2013 SEASON SERIES
NO. 13 LSU 4, SOUTH CAROLINA 0 - 3/22

BATON ROUGE - The No. 13 LSU softball team used another stellar Rachele Fico pitching performance and a pair of timely two-out run producing hits from Rikki Alcaraz and Jacee Blades to come away with a 4-0 victory over South Carolina Friday as 1,156 fans gathered at Tiger Park for the series opener.

The Tigers (26-5, 6-1 SEC) extended their winning streak to eight games and have collected victories in 12 of their last 14 outings dating back to March 1. LSU also has won 14 consecutive decisions over the Gamecocks (17-10, 0-4 SEC) since 2008.

With the victory, LSU remains in sole possession of first place in the SEC Western Division standings. The Tigers have a one-game edge over Alabama, an 8-0 winner over Auburn earlier tonight.

Fico registered a three-hit shutout, her ninth of the season, to move to 16-3 for the season. The win also was the 70th career victory for Fico as she retired 13 of the final 14 hitters she faced. The lone hiccup was a two-out walk during the sixth inning. The senior right-hander recorded seven strikeouts versus two walks.

"I just take it for granted," head coach Beth Torina said. "I just think that's her job, and she does it every day. When we name the Players of the Game, I said Rikki (Alcaraz) and Jacee (Blades) because I just assume that Rachele did her job. But she is fantastic. We have learned to expect that from her. It's not easy what she does. She is a fantastic player and a special competitor. She is able to shut down any offense at any time."

South Carolina's best opportunity to score came in the second inning. The Gamecocks pieced together a Julie Sarratt walk followed by Shelby Gonzales single to left field. Fico regrouped by fanning Codee Yeske to end the threat and keep the score at 0-0.

LSU broke through with a two-spot during the fourth inning. Blades led off the frame with an infield single. Two batters later, she was traded spots with Bianka Bell after a fielder's choice. After strikeouts out in her first plate appearance, Alcaraz bounced back with in a big way with a two-run homer to straight-away centerfield. It was third dinger of the season.

"Rikki had a great day today," Torina said. "She's been doing some good things for us. She's been swinging well. I've been putting her in situations where she can be successful, and she is making herself successful in other situations as well. She did a great job of making the adjustment from one at-bat to the next. I think that was the thing I was most impressed about with her tonight."

"I know the first time I didn't have a really good at-bat, but the second time I knew I had to make an adjustment to the pitcher," Alcaraz said. "I didn't really pay attention to my home run. I just go up there and hit and do whatever I can do to help the team."

The Tigers added a pair of insurance runs in the fifth inning. Tammy Wray smacked a leadoff double down the left field line. With one out, Simone Heyward followed with a sharp single to left field to place runners on the corners. Heyward would steal second base, and Blades platted both runners by smacking a two-out single to left centerfield for the final margin of 4-0.

Game two of the series is set for Saturday at 4 p.m., and the game will be carried live by Cox Sports Television with Lyn Rollins and retired LSU softball coach Yvette Girouard set to call the action. The game also will be broadcasted by the LSU Sports Radio Network on Country Legends 104.9 FM in Baton Rouge and can be accessed by Geaux Zone subscribers at www.LSUsports.net/live.

"I think we just have to stay with our plan," Torina said. "We have to get another solid pitching performance, and our offense has to find a way to score some runs. South Carolina is solid on all aspects. They swing it really well. Their pitchers are going to keep us off balance and do their best. We just have to continue to do our job and the same thing we've done."

2013 SEASON SERIES
NO. 13 LSU 6, SOUTH CAROLINA 0 - 3/23

BATON ROUGE - Tammy Wray belted a pair of two-run home runs for a career-best four RBIs, while Ashley Czechner fired another one-hit shutout as the No. 13 LSU softball team picked up a 6-0 victory over South Carolina Saturday in-front of a season's best 1,705 fans at Tiger Park.

The Tigers (27-5, 7-1 SEC) pushed their winning streak to nine games and have picked up victories in 13 of their last 15 outings since March 1. LSU also has strung together 15 consecutive wins over the Gamecocks (17-11, 0-5 SEC) going back to the 2008 season.

The win enabled LSU to remain in sole possession of first place in the SEC Western Division race. The Tigers have a two-game edge over Alabama and Texas A&M. However, the Aggies play game two of their three-game set at Tennessee later tonight.

Czechner came away with her first career seven-inning shutout with the Tigers and improved to 7-0 to stay unblemished on the season. The lone hit for South Carolina came on a Dana Hathorn infield single with one out in the fourth inning.

"Ashley did a really good job," head coach Beth Torina said. "She threw a lot of strikes today and was able to spin it really well. I thought she kept them off balanced for the entire game. It was a really good performance from her. I thought it was probably her best. You know, I say that every time she takes the mound that it has been her best performance. I think that just shows how much she continues to grow every time she takes the field."

Czechner, a South Carolina native, collected five strikeouts against one walk on an economical 82 pitches. She pounded the zone early and often by registering 17-of-24 in the first pitch strikes department.

"At the beginning of the year, I was just trying to feel everything out," Czechner said. "Now I'm getting a lot more comfortable in the circle and a lot more comfortable with my teammates. I'm pitching against some of the best competition in the SEC. Coach Torina has worked really, really hard with me. We've been working on each pitch, doing certain drills and really just fine tuning the little things."

