either the preceding academic year or have a cumulative grade point average of 3.00 or above.

Newsweek magazine named Louisiana State University the "Most Diverse" school in the nation in the Sept. 3, 2003, issue. The enrollment consists of 24 percent minority students.

The Most Diverse SCHOOL IN THE NATION

African-American Cultural Center

The African-American Cultural Center provides a multifaceted approach to working with all students at LSU. It offers opportunities for people to learn about the contributions of African-American men and women in the areas of literature, science and the humanities. In addition, opportunities for the University community to have greater exposure to art exhibits, dance troupes, theatre, poetry readings and educational programs are provided.

Educational programs for the African-American Cultural Center are the heart of the center. The scope of these programs fall into the following four categories:

- ▶ Historical/Political
- ▶ Artistic
- ▶ Informal Student Advising
- ▶ Community Outreach

Community OUTREACH

Teaching the Game

The Lady Tigers held a free three-hour youth clinic through the Baton Rouge Recreational Department's Sports Academy in the summer of 2009. The clinic taught children the fundamentals of basketball. Each child was then able to meet and greet their favorite players.

LSU student-athletes participate in a variety of community service projects including reading in schools, nursing home visits, hospital pediatric ward visits and speaking engagements.

Education First

Head coach Van Chancellor addressed principals of the East Baton Rouge Parish School System about the values of education as the Lady Tigers began planning for a season-long initiative that will involve a collaboration of the importance of getting an education and the game of basketball. The community effort begins this year with the GPA Honoring Education Game.

Donating Shoes

The Lady Tigers joined with WNBA champion point guard Temeka Johnson and her H.O.P.E. Foundation in donating 50 pairs of Nike sneakers to deserving honor students at Magnolia Woods Elementary School in Baton Rouge. Johnson's foundation has adopted the school. Katherine Graham (above) hands a pair of shoes to one of the students.

CHAMPS/Life Skills Program

Several Lady Tigers logged summer work hours to get hands on job training experience. All-SEC guard Allison Hightower (above) worked for a Baton Rouge advertising agency in the summer of 2009. Hightower worked on various projects for the organization and learned advertising techniques.

Career DEVELOPMENT

Job Experience

The LSU football program has a longstanding internal summer jobs program that aggressively seeks opportunities to help place its players in career-developing positions within the community. Every LSU football player that wants to get a leg up on his future has the opportunity to earn valuable experience during the summer. Football players spend most of their summer participating in jobs that relate to their major, like working at ...

- ▶ Hospitals
- ▶ Physical Therapy centers
- ▶ Public Relations firms
- ▶ Building Contractors
- ▶ Restaurant Management
- ▶ Engineering firms
- ▶ Accounting offices

CHAMPS

The CHAMPS (Challenging Athletes Minds for Personal Success)/Life Skills program was developed by the NCAA to help prepare student-athletes for the challenges of life beyond the playing field.

How Can CHAMPS Help?

By focusing on "real life" skills and personal development, the CHAMPS Program not only assists the student-athletes with meeting daily challenges, but also enhances student-athlete's growth in their college years and beyond.

CHAMPS at LSU

The CHAMPS/Life Skills program at LSU is operated out of the Academic Center for Student-Athletes, and the focus of the program is on five commitments viewed as critical to personal growth.

Mike Mallet
Director of Student Affairs/
CHAMPS Program

Jade Jenkins
Assistant Director for Diversity,
Inclusion, and Civic Engagement

“It felt like an NCAA Tournament game because obviously they are one of the premiere teams in the country and this place (Pete Maravich Assembly Center) is one of the more difficult places in America to play judging by their winning streak.”

- Connecticut head coach Geno Auriemma (Feb. 11, 2007)

“It was definitely the most hostile environment we’ve seen.”

- Notre Dame Coach Muffet McGraw, after LSU’s 1999 NCAA Second Round win over the Irish in the Maravich Center.

Maravich

CENTER

Home Dominance

It has proven to be a difficult task for opposing teams to win in the Maravich Center. Since the 2004-05 season, LSU is 64-9 at home and over the last seven seasons, the Lady Tigers are an amazing 94-11 in the friendly confines of the Maravich Center. The new LSU Women's Basketball Complex, which cost over $500,000, was paid for by the Tiger Athletic Foundation, the LSU Athletic Department and the Women's Basketball Fast Break Club. The various state-of-the-art displays cost over $225,000 and were funded by a committee headed by the Fast Break Club. The art work was a seven-month process that included the Lady Tigers coaching staff, along with the LSU sports information department, going over several designs before choosing the final art.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hawie and Laura Leach head the list of Hall of Fame donors.

Practice FACILITY

A new era in LSU basketball will become a reality in January 2010 as the LSU men's and women's basketball practice facility is scheduled to open its doors.

The state-of-the-art $14 million project is being constructed by Guy Hopkins Construction of Baton Rouge based on the designs by the firm of Tom Holden Architects of Baton Rouge in a unique joint venture with RDG Sports of Des Moines, Iowa.

Ground was broken on the facility in the summer of 2008. The facility will be one of the finest of its kind in the nation. The highlight: two 11,000 square foot fully functional gyms for both the men and women's teams.

"We are excited about the opening of the practice facility," LSU head coach Van Chancellor said. "This will continue to put our program at the forefront of college basketball for both the men and women. It gives us an opportunity for our players to work on their game anytime they want to and doing so in a new first-class facility."

Practice Courts

Training Space

The new practice facility features two 11,000 square foot fully functioning practice gyms. Each gym includes the option to have one court or two side-by-side playing surfaces as well as a second level viewing area. The Maravich Center is host to four varsity sports as well as numerous events throughout the year. With the addition of these gyms, the volleyball team will continue to train in the current lower gym of the Maravich Center and the gymnastics team will utilize their training facility inside the Carl Maddox Fieldhouse.

Hydrotherapy Treatment

An integral part of rehabbing and developing LSU student-athletes is the operations center's hot/cold jacuzzis and an underwater treadmill in a fully equipped Hydrotherapy room. The Broussard training center boasts the largest hydrotherapy pool in both collegiate and professional sports.

Broussard Athletic TRAINING CENTER

Road To Recovery

LSU is one of the top schools in the nation to get its student-athletes back on the court in a timely manner following an injury. The training staff takes a progressive approach to injury identification and thinks "outside of the box." Melissa Moore, women's basketball strength and conditioning coordinator, provides players with one of the most unique training programs in the nation. Moore's plan is specifically geared to the development of basketball players and not only focuses on weight training but speed training, flexibility training, vertical jumping and conditioning as well. It is not uncommon to see the Lady Tigers on the track running resistance sprints with parachutes and bungee cords while also weaving through cones and ladders. The offseason program annually makes LSU one of the fittest and conditioned programs in the nation.

"Melissa Moore is the best strength coach I have ever been around in the business. One of the reasons why is because she makes our program sport specific. She makes it gender specific, and then she breaks it down and makes it position specific."

Bob Starkey
LSU Associate Head Coach

"Melissa has taken the program to another level. She is more than just a strength and conditioning coach. She has developed our quickness, explosiveness and verticals. She uses the most modern techniques to make the team better in all areas."

Sylvia Fowles
Former SEC Player of the Year

"We have a jumping program that trains them to jump better and higher, but also teach them how to land correctly and prevent injuries. That is something we have been fortunate with. Some teams can be plagued with a lot of ligament tears, but we do everything we can to prevent those type of problems."

Melissa Moore
Strength & Conditioning Coordinator

LSU will make two appearances on ESPN2 in 2010 as the Lady Tigers' games at South Carolina and at home against Tennessee will be the program's first appearances on the network. LSU's game at Tennessee on Feb. 22 has been picked up by ESPN2 while ESPN2 will televise both SEC Tournament semifinal games for the first time. In 2009-10, LSU will have more regular season games televised than any other season in school history.

2008 Beijing

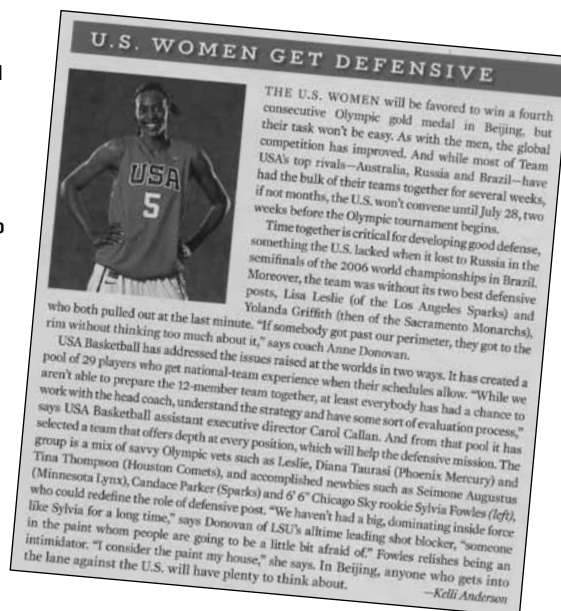

OLYMPIC GAMES

They came to Beijing for one ultimate prize in their first Olympic appearance. In August 2008, that childhood dream became a reality as former LSU All-Americans Sylvia Fowles and Seimone Augustus led the United States women's basketball team to a fourth straight Olympic gold medal at the 2008 Beijing Games.

Fowles and Augustus became the first Olympians in the history of LSU women's basketball when the team was announced in May 2008. The two, who combined to lead the Lady Tigers to five straight Final Fours over their careers, enhanced their legacies on the international stage. LSU women's basketball has now accounted for the two previous gold medals as LSU head coach Van Chancellor led the squad to victory in Athens in 2004. Team USA was coached by Anne Donovan, who served as an assistant to Chancellor in 2004.

Team USA strolled through the 2008 Beijing Games with a perfect 8-0 record and continued an Olympic play winning streak of 33 games dating back to 1992. The Americans became the first women's traditional team sport to claim four consecutive gold medals.

Fowles was featured in Sports Illustrated prior to the start of the Olympics, and she proved to be a dominating force in the paint en route to Olympic gold.

In their first Olympic appearance, the USA brought home the silver medal in Montreal. Gunter was then named head coach of the USA national team in both 1978 and 1980, leading to her being named the head coach of the USA Olympic team in 1980. The 1980 Olympic team included such great players like Denise Curry, Carol Blazekowski, Anne Donovan, Rosie Walker, and Lynette Woodard. The USA stormed to a 6-1 record during the qualifying tournament. However, the dream for Team USA's first Olympic gold medal was cut short when President Jimmy Carter ordered a boycott of the 1980 Olympic games in protest of the Soviet Union's invasion of Afghanistan.

Cannon's most memorable performance came in 1959 against Ole Miss when No. 1 LSU trailed No. 3 Ole Miss 3-0 in the fourth quarter. He fielded a punt, broke seven tackles and returned it 89 yards for the 7-3 victory. He went on to a successful 11-year professional career.

About LSU Retired Jerseys

The retirement of the jerseys of Casanova, McDonald and Macklin comes under a new provision of the LSU jersey retirement bylaws that says the retirement of an athlete's jersey in a particular sport does not preclude a current student-athlete in that sport from wearing the jersey number in that or any other sport, subject to the discretion of the head coach. This provision applies only to jerseys retired after January 1, 2007, so the numbers worn by Maravich, Pettit, O'Neal, Cannon and Bertman may never again be worn by future student-athletes in their respective sports. To have a jersey retired at LSU, an athlete must have completed intercollegiate competition for LSU a minimum of five years prior to nomination. Athletes must have demonstrated truly unusual and outstanding accomplishments, exceeding and in addition to all criteria used for Hall of Fame selection. Nominees must have a unanimous vote of support from the Hall of Fame committee.

Lady Tigers

TIMELINE

LSU is entering its 35th season of women's basketball. The Lady Tigers first played basketball as a varsity sport in 1975-76 and since that inaugural season, LSU has posted 31 winning seasons, played in 19 NCAA Tournaments, advanced to the AIAW National Championship game in 1977 and the NCAA Final Four in 2004, 2005, 2006, 2007 and 2008.

The Coaches

LSU has had five coaches in its history with Jinks Coleman serving as the school's first head coach and Van Chancellor as its newest. Coleman coached the Lady Tigers for three and a half years before stepping down midway through the 1978-79 season. In three-plus years with the Lady Tigers, Coleman guided LSU to a 91-32 overall mark.

Her crowning moment with LSU came during the 1976-77 season as she led the Lady Tigers to the AIAW National Championship game. LSU fell to top-ranked Delta State, but that 1977 team remains the only squad in school history to play for a national title.

Coleman was replaced by Barbara Swanner midway through the 1979 season and Swanner coached the Lady Tigers for the next three years. She led LSU to an overall mark of 57-50 before ending her coaching career at the conclusion of the 1981-82 season.

Hall of Famer Sue Gunter joined the Lady Tigers for the 1982-83 season. In 22 seasons with the Lady Tigers, Gunter led the Lady Tigers to 442 victories and guided her teams to 14 NCAA Tournament appearances, the 1991 and 2003 SEC Tournament titles and the 2004 NCAA Final Four. Gunter, who retired following the 2003-04 season, is a member of the both the Naismith Hall of Fame and the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame.

Pokey Chatman replaced Gunter after serving as the acting head coach for 20 games in 2003-04, guiding the team to a 15-5 mark, including the program's first trip to the NCAA Final Four. She finished her career during the 2006-07 season with a 90-14 record.

Van Chancellor was named the fifth head coach in history on April 11, 2007.

The 1970s

The decade of the 1970's saw the start of women's basketball as a varsity sport at LSU. The Lady Tigers played their first game in November of 1975, losing to Whitworth, 64-58. LSU's first win came a week later with a 75-62 win over Southwestern Louisiana. The win was the first of 17 for the Lady Tigers in their inaugural season as LSU posted a first-year mark of 17-14.

A year later, LSU, behind the play of a couple of Australians in Maree Jackson and Julie Gross, was playing for the AIAW National title. After going unrecognized for much of the year, LSU finally began to gain some respect with wins over three ranked teams in February. The Lady Tigers entered the AIAW State Tournament on a roll, however, LSU lost to Louisiana Tech and Northwestern State, but they were still able to advance to the AIAW Regional Tournament. At Regionals, the Lady Tigers beat Texas, Stephen F. Austin and Baylor to advance to the AIAW National Tournament.

By this time the Lady Tigers were ranked No. 11 in the nation and after wins over Western Washington and Baylor, LSU was in the Final Four. LSU knocked off second-ranked Immaculata, 74-68, in the semifinals and then fell to top-ranked Delta State, 68-55, in the national title game. LSU finished with a 29-8 overall mark, the second-most victories recorded in school history in a single year at the time.

In 1977-78, the Lady Tigers achieved their first No. 1 ranking as LSU spent most of January and February atop the Associated Press poll, after having started the year ranked No. 2 in the nation. The Lady Tigers stayed there until Feb. 15 when Tennessee moved ahead of LSU. Despite being ranked No. 2 in the nation, LSU couldn't advance out of the Regionals as the Sue Gunter-coached Stephen F. Austin Ladyjacks eliminated the Lady Tigers in the semifinals. LSU still won 37 games, which remains the school record for victories in a season.

