GARRETT RUNION HEAD COACH

Garrett Runion, who has been a part of two national championships during his collegiate coaching career, is in his second season as the LSU women's golf head coach.

Runion became the fourth women's golf head coach in LSU history on June 8, 2018. In his first season at the helm, Runion returned the Tigers to the NCAA postseason as LSU competed in the East Lansing Regional in 2019. LSU was in contention to advance to the NCAA Championships going into the final round at East Lansing, despite various weather challenges. Runion also coached the Tigers to a ninth-place finish at the SEC Championship in April, a five-spot improvement over last season and one spot out of match play.

Runion spent six seasons as the LSU men's golf assistant coach and in April 2018 was named a finalist for the Jan Strickland Outstanding Assistant Coach Award for the third year in a row. A three-year letterwinner for the Tigers, Runion was instrumental in LSU's return to national prominence since joining Director of Golf Chuck Winstead's men's staff prior to the 2012-13 season. The LSU men's team finished in the Top 10 at the men's NCAA National Championships in four consecutive seasons from 2013-17 and had four former and current Tigers qualify for the 2018 U.S. Open at Shinnecock Hills. Tiger Luis Gagne received low amateur honors at the 2018 U.S. Open.

The 2014-15 season was one for the ages in the history of LSU men's golf as the Tigers staked their claim as the premier program in college golf with a 4-1 win over USC to win the NCAA national title. From 2012-18, 12 Tigers earned All-America honors and 14 were named All-Southeastern Conference.

Runion returned to LSU after guiding Nova Southeastern to the NCAA Division II national championship in his one and only season as head coach in 2011-12. The run to the national title highlighted a historic season that saw Runion receive the Dave Williams Award as the NCAA Division II National Coach of the Year, as well as earning Sunshine State Conference

Coach of the Year and Eaton Golf Pride South Region Coach of the Year honors. The Sharks also earned the team's second SSC title in his tenure on staff. He served as the program's assistant head coach during the 2010-11 season as Nova Southeastern captured the SSC titles in a strong 2010-11 campaign.

A native of Orlando, Florida, Runion called Baton Rouge home for four seasons from 2003-08. A four-time member of the SEC Academic Honor Roll and three-time SEC Community Service Team selection, Runion graduated from LSU in the May 2008 with his bachelor's degree in general studies. He has also served as the Assistant Coach Representative for NCAA Division I on the National Golf Coaches Association of America's National Advisory Board.

Runion and his wife, Meghan, have one son, Reid, aka "Rocket" (4) and a daughter, Riley (1).

ALEXIS RATHER ASSISTANT COACH

Alexis Rather begins her tenth season with the Tigers, her second working with head coach Garrett Runion. Rather spent eight seasons under the tutelage of Karen Bahnsen in addition to playing for LSU from 2003-2008.

Rather has become a consummate recruiter and on-course coach. During tournaments, Rather can be seen at various spots on the course, offering help and encouragement to the Tigers when needed.

The native of Tupelo, Mississippi, was a four-year letter winner at LSU, appeared in two NCAA Women's Golf Championships as a player and was a four-time Women's Golf Coaches Association Scholar-Athlete honoree. Rather, a two-time First-Team All-Louisiana golfer, had three top 10 finishes in her senior season.

Rather was named LSU's recipient on the SEC Community Service Team while in college and has been heavily involved her entire LSU career with the school's Life Skills Program and service projects throughout the community. She graduated from LSU in July 2007 with an honors degree in communications and her master's in sports management from LSU in 2008.

FALL 2019 TOURNAMENT RESULTS

Mercedes-Benz Collegiate Championship

Knoxville, Tenn. – September 16-17, 2019

Cherokee Country Club -- Par 71

The LSU women's golf team earned its first Top-3 finish of the 2019-20 season at the 23rd annual Mercedes-Benz Collegiate Championship at the Cherokee Country Club in Knoxville, Tennessee on September 17.