LSU dented the scoreboard for the first time with a two-spot during the fourth inning. Sandra Simmons smacked a one-out single through the right side. After an 11-pitch at-bat her first time up, Wray jumped on the first pitch of her second plate appearance. She cranked a two-run dinger just inside the left field foul pole and onto the berm to make it 2-0.

"My first at-bat, I told Coach (Howard) Dobson that I was going to look out," Wray said. "I've been struggling with the inside pitch. Unfortunately I popped up to the third baseman, but I was able to see a lot of pitches. Going into my next at-bat, I was confident that I saw enough pitches. I knew where she liked to throw. I told myself that I was going to look in because that was all she was throwing me. Fortunately on the first pitch, I was able to make contact and keep it fair."

The Tigers added four more runs in the fifth inning. Jacee Blades, who matched a career-high with three hits for her team-leading 10th multi-hit effort of the season, chopped a leadoff infield single. Bianka Bell ripped a 3-1 offering over the right centerfield fence to claim her sixth homer of the season and extend the LSU lead to 4-0.

Four batters later, Wray struck again with another two-run roundtripper. This time she went to straight-away centerfield for the final margin of 6-0. The last LSU player to connect for two home runs during a SEC game was Rachel Mitchell versus Arkansas on April 27, 2008 at the original Tiger Park.

"Tammy did such a good job of understanding the hitting plan today," Torina said. "She was able to do multiple things and show some versatility. The more confident she gets, I think the better she's going to be. She's just going to go off the charts with her ability, and the power that she's capable of having."

The final game of the three-game set is slated for Sunday at 1 p.m., and the game will be broadcasted by the LSU Sports Radio Network on Country Legends 104.9 FM in Baton Rouge. The broadcast also can be accessed by Geaux Zone subscribers at www.LSUsports.net/live.

"I think we need to do what we've been doing exactly," Torina said. "I think we need to get a solid pitching performance, swing the bats aggressively like we have been and try to pick up the last game. We're out to win this league, and every game matters. Every game is important. So, we won't treat it any differently than we have the first two games."

2013 SEASON SERIES
SOUTH CAROLINA 4, NO. 13 LSU 1 - 3/24

BATON ROUGE - The No. 13 LSU softball team had its nine-game winning streak come to a close as South Carolina claimed a 4-1 win during the series finale Sunday at Tiger Park.

The Tigers (27-6, 7-2 SEC) were handed only their second loss at home on the season, while South Carolina (18-11, 1-5 SEC) halted LSU's 15-game winning streak in the series dating back to 2008. At the end of three conference weekends, LSU continues to hold sole possession of first place in the SEC Western Division standings.

"South Carolina played hard today," head coach Beth Torina said. "They played harder than we did. They fought really hard, and they made good adjustments where we didn't. Rachele doesn't have to perfect every time she takes the field. I know we expect her to be, but she doesn't have to be. We are capable of scoring enough runs on a day where she doesn't have her best stuff. We didn't do that today."

The Gamecocks grabbed an early 1-0 edge during the first inning. Samie Garcia banged a leadoff triple off the right field fence wall. LSU starting pitcher Rachele Fico was poised to get out of the jam, but Kristen Struett delivered the first of her three hits by knocking a two-out single deep into the hole between shortstop and third base for the game's first run.

The Tigers had an opportunity to draw even in the second inning. Allison Falcon and Sandra Simmons connected a pair of singles and moved into scoring position on Tammy Wray's sacrifice bunt. However, Kelsi Kloss fouled out followed by a Simone Heyward pop out to keep the score at 1-0.

South Carolina extended its lead to 2-0 during the third inning, and the Gamecocks made the most of an Alaynie Page one-out walk. Two batters later, Page crossed the plate on Struett's two-out single to left centerfield.

LSU fired back with some two-out magic of its own and pulled back to within 2-1 in the fourth inning. Wray drew a walk and scampered around the bases on Kloss' RBI double into the right centerfield gap.

"We missed a couple chances," Torina said. "Kelsi had the big RBI double, but she also had an opportunity with runners on second and third earlier in the game and didn't come through. We had a lot of opportunities, all of them did. Kelsi swung well and some of the others did too. Unfortunately for us, it wasn't at the right times today."

The Gamecocks responded with two runs during the fifth inning courtesy of a two-run single by Chelsea Hawkins down the right field line to go ahead by a 4-1 margin.

LSU was able to put a baserunner on in each of the final three frames, but USC's Audrey Broyles finished off her complete game effort to improve to 7-4 on the season. She scattered one run on five hits and recorded two strikeouts against two walks.

"South Carolina came out today, and you could tell they didn't want to be swept," Kloss said. "They fought right away. They got that run in the first inning. Normally, we can come back from that. We can tell ourselves it's not a big deal. By the time we got one and cut the lead in half, they put some more runs up next inning. We felt defeated, and that is not who we are. We shouldn't feel that way, but today they got the best from us."

Fico was dealt her first SEC setback of the season and her overall record dropped to 16-4. All four runs were earned on seven hits. The senior right-hander tallied four strikeouts versus three walks.

"They were able to string some hits together today," Fico said. "Things fell their way, but we need to come out and be better than that. We can't let games like this get away from us."