LSU closed out the decade of the 1970's with a coaching change as Jinks Coleman stepped down after 15 games in the 1978-79 season. With an 8-7 mark, Coleman was replaced by Barbara Swanner, who guided LSU to a 5-5 mark over the final 10 games of the year. LSU finished with a 13-12 record.

The 1980s

The decade of the 80's saw LSU establish itself as one of the top programs in the country.

LSU opened the decade under Barbara Swanner and posted a 17-17 mark and reached the semifinals of the AIAW Regional Tournament.

A year later, Joyce Walker came to Baton Rouge and put women's basketball at LSU back on the map. Walker, who was way ahead of her time, could do it all. In her first year with the Lady Tigers she averaged 20.7 points a contest and led the Lady Tigers to a 17-15 mark.

A year later, the NCAA became the governing body of women's athletics and the NCAA Tournament was started. The Lady Tigers didn't make the NCAA Tournament in 1982, but still posted an 18-13 overall mark as Walker averaged 24.9 points a contest. That season was Swanner's last year as head coach of the Lady Tigers.

The 1982-83 season was

TIMELINE

the first for the Lady Tigers under Sue Gunter, who came to LSU from Stephen F. Austin in Nacogdoches, Texas. In her first year with LSU, Gunter guided the Lady Tigers to a 20-7 mark and a tie for first place in the Western Division of the SEC.

Walker's last year with LSU in 1983-84 marked the Lady Tigers' first-ever appearance in the NCAA Tournament. LSU went 23-7 and reached the Sweet 16 at the NCAA Tournament before falling to Louisiana Tech.

In 1984-85, the Lady Tigers claimed the National Women's Invitational Tournament (NWIT) title with a 74-54 win over Florida in the championship game.

LSU's best season since 1977 occurred in 1985-86 as the Lady Tigers climbed all the way to No. 8 in the nation and reached the Elite Eight at the NCAA Tournament before falling to Tennessee in the final seconds, 67-65.

Another 20-win season followed in 1986-87 as the Lady Tigers spent most of the year ranked in the top 10. However, the Lady Tigers lost their last three games, including a 70-56 setback to Southern Illinois in the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

The 1987-88 season saw the arrival of Dana "Pokey" Chatman, the best point guard in school history. Chatman helped guide the Lady Tigers to an 18-11 mark and another NCAA Tournament appearance. LSU closed out the 1980's with its fifth NCAA Tournament appearance as LSU reached the Sweet 16 before falling to Louisiana Tech.

The 1990s

The decade of the 1990's was one of ups and downs for the Lady

Tigers. LSU opened the decade with a 21-9 overall mark and its fifth NCAA Tournament appearance.

A year later, the Pokey Chatman era came to an end as the Lady Tigers posted a 24-7 overall mark, won the school's first SEC Tournament title and were seeded No. 2 in the Midwest Region of the NCAA Tournament.

The 1991-92 season started the Cornelia Gayden era, but it was also the beginning of a stretch that saw the Lady Tigers go five years without an appearance in the NCAA Tournament. LSU posted a 16-13 overall mark, but five straight losses in mid-February kept the Lady Tigers home in March.

A year later in 1992-93, the Lady Tigers had their first-ever losing record as LSU went 9-18 and was winless in the SEC for the first time. Things weren't much better in 1993-94 as LSU went 11-16 overall and tied for 10th in the SEC.

One of the bright spots in 1994-95 was Sue Gunter's 500th career victory on the same night Gayden set an NCAA record with 12 3-point goals in a 92-62 win over Jackson State on Feb. 9 in Baton Rouge. LSU suffered through its worst record ever that year as the Lady Tigers posted a 7-20 mark.

Despite the losing record the year prior, LSU signed one of the nation's best recruiting classes for the 1995-96 season and the results were immediate. LSU had the biggest turnaround in SEC history as the Lady Tigers went from 7-20 in 1994-95 to 21-11 in 1995-96. Junior college transfers Elaine Powell and Pietra Gay help lead LSU to a win over second-ranked Georgia in the SEC Tournament as the Lady Tigers appeared to be headed for its first NCAA Tournament appearance in five years, but was denied. The Lady Tigers settled for the NWIT, where they placed third out of eight teams.

The following year, LSU posted its best record in the 90's as they went 25-5 overall, won nine SEC games and reached the Sweet 16 for the first time since 1989. In 1997-98, the Lady Tigers, in what was supposed to be a rebuilding year, posted a 19-13 overall mark and reached the semifinals of the Women's NIT.

In 1998-99 the Lady Tigers, behind the play of senior point guard Latasha Dorsey, the only senior on the team, reached the Sweet 16 for the second time in three years and finished second in the SEC with a school-record 10 league wins. LSU's 22-8 overall mark in 1998-99 was LSU's fourth 20-win season of the 1990s.

The 2000s

The Lady Tigers rolled into the new millennium much like the way they ended the old one. In 1999-2000, LSU was 25-7 overall and 11-3 in the SEC, the best record for the program since 1996-97. The 11-3 conference mark was the best in the school's history. LSU rode that success all the way to the program's second Elite Eight appearance in the NCAA Tournament, falling to Connecticut in the regional final.

Another 20-win season greeted the Lady Tigers in 2000-01, compiling a 20-11 mark, including the fifth straight winning conference record at 8-6.

The 2001-02 season could have been one of the finest in recent history. Gunter's group of just six healthy players collected 18 victories, including a trip to the SEC Tournament Championship game and a fourth straight trip to the NCAA Tournament.

Building on the success of the previous two seasons, the 2002-03 team went even further, ending the season with a 30-4 record, winning the SEC Tournament title, advancing to the NCAA Elite Eight and finishing the season ranked No. 3 in the national rankings.

It was in 2003-04 that the much eluded goal of the Lady Tigers was reached, advancing to the Final Four. The 2003-04 team posted at 27-8 record and steamed through the

LSU's first No. 1 ranked team - 1977-78

NCAA Tournament on its way to New Orleans and the Final Four. Despite the success, the 2003-04 season was full of adversity. Hall of Fame head coach Sue Gunter missed most of the season due to illness and ultimately retired following the season. Gunter

Seimone Augustus soared the LSU Women's Basketball Program to national prominence after being named two-time consensus player of the year and leading the Lady Tigers to three NCAA Final Fours.

LSU's AIAW National Runner-up team - 1976-77

was replaced during the season and on a full-time basis with former All-American guard Pokey Chatman.

The next season, in her first full year, Chatman, again guided the Lady Tigers to success. In 2004-05, LSU posted a 33-3 overall record, was ranked No. 1 in the nation for 11 weeks, won the program's first SEC regular season title with a perfect 14-0 mark, and advanced to the NCAA Final Four in Indianapolis. Chatman and guard Seimone Augustus earned numerous national honors, including sweeping the National Coach and Player of the Year honors.

The Lady Tigers continued their success in 2005-06 with a return to the Final Four and a repeat as SEC regular season champions. LSU posted a 31-4 overall record and a 13-1 league mark. Seimone Augustus completed her collegiate career as the 2006 National Player of the Year.

The 2006-07 season once again saw the Lady Tigers reach the NCAA Final Four after overcoming some late season adversity. LSU posted a 30-8 overall record and junior center Sylvia Fowles earned Kodak All-American honors.

The 2007-08 season saw LSU reach its fifth straight Final Four, becoming only the second program in NCAA women's history to achieve that feat. LSU won the Southeastern Conference regular season championship with a perfect 14-0 record while finishing 31-6 overall.

VAN CHANCELLOR

HEAD COACH • THIRD SEASON AT LSU • 22ND SEASON OVERALL

NAISMITH HALL OF FAMER

Chancellor was inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in 2007. His Hall of Fame display in Springfield, Mass., is pictured above.

“Van has been good for women’s basketball on all levels, but I think he established himself as an outstanding coach in the Southeastern Conference. Personally, I’m glad that he’s back.”

- Andy Landers

Head Coach University of Georgia

Few coaches could have been the perfect fit for a tradition-rich program that had advanced to four straight NCAA Final Fours. LSU found that person when Hall of Famer Van Chancellor became the fifth women’s basketball coach in school history in 2007.

Chancellor, a veteran head coach of 30 years at both the collegiate and professional levels, brought an impeccable resume to LSU, one that included leading the United States to a gold medal in the 2004 Olympics Games, four WNBA titles with the Houston Comets and 14 NCAA Tournament appearances at Ole Miss.

Chancellor enhanced his legacy in his first season in Baton Rouge, leading the Lady Tigers back to the Final Four for the fifth straight season and guiding the program to its third Southeastern Conference regular season title in four seasons. For his efforts, Chancellor was named 2008 Southeastern Conference Coach of the Year by both the coaches and the media and was one of four finalists for the Naismith National Coach of the Year award. He became the third coach of LSU to earn SEC Coach of the Year honors.

Chancellor led the Lady Tigers to a perfect 14-0 SEC record and the school’s third outright regular season league title. During the team’s 2007-08 run, he coached his 600th career game on Nov. 29 at Houston.

“It is nice for this program to receive these honors,” Chancellor said. “The coaches and players worked so hard all season to accomplish the goal of becoming SEC Champions and these honors reflect the hard work. I am personally honored to be named coach of the year, but all of the credit goes to my assistant coaches and players.”

In his first season back at the collegiate level, Chancellor helped LSU become only the second school in the history of NCAA women’s basketball to advance to five straight Final Fours. It was also the first Final Four appearance for him as a head coach.

One year later, Chancellor delivered what might have been his finest coaching performance to date. LSU lost all five starters and eight letterwinners from its 2008 Final Four team, yet the Lady Tigers still managed to finish in a second-place tie in the 2009 SEC final standings.

Chancellor and the Lady Tigers reeled off five straight wins to close the regular season and punctuated that with an 11th consecutive trip to the NCAA Tournament despite boasting one of the three youngest teams in America. LSU advanced to the second round and nearly knocked off eventual national championship game participant Louisville in the Maravich Center.

Today, Chancellor sits at 489 wins -- 11 shy of 500 -- in 21 collegiate seasons. His winning percentage of .741 ranks among the game's elites. Chancellor was officially hired on April 11, 2007 by then Athletic Director Skip Bertman.

"It's a rare occasion that an athletic director has the opportunity to hire a person with the credentials that Van Chancellor brings to our women's basketball program," Bertman said. "Van has experienced tremendous success at all levels of women's basketball.

In addition to his 2007 induction into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame, along with the likes of Roy Williams, Phil Jackson and Mendy Rudolph, Chancellor is also a member of the "Coach not only cares about you as a player but as a person as well. He is like a father figure to the entire team and does everything he can to help you become a better player."

- 2008 All-SEC guard and WNBA Draft Pick Quianna Chaney

Four WNBA Titles

Chancellor spent 10 seasons in Houston leading the Comets to the first four WNBA titles in league history from 1997-2000.

“He’s a player’s coach. He allows you to showcase your talents and doesn’t bog you down with a lot of offenses. He pretty much lets you have your freedom within his offense. More than anything, he believed in my talents and he believed in me. That allowed me to perform better.”

- Cynthia Cooper, former WNBA star

“He brings a great deal of expertise and personality to the court. Van is a coach who has won at every level – he was a winner in the high school ranks...he was very successful during his time at Ole Miss...he goes to the WNBA and wins championships with the Houston Comets...he coaches the USA team to an Olympic gold medal. I can’t think of another individual in the coaching ranks who has proven himself on every level.”

- Pat Summitt, Tennessee Head Coach

Women’s Basketball Hall of Fame.

Success has followed Chancellor at every turn, as he posted a 38-0 mark in international competition as head coach of the United States Olympic Team.

Chancellor served for 10 years as head coach of the Houston Comets from 1997-2006. During that time, Chancellor was named the WNBA Coach of the Year three times (1997, 1998, 1999) and he led the franchise to the league’s first four titles. Under Chancellor’s direction, the Comets were the only team in the WNBA to make the playoffs in each of the first seven seasons of the league.

The 1998 Comets still hold the record for highest winning percentage in the history of NBA and WNBA basketball with a 27-3 mark (.900).

Chancellor’s teams posted a 211-111 record in 10 seasons, which today still makes him the winningest coach in league history. Chancellor had the distinction of coaching the Western Conference All-Star Team three times during his career and he was also named the coach of the WNBA’s All-Decade Team in June of 2006. He never lost an All-Star Game.

As head coach of the Comets, Chancellor produced the WNBA Most Valuable Player five times, the WNBA Defensive Player of the Year three times and the league’s most improved player twice.

Before his jump to the professional ranks, Chancellor spent 19 seasons at Ole Miss, developing the Lady Rebels into one of the nation’s premier women’s basketball programs. As the Ole Miss head coach, Chancellor guided the Lady Rebels to the NCAA Tournament 14 times, which included 11 consecutive appearances from 1982 to 1992.

In 19 years at Ole Miss, Chancellor’s

"Van Chancellor has been a pioneer with success at every level – in college, in the WNBA with the world titles at Houston, with USA Basketball and the gold medal in Athens and now with the crowning jewel, the Naismith Hall of Fame. This shows his intense knowledge of the game. I am sure he will do great things at LSU and is back in his old stomping grounds of the SEC."

teams won at least 20 games 15 times, including a school-record 31 wins in 1978-79. He also led the Lady Rebels to top 20 final rankings 13 times and top 10 finishes four times (No. 5 in 1992, No. 6 in 1985, No. 8 in 1987 and No. 10 in 1984).

Chancellor led Ole Miss to the Elite Eight of the NCAA Tournament four times, while his teams made the Sweet 16 on three other occasions.

Chancellor was named the SEC Coach of the Year three times at Ole Miss, including the 1992 season when the Lady Rebels were 29-3 overall and claimed the league's regular season title with a perfect 11-0 mark. That year, the Lady Rebels reached the NCAA Tournament's Elite Eight before falling to Southwest Missouri State.

Chancellor played two years of basketball at East Central Junior College in Decatur, Miss., before transferring to Mississippi State, where he earned a bachelor's degree in math and physical education in 1965.

He entered the coaching ranks during his senior year at Mississippi State, serving as head coach of the boy's basketball team at Noxapater High School. Chancellor went on to coach boy's and girl's basketball at Horn Lake High School and Harrison Central High School in Mississippi. Chancellor received his master's degree in physical education from Ole Miss in 1973.

Born September 27, 1943, in Louisville, Miss., Chancellor and his wife, Betty, have two children, John and Renee, and four grandsons, Nicholas, Jacob, Joseph and Zachary. John followed in his father's footsteps and is the current head women's basketball head coach at Barber's Hill High School in Mont Belvieu, Texas, just east of Houston.

Since his arrival in Baton Rouge, Chancellor has been a constant in the community with his various speaking engagements and contributions. In the summer of 2008, Chancellor addressed the principals of the East Baton Rouge Parish School System about the values of education. The Hall of Famer also laid out plans of a partnership between the LSU women's basketball program and elementary and middle schools in the area to honor education.

A book published in the fall of 1999, "Nothin' But a Champion," chronicles Chancellor's life from his childhood roots in Mississippi through his third WNBA Championship with the Houston Comets. In addition to his coaching duties, Chancellor has spent time serving as a television analyst for women's college basketball, working for both ESPN and SEC-TV.