The Tigers maintained their standing in third place by shooting a 1-under 283 in the final round. LSU finished the 56-hole tournament with a 7-over 859. It is the first time since the Alamo Invitational in October of 2014 that LSU has recorded back-to-back rounds of 285 or less in a tournament (279-284-278).

Princess Anne Invitational

Virginia Beach, Va. – October 4-6, 2019

Princess Anne Country Club -- Par 70

The LSU women's golf team won its first tournament of the season at the Princess Anne Invitational hosted by Old Dominion. The Tigers share the title with Virginia Tech after a hard-fought final round. Ingrid Lindblad, Latanna Stone and Kendall Griffin ended up in the Top 10 in the individual standings.

LSU started the final round at 8-over through the front nine and widening the gap behind Virginia Tech for the lead. But the team battled on the back nine to cut strokes and finish with a 1-over 281. The Tigers shot 3-over for the tournament with a total of 843. LSU posted the second-lowest score of every round to stay in contention and bring home their second Top 3 finish of the season.

It is the 42nd team championship in LSU women's golf history and the first under second-year head coach Garrett Runion. It is the first tournament win for LSU since the LSU Tiger Golf Classic in March 2018 and just the second team title since the 2014-15 season.

Magnolia Invitational

West Point, Miss. – October 13-14, 2019

Old Waverly Golf Club -- Par 72

For the first time since the 1996-97 season, the LSU women's golf team has won back-to-back tournaments with today's win at the 2019 Magnolia Invitational. LSU won the Princess Anne Invitational in Virginia Beach on Oct. 6, making this the first season since 2014-15 that the Tigers have won multiple tournaments in a season.

Freshman Ingrid Lindblad led the charge for LSU, winning the individual crown with a three-round score of 10-under 206. She shot 5-under 67 in Round 2 and followed that up with a 4-under 68 to finish Round 3, her fifth and sixth rounds of the season shooting par or under. Lindblad was the leader in par 5 scoring with a 4.25 average and 9-under. It is the first individual win for an LSU player since Claudia DeAntonio won the LSU Lady Tiger Golf Classic in 2018.

The Reserve at Lake Keowee - Par 72

The Tigers added the Clemson Invitational to the schedule in January after losing three rounds of competition to weather in the Fall. LSU finished the tournament at The Reserve at Lake Keowee at even par and in sixth place. LSU shot its first round of the season under par on Sunday with a 1-under 287. The last time the Tigers shot at par or under was the 2014 Alamo Invitational.

NCAA CHAMPIONSHIPS

NCAA CHAMPIONSHIPS

After a major format change, the NCAA Women's Golf Championship has shown that it can play on a nationally-televised platform.

The format involves a cut after 54 holes to the top-15 teams and nine individuals not on those 15 teams. They will play a final stroke play round to determine the national individual champion and the eight teams that will advance to match play.

To win the national championship, a team will then have to win three best-of-five player matches over the course of two days.

For the sixth straight year, the NCAA championship will be held on the same course that the men's championship will be contested on -- Grayhawk Golf Club in Scottsdale, Arizona. The women's championship will be contested May 22-27.

LSU had its best national championship finishes in 2011 and 2012 taking home third place both years. In 2012, the Lady Tigers were just two shots out from bringing home the title.

Teams will qualify through four regional sites with six teams advancing from each. The host cities in 2020 are Athens, Georgia; Notre Dame, Indiana; Pullman, Washington and Raleigh, North Carolina. The dates are May 11-13 for the regional competition.

LSU is scheduled to host a women's regional at the University Club in 2021.

