LSU IN THE CSTV/AVCA POLL

Despite dropping a pair of tough five-game matches on the road at Tennessee and Kentucky, the LSU volleyball team remained ranked in the AVCA/CSTV Coaches poll at No. 25. It marks the 23rd consecutive week the Tigers have been among the Top 25, the longest streak since being ranked for 52 straight weeks from 1989 through 1993.

DIG FOR THE CURE

In an effort to raise awareness and money for the world's most common cause of cancer death in women, LSU volleyball kicks off the "Dig for the Cure" campaign against Alabama.

The month-long campaign will help to raise money for breast cancer awareness through the Susan G. Komen For The Cure Foundation. Donations will be accepted throughout the month of October, which has been designated Breast Cancer Awareness Month, with the proceeds of the campaign going directly to the Komen Foundation.

Fans are asked to make pledges either per dig for the Alabama and Arkansas matches, or they can make direct monetary contributions. Representatives from the Komen Foundation will be on hand at the matches to accept donations, along with several fan friendly fundraisers that will help raise money throughout the month.

The "Dig for the Cure" campaign was originally started in 2003 by Charlotte head coach Lisa Marston, whose mother was a breast cancer survivor, and has spread to volleyball programs across the country in recent years. Last year, the campaign raised over $72,000 nationally.

LSU VS. RANKED TEAMS

LSU is scheduled to play two matches against nationally ranked teams during the 2007 season, both against No. 6 Florida as part of the SEC round robin schedule. The Tigers also dropped a four-game match to Iowa State, which is receiving votes in the poll, swept Arkansas, which is currently receiving votes, and defeated Ole Miss in three when the Rebels were receiving votes.

THE GOLD STANDARD

In a promotion dubbed the "Gold Game", the LSU volleyball team broke the single-match volleyball attendance record against South Carolina on Sept. 21. The Tiger faithful clad all in gold topped 2,300 as LSU shattered the previous record of an estimated 2,250 against Kentucky in 1992. With an attendance of 2,308, LSU marked its third 2,000-plus attendance in school history and the first since the 1992 record. Along with the 920 that attended the match against Florida the following Sunday, the 13th largest attendance in school history, and the two-day Mizuno Tiger Classic to start the year, the Tigers are averaging 992 in attendance this year, the largest average attendance in Fran Flory's 10-year tenure.

ON FIRE OR COLD AS ICE

LSU has one of the toughest serving teams in the league and when the Tigers are on track, they are very good, but with that risk can come consequences. The Tigers are second in the SEC with 1.97 service aces per game, led by KYNA WASHINGTON with 45, MARINA SKENDER with 41 and ELENA MARTINEZ with 22. Eight Tigers have recorded an ace, all with four or more, including five with 10 or more. Conversely, LSU is also averaging 3.46 service errors per game. Recording a .873 serving percentage, the Tigers' best effort came against UL-Monroe when LSU had 17 aces. After recording a season worst 21 service errors against Auburn, the Tigers rebounded with their first single-digit service error total of the year with eight against Georgia, including a flawless third game.

DEGIROLAMO currently ranks fifth in the SEC and 38th in the NCAA (as of Oct. 14) with 1.44 blocks per game, while closely by COOPER in third in the league and 43rd nationally (as of Oct. 14) with 1.47 blocks per game, the only two players from the same team ranked in the top five.