BOB STARKEY

ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH • 21ST SEASON

Bob Starkey, one of the top minds in all of college basketball, enters his 21st season at LSU and 12th season on the LSU women's basketball staff. Starkey has been a part of all five of the Lady Tigers' NCAA Final Fours.

Starkey was promoted to associate head coach by Van Chancellor on May 15, 2007 after serving as LSU's acting head coach during the 2007 NCAA Tournament run that saw the Lady Tigers advance to the program's fourth straight Final Four.

As acting head coach Starkey guided the team to wins over UNC Asheville, West Virginia, Florida State and No. 1 seed Connecticut to reach Cleveland and the Final Four.

Starkey has been with the Lady Tigers' program since joining the team on a full-time basis in 1998. Starkey had served as the administrative assistant for both the LSU men's and women's basketball team for two years prior to joining the Lady Tigers as assistant coach.

Starkey works with all phases of the program, which includes working with post players on the practice floor. He also breaks down game tape and develops game plans while compiling scouting reports on LSU's opponents.

On the court, Starkey has been instrumental in the development of post players. As a men's coach at LSU he worked with Shaquille O'Neal, Stanley Roberts and Geert Hammink, all first round picks in the NBA. Starkey also coached Ron Moore, a 1987 NBA draft pick from West Virginia State College.

As a women's coach, Starkey continued his work with the posts, including Sylvia Fowles, the second overall pick of the 2008 WNBA draft, first-round WNBA pick Aiysha Smith and second-round WNBA picks DeTrina White and Ke-Ke Tardy.

In addition, Starkey handles all scheduling for the Lady Tigers, serves as the director of the LSU Lady Tigers' Fast Break Club and is also involved in all areas of promotions for the women's program. With his help, the Lady Tigers have enjoyed great success over the past few years, including finishing in the top 20 in the country in average home attendance in the past five seasons.

As the administrative assistant, Starkey provided valuable assistance to both the men's and women's programs, handling many of the responsibilities for both groups that would ease the work load for the coaching staff, allowing them to concentrate fully on their teams, recruiting and future opponents.

Starkey served as tournament director for the 1997 NCAA Women's Basketball Subregional held at the Pete Maravich Assembly Center. The NCAA Subregional was the first for LSU to host and it was also called by many that attended the event as one of the best-run subregionals since the NCAA changed tournament formats.

Perhaps Starkey's finest achievement in the role of administrative assistant came in development of Pack the PMAC. The Pack the PMAC promotion has developed into an LSU tradition.

Prior to his stint as an administrative assistant, Starkey served as an assistant coach for Dale Brown on the LSU men's basketball staff from 1990-1996, during which time the Tigers participated in four NCAA Tournaments. While on the men's staff, Starkey coached three first-round NBA draft picks in Shaquille O'Neal, Chris Jackson and Stanley Roberts. As a recruiter, he helped sign three nationally-ranked recruiting classes, including one which was rated No. 1 in the country.

Groomed on the high school level in West Virginia, Starkey started his coaching career as an assistant at Winfield High School where he helped guide the boys program to a five-year record of 72-45 and the girls program to an 87-23 record.

Starkey then made his first appearance in the collegiate ranks as an assistant at West Virginia College on the NAIA level. In his three-year stint at West Virginia State, the program blossomed with improving records of 17-10, 26-4 and 31-4. That final season saw the Yellow Jackets capture conference and district titles on their way to the NAIA National Championship game, where they were a one-point loser to Washburn University.

Following that, Starkey also served for one year at Poca High School in West Virginia with his former high school coach, Allen Osborne, and teamed up for the 1988-89 season with Judy Southard to lead the women's program at Marshall to an 18-10 record and a regular season Southern Conference Championship. Southard is now in her fourth year as the senior woman administrator at LSU after serving as the Athletic Director at Texas Women's University.

Starkey, who considers himself a full-time student of the game, has written numerous articles and has authored such basketball books as The 2-3 Match-Up Defense and Motion Offense. His latest project is a Basketball Coaching Series of books that include The Art of Being An Assistant Coach, The Art of Scouting and The Art of Motivation.

Starkey is a master motivator and runs his own coaching and player online blog that features daily updates at <http://hoopthoughts.blogspot.com>. In the spring of 2009, Starkey and LSU head football coach Les Miles became the first two coaches in the Athletic Department to create their own Twitter accounts on the popular social networking entity. During the 2009-10 season, fans can follow Starkey and the Lady Tigers on a close basis @LSUCoachStarkey.

The native of Charleston, W.V., is married to the former Sherie Hayslett, also a native of West Virginia.

KENYA LARKIN-LANDERS

ASSISTANT COACH • SECOND SEASON

Kenya Larkin-Landers enters her second season as an assistant coach on the LSU women's basketball staff. She joined the Lady Tigers prior to the 2008-09 season after serving three seasons in the same capacity at Oklahoma State.

Landers, 29, joined the OSU staff in 2005 and was instrumental in helping lead the Cowgirls to consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances in 2007 and 2008. In 2008, OSU reached the Sweet 16 before falling to LSU, 67-52, in the New Orleans Regional Semifinal.

Prior to her tenure at OSU, Landers began her coaching career at Trinity Valley Community College. In her first season on the staff, she helped guide the Lady Cardinals to a 32-3 mark, collecting regional and conference titles along the way.

Landers played professionally overseas for two seasons, leading her squad to the Israeli Women's League playoffs twice. She was third in the league in scoring during her first season and was tabbed as the league's point guard of the year. She was also named an all-league selection both years.

The Duncanville, Texas, native began her collegiate playing career at Trinity Valley where she starred for two seasons at point guard. As a freshman, she directed the Lady Cardinals to a 36-0 mark and the 1999 National Junior College Athletic Association national championship.

Rated as the fourth-best junior college point guard as a sophomore, Landers led Trinity Valley to a 24-6 mark and the Region XIV title on her way to garnering first-team all-region, and first-team all-conference honors before moving on to the University of Texas.

Landers played in each of the Longhorns' 65 games during her two seasons in Austin, starting 62 times and leading the squad in assists both years. She started all 32 games as a senior to help Texas reach the Sweet 16.

Landers finished her Longhorn career with 443 points, 195 assists and 97 steals before being invited to the 2002 WNBA Pre-Draft Camp.

She earned her bachelor's degree in education from the University of Texas in 2002. Landers is married to Michael Landers, who is the Athletic Director and women's basketball head coach at Baton Rouge Community College.

Landers' mother, Dinia Johnson, and her sister, Maya Johnson, 14, reside in Duncanville, Texas. Her 19-year-old brother, Corey, is a junior in college.

TRAVIS MAYS

ASSISTANT COACH • THIRD SEASON

Travis Mays, one of the nation's top recruiters, enters his third season as an assistant coach at LSU.

Mays, a native of Ocala, Fla., came to LSU after a three-year stint as an assistant coach for Jody Conradt at his alma mater, the University of Texas.

Mays has played a crucial role in LSU's recruiting process that has landed two straight top 10 classes the past two years, including the nation's No. 3 class in 2008 by ESPN HoopGurlz.com.

During his first season in Baton Rouge, Mays helped guide the Lady Tigers to the program's fifth straight Final Four and the third Southeastern Conference regular season title in four seasons. He regularly works with LSU's perimeter players, which has included the development of 2009 All-SEC first team selection Allison Hightower.

One of the most acclaimed players in Texas men's basketball history, Mays is the number two scorer at Texas and was a first-round NBA draft pick.

Mays played at Texas from 1986-90 and helped resurrect Longhorns basketball in the latter years of the Southwest Conference.

Prior to his time as a coach at Texas, Mays spent the 2002 and 2003 seasons coaching and scouting for the WNBA San Antonio Silver Stars franchise. He was an assistant coach during the 2002 season and spent the last year as head scout for the Silver Stars. He also coached AAU boys' basketball for the Tennessee/Alabama "Pump" team in the summer of 2003.

Mays was an Associated Press Second Team All-American as a senior. He ranks second in UT men's basketball all-time scoring (2,279 points) and also second in Southwest Conference all-time scoring. Mays' career scoring average was 18.4 points per game. He scored in double-figures in 100 of 124 career games, and he is the only Texas men's player in history to score more than 700 points in a season. He did that with 743 points as a junior and 772 as a senior.

In his final two seasons at Texas, Mays was part of the most prolific guard scoring trio in Texas history, alongside Joey Wright (1,819 points) and Lance Blanks (1,322). They came to be known as "BMW-The Ultimate Scoring Machine" and led Texas to the Elite Eight in 1990 before the Longhorns' three-point loss to Arkansas.

Mays led Texas to the 1990 Elite Eight, scoring 24.1 points per contest. Against Georgia in the first round of the 1990 tourney, Mays poured in 44 points, which still stands tied for the 11th-best single game scoring effort in NCAA Tournament history.

He was the first player in SWC history to earn back-to-back Player of the Year honors as a junior and senior in 1989 and 1990.

Mays received a bachelor's degree in psychology from Texas in 1990.

A first-round NBA draft pick in 1990 by the Sacramento Kings, chosen 14th overall, Mays spent his first year in the NBA with the Kings (1991) and then spent two years with the Atlanta Hawks (1991-93). He was named to the NBA All-Rookie Second Team, averaging 14.3 points per game in his first pro season.

Two games into his second season, Mays ruptured both tendons in his right ankle and was out for the season before returning for his final NBA season the following year. Mays had a NBA career scoring average of 11.1 points per game.

Mays' pro career extended to European basketball as he played in Greece, Israel, Turkey and Italy. Highlights of his European career include selection to the European All-Star Game, leading Panionios (Greece) to the European Championship final eight with 27.5 points per contest. He was also a first team All-Star selection (1999-2001) on Italy's Siena squad.

Mays was inducted into the University of Texas Men's Athletics Hall of Honor in 2002. He was a scholastic All-America standout at Vanguard High School in Ocala, Fla.

He resides in Baton Rouge, with his wife, Mirella, and daughter, Cherrell, 15 and Trevor, 3.

LSU, which hosted the NCAA Tournament First and Second Rounds, advanced to NCAA postseason play for the 11th straight season and the 19th time overall.

Keeping THE LEGACY Alive

Despite Nine New Faces, LSU Advanced To NCAA Tournament Second Round

For most programs, losing five starters and eight seniors from a team that advances to the NCAA Final Four results in a rebuilding year the following season with a trip to NCAA postseason play a long shot. Not at LSU.

Second-year head coach Van Chancellor knew there would be challenges with a youthful group trying to live up to expectations of past Lady Tiger teams. LSU went into the 2008-09 season with nine new faces. The Lady Tigers were picked fifth in the Southeastern Conference preseason standings with an outside shot at an NCAA Tournament appearance. LSU was coming off a fifth straight Final Four appearance.

LSU went 1-3 in the month of November with close home losses to No. 16/14 Notre Dame, No. 25 Xavier and Middle Tennessee. The Lady Tigers were a team searching for an identity, but LSU made a significant impact when it gave eventual national champion Connecticut its toughest test to date on Jan. 3 in Hartford. The Huskies, who ran through the season undefeated, held off LSU, 76-63, but the Lady Tigers took that momentum into their first SEC game at Arkansas on Jan. 8.

Freshman LaSondra Barrett's 27 points in her SEC debut lifted LSU past the Razorbacks in the opener. The Lady Tigers still found themselves at 4-4 in league play past the midway point of the season. LSU sat in sixth place in the SEC and on the NCAA Tournament bubble on Feb. 15 with five conference games remaining.

Chancellor and the Lady Tigers found the identity they had been looking for when ninth-ranked Florida came to town. In front of a Maravich Center crowd of 6,000 at Pack the PMAC 13, LSU held the Gators to a season-low 32.1 percent shooting en route to a 66-47 victory.

That game represented the fourth consecutive contest Chancellor started the combination of Barrett, Allison Hightower, Latear Eason, Kristen Morris and Katherine Graham. The five starters had developed a chemistry that would carry LSU to a five-game winning streak to close the regular season and a share of second place in the final SEC standings.

During the streak, the Lady Tigers knocked off No. 18/23 Tennessee, 63-61, in a thrilling contest at the Maravich Center on Feb. 26. Though a loss to Vanderbilt in the SEC Tournament semifinals ended the run, LSU had accomplished what it needed to do to reach the NCAA Tournament for the 11th straight year.

The Lady Tigers played host to the NCAA Tournament First and Second Rounds at the Maravich Center. The home court advantage proved to be crucial as LSU bested Green Bay, 69-59, in the first round before giving No. 7 Louisville all it could handle in the second round. The Cardinals, led by WNBA No. 1 Draft pick Angel McCoughtry, were too much for the Lady Tigers in the end as LSU fell by a score of 62-52.

The Hall of Fame Chancellor, who had been a part of four WNBA team titles and one Olympic gold medal, might have delivered his finest coaching performance to date. The youthful Lady Tigers continued the legacy of postseason play and set the foundation for a squad full of promise in 2009-10.

"I am incredibly proud of this team," Chancellor said after the Louisville loss. "I thought this was a great year for us. If you would have told me that when we got beat in the (2008) Final Four and would return four players and three of them never played in a pressure game with a shot at the Sweet 16, I would not have believed you. Our kids gave it everything they had. We had an incredible run."

LSU DANCED FOR 11TH STRAIGHT YEAR

Thanks to a remarkable six-game winning streak toward the end of the season, LSU pushed its NCAA Tournament appearance streak to 11 straight seasons. It was the Lady Tigers' 19th overall appearance in "March Madness". The 11 straight seasons are a school record for consecutive appearances in the NCAA Tournament. LSU made the tournament for the first time in 1984, again in 1986, 1987, 1988, 1989, 1990, 1991, 1997, 1999, 2000, 2001, 2002, 2003, 2004, 2005, 2006, 2007 and 2008.

LaSondra Barrett poured in an LSU SEC freshman record 27 points in her conference debut at Arkansas on Jan. 8.

STATE OF THE PROGRAM

Several streaks continued for the LSU women's basketball program during the 2008-09 campaign:

- 7 - Straight seasons of double-digit SEC wins, the longest current streak in the league since Tennessee's streak ended at 11 straight via its nine wins this season
- 61 - Number of SEC wins since 2005, which is second most of any team in the league ... Tennessee has 62.
- 8 - Straight years of earning a bye in the SEC Tournament, the longest current streak in the league since Tennessee's ended at 11
- 6 - Out of last seven seasons LSU has finished with at least a share of second place in the SEC ... Three of those finishes were as conference champions
- 5 - Consecutive years LSU has led the SEC in scoring defense, even despite starting a new five in 2008-09
- 6 - Straight years of producing an All-SEC First Team selection after Allison Hightower was a unanimous choice

LSU FINISHED TIED FOR SECOND IN SEC

LSU reeled off five straight SEC wins to finish at 10-4 and a tie for second in the final 2009 SEC standings. Vanderbilt also finished 10-4 while Auburn won the league at 12-2. The Lady Tigers were 4-4 and in a tie for sixth before the streak began. LSU's win at Ole Miss in the regular season finale preserved the Lady Tigers' streak of double-digit SEC wins. That streak is now at seven years in a row and is the longest current streak in the league.