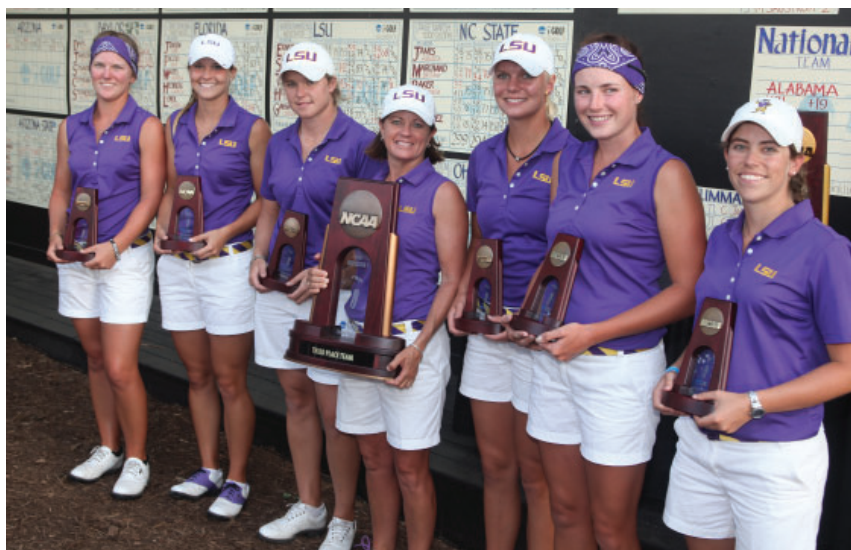

LSU has made 13 team appearances in the NCAA Championships since the program began in 1982. The Lady Tigers were in that first event in Palo Alto, California, when LSU finished 16th.

The Lady Tigers would return in 1986 when LSU was led by Player of the Year Jenny Lidback. Lidback helped the Lady Tigers to a ninth-place finish, and finished tied for 17th.

LSU's longest championship run started in 1986, when the Three Amigas (Ashley Winn, Laura Moore and Michelle Louviere) took the Lady Tigers to top 10-finishes in 1996 (8th) and 1998 (5th). Louviere finished tied for 19th in 1986 and Winn tied for 15th.

The Lady Tigers posted 10th-place finishes in 1999 and 2000 and a 12th-place finish in 2001 on teams led by Katy Harris and Meredith Duncan. Duncan played the last 54 holes in 2-under par after opening with a 10-over 82 to finish in a tie for seventh place in 2000 and Harris shot a 1-under 287 to finish in a tie for third in LSU's appearance in 2001.

Harris, Duncan and Megan McChrystal are the three LSU players who played in the championships all four years of their careers. Harris made it on four teams from 1998 to 2001, while Duncan qualified on three teams and once individually from 1999-2002. McChrystal's four years (2008-11) included three team appearances, including assisting in the 2011 team's first of back-to-back third-place finishes.

LSU POSTED BACK-TO-BACK THIRD PLACE NCAA CHAMPIONSHIP FINISHES IN 2011 (TOP) AND 2012 (BOTTOM).

Tessa Teachman (2009, 2011, 2012), Jacqueline Hedwall (2009, 2011, 2012), Kristi Coats (1990, 1991, 1992), Caroline Martens (2006, 2008, 2009) and Amalie Valle (2008, 2009, 2011) are the golfers with three NCAA Championships appearances.

The individual highlight came from freshman Austin Ernst in 2011 when she closed with a 6-under 66 that included a hole-in-one to win the title.

Since 1993, to get to the NCAA Division I Championships, teams and individuals must go through the NCAA Regional Tournaments. LSU has hosted the regional on three occasions (1993, 2002, 2007).

As a team, LSU has advanced to the regional round of NCAA post-season play since that first tournament in 1993 in all but four seasons as a team (1994, 2002, 2017 and 2018). In 2019, the Tigers went into the final round at East Lansing in contention to advance to the Championship tournament.

Regionals are make-or-break tournaments that reward the teams playing the best over those 54 holes. In 2009, LSU used a chip-in birdie by Alexis Rather on the first hole of sudden death to go to the Championships, but in 2010, one shot meant the difference between eighth and ninth place as LSU missed a chance to go back again.

