- LSU advanced to face No. 3 seed Michigan at 2:30 p.m. CT on Sunday. In order to advance to the championship series, the Tigers will have to register two wins against the Wolverines.
- In its fourth WCWS appearance (2001, '04, '12, '15), LSU improved to 8-7 overall. Alabama is now 17-19 all-time (1-2 this year) in 10 WCWS appearances (2000, '03, '05, '06, '08, '09, '11, '12, '14, '15).
- Alabama struck first in the contest, scoring on an RBI single from sophomore Marisa Runyon in the first inning. The RBI gave her 80 this season, an Alabama single-season record. Runyon finished the game 2 for 4 at the plate.
- The Tigers responded with three runs in the bottom of the first inning, starting with an RBI single from sophomore Savannah Jaquish. Junior Kelsi Kloss then hit an RBI double to left field to put LSU ahead 2-1 before scoring on a throwing error, giving it the 3-1 advantage.
- LSU sophomore Bailey Landry sent a two-RBI single to right field in the second inning. Landry went 2 for 3 in the contest.
- All nine of LSU's RBIs at the 2015 WCWS have come with two outs.
- LSU freshman pitcher Allie Walljasper moved to 16-5 on the season with the win. In 6.0 innings of work, she gave up three runs on six hits and walked one batter. Freshman Carley Hoover posted her fifth save of the season, pitching an inning for the Tigers.
- Alabama sophomore pitcher Sydney Littlejohn fell to 16-2 this year with the loss. Littlejohn surrendered five runs on five hits, walked two batters and struck out one. Senior Leslie Jury also pitched 3.0 innings for the Crimson Tide, giving up two hits and a walk and recording four strikeouts.
- Alabama mounted a rally in the bottom of the seventh inning, loading the bases with one out. The Crimson Tide managed to score two runs – one on an RBI sacrifice fly to right field from senior Jadyn Spencer and one from freshman Kayla Rettig on a wild pitch – but could not erase the deficit.
- In the fourth inning, Alabama senior catcher Chaunsey Bell tallied her third throw out in three games at this year's WCWS. Prior to the WCWS, Bell had thrown out three runners all season.
- The attendance for Session 5 was 9,515, a session best and the third most all-time at the WCWS.