HIGHTOWER IN THE RECORD BOOKS

Allison Hightower became the first player in school history to lead the Lady Tigers in points, assists, steals and blocks in a single season, and she became the first player since All-American Marie Ferdinand (1999) to lead LSU in points, assists and steals in a single season. Hightower led LSU in six categories, including points (14.9), assists (3.0), steals (1.9), blocks (1.2), minutes played (35.0) and field goal percentage (.457). She finished the season with 447 points that put her at 943 points for her career, 57 shy of 1000. Hightower ranked fifth in the SEC in points per game, fifth in field goal percentage, 11th in assists, seventh in steals, 11th in blocked shots, second in minutes played and third in assist/turnover ratio (1.8). Hightower earned 2009 State Farm Coaches' Honorable Mention All-America honors at season's end.

HIGHTOWER'S CAREER NIGHT

Allison Hightower scored a career-high 26 points to go along with three assists and three steals in her first career NCAA Tournament start against Green Bay. Here are a few notables on her 26-point performance:

- She had 20 points in the first half, the most by an LSU player in a half in an NCAA Tournament game since Marie Ferdinand had 20 versus Purdue in the second round on March 18, 2001 (LSU lost that game 73-70).
- Most points by an LSU player in an NCAA Tournament game since Seimone Augustus scored 26 points against Stanford in the 2006 Elite Eight on March 27

HIGHTOWER, BARRETT EARN SEC AWARDS

LaSondra Barrett was named Southeastern Conference Co-Freshman of the Year and junior guard Allison Hightower was a unanimous selection on the Coaches All-SEC First Team in 2008-09. Barrett, who shared the honor with Arkansas' Ceira Ricketts, became the second player in school history to earn the Coaches Freshman of the Year honor and the first since Seimone Augustus was the recipient in 2003. Barrett was also one of eight players named to the SEC All-Freshman Team. For the season, she averaged 11.4 points and a team-high 5.7 rebounds per contest. Hightower earned All-SEC First Team honors for the first time in her career while also being named to the SEC All-Defensive Team. It marked the sixth straight season LSU put a player on the Coaches All-SEC First Team, now the longest current streak of any team in the league.

LSU SECURES 14TH STRAIGHT WINNING SEASON, ANOTHER 10-WIN SEC SEASON

LSU finished with another winning season. The 14-year stretch is the longest streak in school history. The last time LSU finished with a losing record was the 1994-95 season when the Lady Tigers posted a 7-20 overall mark. LSU has posted 12 consecutive SEC seasons of .500 or better. The last time the Lady Tigers finished with a losing record in league play was 1996 with a 4-7 mark. LSU secured its 14th straight season of at least 15 wins. The win over Ole Miss in the regular season finale gave LSU its seventh straight season of double-digit SEC wins, a first in school history. The win also gave the Lady Tigers the ninth season in program history of at least 10 SEC wins.

LSU SEC'S NO. 1 SCORING DEFENSE

LSU clearly displayed the SEC's No. 1 scoring defense last season, surrendering only 53.5 points per game. The Lady Tigers held No. 9/11 Florida to 44 points, a season-low for the Gators. LSU held opponents seven times to 45 points or less and 14 times to 50 points or less in 2008-09. LSU has led the SEC in scoring defense for now five straight seasons. Defense has been the cornerstone of LSU's postseason teams. The following is a look at LSU's No. 1 league scoring defenses the last five years:

Season	Opponent PPG	Pts
2008-09	53.5	1605
2007-08	50.0	1849
2006-07	49.0	1863
2005-06	53.3	1866
2004-05	52.4	1886

A HISTORIC NIGHT FOR BARRETT

Freshman forward LaSondra Barrett did something no LSU true freshman had ever done on Jan. 8, 2009, at Arkansas. Not even former All-Americans and United States Olympic gold medalists Seimone Augustus and Sylvia Fowles achieved the feat. Barrett scored 27 points in her SEC debut, which Latear Eason started the final 11 games of the season and stabilized the point guard position for LSU.

Kristen Morris, LSU's lone senior, emerged as a threat on both ends of the floor in the final month of the season for the Lady Tigers.

set the school record for most points by an LSU true freshman in an SEC regular season game. The point total tied the overall LSU freshman mark set by Cornelia Gayden, who scored 27 points at Georgia on Feb. 22, 1992. Gayden was considered a redshirt freshman that season after sitting out the 1990-91 season as a Proposition 26. Barrett scored 16 of her 27 points in the second half and finished 12-of-18 from the field. Barrett's 27 points were the most by an LSU true freshman in any game since Augustus dropped 27 in her collegiate debut at Arizona on Nov. 22, 2002.

LSU HAS WON 25 OUT OF ITS LAST 29 SEC GAMES

LSU's remarkable Southeastern Conference regular season winning streak came to an end at 17 games on Jan. 18 at Vanderbilt. The streak went down as the second longest in school history. The Lady Tigers went a perfect 14-0 in 2007-08 en route to its third league title, won its final league game of the 2006-07 season versus Alabama and had beaten Arkansas and Alabama to start the 2008-09 season. The loss was LSU's first in an SEC regular season game since Feb. 22, 2007 also at Vanderbilt. The LSU school record for consecutive SEC regular season wins is 23. With its 10 SEC victories last season, LSU has won 25 out of its last 28 league games since 2007.

KELLY'S SECOND HALF AT MISSISSIPPI STATE

Junior guard Andrea Kelly had played six minutes in the first half at Mississippi State on Feb. 8 without scoring a point. In the second half, Kelly awoke and scored all 23 of her points in the stanza while playing 22 minutes for the game. Kelly's career-high 23 points were the most by an LSU player in a half since Elaine Powell poured in 27 points in the second half in an 81-68 loss to SMU on Jan. 10, 1996. Former All-Americans Sylvia Fowles and Seimone Augustus' highs for a half were 21 apiece. Kelly tied a career-high with five 3-pointers for the game while finishing 8-of-10 from the entire field.

TURNBOW'S BLOCK PARTY

Freshman forward Taylor Turnbow ranked 12th in the SEC in blocks per game with 1.0. Turnbow was one of only three true freshmen in the SEC's top 15 in blocks per game. On Nov. 26 against 25th-ranked Xavier (Ohio), Turnbow swatted seven shots in the game, the most by an LSU player since former All-American Sylvia Fowles blocked seven shots against Tennessee in the SEC Tournament on March 5, 2006. The seven blocks tied for the fourth-most in LSU history. She joined a prestigious list of SEC true freshmen that have blocked at least seven shots in a game, including Tennessee's Candace Parker and Sheila Frost (1985-86) and Florida's Quientella Bonner (1976-76).

BARRETT WINS GOLD MEDAL WITH TEAM USA

LaSondra Barrett, the 2008-09 SEC Co-Freshman of the Year, helped lead the United States to a gold medal at the 2009 FIBA U19 World Championships in Thailand following her freshman season. Barrett averaged 6.0 points and 3.7 rebounds in nine games for the U.S. She delivered 14 points and six boards against Japan in the second round. Barrett and the U.S. avenged an early round loss to Spain to win the gold medal.

CHANCELLOR 24-4 IN SEC GAMES AT LSU

Van Chancellor is 24-4 in SEC games at LSU in two seasons. Chancellor lost his first SEC regular season game as head coach at LSU on Jan. 18 at No. 18 Vanderbilt. The Hall of Famer was previously 16-0 at LSU, including a perfect 14-0 mark last season and a 2-0 start to this season. Chancellor had won 18 straight SEC regular season games dating back to his final two regular season games as head coach at Ole Miss in 1997. You have to go back 12 years to the last time Chancellor lost an SEC regular season game prior to the Vandy game. On Feb. 16, 1997, he was defeated 71-62 at Arkansas as head coach of the Rebels.

SEC TOURNAMENT RECAP

LSU advanced to the SEC Tournament semifinals for the eighth consecutive season as the third-seeded Lady Tigers avenged two earlier season losses to Mississippi State with a 63-58 win in the second round on March 6 in North Little Rock, Ark. LSU then lost to eventual tournament champion Vanderbilt, 61-47, in Saturday's second semifinal. The Lady Tigers have finished no lower than the semifinals since losing to the Commodores in the second round of the 2001 SEC Tournament. LSU played without its starting point guard in the final 25 minutes of the Mississippi State game and used an inspiring effort to extend its winning streak to six games. PG Latear Eason sustained a neck injury with 5:33 to go in the first half and she was taken off the floor on a stretcher. X-rays were negative, but LSU rose to the challenge. Allison Hightower continued to prove her All-SEC First Team status when she poured in 23 points - 19 in the second half - in an uplifting performance. Freshman guard Destini Hughes spelled Eason and delivered seven points and a team-high three steals in 26 minutes. LSU led by as many as 16 points in the second half with its largest lead coming at the 13:27 point. A 15-5 run highlighted by a pair of nifty Hightower runners lifted the Lady Tigers to a 42-26 lead. The following night, Vanderbilt overcame a three-point halftime deficit (26-23) to snap LSU's winning streak at six games. Christina Wirth led Vanderbilt with 18 points and Jence Rhoads added 15 points. LSU was led by freshmen forwards LaSondra Barrett and Courtney Jones who each had 10 points. Allison Hightower saw her streak of consecutive double-figure scoring games come to an end at 15 with six points. LSU committed 20 turnovers on the night with 13 of those coming in the second half. The Commodores converted those into 18 points and stymied the Lady Tigers to 38.3 percent from the floor.

Hightower Drains 26, Lifts LSU Past Green Bay In NCAA First Round, 69-59

Allison Hightower poured in a career-high 26 points as sixth-seeded LSU snapped 11th-seeded Green Bay's 21-game winning streak with a 69-59 win in the opening game of NCAA Tournament play at the Pete Maravich Assembly Center.

The Lady Tigers (19-10) won their 12th straight NCAA Tournament game played on their home court. The Phoenix finished its season with a 29-4 record.

Hightower finished 8-of-13 from the field and added three steals and three assists.

Senior Kristen Morris posted a double-double with 13 points and 16 rebounds, including 10 boards in the first half. Morris' 16 rebounds were a season-high for LSU and the most since Sylvia Fowles had 20 boards against Tennessee in the 2008 Final Four.

Freshman LaSondra Barrett had a strong performance in her first NCAA tournament game as she notched 13 points and seven boards.

"I thought Kristen Morris was outstanding," said LSU head coach Van Chancellor, who won his 50th game with the program. "She had 16 rebounds and 13 points. What a way to play. (LaSondra) Barrett had 13 points and seven rebounds and I thought it was a quiet game for her tonight, but it was still 13 and seven. (Allison) Hightower was just unbelievable. I said she had been just carrying us on her back."

LSU was 22-of-44 from the field, and made 23-of-34 free throws. Green Bay was 18-of-47 shooting (38.3 percent). Senior Kati Harty highlighted Green Bay's performance with 17 points while hitting seven of her 12 shots including three treys.

Hightower scored 13 of LSU's first 17 points as the Lady Tigers led 17-11 midway through the first half. Green Bay sophomore Celeste Hoewisch hit a jumper and a free throw to cut the deficit to 17-14 but that would be the closest the Phoenix would get.

"It was just a total team effort," Hightower said. "I wasn't trying to do anything that I haven't been doing. The shots just went in. I kept driving to the basket and wanted to keep that up and get to the free throw line."

LSU's stifling defense forced eight turnovers and limited Green Bay's field goal percentage to 35 percent (7-20) in the first half as the Lady Tigers went into the locker room with a 35-25 advantage.

The Lady Tigers opened the second half on a 15-5 run to push their lead to 50-30 with 12 minutes remaining in the game. As LSU cooled, the Phoenix started to gain momentum by cutting the lead to 11, 56-45, at the six-minute mark. Green Bay's late run was too little too late as the Lady Tigers sustained their home court advantage to advance to the second round with a 69-59 victory.

Third-seeded Louisville Ends LSU's Season, 62-52

The sixth-seeded LSU Lady Tigers gave No. 3-seed Louisville all it could handle in the Maravich Center, but the Cardinals duo of Angel McCoughtry and Candace Bingham was enough to get the Cardinals to the Sweet 16, 62-52.

Louisville (31-4), known for its full-court defense and transition offense, advanced to face No. 2-seed Baylor in Memphis. The Cardinals eventually advanced to the Final Four and national championship game before losing to Connecticut.

With a roster of six freshmen and only one senior, LSU (19-11) had its record streak of five-consecutive Women's Final Fours come to an end. It wasn't without a fight -- a half-court one.

What was thought to be a game defined by how LSU handled Louisville's full-court press turned out to be a half-court game. LSU committed only seven turnovers, while Louisville had 13.

Junior Allison Hightower again paced LSU's offensive attack, making 6-of-14 shots and 9-of-12 free throws for 21 points. She added five assists and two steals.

She received a lot of help from senior Kristen Morris and Katherine Graham. Morris had 13 points on 6-of-9 shooting with five rebounds in her final collegiate game. Graham was 4-of-8 for nine points with three assists.

In the half-court, the long and fluid McCoughtry was difficult for LSU's "team defense" to stop. She scored a game-high 28 points on 9-of-22 shooting and 10-of-11 free throws, while Bingham added 17 points.

The rest of the Cardinals were 6-of-15 shooting for 17 points. Louisville shot 45.1 percent from the field (23 of 51) and 15-of-17 from the line.

LSU survived Louisville's 1-2-2 full-court press for the first 10 minutes, keeping the game tied at 14-14 despite losing starter LaSondra Barrett with two fouls less than four minutes into the contest.

Meanwhile LSU's defense forced five turnovers and took its first lead, 19-16, since the opening basket with consecutive jumpers by Morris.

Hightower scored three baskets for LSU to expand the advantage to five, 25-20. However, McCoughtry and Bingham combined for a 9-0 Cardinals run that put the Lady Tigers behind at the break, 33-29.

Hightower led LSU's comeback, scoring a jumper off the glass against a triple-team in the post and hitting a free throw that got LSU within three. Barrett converted a turnover into a layup and Hightower added another basket that gave LSU its first lead of the second half, 40-39.

Another layup by Barrett gave the Lady Tigers their final lead of the game, 42-41. But Louisville point guard Deseree' Byrd's jumper in the paint -- the first by a Cardinal other than McCoughtry and Bingham in 20 minutes of action -- started a 10-3 run that LSU couldn't overcome.

A three pointer by Louisville guard Becky Burke put the Cardinals up by seven, 54-47, with under six minutes to play. LSU got no closer.

Sue Gunter

40 Seasons • 708 Wins • Basketball Hall of Famer

The late Sue Gunter, a 2005 inductee into the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame, will always be remembered as not only one of the greatest coaches in women's basketball history, but also as a pioneer in the game. Gunter passed away on Aug. 4, 2005.

Gunter, who became the third women's coach in history to reach 700 career victories with a win over Arkansas on Feb. 12, 2004, was with women's basketball on the collegiate level every step of the way and saw the sport evolve from a novelty back in the early 1960s to present day, where the Final Four is sold out years in advance and games are shown nightly on national television.