LSU won its first regional title in 2012, capturing the West Regional in Erie, Colorado, en route to its second-consecutive third-place finish at the Championships.

2012 NCAA 3RD PLACE TEAM

2012 NCAA CHAMPIONSHIPS LSU EQUALS THIRD-PLACE FINISH

FRANKLIN, Tenn. - Coach Karen Bahnsen said it all season long and emphasized it all week at the Vanderbilt Legends Club and the NCAA Women's Championships about how her Lady Tigers "were such fighters."

Struggling a bit at 26-over par and about to fall out of the top 10 for the first time all week, the Lady Tigers fight showed on the final three holes in Thursday's third round, as the team counted six birdies on the 7th, 8th and 9th holes to suddenly move to 20-over par and in fifth place entering Friday's final round of the 72-hole marathon.

The Lady Tigers took the Legends Club and its sun-baked double rolled greens to its knees with a 1-over par round of 289, its best of the tournament, as LSU finished a program-best third place for the second-consecutive year.

LSU played the last 21 holes of the tournament in 5-under par and posted a number at 21-over par 1,173 (293-294-297-289) that was almost good enough to win the title. After finishing eight shots behind UCLA last year, the Tigers watched the final wave and top two, Alabama and Southern California, come in with Southern Cal on two occasions dropping back to 21-over to give LSU a potential second-place tie before a late birdie set up even more drama.

With USC in the clubhouse at plus-20 and its last player not counting, it was up to Alabama's Brooke Pancake to two putt to win the title by a shot. Pancake closed out the Tide's first NCAA title at 19-over par 1,171. USC finished at 20-over 1,172, one shot ahead of LSU.

LSU's 1,173 marks the lowest 72-hole score in school history, eight shots better than the third-place score of a season ago.

"They came in here and really wanted to get in a position to win it," said LSU Coach Bahnsen. "They did and went out and posted a great number and it was just a couple short. We felt like we were good enough to compete and we showed we were. They did it as a total team. I'm very proud of them. Yea, they are a little disappointed but I'm so proud of them."

The repeat of the third-place finish came on the heels of four team wins, the most team wins since the 1985-86 season.

Senior Tessa Teachman, in her final collegiate tournament, finished with a birdie to tie for third at 1-under 287 (69-74-70-74). Chirapat Jao-Javanil of Oklahoma was the individual winner at 6-under 282 (69-73-70-70).

Teachman, is the fourth LSU golfer to finish in the top three in the history of the NCAA Championships joining Austin Ernst, who won last year. Katy Harris in 2001 and Kristi Coats in 1991 who both finished third.

"It is bittersweet," said Teachman after the verdict was sealed and LSU had finished third. "It is also my last year to give it a try. I know we can all think of shots we left here and there. It's a four-day tournament. It's how they declare the champion whoever plays best over four days. So it is bittersweet and frustrating but in retrospect you have to say third means not what we wanted but it's not bad when you look at the great competition that's out there."

In posting its 1-over par round, LSU really took advantage of the par-5 ninth on the front side and the more difficult back nine that had caused teams problems all week. All five players birdied the ninth, giving LSU a counting four total of 2-over after struggling early before a nine-birdie surge on holes 5-9. On the final nine holes, LSU would card a 1-under side, again getting three birdies and an Ernst eagle on the more difficult par-5 18th hole.

2011 NCAA CHAMPIONSHIPS LSU BEST EVER THIRD AS A TEAM; AUSTIN ERNST WINS TITLE

BRYAN, Texas - Freshman Austin Ernst became the first LSU women's golfer in the 32-year history of the program to win the NCAA Women's Championship, firing a final round of 6-under 66 to win the championship by three shots at The Traditions Club.

Ernst, from Seneca, S.C., becomes the first freshman to win the women's national championship since Jennifer Rosales of USC in 1998.