Gunter, who was inducted into the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame in June 2000, completed her career among the leaders in several NCAA coaching categories: seasons coached (No. 1 - 40); games coached (No. 3 - 1,016); wins (No. 3 - 708); and 20-win seasons (No. 4 - 22).

Gunter's influence was a catalyst behind the growth of the game and things were no different in Baton Rouge as the Lady Tigers continue to play before school-record crowds and media attention is at an all-time high. In Gunter's 22-year tenure at LSU, her list of accomplishments are long and impressive -- 14 NCAA Tournament appearances, one trip to the Final Four, four NCAA Elite Eight appearances, eight NCAA Sweet 16 appearances, two SEC Tournament titles, a Women's NIT title, and a handful of Coach of the Year awards.

Sue Gunter - The Coach

Sue Gunter brought the LSU women's basketball program back to national prominence. After a three-year hiatus in the mid-1990's that saw the Lady Tigers suffer through the school's first-ever losing seasons, LSU returned to the post-season, and in Gunter's final year as head coach in 2003-04, advanced to the program's first NCAA Final Four.

To realize just how far the Lady Tigers have come, one has to go back to the 1994-95 season, the worst year in school history as LSU posted a 7-20 overall mark. Strangely enough, it was the 1994-95 season that proved to be the turning point for the Lady Tigers as Gunter turned up her recruiting magic and promptly signed the best class in school history. That class, which included future All-SEC selections in Elaine Powell, Pietra Gay and Toni Gross, won 46 games over two years and resurrected the LSU women's basketball program. The Lady Tigers won an average of 22.5 games per season under Gunter since the 1994-95 campaign, including a then-school record 30 wins in 2002-03.

Her final season was undoubtedly one of Gunter's finest on the court, despite not being on the bench for over half the season due to illness. The Lady Tigers won 27 games, finished second in the SEC with a 10-4 mark, received a No. 4 seed in the NCAA Tournament's West Region and advanced past Austin Peay, Maryland, No. 1 seed Texas and Georgia to reach the program's first Final Four right down the road in New Orleans. Gunter coached in her 1,000 game on Jan. 25, 2004 and recorded her 700th career victory later in the season against Arkansas. Sophomore Seimone Augustus earned Kodak All-American honors and was the Louisiana Player of the Year.

Gunter completed her career as the third winningest women's basketball coach in history with an overall record of 708-308, which included coaching stints at Middle Tennessee, Stephen F. Austin and LSU. Gunter's LSU record was 442-221, which makes her the winningest coach in school history.

Under the direction of Gunter, the Lady Tigers played in 14 NCAA Tournaments, one National Women's Invitational Tournament and two WNIT events. Gunter led LSU to one Final Four in 2004, and to the Elite Eight in 1986, 2000 and 2003, while leading the Lady Tigers to a championship at the National Women's Invitational Tournament in 1985. In addition, Gunter directed LSU to 14 20-plus-win seasons, including one 30-win season.

What They Said About Coach Gunter ...

"Sue Gunter was a wonderful friend, an exceptional person and an incredibly talented basketball coach. Sue was definitely one of the pioneers of women's collegiate basketball. She was one of my mentors. I learned so much from Sue about the X's and O's of the game of basketball. But more importantly, she taught me about the delicate balance of coaching and teaching the game and the value of great player-coach relationships. She made playing basketball fun due to her ability to connect with her players. Personally, I am going to miss her tremendously and I know the game is going to miss her."

- Pat Summitt, Tennessee head coach

"I loved her. There was always a lot of respect, not just as a coach, but in life. She was an unbelievable friend and sister. I will always cherish what we had. And she was a hell of a coach."

- Ann Meyers

"It saddens all of us in the women's basketball world to see the passing of one of the great, great people in Sue Gunter. A person you absolutely loved. There was not a person I respected more than Sue Gunter. Not only did we lose a great coach, but we lost an even better person."

- Van Chancellor

"Sue was one of the keystones of women's basketball. She was a role model for all players and coaches to use. She had the ability to be a great competitor on the court as well as have great compassion for her players and fellow coaches."

- Joe Ciampi, former Auburn head coach

"When you look at Sue's record and all the accomplishments throughout her career, it's easy to say that we have lost a great coach. But, in reality we have lost a better person."

- Jim Foster, Ohio State head coach

"A lot of the things you see today in the game of women's basketball are due to a large price earlier paid by people such as Sue Gunter. I had the utmost respect for her as a person and as a coach. She will really be missed in our game. Her achievements and legacy will far exceed her wins and losses, even though they were very impressive in her case."

- Marsha Sharp, former Texas Tech head coach

"Personally I felt like I lost my best friend. Basketball lost one of its heroes. She is legendary. The things that she has done and the way she did them are just remarkable."

- Andy Landers, Georgia head coach

"Just sadness ... that was my first thought. At the same time it made me relive the times I spent with Sue Gunter on the recruiting trail. Those were good times. The coaching profession has lost a great one today. No question she is one of the pioneers. She's a legend in the women's game."

- Kim Mulkey-Robertson, Baylor head coach

"I am very saddened today. Sue's passing is a great loss for our sport and a personal loss of a close friend. My thoughts are with Sue's family and those at LSU at this sad time."

- Jody Conradt, former Texas head coach

Prior to her arrival in Baton Rouge, Gunter had a very successful coaching stint at Stephen F. Austin in Nacogdoches, Texas. While at SFA, Gunter built that program into a national powerhouse as she led the Ladyjacks to a 266-87 mark in 12 years as head coach. In addition, she led Stephen F. Austin to four top 10 national rankings, which included No. 5 final rankings in 1979 and 1980. While at Stephen F. Austin, Gunter coached four sports - women's basketball, softball, tennis and track. Her basketball teams went to five Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (AIAW) playoffs, won four state titles and earned a regional crown.

After 16 seasons at SFA, she relinquished the reigns and moved into the position of Director of Women's Athletics where she served two years before returning to the coaching ranks at LSU.

Gunter began her coaching career at Middle Tennessee State where she led the Blue Raiders to undefeated seasons in both of her years there.

The First Lady Tiger Team To Reach NCAA Final Four

With head coach Sue Gunter sitting out the last half of the season due to illness, acting head coach Pokey Chatman led the Lady Tigers to the program's first trip to the NCAA Final Four and ironically enough, it was just down to the road in New Orleans.

The Lady Tigers road to the Final Four begin at home in the Pete Maravich Assembly Center with victories over Austin Peay in the first round and Maryland in the second round. A 83-66 win over Austin Peay was sparked by a 21-point performance by all-American Seimone Augustus, while the Baton Rouge native poured in 26 in the 76-61 win over Maryland two nights later.

The fourth-seeded Lady Tigers now had a date with top seeded Texas in the West Regional semifinal in Seattle, Wash. LSU was looking for revenge from the year before when Texas had knocked off the top-seeded Lady Tigers in the regional final. Revenge is just what LSU got with a 71-55 victory over the Longhorns led by Augustus' career-high 29 points. SEC foe Georgia would be the opponent in the regional final.

It would prove to be one of best NCAA Tournament games in history with the lead going back and forth until Georgia took a seven point lead with six minutes to play. LSU did not falter, chipping away at the lead using a 8-1 run in the final four minutes to take the lead and hold it for a 62-60 victory and the program's first trip to the NCAA Final Four.

Augustus matched her career-high with 29 points, including a late free throw, while Temeka Johnson added 19 points, including a 15-foot jumper that gave the Lady Tigers the lead for good.

Augustus was named the West Regional Most Outstanding Player and Johnson joined her on the West Regional All-Tournament team.

LSU had a date with rival and SEC foe Tennessee in the national semifinal game in the New Orleans Arena, just 70 miles from the Baton Rouge campus.

The Lady Vols ended LSU's magical run, 52-50, with a dramatic late steal and lay-up for Tennessee.

LSU ended the season with a 27-8 overall record and a run to the Final Four, the school's first.

2005

Lady Tigers Make it Back-to-Back Trips

After not advancing to the NCAA Final Four in the history of the program, the LSU Lady Tigers made it two straight trips with a visit in 2005.

First year head coach Pokey Chatman, who had guided LSU to the Final Four in her hometown of New Orleans as acting head coach in 2004, led the Lady Tigers back to the promise land.

Chatman and the Lady Tigers enjoyed one of the best seasons in school history, posting 33-3 overall record and claiming the program's first Southeastern Conference regular season title with a perfect 14-0 mark.

The first stop for the Lady Tigers was Knoxville, Tenn., where No. 16 Stetson awaited. LSU took care of business in convincing fashion, posting a 70-36 victory. National Player of the Year Seimone Augustus scored 14 points, while National Point Guard of the Year Temeka Johnson had 15 points and seven assists.

No. 9 seed Arizona was the next victim as LSU advanced to the Sweet 16. The Lady Tigers continued its domination on defense in a 76-43 victory. For the second straight game the opposition shot below 30.0 percent from the floor.

Augustus led the way with 18 points and eight rebounds, while Johnson added 14 points and 10 rebounds.

Upset-minded Liberty, the No. 13 seed, awaited LSU in Chattanooga for the Regional Semifinal. Defense again dominated the story line as the Lady Tigers defeated the Flames 90-48. Augustus and Scholanda Hoston had 22 points, while Johnson added 12 points and 15 assists.

The Duke Blue Devils, the No. 2 seed, now stood between LSU and a return trip to the Final Four.

Duke jumped out to an early lead and led for all but a few seconds of the first half until LSU battled back to tie the score at 30-30 just before halftime.

The Lady Tigers took control in the second half and held on for a 59-49 victory, earning them a trip to Indianapolis and a date with Baylor.

The RCA Dome was the site of the battle between the Lady Bears and the Lady Tigers in the National Semifinal. LSU jumped out to an early 15-point lead only to have Baylor chip back and eventually tie the score 28-28 at the break.

Unlike the Regional Final victory over Duke, this time Baylor, the eventual national champions, took control in the second half and pulled away with a 68-57 victory.

Three Straight Final Four Appearances for the Lady Tigers

After reaching the Final Four in 2004 and 2005, LSU would settle for nothing less than a return trip to the grandest spectacle in women's basketball.

Second-year head coach Pokey Chatman guided the Lady Tigers to a 31-4 overall record, including the program's second-straight Southeastern Conference regular season title with a 13-1 mark.

LSU took its momentum from the regular season and rode it to a No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament for the second-straight season and the third time in four years. The Lady Tigers were placed in the San Antonio Region and made the first stop in Nashville, Tenn., for the first- and second-round games.

No. 16 seed Florida Atlantic awaited LSU at Vanderbilt's Memorial Gymnasium. The Lady Tigers used a 20-0 run midway through the first half and pull away with a 72-48 victory to advance to the second round to face No. 9 seed Washington.

Washington was, in fact, playing so well that they led LSU, 26-23, at the end of the first half. The lead would not last long as the Lady Tigers shot out on a 12-2 run to open the half and never looked back to earn a 72-49 victory and a trip to the "Sweet 16" in San Antonio.

Fourth-seeded DePaul was next for LSU. The Blue Demons gave it a good fight in the opening 20 minutes and found themselves deadlocked at 31-31 with the Lady Tigers at the break. Another Lady Tigers' run to open the second half and LSU pulled away from DePaul for a 66-56 victory.

No. 3 seed Stanford upset second-seeded Oklahoma in the other regional semifinal to set up an LSU-Stanford showdown for the right to advance to Boston.

The Cardinal took a 55-54 lead with four minutes left in the game before LSU posted six straight points to hold a 60-55 advantage with 2:07 remaining.

Just over a minute later, Stanford's Candice Wiggins nailed a three-pointer to cut the lead to 60-59, but Seimone Augustus hit a couple of free throws and drew a charging foul on the defensive end to seal a 62-59 victory for LSU.

Augustus earned regional Most Outstanding Player honors after posting 18 points against DePaul and 26 in the win over Stanford.

In Boston, Duke, the No. 1 seed from the Bridgeport Region, controlled the game from the start and handed LSU a 64-45 loss in the National Semifinal game in the TD Banknorth Garden.

Four Final Fours in as many seasons for the Lady Tigers

Acting head coach Bob Starkey was faced with the daunting task of guiding LSU Lady Tigers into the 2007 NCAA Tournament after closing out the regular season with three losses in the final five games, but guide he did.

After a nice run in the Southeastern Conference Tournament and a loss to Vanderbilt in the title game, LSU received a No. 3 seed in the NCAA Tournament and were placed in the Fresno Regional.

The road to Cleveland's Quicken Loans Arena would begin in Austin, Texas at the University of Texas' Erwin Center. LSU made quick work of the Bulldogs with a 77-39 victory. Quianna Chaney and RaShonta LeBlanc carried LSU with 15 points each and combined to hit nine three-pointers in the game.

Up next was upset-minded West Virginia, the No. 11 seed. LSU had to rally from 11 points down in the final 12 minutes of play to secure a 49-43 victory. Fowles led the way with 21 points and 13 rebounds, while Chaney added 11 points.

The come-from-behind victory over WVU advanced LSU into the Sweet 16 and a trip to Fresno, Calif., and a date with No. 10 seed Florida State at Fresno State's Save Mart Center.

The Lady Tigers had little trouble with Florida State in a 55-43 victory. LSU led the entire game and held a 27-18 lead at halftime before breaking it open with a 10-0 to open the second half. Chaney led LSU with 22 points and Fowles added 20 points and nine rebounds.

In the Elite Eight, The Lady Tigers would face top-seeded Connecticut with a chance to avenge an earlier one-point loss at home.

LSU did just that and did it in convincing fashion with a 73-50 win over the Huskies in the Fresno Regional Final.

Fowles continued her dominance in the tournament with 23 points, 15 rebounds and six blocked shot on her way to being named Regional Most Outstanding Player. Allison Hightower and Ashley Thomas added 12 points each and White posted 11 points in the victory.

A disappointing outing versus Greensboro Regional Champion Rutgers in the national semifinal in Cleveland ended LSU's season, but the Lady Tigers could not hang their heads after a 30-8 season, the program's third straight 30-win season.

The Drive For Five Final Fours

LSU joined Connecticut as the only team in NCAA women's basketball history to advance to five straight Final Fours as first-year LSU head coach Van Chancellor led the Lady Tigers to a 31-6 overall record and a perfect 14-0 Southeastern Conference mark.

Going into the season, the squad knew the Pete Maravich Assembly Center would be a host site for the NCAA First and Second Rounds. LSU earned a No. 2 seed in the New Orleans Regional and awaited Jackson State in the first round from the friendly confines of the Maravich Center. What resulted was one of the most dominating performances in school history and a 66-32 victory over the 15th seed. Sylvia Fowles led all scorers with 16 points, and Jackson State's 32 total points were the fewest allowed by LSU in its NCAA Tournament history.

Two days later, the Lady Tigers tangled with a ranked Marist team, the No. 7 seed. The Red Foxes were no match for home standing LSU, who snapped Marist's 22-game winning streak with a 68-49 win. Fowles became the SEC's all-time leading rebounder with 13 boards while adding 19 points. LSU's eight seniors also received a standing ovation in their final home game.

In the Sweet 16, another home atmosphere awaited at the New Orleans Arena as the Lady Tigers used a 15-0 run to top third-seeded Oklahoma State, 67-52. Erica White scored a team-high 18 points on 5-of-11 shooting.

All that stood between LSU and a fifth straight Final Four appearance was a battle with top-seeded and No. 1-ranked North Carolina. Fowles scored 21 points and grabbed 12 rebounds to lead her senior class to victory, 56-50. The senior earned New Orleans Regional Most Outstanding Player honors.

Guard RaShonta LeBlanc hit the most important shot of the game, a three pointer from the right wing with 4:30 to play that put LSU ahead by seven, 44-37, with 4:30 left.

In Tampa at the NCAA Final Four, LSU suffered a heartbreaking loss to Tennessee, 47-46. UT's Alexis Hornbuckle rebounded a missed shot and dropped in a layup with 0.7 seconds left to play to bail the Lady Vols out after LSU's Erica White hit two free throws with seven seconds to play. Fowles closed a brilliant career with 24 points, 20 rebounds and five blocked shots.

1976-77

The Only Lady Tigers to Reach the National Championship Game of a Post-Season Tournament

With one of the most dominating forward-center combinations in LSU women's basketball history in Australians Julie Gross and Maree Jackson, the Lady Tigers enjoyed one of their finest seasons in 1976-77.

The Lady Tigers, behind the play of Gross and Jackson, started the season off slow, but ended its regular-season with a 21-5 mark.

The Lady Tigers then headed to the AIAW State Tournament in Ruston. LSU easily handled New Orleans in the first round, winning 85-58, followed by a 73-51 victory over Southern. Louisiana Tech stopped LSU in the semifinals as the Techsters posted a 101-88 win over LSU. The Lady Tigers then fell to Northwestern State, 87-82, but the Lady Tigers still managed to finish in second place at the state tournament.

By virtue of its second place finish at the state tournament, LSU advanced to the AIAW Regional Tournament in Monroe.

At the regional tournament, the Lady Tigers got on a roll as they whipped Texas, 95-67, in the first round followed by a 76-73 win over a Sue Gunter-coached Stephen F. Austin team in the semifinals. LSU beat Baylor, 92-76, in the championship game to advance to the AIAW National Tournament in Minneapolis, Minn.

At the AIAW National Tournament, the Lady Tigers drew Western Washington in the first round and had little trouble as the Lady Tigers, behind 40 points from Maree Jackson, raced out to 49-26 halftime lead and never looked back in their 91-53 win. Next up for the Lady Tigers was Baylor, a team that LSU had already beat twice during the season, which included a victory over the Bears in the regional finals.

LSU was once again victorious over Baylor as the Lady Tigers got 35 points and 26 rebounds from Maree Jackson advanced with a 71-64 win.

The Lady Tigers then moved into the semifinal round against Immaculata, a powerhouse in women's basketball at the time. Immaculata was ranked No. 2 in the nation and was considered a huge favorite in the contest with the Lady Tigers.

The Lady Tigers upset Immaculata, 74-68, despite the fact that Jackson played after having root canal surgery and Brenda McGuffie played with a severely sprained ankle. In addition, Jackson and McGuffie played the final 10 minutes of the contest with four fouls. Jackson finished with 29 points and 19 rebounds, while Gross had 23 points and 11 boards.

It was on to the national championship game for LSU as the 11th-ranked Lady Tigers would face top-ranked Delta State for the title.

Delta State scored the first six points of the contest and the Delta Devils quickly built a nine point advantage, 13-4, on a jumper by Debbie Brock at the 15:14 mark. LSU could get no closer than seven points the rest of the way as Lady Tiger All-American Jackson picked up her third foul with 5:54 to play in the first half. Delta State led 34-25 at intermission.

In the second half, Delta State never let the Lady Tigers back in the contest as the Delta Devils held Jackson to a career-low six points in posting a 68-55 victory. Lucy Harris, the best women's player in the country at the time, led Delta State with 23 points and 16 rebounds.

The Lady Tigers finished the year with an overall record of 29-8 and ranked No. 11 in the nation. That team still holds the distinction of being the only Lady Tiger team ever to reach the national championship game of a post-season tournament.

1983-84 OVERALL RECORD: 23-7

The Lady Tigers advanced to the 32-team NCAA Tournament for the first time in the school's history as LSU was the No. 5 seed in the Midwest Regional. LSU played host to and beat fourth-seeded Missouri, 92-82, in the first round before falling to Louisiana Tech, 92-67, in Ruston in the second round.

1985-86 OVERALL RECORD: 27-6

The NCAA Tournament field was expanded to include 48 teams in 1986 and the Lady Tigers were back in the tournament after a one-year absence. LSU was the No. 2 seed in the Midwest Regional and after receiving a first round bye, the Lady Tigers played host to and beat 10th-seeded Middle Tennessee, 78-65. LSU then beat third-seeded Ohio State, 81-80, in the Sweet 16 in Iowa City, Iowa. FINAL FOUR

OVERALL RECORD: 31-6

For only the second time in NCAA women's basketball history, a school had reached the Final Four for the fifth straight season as the Lady Tigers culminated a 31-6 record in Tampa, Fla. LSU, which won its third SEC regular season title with a perfect 14-0 mark, defeated No. 15 seed Jackson State and No. 7 seed Marist in the NCAA First and Second Rounds in Baton Rouge. The Lady Tigers, the No. 2 seed in the New Orleans Region, topped No. 3 seed Oklahoma State and then upset top-seeded North Carolina, 56-50, in the New Orleans Regional Final. Senior All-American center Sylvia Fowles earned Most Outstanding Player honors after registering a double-double in four of LSU's five NCAA Tournament games.

2008-09

OVERALL RECORD: 19-11

After losing all five starters from its 2008 Final Four team, LSU's youthful roster put together a five-game winning streak to close the SEC regular season and reach the NCAA Tournament for the 11th straight year. Head coach Van Chancellor might have turned in the finest coaching job of his career. LSU finished tied for second in the SEC despite boasting one of the youngest teams in America. The Lady Tigers defeated Green Bay, 69-59, in the NCAA First Round at the Maravich Center. LSU then gave third-seeded Louisville all it could handle in the second round before falling to the eventual national championship game participants, 62-52.

SEC Championships

2007-08 SEC Champions

In 2007-08, LSU claimed the program's third outright Southeastern Conference regular season title and did so with a perfect 14-0 league record. The unblemished run through the SEC schedule was the second time in school history the Lady Tigers had achieved the feat and the second time in four seasons.

LSU's second league title in the past three years began on the road with a tough challenge against No. 20/18 Arkansas, but the Lady Tigers quickly put the Lady Razorbacks away with a 76-54 win. Three days later, LSU opened its home league slate with a 62-51 victory over Vanderbilt followed by a decisive blowout of Mississippi State at home, 84-31. The 53-point win broke the largest margin of victory by the Lady Tigers over an SEC opponent in school history.

LSU then took to the road for two crucial games and both went in favor of the Lady Tigers. Following a 79-59 win at No. 25/22 Auburn, LSU ran its SEC record to 5-0 with a 72-46 blowout of Kentucky at Rupp Arena for the program's 700th victory. For 283 consecutive minutes, the Lady Tigers had not trailed until South Carolina took an early lead on LSU on Jan. 31. That 6-4 deficit proved to be short-lived as the Lady Tigers closed the month of January with a 67-37 win to run their record to 6-0.

Two more road wins followed, including a decisive 85-71 win at Florida before a hostile crowd at the Stephen C. O'Connell Center. LSU faced its toughest test to date when the Lady Tigers pulled out a 63-57 road win at No. 24/21 Georgia on Feb. 10. With its record at 9-0, LSU traveled to Knoxville for a showdown with No. 1 Tennessee and what resulted was one of the most thrilling victories in school history.

Down 21-2 eight minutes into the game, No. 7 LSU outscored Tennessee, 76-41, the rest of the game to stun the top-ranked Lady Vols, 78-62. Head coach Van Chancellor then defeated his former Ole Miss team, 78-48, and the Lady Tigers held on for a 52-48 home win to sweep Kentucky on the season series. LSU closed its regular season home schedule by beating Arkansas, 83-46, and the Lady Tigers completed a magical run through the conference schedule with a 69-49 win at Mississippi State to punctuate a 14-0 record.

2004-05 SEC Champions

In 2004-05 the LSU Lady Tigers made history, not only by winning the program's first Southeastern Conference title, but by doing it in convincing fashion.

The Lady Tigers completed the SEC schedule unblemished, posting a 14-0 record.

LSU began the conference season with a home game against No. 17 Georgia on national television. The Lady Tigers, ranked No. 1 at the time, handed the Lady Bulldogs a 76-52 loss and took that momentum into Gainesville, Fla., for a date with the Lady Gators.

The Lady Tigers rolled past Florida, 64-47, and then returned home to host both Alabama and Arkansas. LSU handed Alabama a 76-51 loss and defeated Arkansas, 91-45, in impressive fashion.

A trip to Nashville to face Vanderbilt in Memorial Coliseum was next. The Lady Tigers had not had much success when facing the Commodores on their home floor, but this time LSU prevailed, 79-68, over 17th-ranked Vanderbilt.

The end of January had the Lady Tigers return to Baton Rouge to host pesky Auburn. A hard fought 57-52 victory boosted LSU to a 6-0 league mark with eight games left.

A road swing through Mississippi saw the Lady Tigers hand Ole Miss a 82-58 loss and Mississippi State a 67-40 loss.

Those two wins meant a showdown in the Pete Maravich Center between top-ranked LSU at 8-0 in the league and fifth-ranked Tennessee, also with a perfect 8-0 league mark.

The Lady Tigers took care of business in front of the largest home crowd in LSU women's basketball history, defeating the Lady Vols 68-58 on national television.

A 66-36 victory at South Carolina and a 81-58 home victory over Kentucky followed and LSU had 11 league wins, the most in the program's history.

The final three games awaited, including trips to Auburn and Arkansas.

Once again, the Auburn Tigers proved pesky, but LSU prevailed 62-57.

Things were much easier in Fayetteville as LSU rolled to a 90-64 win, clinching at least a share of the league crown for the Lady Tigers.

LSU returned home with a chance to claim the program's first outright league title and a perfect 14-0 record.

Florida stood in the way, but not for long. In front of a crowd of over 10,000 fans, LSU defeated the Lady Gators, 76-52, and the first SEC Champions banner was dropped from the rafters of the PMAC.

2005-06 SEC Champions

LSU backed up its 2004-05 Southeastern Conference regular season championship, the first in the program's history, with a successful defense, earning a second straight league title with a 13-1 record in 2005-06.

The Lady Tigers kicked conference play off early with a 66-36 victory at Kentucky on Dec. 18. The title defense was underway.

After a few more non-conference games, including wins at home over Michigan State and South Florida, LSU returned to league play at Auburn.

Visiting the Plains is never an easy thing to do, but the Lady Tigers defeated the Tigers 65-38 to begin conference play with a 2-0 mark.

Home wins over South Carolina and Alabama preceded a thrilling, 65-64, victory in Athens against No. 13 Georgia. That win put LSU in first place with a 5-0 record.

The Lady Tigers returned home to face No. 22 Vanderbilt in the PMAC and a 75-53 victory over the Commodores coupled with a Tennessee loss at Kentucky the same night gave LSU a one-game lead atop the league standings over the Lady Vols.

LSU won at Arkansas and at home against Ole Miss that set up a showdown in Knoxville with Tennessee.

The Lady Tigers pulled off an exciting 72-69 win over the fifth-ranked Lady Vols to take a two-game lead with a 9-0 mark. The win was LSU's first over Tennessee in Knoxville.

Georgia invaded Baton Rouge with revenge on their minds, but LSU upended the Lady Dawgs, 68-61, to move to 10-0 and extend the Lady Tigers' conference win streak to 24 straight games.

LSU rolled into Gainesville in first place in the conference with a two-game lead, but Florida brought the Lady Tigers back into a title race with a 79-78 upset win in overtime.

LSU held a slim one-game lead over Tennessee with three games to play.

A home victory over Arkansas and a win at Alabama secured LSU of at least a tie for the title and earned the Lady Tigers the top seed for the upcoming SEC Tournament, but the program wanted its second straight outright title.

Mississippi State invaded the PMAC for the final home game in the careers of seniors Seimone Augustus, Scholanda Houston and Florence Williams.

The senior trio did not disappoint, leading LSU to a 62-48 victory and the Lady Tigers second straight SEC regular season championship.

1991 SEC Champions

LSU claimed its first Tournament title in 1991 as the Lady Tigers had one of the most impressive runs in conference tournament history. Entering the tournament as the No. 4 seed, the Lady Tigers had a first round bye and then beat Kentucky, 96-76, in the second round. The Lady Tigers, who were ranked No. 12 in the nation, then upset fourth-ranked Georgia, 83-74, in the semifinals. In the title game, point guard Pokey Chatman scored 30 points, including 16 straight at one point, as the Lady Tigers knocked off third-ranked Tennessee, 80-75. Chatman was named most valuable player of the tournament, while Sheila Johnson and Annette Jackson-Lowery were named to the all-tournament team.

2003 SEC Champions

The LSU Lady Tigers run through the Southeastern Conference Tournament was something special in 2003. It had been 12 years since LSU had last won a tournament title and the Lady Tigers were hungry for the crown.

Standing in the way of the second seeded and sixth-ranked Lady Tigers in the opening game were the No. 23 Arkansas Lady Razorbacks, a team that had handed LSU its first defeat of the season in Fayetteville earlier during the season.

It would prove to be the closest margin of victory in LSU's run to the title. LSU defeated Arkansas 78-72 thanks to some clutch free throw shooting down the stretch, including Seimone Augustus' two free throws with 19 seconds to play to give the freshman her 21st and 22nd points of the game and LSU a four-point lead.

Four of the five starters for LSU scored in double figures in the opening round victory over Arkansas. In addition to Augustus, Temeka Johnson added 15 points, while Doneeka Hodges and Aiysha Smith both hit for 11 points.

15th-ranked Vanderbilt was the next item on the menu for the Lady Tigers. The Commodores were also a team that had defeated LSU during the regular season. In fact, the defending SEC Tournament champions had knocked off LSU just the week before in Nashville and were playing with a lot of confidence heading into the semifinals of the SEC Tournament.

Vandy had so much confidence in themselves they led by as many as nine in the first half and took a 39-35 lead into the locker room at halftime after shooting 51.7 percent from the floor in the opening 20 minutes of play. LSU did not take its first lead of the game until Seimone Augustus hit a pair of free throws with 17 minutes to play to give the Lady Tigers a 44-43 advantage. The lead went back and forth for most of the second half until LSU closed the game with a 12-2 run in the final four minutes to advance to their second straight SEC Tournament title game.

Augustus took over the game during the final run, scoring 14 of her 20 points in the final four minutes of play. Aiysha Smith led LSU with 21 points, while Temeka Johnson added 12 points and Augustus had nine rebounds to go along with her point total.

The stage was set for the SEC title game, sixth-ranked LSU vs. No. 3 Tennessee for the SEC Championship. It marked a rematch of the 68-65 Lady Vol victory during the regular season in Baton Rouge.