It was also a historic day for the LSU women's program as they rallied in the final round to easily finish the highest they have ever finished in their 11 Championship appearances, taking third behind champion UCLA and runnerup Purdue. The best previous finish for a women's team was in 1998 in Madison, Wisc., when LSU finished fifth.

After losing the lead in the third round, Ernst came right back on the second hole of the day with a hole-in-one and then a 60-foot birdie on the next hole put her in the lead to stay.

"I had 162 (yards). It was a solid eight iron and it was going right at the pin," Ernst told the media afterwards. "I looked down and looked back up and begin to hear the roar because it got really, really loud and I looked up and the ball was gone. Everyone was going crazy. I don't remember exactly what I did, but I went crazy. It was my first hole-in-one ever."

Ernst, showing maturity beyond her freshman status, won by three shots over Arkansas' Kelli Shean. Ernst posted rounds of 72-66-77-66 for a 72-hole score of seven-under 281, the lowest score ever shot for 72 holes by an LSU women's golfer.

"I was very confident coming in," Ernst said. "Coming down the stretch my nerves were really good which I was little surprised about. I was just trusting my shots. (Coach Karen Bahnsen) kept telling me one shot at a time. Stay in the now not yesterday. Don't focus on results."

In fact, Ernst told Bahnsen on the seventh hole she didn't want to know her place in the standings during the round and the scoreboards on the course were only showing team results.

"For Austin to come in here and handle all this shows how poised she is," said LSU Coach Karen Bahnsen. "She handled everything so well ..."

Ernst played the par 3s in two-under, the par fours in two-under and the par fives in three-under. She tied with runnerup Shean with 19 birdies and her hole-in-one was one of an amazing five over the last two rounds of the event.

The Lady Tiger team played the final 10 combined holes early Saturday in one-over par to fall to a tie for fourth and Bahnsen knew her team had one final kick left.

"When we got done we talked about how the girls are the tops in the country in final round average and that's a fact," she said. "I told them they just have to play like that and be confident. I'm proud of them. It was a total team effort. I said it was going to take that. Finishing third is tremendous. They fought really hard. It feels awesome. I've been doing this a long time and I'm so proud of the girls. They tried so hard the entire week."

Besides Ernst's 66, junior Tessa Teachman came out big for the team with a one-over 73, senior Megan McChrystal closed her record-breaking career at LSU before turning pro with a 75, Jacqueline Hedwall had a 76 and LSU's other senior in the lineup, Amalie Valle, posted 80. Hedwall (who led the team in pars with 50) finished in a tie for 26th place, while McChrystal finished in a tie for 43rd.

LSU finished with a school record 72 hole total of 1,181 (292-296-303-290), topping the 1,187 total they recorded in 1998.

BROOKE SHELTON

The LSU Golf teams have the privilege of calling The University Club home.

After undergoing a nine-month renovation in 2009-10, the home of LSU's nationally-ranked programs features a renown par-72 layout that serves as an impressive showpiece for generations to come.

The course at the University Club was re-designed under the guidance of LSU legend and PGA Tour pro David Toms and noted golf course architect Jim Lipe, who designed the original University Club in 1998. The course is carved into nearly 300 acres of land just seven miles south of the LSU campus on Nicholson Drive.

The club most recently received rave reviews as the host of the 2013 and 2017 NCAA Men's Golf Regionals and the 2016 NCAA Women's NCAA Regional, the third women's NCAA postseason event to be played at the University Club.

The challenging 18-hole course at University Club can play to 7,700 yards from its championship tees and features wide fairways bordered by pine hammocks and native grasses, in addition to 2,000 feet of bulkhead. Four additional sets of tees are also available for players of all ages and skill levels.

In addition, the lake areas have been increased by 110,000 cubic yards in total and more than 500 trees were added throughout the course to provide a challenging test of golf for anyone playing the University Club.