The Lady Tigers took control of the game early, jumping out to a 7-0 lead while taking a 42-25 lead at the break. Tennessee managed to trim the margin down to 13 with 15 minutes to play before the Lady Tigers took the largest lead of the game at 18 with 10 minutes left.

Temeka Johnson took home MVP honors after scoring a career-high 24 points in the victory. She added nine rebounds and seven assists in the win. Aiysha Smith added 18 points, while Seimone Augustus had 12 points and eight rebounds on her way to an all-tournament team selection.

LSU avenged all three of its regular season losses with three wins over three top 25 teams in three days to win the 2003 SEC Tournament Championship.

THE DEAFDOME

Over the last 12 years, the LSU women's basketball team has established the Pete Maravich Assembly Center as one of the toughest road playing sites in not only the Southeastern Conference but the nation. Since the 1996-97 season, the Lady Tigers have posted a remarkable home record of 178-22 (.890), including averaging 14 victories per year.

Since the 2004-05 season, LSU is 64-9 at home and over the past seven seasons, the Lady Tigers are 94-11 in the friendly confines of the Maravich Center. LSU has proven to be tough to beat in SEC play in the venue. In conference games, the Lady Tigers are 72-12 (.854) at home over the past 11 years and an amazing 32-3 over the past five seasons. The Lady Tigers' only losses during that span came to Tennessee in 2007, Mississippi State in 2009 and Auburn in 2009. LSU is 36-12 at home against top 25 teams over the last 12 years, and the PMAC can back up its claim as one of the nation's most-feared road sites.

In addition to their success on the court, the Lady Tigers have also played before record crowds. Over the past seven seasons, LSU has established 14 of the top 15 crowds in PMAC history, including a record crowd of 15,233 against Tennessee on Feb. 10, 2005. During that span the Lady Tigers have played in front of 10 home crowds of over 10,000 fans.

LSU finished the 2005-06 season ranked 14th in the nation in average home attendance with 6,273 and played in front of five crowds of at least 8,000 people. In 2004-05, LSU finished 10th in the nation in average home attendance with 7,317 fans per game, by far a record for the Lady Tigers. During that season four crowds of over 10,000 were recorded for games, including the record crowd of 15,233 against Tennessee.

LSU rarely gets upset on its home floor. The Lady Tigers are 136-7 over the last 13 years against unranked teams. LSU posted undefeated records at home over non-ranked opponents in 2007-08 (11-0), 2006-07 (11-0), 2005-06 (10-0), 2004-05 (10-0), 2002-03 (8-0), 2001-02 (11-0), 1999-00 (17-0), 1998-99 (11-0) and 1996-97 (11-0).

In 1999-00, the Lady Tigers set a school-record with 17 home victories with their only loss coming at the hands of second-ranked Tennessee.

In 34 years at the PMAC, LSU's home court advantage can be compared with the best programs from across the country as the Lady Tigers have won 80 percent of their home games with a 369-96 overall mark. LSU has also put together winning streaks of 43, 26, 24 and 22 games at home. The Lady Tigers have also gone undefeated four times, going 15-0 in 2005-06, 12-0 in 2004-05, and 14-0 in both 1977-78 and 1985-86.

Built in 1971, the PMAC underwent completed renovations prior to the 2005-06 season that included an updated concourse, new seats and a new sound system. The concourse features kiosks and displays recognizing the history of LSU basketball, including one exhibit of the late Hall of Fame head coach Sue Gunter. The capacity is 13,472 following the renovations.

During the summer of 1988, Louisiana Governor Buddy Roemer signed legislation changing the official name of the building to the Pete Maravich Assembly Center in honor of the LSU star who had died tragically earlier that same year.

In addition to the normal basketball-seating configuration, a proscenium stage can be lowered into place at the north end allowing some 4,000 seats for theatrical productions. An additional 1,000 seats can be placed on the floor for graduations, convocations, lectures, concerts or other special events.

Also located in the building is an auxiliary practice gym used for basketball and volleyball practices; home and visitor dressing rooms; coaches dressing rooms, building administration offices; theater dressing rooms; Tiger Athletic Foundation offices; and the "L" Club meeting room with kitchen facilities. In January of 2009, LSU's new Basketball Practice Facility will be connected to the building and allow the Lady Tigers ample practice room.

The Maravich Center has been the site for both men's and women's NCAA Regional Tournaments, the 1981 SEC Women's Basketball Tournament, the 1988 SEC Men's Basketball Tournament, two SEC Volleyball Tournaments, the 2004 NCAA Women's Tournament First & Second rounds and most recently, the 2008 and 2009 NCAA Women's Tournament First and Second Rounds.

PACK THE PMAC

What started out as a dream 13 years ago has developed into one of the biggest and the best promotional events in all of women's basketball, as Pack the PMAC returns for year number 14 this season when the Lady Tigers host defending SEC champion Auburn on Jan. 10, 2009.

The concept of Pack the PMAC is simple - a blowout ticket sales push throughout Baton Rouge and surrounding communities in an attempt to fill the Maravich Center for a women's basketball game. After 13 years, Pack the PMAC has blossomed into a much-anticipated event and it will once again be one of the highlights of the LSU women's basketball schedule.

Starting in the fall, LSU uses various outlets to promote both the game and the "Flying Frenzy" halftime contest. At Pack the PMAC IV, Rich Bisson became the first person in the history of the event to win a car. In addition to the car giveaway, there are also televisions, shopping sprees, and other items that can be won in the halftime "Flying Frenzy" contest.

In 13 years the event has become a tremendous success, but more importantly than the actual game is the fact that Baton Rouge has finally become introduced, and welcomed, to LSU women's basketball at its finest hour.

Prior to the first Pack the PMAC in 1997, the Lady Tigers had never played before a crowd larger than 2,500 at the Maravich Assembly Center. Seven of LSU's top 15 home crowds have come at Pack the PMAC, including the first crowd over 10,000 fans at a women's basketball game in the state of Louisiana at Pack the PMAC VII when 11,252 fans paid to see the Lady Tigers defeat Penn State on CBS. For Pack the PMAC X, 9,930 fans filled the arena and watched the Lady Tigers defeat Minnesota on national television, while 7,666 fans watch LSU defeat Georgia in Pack the PMAC XI.

In the first year, the Lady Tigers drew a then school-record crowd of 6,552 as LSU beat Arkansas, 79-72. A year later, for Pack the PMAC II, LSU reset the school-record as 7,255 witnessed the Lady Tigers' 69-56 win over Ole Miss.

In 1999-00, 6,352 fans witnessed the first nationally televised broadcast of an LSU women's basketball game as the Lady Tigers knocked off Arkansas, 68-51 on ESPN2. Pack the PMAC V drew a then school-record 9,636 fans, which was at the time the largest attendance ever at a women's basketball game in the state of Louisiana. Last season, LSU recognized breast cancer awareness in Pack the PMAC 13 as LSU defeated No. 9 Florida, 66-47, on Feb. 15. The Pink Zone Game drew 5,758 fans.

LSU ATHLETICS Championship TRADITION

The Nation's Elite Teams

BASEBALL

The Team of the 90s returned to the top of 21st-century college baseball as LSU brought home a sixth national championship in its first season at New Alex Box Stadium. The Tigers knocked off top-seeded Texas in the best-of-three College World Series championship series and were sparked by a 14-game postseason winning streak. Third-year head coach Paul Mainieri was the unanimous choice for National Coach of the Year as LSU finished the season with a 56-17 record, a Southeastern Conference regular season title and an SEC Tournament title.

MEN'S BASKETBALL

The LSU men's basketball team captured its fourth SEC Western Division title this decade and won the Southeastern Conference regular season championship with a 13-3 record, winning the title by three games under first-year head coach Trent Johnson. LSU was 27-8 on the year and advanced to the second round of the NCAA championships. Johnson was the consensus choice as SEC Coach of the Year and a finalist for three national coach of the year honors.

GYMNASTICS

The gymnastics team continued to show it is one of the nation's elite programs in 2009 by advancing to the Super Six after capturing the NCAA Central Regional for the second year in a row. The regional championship marked the Tigers' sixth overall, and the Super Six berth was the team's second straight. LSU has now made 25 consecutive postseason appearances.

TRACK & FIELD

The Tigers earned a pair of top-five finishes in NCAA competition with a fourth-place finish at the NCAA Indoor Championships followed by a fifth-place finish at the NCAA Outdoor Championships. The Lady Tigers finished sixth nationally during both the indoor and outdoor seasons while earning a pair of runner-up team finishes at the SEC Championships.

SOCCER

The LSU soccer team continued its rise to national prominence with an outstanding 2008 season in which it captured its second-straight SEC Western Division championship and earned an at-large berth into the NCAA Tournament for the second year in a row. The Tigers recorded program bests with a 14-4-2 overall record and a 7-3-1 mark in SEC play, while they also finished second in the final SEC standings.

Ashleigh Clare-Kearney GYMNASTICS

LSU's all-time leader in career individual titles with 114, Ashleigh Clare-Kearney became the fifth national champion in school history and the first LSU gymnast to capture two individual national titles. She became the Vault National Champion with a 9.9000 average and the Floor National Champion with a 9.9500 score. In addition, Clare-Kearney earned First Team All-America honors on vault, bars and floor.

Trindon Holliday MEN'S TRACK & FIELD/FOOTBALL

Trindon Holliday wrapped up the 2009 season as the NCAA's fastest man as he was crowned NCAA champion in the 100-meter dash while setting a new personal best with the top time in the country at 10.00 seconds in the national final. Holliday also earned a pair of runner-up finishes in NCAA competition during the 2009 season in the 60 meters indoors and 4x100-meter relay outdoors to finish with eight All-America honors for his career.

Tyson Jackson FOOTBALL

Tyson Jackson became the highest LSU defender to ever be picked in the NFL Draft when he was selected as the No. 3 overall pick by the Kansas City Chiefs in the 2009 draft. A second team All-SEC selection, he finished his career with 122 tackles and 18.5 sacks while leading the Tigers to a fourth straight bowl victory in the 2008 Chick-fil-A Bowl against Georgia Tech.

Jared Mitchell BASEBALL

Jared Mitchell became LSU's first Major League Baseball first round draft selection since 2003 when he was taken No. 23 overall by the Chicago White Sox. The junior outfielder was named the Most Outstanding Player of the 2009 College World Series following the Tigers' run to a sixth national title. Mitchell, also a wide receiver on the gridiron, became just the second athlete in school history to win national titles in multiple sports.

Marcus Thornton MEN'S BASKETBALL

The consensus Player of the year for the Southeastern Conference as he led the Tigers to the regular season SEC championship with a 13-3 record. Thornton averaged over 21 points a game and would be among the quickest Tigers to 1,000 points, reaching it in less than two years. Thornton was drafted in the second round by the Miami Heat and traded to the New Orleans Hornets.

From the football team's 2007 Bowl Championship Series national title to the baseball team's 2009 national championship, LSU is the home of the nation's elite teams. The 2008-09 year was no exception.

TWO STRAIGHT TOP 10 DIRECTOR'S CUP FINISHES ►►

Another record-setting and historical season in LSU athletics was capped when the school recorded its second straight top 10 finish in the Learfield Sports Director's Cup with a No. 9 showing among all Division I institutions. The ninth-place finish comes on the heels of last year's No. 8 national finish, which marks only the second time in school history that LSU has posted back-to-back top 10 finishes in the Director's Cup.

Dr. Michael V. Martin

Chancellor, LSU

Dr. Michael V. Martin assumed the chancellorship of Louisiana State University and A&M College on August 1, 2008. Prior to his appointment as LSU's eighth chancellor, Dr. Martin established a distinguished career in higher education, serving most recently as president of New Mexico State University.

Before arriving at NMSU in 2004, Dr. Martin served for six years as vice president for agriculture and natural resources at the University of Florida, leading the university's Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences. He was elevated to senior vice president of the University of Florida shortly before being selected as NMSU's president. Previously, he was vice president for agricultural policy and the dean of the College of Agricultural, Food and Environmental Sciences at the University of Minnesota. He began his academic career at Oregon State University as a faculty member in the Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics.

An academic leader dedicated to the land-grant mission, Dr. Martin is recognized as a strong voice for higher education. In 2007, he received the Justin Smith Morrill Memorial Award, named after the author of the bill creating land-grant universities, which honors outstanding service on behalf of the land-grant mission. Only six individuals have been designated to receive this award since it was first given in 1980. For his leadership in improving the quality of life for New Mexico citizens and future generations, he was awarded the 2008 Distinguished Leadership Award by Leadership New Mexico.

Other recent awards include his recognition as a powerbroker by The New Mexico Business Weekly in 2006, being named Outstanding Alumnus of Minnesota State University Mankato in 2006, and receiving the NMSU Social Justice Award in 2005.

Dr. Martin is involved in a wide array of professional and community organizations and activities.

An active scholar, Dr. Martin has authored numerous book chapters and articles for academic journals, trade publications, and the popular press and recently published pieces for The Chronicle of Higher Education and University Business.

Some of his philosophy is summed up in the following quote: "It is the tradition of land-grant universities to be non-traditional," written as part of a 2001 article titled "The Land-Grant University in the 21st Century," published in the Journal of Agricultural and Applied Economics. He traced the history of the land-grant movement from the mid-1800s and concluded that "the fundamental land-grant principles of accessibility, practical as well as classical education, research and discovery in the public interest, and connectedness to all the people remain powerful and profound."

A native of Crosby, Minn., Dr. Martin earned a bachelor's degree in business and economics and a master's degree in economics at Mankato State College (Minnesota State University) in Minnesota. He received his Ph.D. in applied economics from the University of Minnesota in 1977.

Dr. Martin and his wife, Jan, have two children, both adopted from South Korea. Amanda, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire, is a graphic artist in Saint Paul, Minn. Sam, who holds a bachelor's degree from the University of Minnesota and a master's from Sarah Lawrence College, is a genetics counselor at Beth Israel Hospital in New York City.

Dydia DeLyser

Faculty Athletics Representative

Dydia DeLyser, an associate professor in the Department of Geography and Anthropology, serves in her fourth year as LSU's Faculty Athletics Representative.

DeLyser, a native of Santa Monica, Calif., earned her bachelor's degree in 1992 from UCLA, and her master's and doctoral degrees from Syracuse University (in 1996 and 1998).

DeLyser arrived at LSU in August 1998 as an Instructor before becoming an assistant professor one year later. She was promoted to associate professor with tenure in August 2005.

DeLyser is a cultural-historical geographer. Her research has been both ethnographic and historical, and most of it questions how different built landscapes can help make the past meaningful in the present.

Much of her published research has focused on two different studies. One was a many-year ethnographic study of a ghost town in California (Bodie State Historic Park) where she examined how images and ideas about the American mythic West became meaningful to the tourists who visited the town. The second was an historical study that examined a 19th century novel (Ramona) and how it changed the way people understood (and still understand) southern California's past.

Her current research concerns early women aviators and how they used their practices of flying to advance feminism in the post-suffrage era.

DeLyser teaches graduate courses in cultural geography, qualitative research, and academic and professional writing. She has also taught undergraduate courses in cultural, and urban geography, and an introductory world-regional geography course.

DeLyser is a first-generation American -- her parents were Dutch immigrants and English is her second language. She also has language abilities in Russian and Spanish.

DeLyser's hobbies include driving/riding antique cars and motorcycles. She is also a licensed pilot and co-owns a Citabria, which is a two-place aerobatic airplane.

Joe Alleva

LSU Vice-Chancellor/Director of Athletics

Joe Alleva enters his second year as LSU's Director of Athletics after being hired to lead one of the nation's most powerful athletic programs on April 4, 2008. Alleva joined LSU after 10 years of outstanding leadership as the director of athletics at Duke University. He officially took over at LSU on July 1, 2008.

Under Alleva's guidance in 2008-09, LSU reached new heights in terms of athletic success while continuing to be recognized as one of the top enterprises in college athletics.

The LSU Board of Supervisors approved a promotion on August 28, 2009, expanding his role to the academic side of the university. Alleva accepted the position of LSU Vice-Chancellor while still continuing his role as Director of Athletics.

A veteran leader in college athletics, Alleva is dedicated to athletic and academic excellence. He is committed to providing the opportunities and the resources necessary for student-athletes to excel in competition, in the classroom and in the community.

Alleva, 56, is well-respected for sustaining high standards of excellence and integrity in athletic programs, hiring the finest coaches in the country and the high level of success achieved by student-athletes.

Under Alleva's direction, all 20 LSU sports competed in NCAA post-season play for the first time in school history, and it culminated with the baseball team winning the national championship. In addition, six teams finished in the top 10 nationally. The Tigers hold claim to being the only school in the Southeastern Conference to participate in a bowl game and the men's and women's NCAA basketball tournaments during 2008-09. Furthermore, LSU student-athletes volunteered a total of 2,360 hours for community service projects.

LSU earned a ninth place ranking in the 2009 Learfield Director's Cup, which measures the overall athletic success for institutions across the country. LSU was second only to Florida in the Director's Cup among SEC institutions as the Tigers accumulated points in 18 of a possible 20 categories in the standings, also a first for the school.

Upon being hired at LSU, Alleva immediately made an impact by hiring Trent Johnson to lead the men's basketball program. Johnson, the 2009 SEC Coach of the Year, wasted little time in turning the Tigers into a winner as LSU claimed the 2009 SEC regular season title and reached the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

LSU also had top 10 national finishes in gymnastics, men's and women's indoor track and field and men's and women's outdoor track and field. Thirteen of LSU's 20 sports finished the year ranked among the top 25 in the nation.

The Tiger football team capped their season with a record ninth-straight bowl appearance as LSU closed out 2008 with a 38-3 win over 14th-ranked Georgia Tech in the Chick-fil-A Bowl. During the offseason, Alleva helped secure the funding necessary for the addition of a state-of-the-art artificial turf practice field, which compliments the surface the Tigers have in their indoor practice facility. The addition of the outdoor artificial turf field gives the LSU football program one of the nation's finest all-around facilities.

Not only did LSU teams set records but so did the fans as over 1.5 million fans filled venues on the LSU campus. LSU set the school record for overall attendance in the sports of football, baseball, and softball.

Alleva oversaw the grand opening of two of the premier baseball and softball facilities in college athletics, Alex Box Stadium and Tiger Park.

LSU also broke ground on a basketball practice facility that will house both the men's country well into the 21st Century. One of his top priorities is the enhancement of Tiger Stadium and making Tiger Stadium and the North Stadium Drive corridor a showplace for the university. Alleva's innovative plan is to make a plaza area between the Maravich Assembly Center and Tiger Stadium that would recognize LSU's national championship teams and distinguished alumni. This special area, along with Mike's Habitat, and the LSU SportsShop, would become the focal point for visitors to campus.

Alleva is also pursuing a major renovation to the golf course at the University Club and is developing plans for a new gymnastics practice facility, indoor tennis center and improved soccer and track facilities.

"Joe Alleva brings a wealth of experience and accomplishment to LSU," LSU President John Lombardi said of hiring Alleva. "I'm confident we've found a new leader for LSU athletics who exemplifies the vision and integrity needed to lead our sports programs to new heights, a champion of student athletes who believes in the highest standards of competition both on the field and in the classroom."

Alleva's impressive tenure as director of athletics at Duke propelled the university into the ranks of America's top all-around collegiate programs. Among his outstanding list of accomplishments includes the greatest 10-year period in Duke athletics, winning more ACC and NCAA championships than in any other decade in school history.

Also, his fundraising reached extensive heights providing new facilities or renovations for all 26 sports at Duke, which enhanced the experience for every student-athlete.

Alleva is active on the national collegiate athletics scene, having served on the Football Bowl Certification Committee. He sat on several Atlantic Coast Conference committees and served on the NCAA Division I Championships/Competition Cabinet.

Alleva majored in Finance at Lehigh University and received his bachelor's degree in 1975. While at Lehigh, Alleva was the quarterback of the football team and team captain in 1974. Alleva also played on the Lehigh baseball team. He served as a graduate assistant football coach and earned an MBA in 1976.

Alleva began his 32-year career at Duke University in 1976. He spent 28 years in the athletic administration prior to becoming director of athletics in 1998.

Alleva played a key role in Durham's community sports scene. He started Little League Baseball in Durham over 20 years ago, and also began the American Legion baseball program.

Alleva is a member of the North Carolina American Legion Hall of Fame, Suffern High School Hall of Fame and the Rockland County Hall of Fame.

Alleva and his wife, Annie, have three children, J.D., Jeff, and Jenny.

and women's basketball teams starting in December of this year. The new basketball practice facility will feature two full length courts as well as locker rooms and other amenities for both squads.

In addition, LSU opened a new gift center for its fans - the LSU SportsShop. The LSU SportsShop, a spectacular, free-standing facility that features the latest in LSU apparel and merchandise, is located adjacent to Mike's Habitat.

Under Alleva's guidance, LSU has one of the most lucrative apparel and shoe contracts with Nike while also having one of the nation's most attractive multi-media rights contracts with CBS Collegiate Sports Properties. LSU athletic budget is now approaching $85 million, which allows the university to compete at the highest level in the nation.

Alleva has a long-term vision for continued improvements to LSU's athletic facilities in order to insure that the Tigers are among the best in the

CLASSIC

Dec. 15-16, 2009

Maravich Center • Baton Rouge, La.

The LSU women's basketball program announced in the summer of 2009 that it will honor the late Sue Gunter, the winningest head coach in Lady Tiger history, with a two-day tournament in her name. The inaugural Sue Gunter Classic will take place Dec. 15-16 at the Pete Maravich Assembly Center.

UL-Lafayette takes on North Carolina A&T in the first game at 4:30 p.m. LSU faces Houston Baptist in the nightcap at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, Dec. 15. The consolation game tips at 4:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Dec. 16. The two winners will meet in the championship contest at 7 p.m. on Dec. 16.

"We are really pleased to announce the start of the Sue Gunter Classic," LSU head coach Van Chancellor said. "It is important to always remember the contributors of our game, and I don't think there is any greater contributor than Coach Gunter. To be hosting a tournament is great, but to be hosting a tournament in name of a person I have always admired is special. This will mean a lot to our staff, our players and our fans."

"Our thought in developing the Sue Gunter Classic is two-fold," LSU associate head coach Bob Starkey said. "Most importantly, it will allow us to annually bring her name back to the forefront of women's college basketball. Secondly, because of how we will conduct the tournament, it will afford us the annual opportunity to educate a new group of women's college basketball players to her greatness and contribution the game of basketball."

From her USA Basketball days to her first head coaching job at Stephen F. Austin, Gunter was a pioneer for the sport of women's basketball and her legacy carried beyond the court. She made her mark in 22 seasons at LSU, bringing the program to national prominence where it has since advanced to five NCAA Final Fours.

Gunter compiled a 442-221 mark with the Lady Tigers. Under her direction, LSU played in 14 NCAA Tournaments, four Elite Eights, eight Sweet 16s and won two Southeastern Conference Tournament titles. The crowning achievement came in her final season as she led the Lady Tigers to 27 wins and the program's first NCAA Final Four appearance.

2010 SEC TOURNAMENT March 4-7 • Gwinnett Center • Duluth, Ga.

With eight national championships, 10 runner-up finishes, a nation-leading 34 Final Four appearances and 94 first-team All-America honors, the Southeastern Conference stands firmly as the nation's premier intercollegiate women's basketball conference. SEC teams have earned appearances in 25 of 28 NCAA Final Fours, an accomplishment unmatched by any other league.

On Feb. 7, 1980, the first SEC women's basketball tournament began play. It ended four days later with Tennessee defeating Ole Miss for the title. Fast forward 30 years later and the SEC Tournament is still enjoying success and increased popularity.

Beginning with its inception and through 1986, the tournament was held at campus sites. The tournament was then sent to Albany, Ga., which served as the site for six years from 1987-92. The tournament then moved to Chattanooga, Tenn., where it was held from 1993-2000, with the exception of 1998 when the tournament moved to Columbus, Ga.

Since 2001 the tournament has enjoyed many new sites, including Memphis (2001), Nashville (2002, 2004, 2008), North Little Rock, Ark. (2003, 2006, 2009), Greenville, S.C. (2005) and Duluth, Ga. (2007, 2010).

This year the SEC Women's Basketball Tournament returns to Duluth, Ga., as the Gwinnett Center hosts the event for the third time.

The winner of the 11-game tournament will receive the league's automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament. The tournament seeds and conference champion will be determined by the 16-game regular-season SEC schedule. The top four seeds earn a first-round bye.

The 2010 SEC Women's Basketball Tournament will once again enjoy live television coverage. Fox Sports Net affiliates will televise all first and second round games. For the first time ever as part of the SEC's new mega contract with ESPN, both semifinal games will be carried by ESPN. ESPN2 is scheduled to televise the championship game.

Reserved Books are available for $90 and General Admission Books are available for $60. Both books provide one ticket for each of the six sessions of the tournament. Single Session tickets for the women's tournament will go on sale beginning Monday, March 1.

Media Guidelines

CREDENTIAL AND ACCESS GUIDELINES for Media Covering LSU Athletics

LSU's goal is to disseminate information as widely, uniformly and fairly as possible using normally accepted media standards.

Media must meet the following guidelines in order to be granted credentials. Only media that meet the criteria will be considered for access to LSU athletic events.

The number of credentials issued is limited by available resources. Due to space and facility restrictions, access, seat assignments on press row as well as sideline photography will be made on a space available basis. In some situations, pool reporting may be necessary.

PRINT

- Daily newspapers are eligible to apply for credentials and access to media opportunities. The granting and number of credentials will be based on newspaper's circulation on a space available basis.
- Weekly newspapers must be members of the Louisiana Press Association and those sports writers must be members of the Louisiana Sports Writers Association to request credentials. Weekly newspapers based on requests will be limited to non-conference games if space exists.
- Specialty publications that cover college basketball or sports in the host site of the two participating schools are eligible to be granted on a space available basis.
- Student newspapers from the city of the two teams are able to apply for credentials on the basis of a maximum of two press box seats for dailies and one press box seat for weeklies.

TELEVISION

- Television stations that have nightly news broadcasts that originate in the locale of the station that includes sports coverage are eligible to apply for credentials. All other stations will be filled on a space available basis.
- Student television stations from the two participating schools are eligible to apply on a space available basis.

RADIO

- National and regional networks are eligible to apply for credentials.
- Radio stations that employ a full-time sports director or regularly air sports news or locally-produced talk shows are eligible to apply for credentials. No talk show may have more than one credential and the maximum credentials a station may receive for a game, based on space availability, is two.

INTERNET

- Internet sites of the home and visiting school (as determined by the Media Relations Director) are eligible to apply for credentials.
- LSU's policy is to issue credentials only to those organizations whose primary purpose is gather news and disseminating it and for which other commercial activities are ancillary.
- Other internet sites must meet each of the following guidelines in addition to meeting the above criteria to be eligible to apply for credentials and access as determined on a space available basis.
 - Web site must be a legal, corporate entity.
 - Web site must provide daily coverage of LSU or the visiting team with its own full-time staff of reporters, photographers and equipment.
 - Web site must travel to and cover a majority of away games and all major post-season events.
 - Web site must be accredited by the home university as working media.
 - Websites that sponsor message boards, message centers or chat room as their primary function where people are allowed to post anonymous information will not be issued credentials.
 - The maximum number of credentials that a web site may receive is two based on space available and the discretion of the media relations director.

INTERNET REAL-TIME POLICY

By acceptance and use of an LSU media credential, the holder agrees to the following conditions as established by LSU and the Southeastern Conference:

- The SEC and its member institutions grant a media organization a limited license to use certain gathered information on the media organization's own Internet or online site beginning at the start of an athletic event and up to the conclusion of such event, all subject to the following limitations and conditions:
 - No more than 10 still photographs may be used for news coverage of the game and other editorial purposes. Such still photographs must be used on a time-delayed basis, that is at least (5) minutes after the happening of the event depicted by the still photograph.
 - It is agreed that video tape is NOT to be used on an Internet or online site (except that video tape may be shown as part of a single online "simulcast" of a television station's regularly scheduled news program).
- While a game is in progress, the use of textual statistical information is time-delayed and limited in amount (e.g. updates pertaining to score, injuries and national, conference or institutional record-breaking performances, a condensed half-time story) so that an organization's Internet or online game coverage does not undercut the authorized and rights-paying fee organization's rights to play-by-play accounts of the game and/or exclusivity as to such rights.
 - This policy is in effect for all LSU sports events. The limitations for football are three per quarter and one at halftime.
- Should any of these conditions be breached, LSU and/or the SEC will issue a written warning for the first violation. If this violation occurs during the last game of the institutions' regularly-scheduled season, the media organization may not be credentialed for the SEC Basketball Tournament. A second violation of this policy will result in revocation of credentials to cover future basketball games hosted by the SEC and/or its member institutions.

UNAUTHORIZED USE OF CREDENTIALS

Press credentials will be issued to working press only. Press credentials are not transferable and use by anyone other than members of the working media is unauthorized. Press credentials used in an unauthorized manner will be revoked immediately. New organizations allowing unauthorized individuals to use credentials will have their credentials revoked for the remainder of the year.

All press credentials remain the property of the LSU Athletics Department and must be returned on request.

Media Credentials

All requests for working press, photo and broadcast credentials for LSU 2009-10 home basketball games should be made online at www.LSUports.net/media by filling out the form for credentials. Single-game credentials must be requested no later than NOON the day before the game.

All credentials which cannot be mailed are left at the will-call media table inside the Northeast Corridor entrance of the Maravich Center.

News media covering LSU Basketball on a regular basis will be issued a season parking pass. Other parking passes will be handled on a game-by-game basis. The press parking lots will be in Lot H on North Stadium Drive next to the Broussard Training Room.

Requests are honored from sports editors of daily newspapers and sports directors of television and radio stations. Requests from individuals not employed by a media outlet will not be considered. Spouses, dates, non-workers and anyone under 18 years of age are not permitted in the working press area. LSU reserves the right to refuse any credential request deemed not to be in the best interest of the University.