Not only that, but the course now has one of the most impressive finishing holes in golf as the 18th hole features a new championship "Tiger" tee with a beautiful six-foot high wood bulkhead. The lake was expanded near the green, where an additional 180 feet of bulkhead was also added.

In the summer of 2011, the members of the University Club voted the 18th hole as the course's "Signature Hole."

The course was built on land donated to the Tiger Athletic Foundation and subsequently leased to The University Club. The original vision that drove University Club's development was having a premier course that would provide a place for TAF members to play, as well as a home for the men's and women's golf teams at LSU.

The course opened for members on Oct. 22, 1998. The swimming and tennis facility adjacent to the course opened in the summer of 2000. The surrounding housing development continues to grow, adding to the beauty of the area surrounding the golf course.

The Tiger Athletic Foundation is a private, non-profit corporation that serves as the fund-raising and development arm of the LSU athletics department. Each year, the TAF underwrites scholarship and academics awards, as well as capital development projects for LSU athletics.

BILYEU GOLF PRACTICE FACILITY

In April 2011, the LSU Golf House was given a well deserved renaming to the Mary and Woody Bilyeu Golf Practice Facility.

The Tiger Athletic Foundation paid tribute to the couple for their generous donation that helped redo the University Club, making the course more challenging for collegiate golfers. Playing on the course helped the LSU women to their best ever third-place finishes in both the 2011 and 2012 NCAA Championships.

"The generosity of the Bilyeus has been tremendous, and they are going to make people's dreams come true for years and years to come," TAF Senior Vice President Rick Perry said. "There will be young people with the opportunity to chase their dream, not only to be professional golfers but to get the opportunity to come to LSU and get an education.

The facility features office and storage areas for both teams, indoor hitting bays, computer analysis stations and meeting and locker room space for both teams as well as graphic displays of the history of both golf programs through the years. The outdoor hitting area is expansive where players can work on all facets of their game.

TRACKMAN

LSU utilizes TrackMan technology to improve each player's game with properly-fitted equipment tailored to their specific needs. Each player is able to obtain exact yardages for each club in her bag while measuring various aspects of her swing, such as launch angle, spin rate, attack angle, clubhead speed, ball speed and much more.

CONFERENCE ROOM

The lavish conference room at the LSU Golf House enables the LSU coaching staff and players to meet in a quiet, spacious area.

LOCKER ROOM

The new Tiger locker room includes space for all the players to dress and store their equipment.

WEDGE GAME

The practice facilities at the Bilyeu Golf Practice Facility feature a wedge game area with three target greens, each measuring 2,000 square feet. Players can fine-tune their wedge game by hitting shots from all lies and angles up to 120 yards as the greens are guarded by rough and five bunkers. The project, designed by LSU alumni David Toms, Jim Lipe and Chuck Winstead, was completed in the summer of 2007.

PUTTING GREEN

In addition to building a new wedge game area, renovations to the practice facilities at The Bilyeu Golf Practice Facility saw the completion of a brand new putting green measuring 10,000 square feet along with an existing putting green measuring 14,000 square feet that has been overseeded with bent grass. In all, the improvements to the practice facilities at the Bilyeu Golf Practice Facility are estimated at $150,000.

TEE BOX

Members of the LSU men's and women's golf teams have the opportunity to practice in a spacious environment as the Bilyeu Golf Practice Facility features a large tee box measuring 100 yards in length.

CLUB REPAIR

The Bilyeu Golf Practice Facility is blessed with a state-of-the-art club repair room that allows the players to re-grip clubs, re-shaft clubs and check and change the lies and lofts of each club, including woods and putters, to ensure your set is where you want it.

SAM PUTTLAB

The SAM (Science and Motion) PuttLab uses the same basic principles as TrackMan technology, but with putting. The Tigers are able to fine-tune their putting stroke from the feedback SAM provides about the angle of the putter face at set up, impact and through the stroke.
